Case Work Is Class Study

Second of Ten Lectures Was Given Last Night.

"The Development of the Technique of Family Case Work" was the subject of the second of 10 lectures given in Craig hall last evening by Miss Haselstine Byrd, sociology instructor. The lecture started at 7:45 o'clock.

This course in social problems is being given for the residents of Missoula who are interested in the work. Thirty attended the first session held last Monday night.

The method of treating dependent classes has run the list from alms-giving and charity through the high-sounding terms of philanthropy and relief to the present emphasis on the rehabilitation of the family. This modern attitude will be stressed in the lectures, Miss Byrd said.

Dean Stone to Have Forest Policy Class

In accordance with a plan carried out each year, the class in Forest Policy, Forestry 13b, is again being conducted this quarter by Dean A. L. Stone of the Journalism school. The dean will manage the course for the first six weeks, and during that time he will discuss in its entirety the public relations phase of forest policy.

SUMMER SESSION PLANS UNDER WAY FOR SCHOOL TO COMMENCE JUNE 17

Program of Week-End Trips Definitely Outlined; Trips Gained Favor Last Year.

Definite plans for the summer school session are now being made, says President Clapp, in order that advertising and publicity for the session can be gotten out earlier than usual. The summer school session this year will begin on June 17, registration for it being the day before.

Plans for week-end trips were completed last week. One of the novel features of this year's trips, according to the president, will be a trip to Glacier National park, including a trip over Logan pass, from July 3 to 6, inclusive. The trip will also include Flathead lake, it being planned to go to

NOTICE.

All unbound periodicals have been put on the two-hour reserve shelf in the library by a new rule. Previously such magazines as the Literary Digest have been loaned for a period of one week. This was discontinued because of the difficulties encountered in replacing the lost copies.

PI GAMMA MU, SOCIAL SCIENCE FRATERNITY, WILL BE REORGANIZED

With nine members in the chapter, Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, has reorganized and is now again getting under way on the campus. Originally chartered here in 1924, the local chapter was discontinued the following year. In the revived form, its members plan to meet every Wednesday. They will meet tomorrow to elect officers.

Pi Gamma Mu originated at Southern University, Winfield, Kansas, in 1924, under the management of Dean LeRoy Allen of the College of Liberal Arts there. In December of the same year, seventeen other chapters, including the one at Montana, were inaugurated. There are at present 98 chapters.

Masquers and Press Club To Present Plays

Daily Rehearsals Are Held
For Program of January
27; Humor Promised.

Dramatics have invaded the Journalism Shack. Rehearsals are being held daily for the skit which the Press club will offer at the public program sponsored by the Masquers in the Little Theatre Monday, January 27. Journalists are presenting a one-act farce, "The Plumber." The cast is enthusiastic over the play and Director L. H. Maury promises a smooth production of this riot of fun.

"Heads and Hearts of Oak" or "Love Will Find a Way," a one-act burlesque of the old-time melodrama, constitutes the Masquers' contribution to the program. Gertrude Gustafson is directing the play. Rehearsals are held each afternoon in the Little Theatre.

The public programs which the Masquers have been presenting since early last quarter have been popular on the campus. The entertainment is interesting and varied and the best talent available on the campus participates. Arrangements have been made to have several interesting speakers talk on different phases of the theatre at coming meetings. The increasing interest being shown in dramatics on the campus is encouraging to the members of the Masquers.

Interfraternity Ball

Invites All Stray Greeks to Attend Annual Ball Which Will Be Feb. 7.

The annual interfraternity formal ball is to be held this year at the Elite hall February 7. There will be 14 dances with no extras and all stray Greeks are invited to attend. Tommy Meisinger and his orchestra will furnish the music.

The committee in charge is composed of Robert H. Allen, Virginia City, chairman; John Rankin, Hardin, and Jack Aiton, Bedford, Iowa.

The chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Clapp, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Jesse, Dean and Mrs. J. E. Miller and Mrs. Mildred E. Stone.

MARGE STEWART NAMED MANAGER OF CO-ED FORMAL

February 14 Is Date of Annual Dance.

Marjorie Stewart, 31, was appointed Co-ed Formal manager at the meeting of A. W. S. board Monday afternoon. Committees will be appointed and plans for the dance completed soon. It will be held February 14.

Co-ed Formal, which is one of the campus traditions, is the annual dance given for the men. The women secure their own dates, buy the tickets and treat the men with flowers, food, and taxis. In former years, the decorations have been a feature of the dance.

Miss Stewart, whose home is in Helena, has served on several campus committees, was president of Tanan last year, acted as class secretary, and was on the Student Interscholastic committee.

Bear Paws Perform Duties at W.S.C. Game

Yesterday the Bear Paws followed their usual custom of transporting the W. S. C. basketball team from the hotel to the gym and back. The Bear Paws have made plans to see that each basketball team that visits here this season shall receive the same courtesy. They ushered at last night's game.

This was their first active work this quarter as most of them did not get back from their Christmas vacation in time to do much at the time of the Idaho game. The Bear Paws plan to make everyone's visit to the State University pleasant by adding him and giving any information which he may ask for. Courtesy has been the motto followed by each of the twenty members of this organization since it was formed in 1920.

Seabeck Conference

Wants Ten University Delegates to Attend June Meeting.

Ten delegates from Montana to the Y. M. C. A. conference to be held at Seabeck, Wash., next June: this is the wish expressed by Ray Culver, secretary of the western division of the Y. M. C. A., in a letter received by Rev. Jesse Bunch, of the School of Religion, recently. The conference is an annual affair, and usually Montana is fairly well represented. According to Mr. Bunch, two men have already signified their intention of going, and if plans work out, the trip may be made by auto at a minimum of expense.

Three Debate Teams To Be Picked Today

Groups Will Compete With Idaho, Oregon and School of Mines.

Three men's varsity debate teams are to be chosen at a meeting to be held today at 4 o'clock. Each team is to be composed of three men.

One of these groups will debate with the University of Idaho, the second with the University of Oregon, and the third with the State School of Mines.

In preparation for today's contest, the members of the squad have prepared speeches dealing with disarmament and lobbying.

Masquers Initiate

Price, Negerbon, DeDobeleer, Blaese and Briggs.

Initiation was held for five newly elected members of the Masquers in the Little Theatre Sunday afternoon. Those initiated were Margaret Price, William Negerbon, Jasper DeDobeleer, Evelyn Blaese and Dorothy Briggs.

The ceremony consisted of the presentation of an original skit by the new members. William Negerbon first read an original one-act play. This was followed by a grand chorus ensemble and the initiates' interpretation of an ideal Masquers meeting.

VARSITY VODVIL MANUSCRIPTS MUST BE SUBMITTED BY JAN. 25

Seven Acts Will Be Selected for the Final Show; March 8 Is Date Of Presentation.

Manuscripts for Varsity Vodvil acts must be turned in to Elmer Hugo, manager, not later than Saturday, January 25. Tryouts will be held in the Little Theatre about the middle of February with March 8 set as the date of public presentation. Following the tryouts, seven acts will be selected by the judges for the final show.

Judges will be mostly from the faculty. Separate sets of judges are used for the try-outs and the finals.

Every group on the campus is urged to get started on the show. Competition is growing keener each year and the show is improving. There is plenty of time for every organization to work up a good act.

The ticket sale for Varsity Vodvil will be conducted in a different manner than former years. The managers want a more uniform distribution of tickets and a new plan will be formulated.

"Announcement of the date for tryouts will appear soon. Meanwhile get an early start and we'll have some real competition," said Hugo.

Begins Commercial Classes This Week

Mr. E. W. House, instructor of typing and shorthand, started classes Monday. He arrived in Missoula last Thursday evening from Spokane, where he left his car, not being able to drive through on account of snow blocked roads.

Mr. House is a graduate of the University of Wyoming, where he later instructed in chemistry and commercial courses. He comes here from Phoenix, Arizona, having instructed commercial work in the high schools of that town until Christmas.

MONTANA FIVE IMPRESS WHILE DOWNING LEADERS OF NORTHERN DIVISION

Accurate Floor Work and Fast Breaking Offense Are Factors Contributing to W. S. C. Defeat; Chinske and B. Rohlfis High Scorers.

Basketball fans last night were treated to the spectacle of five Grizzlies on a wild scoring rampage, with the Washington State Cougars as the badly mauled victims. Montana drew first blood with a field goal and was never once in danger after that, holding a 30-13 lead at half time, which was increased rapidly. With ten minutes to play in the second half the score stood 40-17. The Grizzlies rested for a moment then and the Cougar scored five points, but the bear recovered quickly to pile up 14 points in the last seven minutes and set the final score at 54-24.

Bulletins Sent To 183 Schools

Track Events, Awards, and Instructions Listed.

Bulletins dealing with the Inter-scholastic track meet were mailed to the 183 fully accredited high schools in the state last Friday.

These bulletins include a list of the events to be held, a list of the awards to be given, and all the instructions to the participants in the track meet, the speaking contest and the Little Theatre tournament.

Last year the 50-yard dash was discontinued but there are to be no changes in the meet this year. Entry blanks must be sent to the University on or before May 7 which is one week before the meet starts.

Carl Glick Produces "The Swan" in Texas

Carl Glick, formerly director of dramatics on the campus, is now engaged in the production of "The Swan" by Ferenc Molnar at the Little Theatre in San Antonio, Texas. The play will open January 22 and run for three nights. Molnar has also written several one-act plays which include a series of 10-minute plays and some other three acts.

The floor work of the Grizzlies last night was rapid and accurate, the men taking the ball the length of the floor in one series of short passes that usually ended with a man free in scoring territory. The starting five, with Eddie Chinske and Billy Rohlfis at forwards, Ted Rude at center and Bub Rankin and Harp Kilroy at guards, worked like a perpetual motion machine until the middle of the second half, with every man figuring in the passing attack and on the close-checking defense. Ted Rude and Harp Kilroy were lost on personals during the second period but the working of the machinery continued smoothly with Johnny Lewis and Frank Lockwood in their places. Three minutes before the close of the game, with Billy Rohlfis the only member of the starting quint still in the fray the Grizzlies turned the contest into a slaughter, keeping the ball from the tiring Cougars almost continually.

For the Washington Staters Enslow, elongated center, Holsten and Buckley were the best performers. Buckley was a tow-headed whiz on the floor, although he did not break into the

BAND SOCIETY TO HOLD MEET

Musicians Will Entertain Gillette Of Carleton.

Members of Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, will meet next Thursday evening at 7:15 o'clock, in 202 Main hall, to plan two important events. The first will be a "Dutch Treat" smoker for both bands on Thursday evening, February 6. Music, boxing, wrestling, talks on college bands, and refreshments are planned for the evening.

The other event which the fraternity will consider will be the entertaining of Robert Gillette, director of the Carleton Symphony band of Northville, Minn., when he arrives here February 8. Mr. Gillette's band is scheduled to play at the high school on that date, under the joint management of the Frontier magazine and the high school.

Music Club to Meet Thursday Evening

The meeting of the Music club postponed last Thursday because of the cold weather will be held in Prof. DeLoe Smith's studio Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The program, of which Ella Pollinger is in charge, will include a talk on piano music by Mrs. J. H. Ramskill and several piano solos by Prof. John Crowder. Refreshments will be served after the regular meeting.

"TIMBER BEASTS" BRAVE COLD ONLY TO FIND TIMBER IS UNATTAINABLE

It wasn't too cold for the men, but the trees couldn't stand it. This sums up the results of the ill-fated "Boughs Expedition" of Timber Beasts which set out bravely for the far spaces up Hayes creek last Saturday morning.

The expedition, made up of some 25 forestry students, was organized for the double purpose of thinning a plot of pine up Patee canyon and of securing as a by-product a quantity of boughs with which to decorate for the Forestry Ball February 21.

At 8 o'clock Saturday morning, with the mercury hovering around the 12 below-mark, the student foresters set out. Several cars and a truck carried the men and their lunches to the scene, and trees started falling at once. But not for long.

The extreme cold had frozen the moisture in the needles and limbs, and when the trees were handled the pine needles broke off like glass. By the time a tree was loaded on the truck it was almost denuded.

The men returned about noon. They brought back with them exactly no boughs, one frozen nose, three frost-bitten ears and a score of numb fingers. Discouraged? Not at all! They'll try again—next Saturday, maybe.

Varsity Vodvil

MANUSCRIPTS for Varsity Vodvil are due Saturday, January 25 at 10 o'clock. Try out for the show, with the time schedule, will be announced shortly. At tryouts, seven acts will be selected for the final production which will be presented at the Wilma, March 8. The awards for the show will be the same as were offered last year. Two different sets of judges will pass upon the acts, that is one group will function at the tryouts, and one the night of presentation.

During the past few years some groups have not tried out for the show. Their reason, apparently, for this was not lack of interest but dissatisfaction with some phase of judging, merits of acts, amount of help in preparing the acts, professional or otherwise. A real effort will be made to do away with this feeling when the managers of the acts meet with the managers of the show on next Saturday morning. At this time it will be explained that the proceeds from the show are turned over to the general fund of A. S. U. M. which in turn is used beneficially for the student body as a whole.

For the first time in the history of Varsity Vodvil, the Independent women on the campus staged an act in the production of 1929. Their efforts were well rewarded by tying for the first place for women's acts. The interest shown by these students added considerably to the caliber of the talent used in the show.

This year, as always, a revision of the ticket sale is being planned. Before congratulating the managers, we will wait for the plan to be announced and put into effect.

Absent-Minded Professor.

WITH fervent hallelujahs we hail the gradual demise of the absent-minded professor. He is bound at the rate of a mile a minute for the limbo of stale jokes. The caricature that once was the popular conception of the leaders of our youth is now in the waste-basket of public opinion. The youthful witticisms of the past generation have been outgrown by their twentieth century subject. He is no longer the forgetful, long-haired, wild-eyed individual that the cartoonist slurred, derided, reviled, misinterpreted, or what have you. He no longer searches wildly for spectacles perched on his intellectual brow. His hopeless habit of kissing the cat and kicking his wife out of doors is no more. He shaves himself instead of an innocent porcupine.

He has become a businessman working for a salary instead of pure joy. He dresses nattily. He speaks the language of the day instead of the idiom of the past. He is often mistaken for a student. He is a student. He is sharp, thoughtful, practical. His automobile is as modern as his brain; as smooth-working, too, and as quick-starting.

The much-maligned pedagogue is no more. The tears we shed are few.—California Daily Bruin.

CURRENT COMMENT

NEW STUDY METHOD.

Dr. H. H. Whetzel of Cornell University advocates a new method of studying which should meet with the approval of those idealists who say that college students should be allowed their own inclinations in the matter of studying and should study how, when and where they like. The only difference between Dr. Whetzel's plan and that of the idealists is that it has been in operation for ten years and is still going strong whereas the idealistic dreams have not progressed beyond certain books and editorials.

The plan in short is to put the student under contract to do a certain amount of work a year. He is not compelled to attend lectures or classes and he himself determines the amount of time he will spend on each subject. The plan succeeds because of its utter democracy. If the classes are interesting the student may attend them but if he thinks that he can get more out of his course and learn more by going elsewhere he is at perfect liberty to do so.

It can easily be seen that this type of study is not suited to the lazy student or the student who leaves all his work to the end of the term when he crams up all he can in preparation for his examinations. It is on the contrary a course for those who are real students; who take pride in their work and who delight in tracking down information on their own and do not take the opinions of their teachers as correct or perfect just because they happen to correct the examination papers. It is a method of study where all is placed on the shoulders of the student and whereby he learns the value of time which he might otherwise waste. By studying in this manner the student must be methodical and must allot his time so that he will reach a certain point in his studies by a certain time.

The feature of this method of study which appeals most to students have a great deal of leisure time which often goes to waste either through indifference or because the student has nothing to do. Now, most students know in advance approximately how far a certain course of study will go in a year. By allotting their time and making a contract with themselves instead of their professors to reach a certain point in their studies by a certain time most students will find that their work will be done much sooner than is ordinarily the case.—McGill Daily.

CO-ED ENGINEER.

A woman of many records is Frances Field, sophomore at the University of Washington. Last quarter she was one of three co-eds in the college of engineering. At the beginning of this quarter she became the first and only co-ed to register in the new department of aeronautics. Others have become aviatresses, but Miss Field is the first to sign up for the engineering-production end of aviation.

And comes the announcement now that she has been appointed on the committee for the engineer's informal—heretofore an exclusively masculine event. This is the first time in the history of the affair that a woman has ever served on the committee. According to the chairman of the engineer's formal, co-ed Field has been constituted a sub-committee of one to regulate those elusive details of decoration and program which, taken as a whole, create the atmosphere or color of the affair. In short she is the "feminine touch" committee.

The motif for the dance scheduled for the middle of February has not been definitely decided on as yet. Comrade Field, pretty, blonde and capable, is expected to have a good deal to say on this important matter, where her feminine intuition combined with her engineer's intellect is expected to produce notable results.—U. of Washington Daily.

Now that they have installed courses in shorthand in the University, there will be some point to giving endurance exams.

There is very little difference between two questions with eight subdivisions each, and sixteen questions. When one is told to write "all you know" about a subject, it is bound to be embarrassing. If you know a lot, you won't have time to write it all in an hour. If you don't know a lot; oh, well, you know how embarrassing that is.

Spats are splendid in their place; but their place is not at the Bear Paw-Tanah dance.

Nor at any dance. Not even a formal.

Call out the W. A. A. Reserves. There are mice in Corbin hall. One has never actually been seen there, but the idea is fine, and gives such a splendid excuse for screaming up and down the halls late at night.

Doug and Mary, in "The Taming of the Shrew," written by some new Hollywood gag-man called Shakespeare, in collaboration with that wit Sam Taylor. In case you want to know, we thought it very medium entertainment. Probably on account Doug only jumped up one wall, and did very little swinging from chandelier to staircase.

They should of got some swell theme song for it. Irving Berlin could of knocked out something swell about "Shrew, I'm Wild About You."

John Mason Brown succeeded in Missoula at least.

Saturday night we couldn't get a seat at the Rialto.

The lights are still on the University Christmas Tree.

NEW SLATE.

The following article, taken from the editorial column of the Oregon Emerald, is another indication of a better feeling of good will between the two Oregon institutions. The Barometer is entirely in sympathy with establishing better and more sportsmanlike relations with the university, so long as the Emerald continues to advocate this same policy.

"After more than a half dozen years of severed forensic relations with Oregon State Agricultural college, Oregon has at last joined hands with the college and is forgetting past differences. Misunderstandings and ill-advised rivalries between the two institutions in debate led to the cancellation of future oratorical contests. This term debaters from the two schools will vie in a dual meet at Eugene and Corvallis on March 5.

"No matter which school may win provided there are to be decisions in these debates—both schools can be and should be expected to take the matter for what it is and forego small-time reasoning when the results of the debates are known.

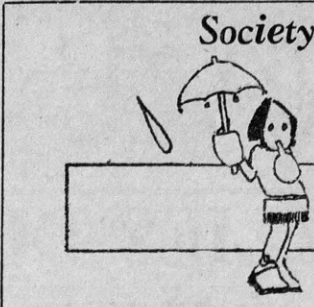

"Debate is a clash of intellects and reasoning, two traits common to both university and college students and a victory for one or the other cannot be taken as indicative of the comparative values of university and college educations any more than a dean's gold score is an index of the scholastic standing of his school.

"Expansion of debate at the university has been constant despite the seeming decadence of interest in the activity, until now it is on an international basis. With 17 debates on this year's schedule, Oregon is looking forward to another active forensic year. Debate may be classed with collegiate institutions such as track, baseball, swimming, or basketball, in the sense that the individual benefits from participation are greater than the monetary gain to the university."—Oregon State Barometer.

Tuition is $30 regardless of courses of the number of hours taken by the student, and there is a social fee of three dollars.

The students are divided into three groups, beginning, intermediate and advanced, on the basis of their knowledge of Spanish determined by credentials or examination.

As the object of the summer courses is to offer to foreigners an opportunity to study the language, history, art and social conditions of Mexico, there are many excursions to interesting centers of the country. Pyramids, comparable to those of the ancient Egyptians, exist within an hour's ride of Mexico City. Their works of Mayan art go back to the beginning of the Christian era.

This summer school offers the rare opportunity of coming in contact with Spanish speaking people in a Spanish speaking country.—Oregon Barometer.

POLICE SCHOOL.

Quite a large attendance is expected at the police school which will be held on the Willamette University campus the first of February. The purpose of this school is to provide that specialized training which will prepare the officer to more efficiently and intelligently perform his duties to the public, and to enable him to find pleasure and satisfaction in his work. By way of publicity 550 letters have been sent out to city police, sheriffs, constables, traffic officers, peace officers, and those preparing to become law enforcement officials.—Willamette Collegian.

OREGON'S RIFLE TEAM.

Forty-four matches have been lined up for the University of Oregon rifle team. These matches are to be with institutions all over the United States and one with the University of Porto Rico. This far outnumbers the opponent list in previous years. All of the matches will be conducted during February and March.

As the rifle team is composed mostly of veterans, Oregon has an excellent chance of high national recognition in the sport. At present the gallery is in almost constant use by team aspirants who are seeking to improve enough to edge out some of the men who placed high in last year's shoots.

Some of the other teams which Oregon will oppose are the University of Cincinnati, Montana State College, University of Alabama, Rose Polytechnic Institute, North Carolina State college, Mississippi, A. & M. college, Connecticut agricultural college, University of Wyoming, Louisiana State college, Washington university, Lafayette college, University of Washington, New York State Exchange, University of West Virginia, Iowa State college and South Dakota college.—Oregon Daily Emerald.

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT.

International night to which everyone on the Southern California campus was invited was held last Wednesday in the social hall of the Student Union building. Spanish, Russian, Chinese and Japanese groups contributed to the program.

La Terulla, the Spanish club on the campus, supervised a Spanish program. The purpose of the evening was to acquaint the foreign students better acquainted with the American students on the campus. Members of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. were hosts and hostesses at the program.

Honored guests at the International night included consuls from various neighboring countries, such as Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Peru, Spain, Salvador and Venezuela.—Southern California Daily Trojan.

Students at the University of California at Los Angeles have to buy their license plates for their automobiles at the Students' Cooperative store. This institution reported that 143 sets had been secured in the two days last week set aside for their purchase.—Daily Bruin.

The Upper Tenth

"Well, I'll be darned! Joe Ootum-poom made the honor roll! I didn't know he was that kind of a guy. He's a good fellow, too."

That's one of the amazing things about the honor roll. "He's a good fellow, too" doesn't only mean that he's a pleasant cuss with whom we can agree but also that he's more than a student. It usually means that he has a variety of interests apart from his courses and that he is as active in extra-curricular affairs as in his classroom work.

The Joe Ootum-pooms who turn up between the 33's and 45's on the honor roll when you least expect them to are usually the persons whom you have met at committee meetings and in plays and at recitals the quarter before. The question in the minds of most of us when we read the list is usually, "How do they do it?" Every one of them will give a different answer if asked. There seems to be no set rule for any two of them. No system being available we just put it down to the fact that "They must be smart" and let it go at that. One thing they are smart at and that is knowing their own limitations and working accordingly. If we all could judge our own capacity for study and limit the time we fool around in one day there might not be an honor roll because everyone would be on it.

NOTICE

Sigma Pi Sigma will hold a meeting at the Delta Gamma house tonight at 8:30. An interesting program has been arranged.

The Faculty volleyball team will play the Preachers' aggregation in the Women's gym tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. There was no volleyball practice last night because of the W. S. C. basketball game.

Quadrans will meet at 5 o'clock on Thursday at the Delta Gamma house.

"THEME ROOM."

Villard hall on the University of Oregon campus has a new room—and thereby students will no longer be able to duplicate each other's report writing themes!

The "theme room," as it is called, is really just a wire enclosure about 1 foot long, and six feet wide, on the third floor of Villard. On one side of the "room" are shelves of small wooden boxes—$40 of them—in which every report writing paper in each class will be filed for one year. At the end of this time, the papers will be removed elsewhere to be kept for four years. One box will be assigned to each student in alphabetical order. The screen door to the enclosure will be locked all the time, but each professor will have a key so that he can refer to any theme in his section.

According to the professor of English, the room was not built to prevent any cheating among the students by the use of someone else's paper, but merely to enable the teachers to check up on the improvement or faults of each member of the class.—Oregon Daily Emerald.

Melvin Kelley is in the South hall infirmary with a cold.

NEW NAMES ARE ADDED TO INTERSCHOLASTIC COMMITTEE

Clarence Powell, General Chairman, Announces Appointments; Date of Meet Set for May 14, 15, 16.

Several new appointments on the Student Interscholastic committee, which functions for the annual high school meet held annually at the University were made Monday afternoon by Dean T. C. Spaulding, chairman of the faculty housing committee, and Clarence Powell, general chairman of the student Interscholastic committee.

The 27th annual Interscholastic meet which ranks first in the Northwest and is second largest of high school representatives gathered together for competition in the United States will be held May 14, 15 and 16.

Clarence Powell, Boise, Idaho, has worked on the committee for the past three years and was elected general chairman at the last meeting of the committee held last year. Fairlie has, who is secretary in the Forestry school, will be general secretary.

Other committees and their members include: Decoration, George Hiltman, chairman, and L. Schultz; Fraternity and sorority decorations, Margaret Brown, chairman, and Charles Gough; Publicity, Sam Gillily, chairman, and Don Blakeslee; Tannans, Louise Wright, chairman, Marjorie Stewart and Hazel Borders; Bear Paws, Bob London, chairman, and Bill Boone.

The first meeting of the year will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Dean Spaulding's office, in the Forestry building.

The various committees will carry on as in the past years. The decorations committee will have complete charge of decorating the campus; competition in house decorations will be continued and prizes for the best will be given; statewide publicity will be put out by the publicity committee and the Bear Paws and Tannans will be to the meeting of all trains, transporting and housing the contestants.

Details of the work will be discussed at the first meeting and it is important that every member be present, Powell says.

Synopses of Acts Due on January 25

Synopses of acts for Varsity Varsity tryouts must be turned in by 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Elmer Hugo, Varsity Varsity manager, announced last night. The managers of the different groups will meet at that time in the auditorium in Main hall, to discuss rules and regulations. Instructions regarding properties, costumes and expenses will also be explained there. Over twenty separate organizations are expected to turn in acts, Hugo said.

PRAYERS.

Students at the North Carolina State college in Raleigh have found a means to drive their electrical engineering professor to prayers and meditation. Their method should prove interesting to those who feel that something should be done about the traditional skepticism that is a characteristic of engineering professors.

A news item, sent all over the nation by the United Press, carried the story of why Professor William H. Brown, Jr., of N. C. State college passed his time in "humiliation and prayer." After explaining that Professor Brown's class made an average of but 12 1/2 per cent in an examination in electrical engineering, the story proceeds to say that when the class appeared the next day, they found the following notice upon the door:

"The papers from the class are the poorest I ever got in 20 years of teaching. It would be wise not to bother me for the rest of the week, which I must pass in humiliation and prayer. William Brown."—Daily Tar Heel.

Plans Are Made for Youth Conference

Three Day Session To Be Held in Missoula in March.

Definite plans for a Youth conference, at the close of the winter quarter, were made when the University Christian Union met for breakfast last Saturday morning at 616 Eddy avenue. The conference will consist of a three-day series of sessions, and each of these sessions will be inspirational and informational in character, with discussion and questions by the delegates.

The program will start with a banquet in the Y. W. C. A. building on the evening of Friday, March 21. On Saturday there will be three sessions in the Women's gymnasium, and on Sunday the meetings will be held in the various churches. The territory from which delegates will be invited will extend from Kalspell to Darby, and from Helena to the Idaho line.

The leadership of the conference will be in the hands of the state workers of the different churches, and speakers will be arranged for through them. An effort will also be made to secure at least one national leader. University and high school students, and young people from Missoula in general, will be largely represented, according to present plans. The chief reason for having the conference on March 21, 22 and 23, it is said, is to enable University students planning to remain in the city during the vacation to attend the meetings.

SURVEY.

College midnight "oil burners" are "busts" socially, although they usually shine in classrooms, Professor Robert C. Angell has concluded after a survey of University of Michigan undergraduates.

He found that women are more intelligent socially than men, but that men are better informed. He also discovered that men know more about natural and social sciences while women know more about art, literature and religion.

"Mediocre students are evidently the best adjusted socially, poor students' next and good students worst," Professor Angell said.—Idaho Argonaut.

versities young men and women imbued with social idealism, trained in scientific thought and encouraged to help others to be scientific in their thinking on social questions. It aims at more cooperation between students of the several branches of social science, such as anthropology, law, history, psychology and biology. It has many members in each of these fields and aims in time to occupy a position in the field of social science comparable to that of Phi Beta Kappa in the literary field and of Sigma Xi in natural science.

There is no national ritual or secret feature of any sort in connection with the fraternity. Its name is obtained merely from the initials of the Greek word meaning "Students of social science." It has a two-fold program: to instill a scientific attitude into undergraduate members, and to keep this social interest alive in the minds of all graduates. The first is to be accomplished by chapter meetings for the discussion of social topics, by fostering lectures, plays of social significance, and prize contests, and by the personal encouragement of promising students to engage in individual thought, social investigation and the public advocacy of scientific procedure in social questions. The second aim is to be accomplished by alumni chapters engaging in activities similar to those in colleges, by contests, by reading the journal of the society and contributing to it, and by sectional and national conventions.

Both phases of this program are unified through the publication of a quarterly journal called "Social Science," given over chiefly to articles, reviews, stories and poems contributed by members.

Religious Parley

Rev. Bunch Will Conduct Student Discussion Friday.

All students interested in problems of religious thought and in the whole question of modern religion are invited to enter in the discussion to be held next Friday at 5 p. m. 206 Student Store building. Jesse Bunch, interchurch University pastor, will be in charge.

A discussion similar to the one to be held next Friday was held last week in Mr. Bunch's office. The whole subject of religion was touched upon, but emphasis at that particular session was upon questions raised by the students present. These included: Who wrote the Bible? Was it divine or human, heavenly or mundane in its origin? Is it to be taken literally? Questions similar to these will be threshed out next Friday afternoon.

BAND HAS LARGE TURNOUT.

Fifty-eight men have turned out for band practice at the University of Colorado this quarter. This is the first time in the history of the University that there has been a large band during the winter or spring quarters.

Possibly one reason for this unusual proceeding, according to the director, is that honorary keys will be presented to students who have been active in the band for two years.—Silver and Gold.

Eddie Chinske plopped the ball through the nets six times from the floor and three times from the foul line to hang up fifteen markers, taking point honors for the evening. Billy Rohlfis also had a line on the basket, six times from the floor and twice from the free line, taking fourteen points. Ted Rule worked into position often early in the game but his shots were heart breakers, rolling off the rim time and again. He sank the basket three times for six points, while Kilroy, first at guard and later at center, accounted for eight.

NEW LIBRARY.

Students at the University of Cincinnati are looking forward to the opening of the new library which will probably be the first of June. Erection of this building was made possible by the bond issue in the fall of 1927. The cost of construction and equipment, not including the huge cost of books, will reach almost $1,000,000.

The building, a magnificent one in every detail, is a six-story structure of Bedford stone and red brick. The entrance leads to the fourth floor, floor No. 400, which has three floors below it, the ground, basement, and sub-basement floors. This floor is called the undergraduate floor.

The new building, besides having six times the number of volumes and capacity to seat eight times the number of students than the old library has many other good points.

It will be excellent for its services to liberal arts students, especially good for graduate and advanced students, students and teachers in the college of education and the faculty.

The new building, while quite complete in itself, is still designed as a first unit. When necessary it can be enlarged at any one of three different points without requiring any extensive rearrangement of rooms in present plans or in any way marring the architectural beauty of the structure.

The main stack room alone will shelter more than half a million volumes. The shelf space here, if measured in linear feet, runs more than twelve miles in length, yet by means of the up-to-date delivery equipment to be installed, a student can ask for a book at the central desk and within one and a half minutes it will be delivered to him. Pneumatic tubes and a mechanical book conveyor will make this speed possible.

Such features as a large reading room, several elevators, individual study rooms, are included in the new library. The stackroom will contain 510,776 volumes.

A new system will be tried on the students, the "open shelf" system. Hitherto, students have not been able to see the books they had to get. They ordered the book at the calling desk. Now they will be able to go directly to the shelves, see all the books, and in this way, pick out the desired books.—U. of Cincinnati Bearcat.

"PURPOSELESS."

Once again comes "Hell Week" and once again the move to lift the paddle permanently. Sport Spurts

The 54-24 score in the game last night proves that the Grizzlies were more than burning up the baskets.

Besides being accurate on the tosses, the Montana men smothered the Cougars' offense in great style.

The lanky Enslow, center for W. S. C., was not given any opportunity for his favorite tip-in shot. Harp Kilroy took most of the rebounds off the opponents' backboard before the tall Cougar could get in position for his short shot.

Chinske, Rohlfis, Rule, Rankin, and Kilroy all contributed towards the total score. Coach Stewart gave some of his relief men a chance at the later part of the game. They also added a few points.

Buckley and Ellingsen were playing their first game of the season last night, having just returned from a football trip to Honolulu.

The Grizzlies seem to have come into their own. At least it is the first time that the University tosses have all been hitting the hoop, the same night.

Coach Stewart is hoping to schedule a game with the conference leaders at a later date. However, should either Idaho or W. S. C. head the list, a game at a later date would not be necessary.

Montana will meet Idaho at Moscow on February 1 and February 3 the Grizzlies will encounter the Cougars at Pullman.

It was necessary to substitute an official for the game last night. Hunter, who was scheduled to work, was unable to arrive in time due to the lateness of the train from the West.

Elliot did a fine job. Coach Jack Friel, Cougar mentor, remarked after the game, "It was a fine job of officiating and I would like to have Elliot work a few games at Pullman."

Friday morning the Grizzlies will leave for Helena where they will meet Mount St. Charles in a two-game series, Friday and Saturday night.

The Saints have a strong team and the University mentor expects a tough battle both evenings. Earlier in the season St. Charles gave the Bobcats plenty of trouble before they would acknowledge defeat.

Montana will not play the Montana School of Mines, a tentative game on the schedule. The Miners were unable to arrange a game to fit with the present schedule of the University. It was planned to have the game Jan. 27.

The band showed plenty of class at their initial appearance at the game last night. Montana players rate the University band, the best of any heard on earlier season trips.

A sample was given the local sport followers of the waxed-floor what is in store for them in games to come. With the Bobcats, Whitman, Gonzaga, left for the local basket admirers, it is easy to assure that the fans have big things in store for them.

Frosh Team to Play First Tilt

Inter-Church Tourney Will Open Tomorrow.

Freshmen of the University will play their first scheduled game here Friday night, when they meet Plains, Harry Adams announced yesterday. W.S.C. Student Named President of N. S. F. A.

Washington State College, Pullman, Jan. 20.—Ed Murrow, president of the Associated Students of the State College of Washington, who was recently elected president of the National Student Federation of America at the convention at Stanford University, will go to New York to an executive meeting early in June of this year and to an international students' convention at Brussels, Belgium, in August.

The National Student Federation, the purpose of which is to develop intelligent student opinion on problems of national and international importance and to further world peace, acts independently of any political or religious creed. The sixth annual congress will be held at Atlanta, Georgia, December 28, 1930.

In regard to the recent convention, Mr. Murrow says: "I never expected to see so much interest in student affairs; everyone there had a definite purpose. We discussed student government, college publications, honor systems, and athletics. Student government seems to be more highly developed and more successful on the Pacific coast than in any other part of the United States."

"A very important decision passed at our convention provides for the establishment of a local chapter of N. S. F. A. on the campus of every member college in the United States. The purpose of the organization will be to handle speakers' tours, foreign debate tours, and foreign student tours during summer vacations. Another motion provided for the compiling, by the N. S. F. A., of copies of the constitutions of all member colleges in the country, for information purposes. Also, an international news release will be sent to every member college each week for publications."

GOPHER MENTOR GOES TO OREGON

"Doc" Spears Signs Papers at Missoula Saturday.

Oregon got in on the mid-winter coach buying which seems to be the rage this year in inter-collegiate circles, and the Webfoot will have "Doc" Spears, former Minnesota mentor, to direct their gridiron activities next fall. This was agreed at Missoula when Spears held a pow-wow with President A. B. Hall of the University of Oregon. All of the papers were drawn up and signed. Oregon's offer was $11,500 a year, compared with $7,500 that Spears was getting at the Gopher coach. This salary is $3,000 more than Oregon was paying John J. McEwan, the former coach.

Spears will also be allowed to practice medicine when he is not coaching, a clause which was disallowed at Minnesota. During his career at Minnesota, Spears had the record of 28 victories, nine defeats, and three ties.

The Associated Students of Oregon are paying $6,500 of the salary, the University of Oregon pays $3,500, and the Health Service pays $1,500.

MINOR SPORTS PROGRAM GAINS WSC RECOGNITION

Washington State College, Jan. 20.—Having as its purpose the encouragement of minor sports, cooperation with the physical education faculty, and helping to promote major sports, a new sporting organization, the Minor W. club, has just been formed on the State College campus.

Swimming, boxing, tennis and wrestling are included in the list of minor sports. Letter winners in any of these are eligible for membership on a two-thirds vote of the members and payment of the annual dues. The club is the outgrowth of increasing interest in minor sports at Washington State within the past several years, and an increasing division of interest between major and minor sport fields. The Minor W. club will have as its primary purpose the advancement of the minor sports division of athletics, according to Manley Sackett, president.

Eight charter members, with H. H. House as faculty adviser, form the nucleus of the new organization, and pledges will be selected each year as they become eligible.

Bob Nelson who has been confined in the South hall infirmary with an infected foot will probably be out today.

W. A. A. Plans to Give Party in Gym Jan. 30

Bertha Cone to Arrange Evening's Program of Entertainment.

At the W. A. A. business meeting in the Women's gymnasium Thursday evening plans were made for a party to be held Thursday, January 30. Bertha Cone, '32, will have charge of the entertainment.

A discussion of the eligibility for girls' class teams ended in the announcement that at the next W. A. A. board meeting, the question: "Shall the eligibility standard for a girls' class team be lowered from a C average for the previous quarter to that of a C average for all previous quarters in school combined?" will be discussed. This question arose because of the number of girls who became ineligible at the end of the fall quarter. Anyone not on W. A. A. board who would like to submit arguments either for or against this question may drop them into the hiking card box in the corner of the women's gymnasium.

Announce Apparatus, Basketball Practice

Points Toward W. A. A. Awards May Be Earned in Either Field.

W. A. A. has announced for the benefit of girls who would like to go out for either apparatus or basketball honors this quarter that apparatus practice under the direction of Helen Bruneau is held at 1 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the women's gymnasium and that there is team practice for sophomores and seniors at 4 o'clock, for freshmen and seniors at 5 o'clock on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Girls who win honors in this way may apply them toward W. A. A. membership and toward winning the 600 point small M or the 1000 point M sweater. Plaques are posted in the gym and all girls going out for teams are asked to sign there.
