FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Kemp J. Wilson, Helena, has been named the first recipient of a scholarship established by the Montana Bar Association for a student in the Montana State University Law School, Dean Robert E. Sullivan announced.

Wilson, a law senior at MSU, is an outstanding student and is currently a member of the board of editors of the Law Review, the dean said. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wilson of Helena. His mother is assistant law librarian at the Montana Supreme Court Library in the State Capitol.

"This is a meaningful addition to the financial aids that are available to students enrolled in the MSU College of Law," Dean Sullivan commented. "We are indebted to the Montana Bar Association for their interest and assistance. It is only through the interest and cooperation of alumni and friends of the Law School that we can continue to attract outstanding young people to the legal profession and to the Montana State University School of Law."
