Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, I just want to follow up what the distinguished chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee has said.

Abu Dhabi—who knows where Abu Dhabi is? It is not getting one thin dime of aid, but it is still listed in the amendment.

Algeria, $1.4 million under Public Law 480, and that is humanitarian aid.

Gabon, a little country down on the west coast of Africa, is getting $300,000 in aid.

Indonesia, a total of something around $230 million, including aid, Public Law 480, military grants, and military cash sales.

Iran, not a thin dime in aid, not a dime in Public Law 480, not a dime in military grants, but $613 million in military cash sales.

Iraq, nothing, not a dime.

Kuwait, nothing under aid; Public Law 480 nothing, military grants nothing, but military cash sales $268 million.

Libya not a thin dime under any category.

Nigeria, $3.7 million under aid, $2.3 million under Public Law 480, nothing else, $6 million for one of the largest countries in Africa.

Qatar not a dime in any category.

Saudi Arabia, $200,000 in the military grants, for training, and $395 million for military cash sales.

Venezuela, aid nothing; Public Law 480 nothing; military grants $700,000; and the cash sales $10 million; credit sales $17 million.

We are picking out countries in Asia,

Africa, in South America, and this certainly is economic warfare. And if Senators think that the President in his speech to the United Nations and at Detroit was talking about warfare, I think they misread the President's speech.

What he was laying out was the whole broad picture of what confronts not only us but the rest of the world as well unless something is done.

If Senators think they can achieve their aim by economic warfare or any other kind of warfare they are mistaken. I hope both the McClellan amendment and the Church amendment are defeated.
