CLOUDY SKY OBSCURES EFFECT OF ECLIPSE IN THIS PART OF MONTANA

Missoula, on Eastern Edge of Totality Strip, Cheated of Clear Vision of Phenomenon Which Passes Through Montana at Noon.

The campus of the State University and the territory immediately surrounding Missoula were on the eastern edge of the strip of totality in the sun's 93 per cent eclipse today. A generally overcast sky made it impossible to view the exact position of the moon's shadow on the sun in this vicinity.

According to astronomers' calculations the eclipse at this point was to have begun at about 11:05 a. m. reached its maximum at 12:28 and ended at about 1:55 p. m.

This is one of the smallest and shortest eclipses on record, the moon shadow covering the 1,000 mile strip of totality extending from about 250 miles southwest of San Francisco to the Montana state line in 28 minutes and one second, and lasting at the most a second and a half at any one point. The path has an average width of about one-half a mile but it wavers from one quarter to three-quarters of a mile in width. At a point near the Montana state line the strip of totality becomes annular, or with a ring of the sun showing around the edge of the moon, continuing this way in a northeasterly direction across Montana, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Hudson Bay, and off the coast of Labrador, before the intervening of sunset.

Astronomers have undertaken the most comprehensive study ever made of such a condition, every phase being recorded by the most modern of instruments. Observing parties were situated at strategic points along the line of totality in California and Nevada, the largest of these being that of the Lick Observatory of the University of California. The University

GRIZZLIES WILL ENTER CARNIVAL

Team to Leave Thursday for Seattle Relay Meet.

Grizzly relay men will leave Thursday night for Seattle to enter the University of Washington relay carnival, where they will meet some of the best cinder men in the Northwest. Coach Jim Stewart plans to pick his men for the teams today, in the relay workouts. Probably a sprint relay and a medley relay team will be entered in the meet.

Some past performances of Montana relay teams might be recalled. In 1920 the Montana team took the sprint relay, with Harry Adams, Steve Sullivan, Miles Romney and Jack Sterling. Sweet and Gillette led Montana to tie for first twice in the relay carnival, in 1925 and 1926. Montana also showed up well in the two-mile relay in 1928.

No More Trees To Be Sent Out

Forestry Nursery Shipped Half a Million.

No more orders for trees from the Forestry School nursery will be handled this year. Nearly half a million trees have been shipped out this year but the advanced spring has caused the trees to leaf out rapidly and it will be impossible to ship out any more until next year.

Letters expressing appreciation and thanks have been received from many farmers in Montana, according to Professor Dorr Skeels, head of the nursery. Orders for shipments of trees for next year should be placed now through county agents or the extension service at Bozeman.

An expected increase in orders for trees next year has led to an enlargement of the nursery and the planting of a greater number of trees. For the most part these trees are evergreens, of a hardy variety. Blue spruce, white pine, jack pine, Scotch pine and yellow pine are being planted in great numbers.

Several new tree species are also being used as an experiment in the nursery. These have been secured from other northern states and from foreign countries. Over 100 species are now in the nursery but most of them are only in the experimental stage.

Of all the varieties of trees used only 18 are sent to farmers for shelter belts. A special stock of trees for ornament is also carried for sale to institutions.

Private and state nurseries in other states also received many trees from the University nursery. Shipments were made to government nurseries in North Dakota and Wyoming; to the University of Wyoming; and to government experiment stations in Cheyenne and Mandan.

Trees were also sent to the Mission at Stevensville, the State Fish and Game commission and the School for the Blind at Boulder.

Kaimin Enlarges Women's Dorms

Last week's Kaimin contained the information that women contestants in the Interscholastic meet would be taken care of in the women's dormitories. The Kaimin's informant was under the impression that this was the arrangement but Mrs. Mildred Stone, acting dean of women, announces that there is not sufficient space available in the dormitories and that most of the women will be housed in private homes.

The Eclipse and Other Things.

GRANTED the eclipse was a flop. Granted that it was one of the poorest shows we have had for quite a while, and granted that it wasn't worth making a fuss about. Grant anything you want about the eclipse itself but here's another angle. We all knew it was going to take place and we all talked about it and made wise remarks about 98% and totality strips and how dark it would be and about chickens going to bed and about other eclipses we had seen. But do we know what it is all about? Do we know what caused the thing and why we have them at certain intervals?

One lady said yesterday that she was put to it to explain the phenomenon to her 6-year-old son. Could the average college student explain it even to himself or herself? What made the eclipse and why were we in the line for it? Do we ever stop to wonder about things that happen or do we just accept them as something we have known was actual for a long time and never cared to find out why? So many things come up in daily living that there is no explanation for and so many others come up that we don't even wonder about the explanation for and yet we are the picked members of the population. The acquisition of real knowledge stopped for most of us when we graduated from grammar school and we don't even wonder about causes and effects any more. We have collected enough phrases about every subject which comes up in general conversation and we use these phrases as a substitute for knowledge. When real knowledge is forced into our paths we take enough of it to make polite conversation or to write during a one hour test and let it go at that. Why a college education anyhow if we have lost the inquiring mind?—L. M.

Prospect for Prosperity.

LET'S make the week of May 14 to 18 a good will occasion. Prospective freshmen and athletes will be here during track meet; the people who can carry the University to all the towns and cities in Montana.

Propagandists over the state are telling Montanans about the needs of their institutions. Every channel to the Montana public mind flows with information. The University students must play their part in the crusade for financial support.

We can do our bit next month in showing our University to Montana's high school representatives. They will take with them into their homes and communities information about the University at Missoula. This year give them all we can, so that next year we can give them our University life. Make them want to come back, and they will influence the vote this fall for the University's prosperity.—G. A.

"COCK ROBIN"

Who Killed Cock Robin?
Did Dr. Grace?

A duel scene in an eighteenth century English grog-shop, pistols at six paces, then men step-off and fire. One of them, Hancock Robinson, falls to the floor dead, not acting but really murdered. He has been killed on stage in view of 500 people and in the midst of nine actors in the cast. Who shot him? What was the murderer's motive? Did some one wish to harm him that night?

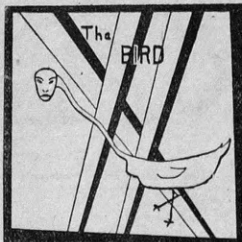

Questioning of the actors present at the murder reveals that Dr. Grace, step-father to Carlotta, is extremely anxious to prevent Robinson from sailing that night for Paris with Carlotta as they had planned. He even says, "I'll do anything to prevent it! Anything! Something to keep him from sailing tonight—an accident—an injury maybe—"

After the murder had been committed, under grilling Dr. Grace admits that he put the bullet in the gun which killed Dr. Robinson, believing that it was a possibility of injuring him. He relates that he bought the bullet and intended to do it after the show in the dressing room. But just after he had slipped the bullet into the breach of one of the guns the stage manager walked in and he was forced to leave it there but that he intended to remove the bullet at the earliest opportunity. It was then that he says that he learned something which changed his mind about shooting Robinson. This something he refuses to divulge. What is Dr. Grace hiding? What did he learn that made him change his mind? Or perhaps it is only a sham and he willfully had Cock Robin shot. Is Dr. Grace the guilty one? See "Cock Robin" to be presented by the Montana Masquers May 2 and 3 in the Little Theatre.

Edna May Crawford, Mary Kinniburgh and Harriet Louthier spent the week-end in Plains.

William Campbell spent the week-end visiting in Helena.

Mrs. Cunningham and daughters, Irene and Jeanne, were dinner guests at the Alpha Phi house Sunday.

Far be it from us to complain about the University authorities, but that eclipse was a total flop.

We had a better one in Big Timber when we were going to High School, and Big Timber is much smaller than Missoula.

We like natural phenomenon, but prefer that they be spectacular. Couldn't there have been a clap of thunder at 12:28 yesterday, just to heighten the effect?

We saw a woman down town who should have embraced the return of long skirts; but she hadn't.

We had always thought that woman was preeminent to man in at least one line, that of soprano. Now Ripley comes along and Believes It or Not that the most remarkable of all sopranos was a man. Iconoclast!

We have two grand pianos and an upright at our house. Now we need a piano player.

If you are thinking of jumping over the bridge, or taking the gas way out, read "Humpty Dumpty" by Ben Hecht, and you will be glad to do it.

Hecht takes a neurotic, masochistic paranoiac (whoops!) and simply explains him out of existence. If one of your hobbies consists of probing into your own mind and actions, this book will show you how a professional can do it.

Ruth Chatterton has our vote for anything she wants to run for. She is such a splendid actress, and takes over her parts so sagely, and is withal so charming that we make the blanket statement that you can't go wrong on a movie in which she appears.

Wouldn't it be exciting to have an eclipse come on the Fourth of July, and have it be your birthday, and receive the news that day that you were an Uncle, and have an operation in the afternoon?

Let us drop into a philosophic frenzy; let us cease reading about Missoula's crime wave; let us wonder if the race is progressing; let us wonder if the widow Zander will get Uncle Ben; let us wonder if the eclipse caused the rain, or the rain the eclipse; let us strive to revive the lost art of conversation; let us wonder where lost golf balls go, and what they do when they get there.

Let us wonder what the University will be like a hundred years from now; let us wonder what we will be like; let us make statements that we cannot prove, and let us believe that nothing which cannot be questioned be worthy.

Let us wonder if the hen came before the egg; let us prey.

Bridge Party.

Chaperons were Dean and Mrs. R. C. Line, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lucy and Mrs. Mildred Stone. Music was furnished by Keith's orchestra.

Internationals Give Program

Club Orchestra, Solos and Addresses Are in It.

Featuring the International club orchestra, the International club presented its annual program at the First Methodist Episcopal church Sunday evening. Talks by members of the organization were included in the program.

Numbers played by the orchestra, under the direction of George Boving, were: "Glow Worm" by Paul Munk, "In the Clock Store" by Orth, "Intermezzo" by Tyres.

This orchestra, organized two years ago by Alexander Stepanoff, former University student, is considered one of the best collegiate organizations in the West.

Three speeches were given. Adolph Sch. president of the club, talked on "War and Peace"; William Vlasoff, Russia; Marciano Raquel on "Religion and Development of the Philippine Islands."

Two organ selections, "Barcarolle" E minor and "Liebestraum" by Sch. were played by Miss Bertha Edmund. For novelty musical entertainment, Clyde Banfield played two solos on the musical saw, and Felix gave two solos on the Hawaiian harp. A vocal duet, Jose Simangan and Nemesio Borge, sang "I Hear the Voice of Jesus Say."

STEWART REPORTS AWS CONFERENCE

Sixty-Five Delegates Attend Meeting at Laramie.

Marjorie Stewart, president of A. W. S., reported yesterday on the conference of A. W. S. presidents which she attended at Laramie, Wyo., April 26 to 28.

About 65 delegates were at the meeting and 30 schools of the North and West were represented. States represented were California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada, Oregon, Wyoming, Utah, Washington and Montana.

The theme of the conference was "College training for after-college days," emphasizing the importance of girls working toward a definite purpose for after school days instead of choosing courses haphazardly.

A number of problems of general interest came to the attention of the convention delegates. Many schools avoid the problem of freshman dates by requiring the girls to be in the dormitories after 7:30 in the evening, but making no date restrictions otherwise.

Most schools have point systems to encourage interest in extracurricular activities and to distribute honors among more students. This has been recently adopted in Idaho and is considered very successful there. Most schools find it a good plan.

A. W. S. is very much opposed to campaigning in elections controlled by organizations. The point system regulates candidates for office.

Some schools are experimenting with the Oxford system. Idaho university and Utah state have done away with the old grade system in favor of this. As many as 12 credits may be obtained for independent work. Examinations in the major work are given at the end of four years work.

The question was brought up whether activities should be based on scholarship, but it was decided that a C average should be sufficient for any activities or admission to such organizations choosing outstanding girls.

In discussion of Panhellenic problems, it was concluded that deferred rushing was undesirable. Sophomore initiation was favored, as eliminating many one-year girls.

Most schools have a Big Sister movement. These vary but are generally similar to ours.

The honor system was found unsatisfactory by most schools, but many delegates felt that fewer rules and a better attitude was very desirable.

The Wyoming university is smaller than ours, but, according to Marjorie Stewart, "the students showed splendid cooperation and are real boosters. The convention was considered valuable to the university, more than offsetting the work devolved upon it as host to thirty schools. The delegates were very well entertained and came away with a very favorable impression of the University of Wyoming."

SENIORS TAKE INTERCLASS MEET WITH SOPHOMORES A CLOSE SECOND

Juniors Were Third in Saturday's Events; Percy, Nelson, Morrow and Priest Pile Up Points for Seniors.

Despite damp weather, some fairly good marks were turned in at the interclass meet last Saturday, and the final check showed the seniors in the lead with 41 1-3 points. Though they gained only one first, the sophomores chalked up enough seconds and thirds to come in second with 34 5-6. Juniors were third with 29 1-3 points, and freshmen fourth with 26 1-2 points.

Priest, Percy, Morrow and Nelson boosted the seniors' tally. Nelson cleared the bar in the high jump at a greater mark than any of his predecessors on Dornblaser when he attained six feet, one-half an inch. Priest skinned both the high and low hurdles for two firsts, while Morrow took the broad jump and Percy the discus throw. Parmenter won the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash for the juniors. Watson satisfied predictions and quite easily won the mile run for the freshmen. Two more freshmen, White and Evans, took firsts in the half mile and 440-yard runs respectively, Evans spurring to beat experienced men to the tape.

One remaining event, the javelin throw, was to be held Monday afternoon, but was prevented by rain. The juniors, Lockwood, Mario and Schultz, will likely take the points in this, gaining second place in the meet for the juniors.

Introducing ROGRAIN

the "inside-out" stocking that started the vogue for dull surfaced hosiery... the modern stocking, the smart stocking for 1930. It looks a dollar sheerer than it is. It wears a dollar longer than it looks.

$1.95 Pr.

Rograin as it appears under the microscope. An ordinary stocking under the microscope.

Rograin is full fashioned...

Most dull surfaced stockings are not. No need to lower the quality of your stockings when you lower their lustre! Rograin is identical in feel, in fit, in quality, with the stockings most smart women wear. The only difference is it's made inside out.

Rograin makes legs look slimmer

Rograin has no lustre, no highlights, hence legs look slimmer. But Rograin has a seam and that helps too, for legs look slimmer in seamed stockings than in seamless ones.

Rograin doesn't show rings...

When the lustre is reduced the visibility of rings is reduced. Rograin has a clear, even texture, not a ring in sight!

Rograin doesn't snag easily...

See how it looks under the microscope. That close, horizontal weave hasn't so many little loops to catch, and make ladders.

Rograin is exclusive with M. M. Co.

Rograin is the de luxe, dull surfaced stocking, and you won't find it anywhere but at the M. M. Co's.
