LEARN ABOUT GRADUATE DEGREES IN SOCIOLOGY

MISSOULA —

The University of Montana's Department of Sociology will hold an event Thursday, Dec. 4, to provide information about the advantages of a graduate degree and the application process.

"Graduate Studies in Sociology" will take place at 3:45 p.m. in University Center Room 327. The event is free and open to the public, and refreshments will be served.

UM's sociology department offers a Master of Arts degree in general sociology, rural and environmental change, criminology, and inequality and social justice.

Those who attend the Dec. 4 event can get information about admission procedures, the graduate curriculum and available financial aid. Current graduate students also will talk about their experiences in the program.

For more information, call sociology Professor Dan Doyle at 243-5912 or e-mail dan.doyle@umontana.edu.

Degree requirements and more information also are online at <http://www.umt.edu/sociology/graduate>.
