BURKETTE WILL MANAGE CO-EDS

Helen Bruneau Manager of Apparatus Practice.

At a board meeting Friday, W. A. A. appointed Helen Bruneau manager of apparatus practice and Lazella Burkette manager of girls' basketball. A business meeting will be held Thursday evening at 7:30. Plans were made for a party on January 30.

Practice and tryouts for apparatus honors will be given on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1 o'clock. Points won this way will be applied for winning an M sweater.

All W. A. A. members are urged to attend the meeting on Thursday and to bring their full and quarter quarter fifty cent dues.

Dr. Rowe Addresses International Club

Plan to Reorganize Orchestra; Discussion To Be Held.

The International club held its first meeting of the year at the home of Professor Jesse W. Bunch Friday evening.

Dr. J. P. Rowe of the Geology department gave a talk on his recent round-the-world trip on the Floating University and a musical program followed the address.

Plans were made for the reorganization of the club orchestra which is to be under the leadership of George Borvington of Great Falls. Last year the orchestra was directed by Victor Stepanoff and in 1928 and 1929 it was led by his brother, Alexander Stepanoff.

VOTE $20,000.

Twenty thousand dollars for work on the Student Union Memorial Building on the University of Colorado campus at Boulder was voted by the University Board of Regents at its meeting December 20. The money will be used to complete the two lounge rooms, the rest rooms for men and women, and to furnish at least two of the offices in the building. In addition, the hallways will be finished, the building work proceeding as far as the $20,000 fund will permit.

The two main lounge rooms will be fitted with library furnishings, and temporary shelves to hold 4,000 volumes will be installed. The seating space will be adequate for about 200, and the additional space will be used only for education reserve books.

Use of the building for library space is only temporary. At the close of the summer, all the library furniture will be removed, and the rooms will be furnished with money from the building fund created by the students as a student recreation center.

Plans for the vestibule of the building are now being redrawn by the architect. This vestibule, which is the memorial feature of the building, will be furnished in marble, and will contain four tablets bearing the names of the University of Colorado men who were killed in the World war. It will be at the northwest corner of the building.

Work to finish the building was begun last month by the University construction department. A concrete foundation for the oak floors has been poured and heat and light connections have been made.

Sentinel Will Let Contracts During Week

Senior, Fraternity and Sorority Pictures Sent to Engravers.

Printing contracts for the 1930 Sentinel will be called for in a week. Estimates have been sent to printing establishments in Missoula, Great Falls and Butte.

George Snyder and Carlos Van Wald of the art staff are at work on the scenic section of the yearbook which will be larger than last year's section. In order to do this the humorous section will be omitted.

All of the senior pictures, fraternity and sorority pictures for the yearbook have been taken that can be taken. These pictures will all leave the Sentinel's office on their way to the engraver January 15.

Pictures for the Women's Athletic section of the annual will be taken at the Women's gym Thursday. This will virtually complete the pictures for all sections.

BAND HAS FRENCH HORN QUARTETTE

Two Instruments Complete Special Section.

A French horn quartet in the Grizzly band, long sought for by Roy Freeburg, band director, has at last been secured. Up until the latter part of the fall quarter, two of the instruments were all the band could boast. An imported horn was added in December, and during the holidays a fourth horn was purchased in Seattle.

The players of the four horns, which create a finished section in the band, are Dudley Brown, Palo Alto, Cal.; Donald Perry, Missoula; Glen Flint, Missoula; and Leonard Crane, Fort Benton.

Wold and Hillman to Assist Hugo With Show

Oliver Wold and George Hillman were appointed Varsity Vodvil assistant managers by Central Board the latter part of the fall quarter. They will aid Elmer Hugo, Varsity Vodvil manager, in this year's production to be given March 8. After the presentation at that time, Central Board will choose the Varsity Vodvil manager for next year.

MASQUERS TO PRESENT FIRST PUBLIC PROGRAM THIS EVENING

Mrs. H. G. Merriam Will Speak on Technique of John Mason Brown's Dramatic Criticism.

Tonight in the Little Theatre the first public Masquers program of the winter quarter will be offered. Two interesting speakers are on the program and a large crowd is expected to attend. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock promptly. There is no admission charge. Students and townspeople are cordially invited.

Mrs. H. G. Merriam will speak on the dramatic criticism of John Mason Brown, dramatic critic of the New York Evening Post. Mr. Brown was a member of the English staff during the summer session here last summer and is one of the leading newspaper critics of the country. Mrs. Merriam will discuss his technique and also use illustrations from his current reviews and the book he is writing.

Dramatic criticism will be the subject of a paper which has been prepared by Jess Cambron. Miss Cambron will speak on the technique of dramatic criticism and read excerpts from the work of prominent critics such as George Jean Nathan, Brooks Atkinson and Robert Littell.

Following the program there will be a brief Masquers meeting which all members are urged to attend.

Music Club Meets Thursday Evening

The Music club will meet Thursday evening at 8:15 in Prof. DeLoss Smith's studio, announced Marian Cline, president. Ella Pollinger has charge of the program and Mrs. J. H. Ramskill will give a talk on piano music. All music majors and minors are expected to be present and anyone who is interested in music is welcome.

HELL WEEK VANISHES.

There will be no Hell Week after the final exams if fraternities on the University of Southern California campus act upon the recommendation of the Inter-Fraternity council Hell Week committee. They pointed out that the bad effect of the strain of Hell Week during the period of final examinations will be reflected upon the rating of the houses themselves through the lowered scholarship of the initiates.

Dornblaser Lights Is Idle Rumor

The rumor that lights are to be installed for the purpose of illuminating the Montana football field for night games is entirely without backing, according to T. G. Swearingen, maintenance engineer.

Mr. Swearingen said that a representative of the General Electric company was in Missoula recently but his visit was in no way connected with the rumored lighting system and this proposed system has not even been considered by University authorities.

SHORTHAND AND TYPING CLASSES STARTING TODAY

School of Business Administration Inaugurates New Courses.

Owing to the many requests for courses in typing and shorthand, the School of Business Administration will offer a four months' course in these subjects starting Tuesday, January 14.

There will be two sections, both meeting in Craig hall, room 109, one at 4 o'clock and the other at 6:45 o'clock.

Students having conflicts or finding these hours inconvenient may report to Dean Lane or Mr. Gross, the instructor, at once for other possible arrangements. No University credit will be given for the work.

The work this week is for the purpose of offering the students an opportunity of seeing what the work will be, and what advantages may be derived. There will be no charges this week, however, a fee will be charged later to those continuing the course. Students reporting to class should bring pencil and tablet.

Mollett Visits Pacific Coast

Business of Kappa Psi Takes In Portland and Seattle.

During the Christmas holidays, Dean C. E. Mollett of the Pharmacy school visited Portland and Seattle on business relative to Kappa Psi, national pharmaceutical fraternity. He studied general conditions of trade and visited several wholesale drug houses while on the West Coast. He visited the North Pacific College of Pharmacy in Portland and the College of Pharmacy of the University of Washington in Seattle.

Among former students whom he visited were Professor Charles W. Abbott of the North Pacific College of Pharmacy; Ralph Ballard, '21, proprietor of the United States Chain drug store No. 6; C. J. More, '22, who is employed by Bartel's Drug store.

NOTICE

MASQUERS ATTENTION.

Following the public program in the Little Theatre tonight there will be a Masquers meeting. All Masquers are urged to attend as there are several important matters to be settled including the voting on new members and setting a date for initiation.

The Spanish club will meet tonight at 7:30 in Main hall. Plans for the play the club is to produce will be discussed. It is necessary that all members be present.

Members of the Episcopal church club will have their corporate communion next Sunday at the 7:30 service. Everybody be present.

EDWARD D. SHOPE, Pres.

The Wesley club and the Fireside forum of the Methodist church will hold a combined party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Layfield, 435 S. Sixth East, at 8 p. m. Friday. Games and music will form the entertainment for the evening, and a large turnout is expected.

The Fellowship Group of the University will meet tonight at 6:16 Eddy avenue, from 8 to 10:30 o'clock. A program of readings and music is planned, to be followed by refreshments.

REGISTRATION FOR ENSUING YEAR EXCEEDS THAT OF FALL QUARTER

Figures Slightly Below Those of Last Winter Quarter; Directory Supplement To Be Published.

Figures released from the President's office this morning show the enrollment this quarter to exceed the number in attendance during the fall quarter. The present registration shows 1324 students, thirty-seven less than were enrolled for the winter quarter of 1929.

Of the present number enrolled, 1,224 students were registered for fall quarter. Thirty-five new students have entered the University and 58 former students have re-enrolled. Seven students, who withdrew during the winter quarter have returned to school.

Fall quarter is the only time when the University sponsors a special week for freshmen. For the past four years this plan has been used to acquaint the new students with the campus customs. At the beginning of winter and spring quarters, only one day is set aside for

NO START-BLOCKS FOR 1930 RACES

Special Track Devices May Be Used Next Year.

It is "highly probable" that starting blocks will be used in the 1931 intercollegiate track meet, according to J. P. Rowe, chairman of the track meet committee.

A motion dealing with the use of starting blocks at the 1931 meet was informally introduced at the meeting of the committee last Tuesday but no official vote was taken. Starting blocks will not be used at the meet this year because few of the high schools use them and their introduction at the meet would cause confusion, said Dr. Rowe.

Members of the committee are in favor of the use of blocks as they would speed up the meet considerably and make unnecessary the digging of holes in the track for starting positions. It is also believed that they would lead to the establishment of better records.

Varsity Vodvil Slated For MARCH 8; TRYOUTS NEXT MONTH

Wold and Hillman Appointed to Assist Hugo. Must Submit Manuscripts by January 25.

March 8 is to be the presentation date of Varsity Vodvil, annual show sponsored by the Associated Students, announced Elmer Hugo, manager of this year's show. Saturday morning, January 25, is the final date for the submission of manuscripts. The tryouts will be held about the middle of February in the Little Theatre, which is again being loaned for the purpose.

Central Board has appointed as assistant managers Oliver Wold and George Hillman.

Seven acts will be selected for the final presentation at the Wilma. Any fraternity, sorority or other organization on the campus may have an act judged at the tryouts next month. In accordance with the usual method of awarding prizes, trophy awards will be made to the organizations that present the best men's act, and the best women's act. Last year an additional prize of $25 was given to each of the two winning acts of the show, and this is to be done this year.

"Competition will be plentiful, but don't let that stop you from getting an early start. Now is the time to get busy on a real original act and win that place in the final show," is Manager Hugo's suggestion to the campus groups.

Varsity Vodvil did not exist in its present form until 1921, when the first competition was won by Sigma Chi with its act, "A Little of This and a Little of That." The show had been given prior to that time, however, having been known as University Night. The first of these entertainments was given in 1916, when a number of Montana students decided to stage a skit, using all-University talent. This skit was called "Billy"; it was managed by John Patterson, and featured Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Butler. The following year another show was planned, but was later cancelled, since several of the actors had left school for the army.

It was not until after the World war that the campus vanderbilt was revived. In the revival, the custom of giving trophies to the winning acts was instituted, and the affair became a matter of competition. In 1920 it was decided to reward the best men's act, and the best women's act, which procedure is still being followed.

Forester's Ball Decoration For Being Planned

Experimental Forestry Will Be Combined With Work Of Securing Boughs.

Experimental forestry will be combined with work for the Forestry Ball next Saturday when members of the Forestry Ball committee take a trip up Pattee Canyon to the experimental plot on the military reservation. Last year a group of foresters secured enough boughs for decorating the dance hall, and at the same time cleared out all of the Douglas fir from a grove of Western Yellow pine. Last spring they again thinned out a number of trees, and put markers on a number of them. They also marked trees in areas where no thinning-out work has been done.

This unique method of killing two birds with one stone is expected to produce some valuable results. In time, a large section of forest will have been cleared out, thus enabling the remaining trees to grow faster. Comparison of the rate of growth in the cleared area with the rate in the un-cleared area will reveal the amount of growth acceleration, and consequently the economic value of thinning in timber lots. In addition to all this, the foresters get the use of the boughs for decorations.

Sociology Courses Has Large Enrollment

Background for Work Was Theme of First Lecture.

Thirty Missoula residents attended the first session of a ten weeks' sociological course on "Family Community Problems," which is being conducted by Hasseltine Byrd, instructor in Sociology, held last night in Craig hall.

Miss Byrd's lecture last night was designed to provide those taking the course with a background for the work, including a historical survey of the principles of social science. Miss Byrd requested her audience to consider sociological problems with a scientific attitude.

There is still time for a few more to enroll in the course which is being offered by the State University free of charge to all Missoula people who are interested in such problems and the modern methods of handling them, Miss Byrd said last night.

At the session to be held next Monday, Miss Byrd will have ready for distribution mimeographed sheets giving the outline of the course, which will deal with specific problems. At least one and possibly two of the meetings will be devoted to social welfare in Missoula, the material to be used being based on a survey which Miss Byrd has conducted.

Nine more sessions will be held each Monday evening beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

NATIONAL MATH GROUP ELECTS FLOOD, BARKER

Miss Myles F. Flood, Missoula, a senior in the Mathematics department, and James A. Barker, '28, have recently been elected to membership of the American Mathematics society.

Mr. Barker is at the present time attending school at the University of California where he has a fellowship.

Clapp Goes to Butte

Will Speak Before Meeting of Montana Engineers.

President C. H. Clapp left yesterday for Butte where he attended a meeting of the Montana Society of Engineers. Dr. Clapp was the principal speaker, his subject being "Mountain Building."

Phi Lambda Initiates Receive Active Pins

Plans Made for Chess Tournament To Be Sponsored.

Those students who were initiated by Phi Lambda, local chemical society, last quarter, received their pins at Thursday's business meeting. They are Theron Strange, Kevin; Robert Dussault, Butte; Lewis Ambrose, Missoula; Alexander McBride, Bear Creek; H. N. Hansen, Missoula; Robert Brown, Missoula; Eldon Couey, Missoula; Franklin A. Long, Eureka.

After the business was finished a chess tournament was arranged. At the end of the meeting half of the members were fervent chess strategists.

FIVE UNIVERSITY STUDENTS ATTEND B. Y. P. U. MEETING

Five University students were in the party that accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Bunch to the Baptist Young People's Union district meeting which was held in Hamilton. Twelve other Missoula members took the trip which was made by car. They returned to Missoula about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The University students who attended this meeting were Lucille Cozad, Maxine Haslan, Bill Lupton, David Stalson, and Lee Rbelnas.

FRITZ RETURNS.

Edmund Fritz, law student, class '30, is back in school after being out on account of the sickness and death of his father.

WORK OF ART STUDENTS NOW ON EXHIBIT IN MAIN HALL

Work done by the students in the Art department last quarter is now on display on the third floor of Main hall. The exhibit will remain up during the rest of the week.

Specimens of ancient art are among the most interesting in the collection. They are done by the students in the history of arts class and illustrate the cruder forms and technique of the Egyptians, and Babylonians. Examples portraying the value relations and use of color have been done by the class in elementary design, while the class in elementary drawing has contributed studies from photographs of animals, landscapes, and the human figure. Portraits and full length pictures in both water colors and oils are the work of the advanced students. Elementary work for school children is being taught in the department this year to students who plan to teach in the grammar schools. Much of this work is on exhibition as well as the work done by the regular fine arts students.

An exhibit of the work of Miss Brownie Strong, a former pupil of Prof. Riedell at Booth Bay Harbor, is also up in the department. Various designs for Christmas cards constitute this exhibit and these will remain on display for the remainder of the week.

Speaking of—

THE weather as the conventional topic bromide doesn't seem to halt most conversationalists. The only time temperature should be tolerated as the remark to make about this kind of weather is when the chattering teeth of the speaker muffles the speech.

It's cold; don't we all know it? It's uncomfortable, unpleasant, uncalled for, and unspeakable! The wind's velocity won't increase or decrease with verbosity. Hellgate's gale reaches its zenith at least forty times every winter—what of it? We've struggled along through three seasons just like it, and we're healthy, almost ruddy! Has any Montana student ever died from exposure?

Missoula can seldom boast of reaching the low mark for the state, nor can it offer the splendor of the sunny south; it's a Montana average, cold enough.

Let's add a sparkle of originality to prattle, forgetting "degrees." Let's unite to strangle the person who insists on telling the exact location of the mercury on the thermometer at the city car barn at 3 o'clock this morning.

Political Prisoners

SIX thousand Italian prisoners were freed as a gesture in the general program of rejoicing over the marriage of the Italian Crown Prince and Princess Marie Jose of Belgium. This strikes us as an excellent idea and we have a proposal to make with regard to it. Let Allan Hoover, younger son of President Hoover, announce his approaching marriage (we are even willing to let him choose the fortunate young lady); and then, just to show how happy everybody is or ought to be, let Tom Mooney, Warren K. Billings, all the Centralia prisoners, the young California Communists who had the children at a summer camp make a red flag, the young Communists in Ohio who passed pamphlets at a meeting—let all these and any other political prisoners we have not mentioned be sent home by President or Governor with a pardon in their pocket. That would be as pretty a gesture as one could make. In addition we should recommend that the bride be dressed in white velvet and ermine and the groom in a dashing military uniform; that a large military escort in full-dress uniform on horseback ride fore and aft in the procession; that bands play on the route from the bride's home to the church; that flowers be cast at all concerned. In short, that we have a celebration that is a celebration. None of these quiet democratic weddings for us, with a young woman in a tweed jacket married to a young man in a blue serge suit. We want action, noise, color, splendor. And in such a setting what could be more fitting than a little princely generosity toward the unfortunates who, for their opinions, languish in our jails!—The Nation.

The Coming Generation

TO ONE who has associated with college students over a period of years it is plainly evident that the present generation of students everywhere is better behaved, easier disciplined, and I think happier than at any time in the last 25 years," says Professor H. H. House, member of the physical education faculty at Washington State college.

Intellectual men who have made a study of college and university conditions are constantly voicing opinions similar to the above. They are soothing to the college persons' mentality, though entirely out of harmony with the popular moving-picture version of higher education.

If more time could be spent in painting actual pictures of collegiate life as it really exists, fewer parents would be so reluctant about sending their proteges off to school. The statement partially goes to prove our contention that four years of college is an asset to most anyone with average mentality whether or not he is able to get a great deal out of the class room, and whether or not he manages to make a straight "A" average.—Oregon State Barometer.

CURRENT COMMENT

COMPETITIVE BROADCASTS.

A college-wide radio broadcasting contest, in which every living organization on the University of Oregon campus at Eugene, Oregon, has been invited to participate was announced yesterday by officials of the Oregon Daily Emerald, who, with the cooperation of radio station KORE will sponsor a series of competitive programs, the first of which will be presented on Tuesday, January 21.

Arrangements have been made with station KORE to devote the 8 o'clock hour on every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to the competitive broadcasts. Each house will plan, prepare and present its own half-hour program. Only those who are members of a group may take part in its program.

Vocal or instrumental numbers, skits, comedy, or any other form of radio entertainment may be used to make up the program. They will be judged from a standpoint of general entertainment value, and will allow much leeway for original stunts and novel ideas. Letters of criticism from radio listeners will be taken into consideration in judging the competitive programs.

TESTS.

Approximately thirty psychological tests are being used by Professor Milton Mettessel of the department of psychology of the University of Southern California in the new psychological clinic which opened last week for the diagnosing of speech defects. The new clinic will deal chiefly with stuttering and stammering, and according to Dr. Mettessel, if it is found that stuttering is due to cerebral conflict the psychology department of Southern California will be able to aid the individual.

Professor Mettessel is collaborating with Stephen Jones, London phonetician, on a new book called "Experimental Phonetics." He came to the University of Southern California this fall.

Alice Brusletten was a guest of Marlon Cline at the Alpha Phi house Sunday.

Pipes save no midnight oil

IF PIPES made the man, anybody at all could rise in the world just by smoking a few pounds of Edgeworth. But pipes do not make the man.

Men make the pipe—most men do. Somewhat depends on the individual, more on the pipe, and the tobacco is most important of all. Things must be congenial.

Edgeworth is a congenial tobacco, cool, slow-burning, fully flavored. Edgeworth has poise, kindly good nature, real tobacco personality—Edgeworth welcomes new friends. Many a good man has been pledged to pipes by Edgeworth alone.

Like to meet Edgeworth? Just ask with the coupon—and the postman will bring your first few pipefuls of the genuine, three years seasoned if it's a day. Our treat, if you please.

Others have found Edgeworth and quit their discontent.

So may it be with you!

EDGEWORTH

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobaccos—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere—“Ready Rubbed” or “Plug Slice”—15¢ pocket package to pound humidor tin.

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va.
 I'll try your Edgeworth. And I'll try it in a good pipe.
 (Witness my seal)
 (and my seat of learning)
 (and my postoffice and state)
 Now let the Edgeworth come!

Sigma Alpha Epsilon announces the pledging of Gary Robinson of Red Lodge and Wright Gates of Ryegate.

Alpha Xi Delta announces the pledging of Constance Spokile of Westby.

Ethel Redden was a dinner guest at the Tri Delta house Saturday.

Sigma Phi Epsilon entertained George Welcome and Berton Matthews at dinner Sunday.

Delta Gamma entertained Venita Slack, Donna Fitzpatrick and Dorothy Lewis at dinner Sunday.

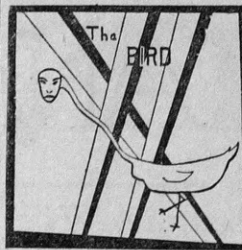

Delta Delta Delta announces the pledging of Marie Peterson of Great Falls.

Alpha Phi entertained Ella Pollinger and Evelyn Mattmiller at dinner Monday.

Merle Hagy and John Morris were dinner guests at the Sigma Nu house Saturday.

ALICE RIEDELL HOME.

Alice Riedell, daughter of Prof. C. H. Riedell, has returned to her home from the Thornton hospital where she has been a patient for the last three weeks. She is convalescing from pneumonia at her home but will not be able to return to school for six or eight weeks.

Above is an illustration of what will happen to you if you don't tuck in your muffler carefully.

The Bird walked across Higgins Avenue bridge. When he (or might it be she!) reached Kelley's corner a backlapper slapped and the neck, due to extreme brittleness, snapped right in two.

"Only a Bird with a Broken Neck."

Mrs. LeClaire, believe it or not, has prescribed green gargle. The Bird is not so well; but then he never was so good.

"HOW TO GET GRADES:" by one not competent to tell.

There is no such thing as a systematic approach to this question of grades. Therefore random remarks will be as helpful as an essay. There will be no footnotes.

The Eisenstein Theory: Spark every time a question is asked. If you get four wrong and the fifth right, the fifth time only will be remembered by the teacher. This is not sure-fire.

The Intelligent Attitude: Sit in the second row and look understandingly at the teacher. Never fidget. Be the first to laugh at teacher's jokes, but don't laugh too loud, nor too long, nor in the wrong place.

The Earnest Attitude: Sit in the first row and knit brows. Carry many books and look haunted.

The Detective Method: This, the most subtle, is the best method. Find out what the teacher wants (it is possible for you to be surprised). Then supply that neatly, at logical moments, and you may omit other class work.

Take an apple to class.

Things We Would Like to Investigate: What happened to KUOM... Straight A's... Who sets, and when do they set, the Main hall clock... Just what Speer's Horde, the Thousands who work in Main hall, do when they are not punching holes in grade slips... What the citizens of Missoula would do if our suitcase burned up... Why they don't take the scaffolding down from the City Heating Plant chimneys... Where the Christmas Spirit has gone... What Psychology professors would do if no one had invented psychology...

You can remember who signed the Declaration, and you can remember what happened three years ago New Year's, and you can remember the date of the fall of Westphalia; but you can't remember who dealt last.

We wonder if all those people who said "Happy New Year" were being sarcastic.

One more word about grades: If all other methods fail, try the Business College.

HALL PUBLISHES PAPER.

Before the Christmas vacation, paper edited by the members of Aeneas hall, men's dormitory at the University of Southern California, appeared on the campus. It is the only paper on the Pacific coast to be published independently by a college residence hall. Plans have been made to issue the paper monthly. The entire staff is composed of men who reside in the dormitory. The paper is financed by hall funds, but in the future, advertising will be carried to put the paper on a paying basis. As its main purpose the paper states that it is to increase the spirit of unity and to furnish a means whereby the campus may become informed of the events taking place in the hall.—Daily Trojan.

The Westinghouse equipped oil-electric locomotives of the Canadian National are the most powerful in the world.

The steam locomotive has a new rival

ATTENTION in railway circles focuses this year on a spectacular undertaking by the Canadian National Railways—the electrification of certain trains on non-electrified lines.

One great oil-electric locomotive is already in service. The largest and most powerful of its type in the world, this giant electric locomotive that carries its own generating plant develops 2660 horsepower, uses only .43 lb. of fuel per horsepower-hour developed at full load.

Many interesting features are incorporated in its design. The speed and voltage of the engine-generators are automatically controlled by the power demands.

The engine exhaust is directed through automatically regulated economizers that heat the coaches and serve as well as mufflers. Control is placed at both ends, to enable running in either direction. Only in a difference in gearing need the passenger type units differ from those adapted to freight service.

In the development of this locomotive Westinghouse engineers co-operated with the Railway's own engineers and leading locomotive manufacturers and frame builders. Every year hundreds of important jobs in which electricity is involved are delegated to Westinghouse, the clearing house for electrical development.

C. L. A. OFFERS 210 COURSES.

University college of Southern California opened its winter semester on Monday 6, offering 210 courses, 12 of which are new this semester. Two of the new courses are conducted by Milton F. Metfessel of the department of psychology at Southern California. Doctor Metfessel will lecture "Psychology of Speech and Voice," and "Experiment in Phonetics and Speech Psychology." A new evening course in child-psychology is also being introduced at University college. Dr. Irma Scheidegger will be in charge of the subject.

With constant use of illustrative material, a night course in textiles is being offered at the downtown branch of the University of Southern California. In this course, physical and chemical tests will be made in the laboratory in connection with lectures on identification of fibers, comparison of textile fibers and rayon, yarns and processes of spinning, finishing processes, weaves, methods of dyeing, and so on.

Professor Joyn E. Nordskog of the department of sociology will lecture on the rise of political and economic institutions, philosophies, and social signs from the time of Hellenic, Roman, and Byzantine periods to contemporary civilizations of modern times. He will also give a course in anthropology.

University college is the downtown branch of Southern California. It offers regular college courses in the evening for those who are unable to attend the day sessions. The courses offered in the University college are specially adapted for the following: nurses, aviators, social workers, people in the petroleum industry and investment, radio announcers, radio artists, and picture people, business men and women, club women, teachers, architects, scientists, librarians and journalists.

University Graduate of '29 Directs Music in Hysham Schools.

Mildred Stoick, '29, is now director of music in the public schools at Hysham, Montana.

With the assistance of the grade school teachers, Miss Stoick presented an operetta, "Bringing Up Santa," December 10, which, according to the Hysham Echo, was excellently rendered and showed careful training and conscientious work.

The new school orchestra, also directed by Miss Stoick, made its initial appearance on this program, and, again quoting the Echo, "pleased the audience greatly and much commendation for its splendid work was heard."

Miss Stoick also directs the Girls' Glee club, which presented a cantata, "The Wondrous Story," at the close of the program.

FRANKLIN'S BIRTHDAY.

Washington State College, Pullman. —"Poor Richard" in his printer's days will serve as the subject of a radio talk to be presented over KWSC, State College radio center, at 8 Thursday, January 16.

Tribute to Benjamin Franklin as a printer will be paid by a follow-up in-trade, Thomas J. O'Day, superintendent of the State College print shop. Franklin's early struggles and experiences during his apprenticeship will be broadcast by Mr. O'Day, and will be accompanied by a special program of faculty musical numbers, in honor of the patriotic printer's birthday.

Grizzlies To Meet Billings Independents Tonight; Will Play Aggies Tomorrow

Aggies Make Good Showing in Eastern Barnstorming Trip, Taking Four of Seven Hard Games.

Montana's Grizzly basketball team is marking time this afternoon in Billings where they will play the Billings Independents tonight in preparation for the Aggie game tomorrow. With the Idaho victory under their belts the Grizzlies feel that they are in just the right spot to face the mighty Bobcat.

The Aggies are just back from a seven game barnstorming trip that carried them as far east as Pennsylvania. Four teams were conquered in the last five games. Butler, Loyola at Chicago, and Pittsburgh were the outfits that kept the trip from being a complete success. Marquette, Purdue, Penn State and Nebraska all bowed to the Bobcats, the Nebraska game being a 61-30 track meet.

The Aggies have held the Rocky Mountain conference championship for the last three years and have only one man missing from their wonder quint of last year.

The Grizzlies in their only chance to show the home-folks their wares so far, displayed a brilliant attack and tight defense, missed shots being the only reason that they did not take the Vandals to a greater cleaning than they did.

Keith Ario is the tall boy that has been chosen to replace John Breeden at guard for the Cats, the other four sharpshooters remaining intact at their positions, with Frank Ward at center, Orland Ward and Cat Thompson at forwards and Max Worthington at the other guard position. Sadler and Buzzetti are substitutes who see considerable action.

The University will pin its hopes on Eddie Chinske and Billy Rohlfis or Johnny Lewis at forwards, Ted Rule or Harp Kilroy at center, and Bub Rankin and Snick Lockwood at guards. Several of the boys are veterans and Lockwood and Kilroy are tall enough to cope with the oversize Ward and Ario.

VERSATILE STUDENT.

In the winter registration at the University of Washington is found an Austrian with unusual accomplishments. Rolf Henk of Vienna, Austria, is an artist, journalist, author, linguist and war veteran.

Besides speaking French, German, Latin, Italian, English and Spanish, Henk is a well-known author and journalist. He has had 17 books and more than 1,000 articles published. During 1928 and 1927 he lived in Paris as chief editor of two newspapers.

For the last two years Henk has travelled in southern and eastern Asia, visiting Egypt, India, Sumatra, Singapore, the Philippines, Formosa, Hongkong, Tokio and Shanghai.

Henk came to America with the intention of teaching and working in the meantime in an American University for the degree of doctor of philosophy. With regard to his coming to Seattle he says that he never heard of it until last fall when he inquired about the leaving of the next ship from the Orient to the United States, and found that the Yokohama Maru sailed for Seattle in a few days. He was too late to register for the autumn quarter but has entered in the graduate school for the winter quarter.—U. of Washington Daily.

PHELAN GREETED.

A gigantic assembly and pep rally greeted Jimmy Phelan, new head grid coach at University of Washington, formerly of Purdue university, when he stepped from the airplane which brought him to Seattle Wednesday afternoon. Included also in the program at Sand Point field was a colorful parade, a welcoming talk by President M. Lyle Spencer and later in the evening a banquet was given in Phelan's honor.—U. of Washington Daily.

Prof. Fay G. Clark

Recipient of Dubious Honor By Way of Publicity.

His picture in Liberty magazine, in football togs, over a caption telling of an "obscure halfback who ran the wrong way" in 1905, is the dubious honor claimed by Fay G. Clark, associate professor in the Forestry school here, and former fullback at the University of Michigan.

"Famous 'Bonehead' Plays—A Tour of the Hall of Dumb-bell Fame in Sports," is the title of the article by George Trevor, in the January 4th issue of Liberty. In the center of the page, just below a picture of Roy Riegels, California center who ran seventy yards toward the wrong goal last year, is a cut of Fay Clark. Below the cut is the explanation: "Denny Clark, Michigan half, whose neck-or nothing gamble turned out disastrously in 1905 and resulted in his leaving college."

The article is a resume of famous mistakes in football, baseball, crew and all the major sports. After reviewing the Riegels case, the writer goes on to tell of Denny Clark, Michigan's "man without a college." It was in 1905, when Michigan's unbeaten Wolverines were playing the University of Chicago. A kick by Eckersall of Chicago sailed over the Michigan goal line into the arms of Denny Clark. Instead of touching the ball down, and thus securing possession on Michigan's 25-yard line, Clark attempted to break through a hole in the Chicago line and carry the ball down the field. His plan failed. He was tackled on the goal line for a safety, and Michigan lost the game, 2 to 0.

Newspapers were bitter against Clark, and he was ostracized on the Michigan campus. Within a week he quit college and went to work in a lumber camp, away from all acquaintances. He refused for many years to return from his exile.

Fay Clark, now a professor in the Forestry school here, also went to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. He was fullback on the famous Wolverines team of 1909 which won every game and became United States champions. He and Denny Clark were the only Clark on a Michigan football team.

According to Fay Clark, his picture probably came from the morgue of the Chicago Tribune, as the same cut had appeared in that paper several years ago. As the Liberty is connected with the Tribune, and as this cut was probably the only football Clark from Michigan in the morgue, some unsuspecting makeup man evidently took it for granted that it was the right Clark, Denny. His honor rivals some of those described in Trevor's article.

Fay Clark played football for nine years, one year at semi-professional. He was mentioned by several sports writers as an all-American candidate in 1909, the only year in which he was eligible to play in inter-collegiate contests. When questioned last night, he denied that he was planning to take action against the magazine. "It was a mistake, but it did no great harm," he said. "Only, I did not run the wrong way."

Lawyers Organize Strong Basket Quint

According to Scotty Martin, manager, "The Law School basketball team is again organized and out for blood." He further states that only Law school students will be used this year.

Sidney Stewart will captain the team, Jimmy Morrow being trainer. The Law school quint achieved fame last year when they won the University pennant for championship of the schools on the campus.

MORE CUPS.

Award of scholarship cups for every men's and women's living organization on the University of Oregon campus has been made possible by a donation given by the vice-president of the university. The cups were given in response to a demand for more adequate representation of student leadership and especially to permit dormitories and other living organizations to compete for prizes.—Oregon Daily Emerald.

Plenty of basketball on Montana hardwood courts this week, schedules show.

The Grizzlies left yesterday afternoon for Billings where they will play an independent team tonight.

Wednesday night they will play the Bobcats at Bozeman.

The Montana State Bobcats play their first Rocky Mountain conference game at Bozeman Friday night with Utah University. The two teams will also meet on Saturday night.

Intermountain Union college and Mount St. Charles play at Helena tonight.

Coach Stewart has added Mount St. Charles to the Grizzlies' schedule this season, a doubleheader to be played at the Montana capital city January 24 and 25.

Helena, Butte, Whitefish, Park and Butte Central are leading the "Big 14" high school basketball conference. None of these teams have yet been defeated by another conference club.

The Bobcats closed their eastern barnstorming tour last Saturday at Lincoln when they gave the University of Nebraska a 60-31 trouncing. "Cat" Thompson scored 22 points against the Cornhuskers with 10 baskets and two points from the foul line.

Thompson's running mate, Frank

Ward, accounted for 16 points with seven field goals and two points from the foul line.

Webster defines barnstorming as the act of "an itinerant actor who plays in barns when a theatre is lacking; an inferior actor who plays in rural districts and who is not capable of playing in the big cities."

Webster must have lived before the Bobcats went on their trip or he would have hardly called Pittsburgh, Penn., "rural" after a glimpse at Bozeman, Montana.

An announcement in the gymnasium reads that indoor track practice will start at the University February 11. Another line in the announcement is to the effect that track men should have their grades in the best possible shape by that time.

Burly Miller's Christmas tree is still up.

Elsie MacDowell is doing graduate work at Oregon this year in addition to teaching some classes.
