A. S. U. M. WELCOME

We, the students of Montana, welcome you contestants and visitors to this, the world's greatest high school track classic, the Twenty-Sixth Interscholastic track meet.

There is nothing that we, as students of the University, can feel more justly proud of than Montanans themselves, and it is our greatest wish that your visit will be most happy.

May you all be future students of this, your own State University.

Gordon Rognlien,
President of A. S. U. M.

Time Changed To Permit Extra Program Features; Install A. S. U. M. Officers

C. H. Clapp, G. Rognlien, and Tom Davis Will Address Interscholastic Contestants and Visitors.

Opportunity to participate in one of Montana's most cherished traditions will be given visitors in Missoula at 7:15 tonight when they will gather in front of Main hall for the annual track meet S. O. S., "Singing on the Steps." Extra features added to the usual S. O. S. program have necessitated setting the time at 7:15 instead of at 7:30 as formerly.

The program which has been arranged under the direction of Nelson Fritz, yell king, promises many features of interest to students, townspeople and visitors. Installation of new A. S. U. M. officers, an address of welcome on behalf of the University by President C. H. Clapp; welcome on behalf of the student body by Gordon Rognlien, recently elected president of A. S. U. M.; an invitation to Saturday's Intercollegiate meet by Tom Davis, captain of this year's Varsity track team; special features with Dorthy Douglass assisting as pianist: these are some of the events listed on the program.

Appreciation Expressed.

Nelson Fritz, this year's chairman of the student Interscholastic committee, expresses his appreciation for the cooperation shown by this year's committee composed of: Chairman of publicity, Lefty Powell, assisted by Skippy Joyce, who took care of publicity for the past six weeks, reaching all schools in the state by papers or correspondence; Margaret Brown and Phil Duncan, respective chairmen of sorority and fraternity cooperation; George Hillman, chairman of decorations committee for campus, who had charge of all decorating and is responsible for the removal later on; Marjorie Stewart and Bob Hendon, chief Tanan and Bear Paw respectively, who are handling one of the biggest jobs of track, the meeting and transporting of students and other visitors to their temporary place of abode. Both have appointed transport managers who have lined up over sixty cars to be used as buses. Bear Paws of former years are always asked to help during the meet.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION DISCUSSES PLANS FOR NEXT YEAR

Committee of Five Appointed to Investigate Desirability of Eliminations.

Meeting of the Montana High School Athletic association was called by C. W. Grandy, president, this morning, for the purpose of discussing plans for next year's athletic program.

It was announced by the president of the association that a committee of five would be appointed to investigate the desirability of holding elimination meets for track meet, and to consider the advisability of classifying track teams according to the size of the schools they represent. This plan, it was pointed out, would give the smaller schools a better opportunity for showing up in the meet. The committee will report on its investigation at the December meeting of the association.

It was stated at the meeting that the basketball tournament will probably be a week later next year while the football program will be the same as this year with sectional eliminations. An opportunity will be given the various towns to bid for games.

CLAPP WELCOMES MEET VISITORS

The time of Interscholastic is always one of rejoicing at the State University. Its faculty and student body welcome you young people from the high schools of our great state of Montana as they do good news. These emotions of ours, bringing as they do great happiness and sorrow, are wonderful, mysterious, and unfathomable; even to the psychologist. During a period of contests some disappointments are inevitable but you can all experience the satisfaction of games well played. Our wish is that you enjoy yourselves and take away nothing but recollections of happiness.

Charles H. Clapp,
President.

NEW RECORDS SET IN 220, 440 YARD DASHES, DISCUS

Three state records broken and one equalled is the achievement of Montana athletes for the opening day of the 26th Interscholastic track and field meet.

The records broken were in the 440-yard dash, and the 220-yard dash. The record equalled was in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Perhaps the most remarkable feat of this afternoon's events was the breaking of the 220-yard dash. The standing record of 22.8 seconds has stood since 1919. K. Duff of Butte Central lowered the time today to 22.3 seconds. Several famous sprinters have equalled the old record in past years, among them Russell Sweet in 1923, Renn of Hamilton in 1926, and Tom Moore, Grizzly star who came up to the mark in 1927.

By heaving the discus 128 feet, F. Little of Beaverhead established a new state record in that event, exceeding the old record of 127 feet, 3 inches considerably. The old record was held by E. Shilling of Big Sandy who performed in 1924.

E. Good of Great Falls lowered the state record time in the 440-yard dash from 53 seconds flat to 52.8. The old record was also held by a Great Falls athlete, W. Gonser, who made his record in 1922. H. Renn of Hamilton equalled Gonser's record in 1926.

In equalling the state record in the 120-yard high hurdles, W. Jacoby of Whitefish, tied the performance which has been standing since 1908. The time of 17 seconds stands. Although the hurdles have been run in shorter time, favoring winds or hurdles knocked down, have disqualified the lower records.

Led by the Grizzly band, and marching four abreast, 215 of Montana's finest young men gathered together from every corner of the Treasure state, paraded across Dornblaser field to officially open the world's largest state track meet this afternoon.

Wearing the colors of their schools and carrying discus and poles, the athletes presented a pageantry of youth and color perhaps never before witnessed by Interscholastic track and field fans.

Ten Chosen For Declam

Out of more than 70 entrants, 10 declaimers were selected in this morning's preliminaries, to compete in the finals of the declamation contest at 8:30 tonight at the High school auditorium.

Section III, Theo Martin, Shelby—"Jane Ann, A Ward of the State," anonymous; Equilla Southernland, Wibaux county—"Stealing Cleopatra's Stuff," anonymous. Section IV, Louise Rule, Powell county—An unnamed selection by Conrad Richter.

Three boys will compete in the finals tonight. They are as follows: Section I, Cale Crowley, Butte Public—"The Bet," by Anton Chekhov; Donald Nash, Holy Rosary (Bozeman)—"Santa Fe Trail," by Vachel Lindsay. Section II, Tom Coleman, Superior—"Memorial" by Louise Leonard.

Just as the parade of athletes drew up before the bleachers, the weather, which all morning had been rainy and cold, cleared slightly to let a few minutes of sunshine add to the gala effect of the scene on the field.

INTERSCHOLASTIC EDITORS' GROUP BEGINS SESSIONS

The third annual meeting of the Montana Interscholastic Editorial Association was opened this morning with a welcome address by A. L. Stone, dean of the School of Journalism. He extended a greeting to the visitors and outlined the work of the association of the past and of those that will be held in the future.

"The work that has been accomplished in the last three years by high school newspaper work has been more than pleasing," said Dean Stone in speaking of the work that has been accomplished through the efforts of the Editorial Association.

"I hope that there will be more discussion this year on the business side of the paper, that is, to put the high school paper on a paying basis."

Following the welcome by Dean Stone greetings were extended to the visitors by Blanche Coppe and Sam Gully, representing Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, men's and women's honorary journalism fraternities. A welcome was also extended by Sallie MacLay in behalf of the Kaimin editor. The president of the association gave a response and outline of the work accomplished.

The feature of the morning's program was the discussion of the editorial phase of the high school newspaper by Professor R. L. Housman and Mrs. Inez Abbott of the Journalism school. The problems that most frequently confront the high school papers were discussed at this time. There was also a student discussion on the same questions led by one delegate from each class of paper represented in the newspaper contest. Miss Ronan of the Missoula county high school gave a talk entitled "Adviser or Supervisor" in which she discussed the problems of the person in head of the publications.

Another meeting will be held tomorrow morning at 9:00 at the Journalism building. Mr. Fred Fredell, vice president of the Buckeye Mears Publishing company at St. Paul will be the principal speaker. He will talk on the high school annual.

Summer Session Offers Many Outdoor Trips

Overnight camps on the shores of deep, blue lakes beneath scarred, wise old mountains; awesome climbs to the tops of these same old mountains there to achieve wide-spread vistas of unexpected beauty; glimpses of bison herds, of elk, antelope, deer and mountain sheep; and for the fisherman, who even as the golfer must be pronounced "incurable," opportunities for real trout fishing in swiftly flowing, clear mountain streams, all are included in the eight week-end excursions planned for the State University summer session.

THE MOUNTAIN WATERFALLS

He who is blessed with an imagination may in a certain measure re-live the days of the "Old West," while he who is less fortunate will at least find much of educational as well as recreational value in the trips offered.

A hike from University hall over Mount Sentinel into Pattie canyon is planned for the first excursion. From the summit of Sentinel may be seen the Missoula and lower Bitter Root valleys as well as the Bitter Root and Mission mountain ranges. In the Missoula valley the first council between Montana Indians and General Isaac Stevens was held in 1851. The trail of Captain Meriwether led eastward across the valley in 1806; thirty-five years later Father Peter DeSmet crossed the valley, this time to the westward with his group of missionaries, and still later in 1877 Chief Joseph led his Nes Perce band through the valley preceding the disastrous battle of the Big Hole.

Trip to Seeley Lake.
The two days and a night trip to Seeley lake, 60 miles north of Missoula, offers one of the most beautiful excursions of the season. Camp will be made on the shores of the lake. The route followed through the lower Hell Gate and the canyon of the Big Blackfoot covers 40 miles of the trail taken by Captain Lewis. The site of one of the winter

Make Them Feel At Home.

THIS week we have the opportunity to interest the most capable young people in the state in our University—and theirs. It is our duty to see that those people, our guests, are made to feel at home. We should not be content to second the welcome offered by the school authorities.

We should make it our business to meet as many of the contestants and visitors as possible, to show them by our actions that we are interested in them and that we are desirous that they enjoy their visit on this campus.

It is not courtesy to give all our time to our individual guests and forget the student who knows no one in the University.

We should show them that there is no better place for Montana students than here.

Non-Athletic Events.

THE increased interest shown in the non-athletic features of Inter-scholastic week is, perhaps, the most gratifying growth of the meet. Each year a larger number of students compete in declamatory contests, essay contests, debate and in the Little Theater tournament.

These events provide an opportunity for a wider range of students to visit and to acquaint themselves with the State University. The student that goes out for extra curricular activities other than athletic is brought into close contact with the school and with University students.

inspection of the sawmill. The route is a section of the Mullan highway and passes the site of many battles between the Indians of eastern and western Montana preceding the white man's arrival.

Bison Range Trip

"More game can be seen at one time on the National Bison range than in any other place on the continent," says the preliminary pamphlet of the summer session. A day will be spent, on the fifth week-end trip, on this reserve. Nineteen thousand acres were set aside by Congress for the herds of bison, elk, antelope, deer and mountain sheep which range on the reserve. Problems connected with the management and maintenance of the reserve will be explained to the University party by the warden of the range.

Mount Stuart

Automobiles will take members of the sixth excursion to the foot of Mount Stuart, named in honor of the Stuart brothers, James and Granville, who started placer mining on Gold creek in 1860. From this point a pack train will transport supplies to the camp which will be made at one of the lakes at the base of the mountain. The trip will involve a strenuous hike as it will be necessary to climb to the summit of the mountain and thence hike down into the lake basin. A study will be made of some of the remarkable work of the forester, Paul Bunyan—"the miracle worker."

The seventh excursion leads over the Lolo pass through the Bitter Root mountains, a well-worn east to west trail before the memory of the Selish Indians, the first Montanans. The trail followed by the Lewis and Clark expedition toward the coast in 1805, the trail over which Chief Joseph and his band marched in 1877 will be followed by the University party with the end of the trip discovering the plunge which is fed by Lolo hot springs. The site of the resting place of the Lewis and Clark party will be selected for the camp.

Heart of Mission Canyon.

Ranking with the trip to Seeley lake for unsurpassed beauty is the concluding excursion of the summer session. This trip will be made to "the heart of the Mission range." Camp will be struck near the lower falls in Mission canyon. The lacy falls, the rugged mountain walls of this "Canyon of a Thousand Cataracts" leave a haunting picture of a heart-gripping yet peace-bringing beauty.

Rare Bitter Roots on Exhibit

BY AL PARTOLL.

Returned to the land of their origin after an absence of more than a century, is the experience of the pressed bitter root flowers now on exhibit in the Treasure room in the Library.

It was in 1806 on the first of July that Captain Meriwether Lewis gathered the specimens of the bitter root plant at the mouth of Lolo creek. These specimens were taken east by the explorer, where they were named Lewisia Rediviva by Pursh the botanist, the first part in honor of Lewis and the second part due to the tenacity with which the plant clung to life.

The pressed specimens were loaned by Dr. Francis Penhll, curator of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia, to Dr. Morton J. Elrod, for graduate research work. The bitter roots have been photographed by Dr. Elrod, probably for the first time.

Ten Specimens.

The bitter root exhibit consists of ten specimens and besides the Lewis plants includes two rare species from Wyoming found growing at an altitude of 10,000 feet.

In connection with the exhibit, which is open to all visitors from 9:30 to 12 o'clock Friday morning in the Treasure room, rare books, Indian workmanship, and pioneer relics will also be on display.

The Treasure room undoubtedly contains one of the most complete libraries on the northwest, and is the result of the efforts of Dr. Paul C. Phillips, chairman of the Department of History.

Mrs. Genevieve Murray, graduate student in Journalism, is writing a thesis on the history of the bitter root and was instrumental in securing the treasured Lewis bitter roots.

The Treasure room is located in the Library on the east wing on the third floor. Visitors are invited to see the exhibits from 9:30 to 12 o'clock Friday morning.

LITTLE IS ASKED TO GIVE THESIS

Professor E. M. Little, of the Physics department, recently received a letter from the American Electrochemical society, asking him to present a manuscript on his thesis at their fall meeting in Pittsburgh, September 18, 19 and 20. If Mr. Little cannot be there in person, they have asked him to write his manuscript and have it read. Mr. Little wrote his thesis at the University of Illinois, on "Photo-ionization in Alkali Vapors."

Mr. Little is a member of Epsilon Chi, national honorary chemical society, and has been asked to join the American Electrochemical society. The headquarters of this society are at Columbia university, New York.

WOMEN'S SPORT DAY TOMORROW MORNING

Field Events and Aquatics Will Be Order of the Day; Women Contestants to Compete.

Sports day, which is held annually for women contestants and visitors to the Montana campus during interscholastic week, is scheduled for tomorrow morning from 9:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

The program, which is under the direction of the Women's Athletic Association, will consist of field events and contests in the University pool.

Events will be run off in the pool and on the field continuously during the two hours, and all visitors and contestants are urged to compete. Anyone who has friends visiting is invited to bring them out. A pool time is assured for all as the girls can go wherever they want, enabling them to see the contests both on the field and in the pool.

Field Events.

The field events, which are under the direction of Marian Hart, will take place on the women's athletic field, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. Girls who want to compete will be divided into three teams, the copper, the silver and the gold, and each girl will be given a ribbon the color of her team. The teams, each of which will be led by two University girls, will have their own flag to cheer around.

The track and field events scheduled are: Races—potato race, sack race, angel race, three-legged race, hurdles, regular relay and obstacle race; games, and a tug-o-war as a finisher. Other contests may be added to the program if it is convenient.

Swim Events.

The program in the University pool, Men's gymnasium, of which Martha McKenzie has charge, will begin at 9:30 o'clock. The girls may enjoy themselves swimming as they please during the first part of the two hours. The contests will begin about 10 o'clock with races, including a night shirt race, balloon race, 20 yd. free style, and a candle race between three teams. A tug-o-war will also be staged.

The women's University all-star swimming team will give a short demonstration sometime during the two hours. Those on the team are: Beth Nicker, Martha McKenzie, Evelyn Blumenthal, Iola Gorton, Frances Nash, and Geraldine O'Malley.

Fergus County Wins Debate

Contests who choose the finals. The winner is chosen by the president of the State University, and any one of the eight may be chosen. One of the scholarships is awarded by the University, and the other, amounting to $100, was given by John A. Kleth.

Judges.

Judges of the debates were: W. A. Ames, associate professor of education and psychology; Mary Laux, assistant professor of physical education, and W. P. Clark, professor of foreign languages. Hugh Lindsey, debate coach of the University, acted as chairman of the contest. The debate cup may be kept for one year; and winning it three times entitles a school to keep it. Billings high school won it last year.

MOUNT SENTINEL LOOKS DOWN ON 26TH INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

Montana's Annual Track and Field Meet Has Grown From 92 Contestants in 1904 to 611 in 1928.

By Clarence J. Powell

For twenty-five years Mount Sentinel has silently watched over what has become one of Montana's greatest institutions—the annual interscholastic track and field meet—which found its origin in Hiram Conibear, formerly promoter of track and field meets in Chicago, on May 18, 1904.

Mount Sentinel, during these long years, has seen the phenomenal growth of interscholastic from a small, restricted affair to the well-organized interscholastic which is today second largest in the United States. It has seen the growth in contestants from 77 athletes and 15 declaimers in 1904 to 611 contestants in 1928, 409 of this number being athletes. It has seen the change from the old grandstand that was built as a lean-to in the back of the Women's gymnasium with a seating capacity of 500 to a modern semi-stadium with a capacity of more than 6,000 people. It has seen the change of a half-mile bicycle race track that the officials were forced to shave down for the runners, to an up-to-date, well cared for cinder path that rates among the best in the Northwest.

Mount Sentinel has seen, mutely enough a remarkable change in people, dress and mode of travel. It has seen the change from the old-fashioned horse-driven carriages which brought people who could afford that luxury to interscholastic, to the modern, beautifully designed high powered motor cars which swarm in on the ROTC field like a host of bees and from a long line on either side of University avenue and on the streets surrounding the campus. It has seen the change from the old-colored and ill-shaped costumes of the contestants with baggy bloomers, sawed-off trousers, overalls, tennis shoes and oftentimes no shoes at all, to uniform costumes trimmed with the school colors of each representative school; half socks, track shoes and blankets to cover each athlete after a race and to cover participants in the field events. It has seen the change from the old-fashioned dress of men wearing plug hats, long boxed coats and tight fitting trousers and women with their plumed hats and long skirts to the present type of dress for the women which scarcely covers the knee and the close fitting tailored suits and sports apparel for both the business man and male college students.

It is a beautiful sight now as compared with the first meet 25 years ago, with our modern equipment, a fast track, efficient officials and a stadium filled with more than 6,000 people. For those who must stay at home the modern press associations, radio and telegraph wires can furnish everything except sight as contrasted with the old method of either relaying the final score over the telephone or waiting until the people who had attended returned home to tell them of the final outcome.

Jumbo "M.H.S."

The "M. H. S." on Mount Jumbo is again the bone of contention. Last Monday night industrious hands changed the M to L and thus aroused the anger of the loyal students of Missoula County high school. Tuesday morning a group trudged up the mountain side and rearranged the white-washed rocks so they again read "M. H. S."

That night fires were built around the letters and a guard was placed to prevent further damage to the symbol.

Each year these three letters are the cause for conflict. Several fist and rock-throwing combats have taken place and sometimes the results are that the letters read M. H. S. or L. H. S. for Loyola high school of B. H. S. for Butte high school.

More Than 100 Awards To Be Presented To Winning Contestants

Ten Silver Loving Cups Included in Interscholastic Prizes; Five Cups to High School Newspapers.

Awards offered to Track contestants in 1929 Interscholastic include five silver loving cups along with numerous other prizes given to winners of the various events. Two of the cups are annual awards given annually to the winning track squad and the winning relay team while the other three are given for general excellence over a five year period. The cups included in the latter class are given to the high school making the most points in the track meet, the school winning the most points in the relay races and to the school which shall have broken or equalled the largest number of records.

Awards and prizes have always been presented to winners in the various events, but never to the extent as they were during the past three or four years. In 1904 only five prizes were presented, and now the prizes and awards amount to more than 100, 75 of these being in athletics alone.

In declamation contests there will be three prizes in the boys' contest and five in the girls'. The winners for 1928 serious selections were Dean Morgan, Anaconda high school; Edward Dussault, Loyola. Humorous selections—Freda Erfle, Rapelle high school, Chester Huntley, Whitehall high school.

Prizes in the Essay contest: A gold medal will be presented to the winners and the Interscholastic committee will pay the expenses of the winner to the Interscholastic.

In the debate the Interscholastic committee of the University will pay the railroad fare to Missoula and return (meals and Pullman not included) for a total of three contestants from any school in the Interscholastic debate at Missoula. Arthur Kline of Billings high school, won in 1928.

Publications.

High School publications awards: Five silver cups will be offered to the high school publications of the state as awards this year. The "Fredell" cup will be awarded for the best annual publication by a Montana high school. The other cups will be awarded to the best publications by high schools in each of the following classes, the class determined by the enrollment, thus:

Class A—6 and 7 columns
Class B—5 columns
Class C—3 and 4 columns
Class D—Mineographed, page inserts and weekly papers.

Of these four cups, two are presented by the Montana Press association, one by Sigma Delta Chi.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS IMPORTANT IN "U" ATHLETIC CURRICULUM

This Program Includes Everything From Basketball to Wrestling and Horseshoes.

Intra-mural sports at the University occupy an important place in the athletic curriculum. This program, under the supervision of Harry Adams, freshman coach, is designed to give everybody an opportunity to compete in athletics. It includes everything from basketball to wrestling and horseshoes.

The first intra-mural sport in the fall is basketball which is begun soon after the opening of school and runs until the end of the winter quarter. Among the numerous tournaments and contests included under basketball are the class and inter-company tournaments and the inter-church, inter-college and South hall leagues as well as the free throw contest which is open to all except members of the Varsity squad.

Variety of Sports.

Basketball, however, is not the only intra-mural sport during the fall and winter. The boxing, wrestling and fencing classes held elimination bouts and the finalists meet in the "M" tournament for the University championship of the various classes. Winners of the boxing and wrestling bouts each receive a medal and the boxer putting on the best exhibition is awarded a cup in recognition of his ability. In addition to boxing, wrestling and fencing there is also a swimming and diving meet.

Track is the big spring sport and meets are held in which members of the classes and the R. O. T. C. companies compete in addition to a novice affair. Baseball calls for inter-class and inter-college games, the latter being run over a period of four weeks during which teams from each school play every other school on the campus. Play-ground ball is also played.

Golf Popular.

Golf is rapidly growing in popularity and there are now three tournaments played under the intra-mural program. The University championship is open to all golfers of the school but the novice meet is open only to those who have not engaged in any previous tournament. In addition there is also a handicap meet run in connection with the open tournament and which is open to all. Championship series are played to determine the singles and doubles champions of the school, and a horseshoe tournament is played for the University championship.

The women's athletic program also calls for a large variety of sports among which are hiking, basketball, soccer, tennis and play-ground ball. Women are awarded a certain number of points for competition in each sport and upon the gathering of the required number are awarded a sweater by the Women's Athletic association.

PHILHARMONIC PLEASES MANY

Alfred Hertz, Famous in Music World, Conducts.

One of the best features of the Philharmonic orchestra, which came to the Wilma last night, according to A. H. Weisberg of the Music school, was that the program had something for everyone. The "Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert, the overture to "Mignon," "The Blue Danube Waltz" and many other universally popular selections and ones that are included in the repertoire of every high class symphony orchestra were played.

The Philharmonic orchestra of Los Angeles has been accorded a place among the few great orchestras of the world by some of the greatest living conductors. The late Walter Henry Rothwell, conductor of the orchestra for more than eight years, is known as one of the great orchestra builders of the day. Alfred Hertz, former conductor of San Francisco symphony orchestra, conducted in Missoula last night.

Forty-five graduates of the Boston university are now serving as presidents of colleges or universities.

Novice Track Meet To Be Held May 1

Harry Adams, in charge of intra-mural athletics, will conduct a novice track meet May 17 and 18. The meet is open to all Universal men. Freshmen competing in the meet will have an opportunity to qualify for numerals.

Football Field Named To Honor Former Hero

Montana's present athletic field was named after a man who will long be remembered for his ability as a football player and his deeds on the war fields of France.

Paul Dornblaser was one of the great men of the Montana campus both on and off. It was because "Dorn" lost his life in France during the world war that the University athletic field was named after him.

During his four years on the Grizzly eleven "Dorn" became recognized as one of the best football players in the northwest, playing in the position of fullback on the defense and tackle on the offense. During the season of 1912 and 1913 he captained the Grizzly team.

From Chicago. Before coming to Montana Dornblaser attained a reputation as a football man while playing with the Englewood high school eleven of Chicago. "Dorn" won his letter in baseball, too, and was president of the Associated Students body. He served in the capacity of assistant county attorney in Missoula after graduating from the law school.

When the war broke out he enlisted in the Marine corps and soon saw service in France. October 8, 1918, in the attack on Mont Blanc he was wounded by machine gun fire and died two days later.

Montana's athletic field was named for Paul Dornblaser in 1920 due to the efforts of the Missoula Rotary club.

Field Rebuilt.

In 1925 the field was rebuilt and was financed by the Alumni Challenge Field association. The work on the field was completed October 3, 1925, and was dedicated when Montana played W. S. C.

Last year the Pacific Coast conference track and field meet was held on Dornblaser field. Contestants from the coast schools said that Montana's track was one of the best in the conference. Charlie Borah, nationally known sprinter, stated that he has never run on a better track than the one on Dornblaser field.

Third heat: J. Duff, Butte Central, first; M. Reed, Fergus County, second; D. Crippen, Billings, third. Time, 10 2-5 seconds. First two of each heat qualify for semi-finals.

Fourth heat: F. Griffin, Flathead County, first; L. Dwyer, Missoula County, second. Time, 10 3-5 seconds.

Rain falling just after meet started, so the band struck up "Taint Gonna Rain No Moe."

Sixth heat: A. Craven, Custer County, first; A. Powell, Flathead County, second. Time, 10 2-5 seconds.

Semi-finals in the 100-yard dash were run off next. Winners of both heats ran in 10 1-3 seconds, equaling the state record, but because of the wind that was blowing the records will not stand as official. Those who will run in the finals are:

First heat: J. Duff, Butte Central, first; H. Moe, Great Falls, second. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

Second heat: B. Bradshaw, Dawson County, first; A. Thomas, Butte Central, second. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

Semi-finals in the 440-yard dash came next. Those finishing for the finals are:

Second heat: E. Good, Great Falls, first; H. Kuecks, Butte Public, second. Time, 52 4-5 seconds. This is a state record, the former of 53 seconds, being made by W. Gosner of Great Falls in 1922.

Third heat: A. Walker, Froid, first; B. Noyes, Chinook, and J. Rol, Anaconda tied for second. Time, 54 3-5 seconds.

Yell King To Be Appointed

Cheering sections up, until this year have never been conducted at baseball games or track. Cheering will be conducted at the Intercollegiate meet Saturday by Tex Anderson and George Husser who were yell dukes during the year. The yells will be confined to short snappy yells like the "3, 4, 6."

With the new student administration a new yell king will be appointed in the near future to lead student in yells and become the chairman of the traditions committee for the coming year. Any student, preferably upper-classmen but not necessarily, who would be interested should turn in his name either to Nelson Fritz or Gordon Roglien.

In order to acquaint applicants with the various duties of cheer leaders, Fritz will conduct a class of any convenient time in order to inform applicants about these duties. After conducting S. O. S. and cheer leading for the past two years, Fritz will retire. He will lead in the presenting of the flag and perhaps will officiate at the graduation S. O. S. The Intercollegiate committee is looking forward to a record crowd at the S. O. S. Thursday night.

Nearly all of the high school students who will be in Missoula for the Twenty-sixth Annual Intercollegiate week have arrived, according to Dean T. C. Spaulding of the University committee in charge of the reception of students.

Contestants and visitors poured into Missoula on every train yesterday with extra equipment added to some of the trains to handle the throng. The rest of the number, totaling nearly 600 for all intercollegiate events, arrived today. Arrivals by automobile have come from all directions since the opening of the meet yesterday.

BIG INTERCOLLEGIATE MEET HELD SATURDAY

Seven Schools Entered in Saturday's Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet

State College, State Normal, Eastern Normal, Billings Polytechnic, Intermountain, Mt. St. Charles to Compete.

Athletes from seven schools will be in competition in the intercollegiate meet held Saturday. From eight invitations sent out to schools and colleges of the state, seven have signified their intentions to enter.

This meet will be held the day following the state interscholastic events. A large crowd is expected to be in attendance as many fans over state have signified their intentions to be here for the high school meet and stay over for the intercollegiate events.

Those schools which will have teams on the field are: The Bobcats, State Normal college, Eastern Montana Normal, Billings Polytechnic, Mt. St. Charles, and Intermountain Union. The State School of Mines will not enter the meet this year due to lack of material for a team.

The Grizzly squad will be in predominance on the field with men in every event to defend the state title, which has gone to the University each year for more than a decade.

The toughest competition for the University will come from the lair of the Bobcats who are reputed to have the best aggregation in years. Among the men who will carry the blue for the first time are: Smart, sprinter; Bennion, high and low hurdler; Bjork, high jumper; Maxon, pole vaulter. All of these men have been premier point makers for their high schools in the interscholastic meets and Maxon, formerly of Flathead high won the pole vault here last year, tying the state interscholastic record.

Bobcat letterman who will perform here are: Capt. Semmingsen, weights; F. Word, high jump; Sterling, sprints; Cline, 880-yard run; Heikkila, javelin and distance; Devries, distance.

Intermountain Union will also have some athletes of prowess on their squad. Among them is Retz formerly of Polson high who was one of the most outstanding men in the interscholastic meet here last spring. Other members of the team are: Ed. Snow, high jump; Bedford weights; Mite and D. Snow, distance.

Mt. St. Charles, which has come to the front in the past few years in athletics will furnish some stiff competition. Some of the outstanding men on the Helena squad are: Gelhausen of Vernon, Tex., holder of the state record for the 440 in the mile relay, ran the 220 in 23.2 in 1926 and was a member of the medley relay team which holds the record for the Missouri valley.

Murphy of Whitehall took second in the discus and third in the shotput. In the St. Charles-Intermountain meet in 1927, Murphy won first place in the shot and discus and two thirds in other events as well as tying for first in the pole vault.

Probably the chief point maker for St. Charles is John H. Good, who will be remembered here as being by far the most outstanding athlete on the St. Charles football team in 1927. Good won first place in the 50-100-220-440 in the interscholastic meet here in 1926. Aside from these men St. Charles will bring others with the squad who have made good records in track-meets in Montana, both intercollegiate and high school.

'U' Welcomes Track Guests

All Garden City Extends Hospitality to Visitors.

Another annual track meet at hand gives the "Garden City every effort to live up to its name although Mother Nature has not been kind this year and in delaying the arrival of spring has, to a large extent, prevented the leafing out of trees or blossoming of flowers.

At the head of University avenue and the entrance to the State University campus stands a big gray gate with a warm red "Welcome" as a streamer across its face, sprung up apparently by magic, but in reality through the sedulous efforts of students Friday afternoon. The pungent, stinging tang of freshly tarred roads assails the nostrils as one nears the campus, evidence of the crowds which will throng these grounds.

The old Bonner home with its glorious pine trees boasts a new and strictly modern wire fence. A few hardly though none-too-wise tulips have ventured forth in carefully nurtured spots on well-tended lawns over the city and today, yes, actually it is true, we saw two courageous bushes bedecked with creamy small blossoms.

Flashing bluebirds, blue with that life-giving blue of crisp Indian summer skies, and fat, loquacious robins add a final touch to the friendly welcome offered by the State University and the Garden City of Montana to its Interscholastic and Intercollegiate visitors.

NEW VICTOR RECORDS WITH

abounds in these latest popular Orthophonic Victor Records. You'll find the two fox trots from the Paramount movie "Innocents of Paris" particularly attractive and danceable. Then try Rudy Vallée's infallible combination of a fox trot and a waltz. His soft melody and lovely singing is bound to "get" you. Nat Shilkret has pulled off a pair of corking fox trots, too. Fine, snappy ones with lots of spicy instrumental novelties. Then by way of vocal talent there is a new record of the popular tenor Morton Downey, soft and sentimental... and another pair by Johnny Marvin—one of which includes his team-mate Ed. Smalle. These are all hot stuff if you like popular music—whether for dancing or listening—you ought certainly to hear these. Come in soon!

GEORGE THOMAS NOT IMPROVED

Little change has been noted in the condition of George Thomas, 13 year old son of Professor and Mrs. B. E. Thomas. The youth is in the hospital suffering from a wound received Sunday from some unknown rifle. It is thought that the projectile pierced the spinal cord.

The University holds only one commencement a year, in June. For that reason, students who complete their requirements for graduation at the end of the summer, fall or winter quarters must wait until the end of the spring term in June to receive their degree.
