MONTANA USINGS

By Al Erickson.

STUDENT papers in California are literally raising the roof with the editorial barrages that they are aiming at obvious faults which they have found on their campuses. In a recent edition of The Daily Californian, University of California paper, Arthur Artlett in a biting editorial asked for a thorough investigation of the athletic department at that school. Most of this was directed at Coach "Nibs" Price whose team of Golden Bears last Saturday passively submitted to a 7-0 riot from Southern California.

IT'S the same old story as far as coaches go. The only difference being that this time it came from the students themselves and not so much from the alumni of the school. This happened last year when Washington students forced Enoch Bagshaw, Husky coach, to resign in the face of a contract. After a bad year, the alumni howled for his neck, and they got it. Apparently the same thing is going on at the University of California, with the intimation that this is Price's last season and that a mid-western coach will take his place. A few defeats for a big team spells the coach's downfall, while for a smaller team a flock of defeats means little.

THE rumpus on the Stanford campus is centered around the age-old question of fraternity initiation week. Last year after a particularly rough season of fraternity hazing at Stanford and for that matter in many schools, the practice was frowned upon by many college authorities. This condemnation was provoked by an untimely death that occurred during a "Hell Week" in one of the Southern colleges. The resultant investigation of this death and other hazing practices prompted the legislature of Texas to pass a law against the practice. And now it's on the coals at Stanford.

LAST year fraternity leaders promised the dean of men at Stanford that they would eliminate all neophyte hazing. But this year the fraternities are at it again. This fraternity initiation is known by various names, commonly called "Hell Week" or "Dob-roberism." The original Greeks may have practiced it as a quality mark for the badge of fraternalism and since then blithely handed it down generation after generation. Its theme song seems to be the successful completion of a number of worthless tasks as a test of character, courage and humility, with plenty of humility. The neophyte during this training period wears the do-or-die mask. A true fraternity man is the product of the week. It is practiced in all colleges, Montana included.

FINALLY at Stanford, the Daily Palo Alto, student paper, made an issue of it. The editor points out the childish pranks that the initiates are asked to perform, if they are not childish they grade to degeneracy. The editor's statements can be amply justified on the Montana campus whose fraternities still cling to this type of initiation.

CHARGES of the Daily Palo Alto: "None can still believe that padding, tubing and the rest of the routine that makes up the gauntlet are desirable or helpful. It may be admitted that some of the Hell week practices are harmless, but when the period degenerates to padding and smutty scenes (and it generally does) it is time to stop. The lofty ideals of American fraternities cannot be subordinated to filth, torture and horse-play."

New Bulletin Will Be Issued Shortly

According to W. E. Maddock, professor of education, the correspondence study department has been authorized to work on copy in preparation for a new bulletin which is to be issued soon. All instructors of correspondence study were sent notices on Thursday which asked them to prepare copy for their courses. They were also asked to make any corrections, omissions, and additions they desire.

Students Get Credit Notice Of Eligibility

Slips Sent to More Than 200 Who Enter Second Period.

About 200 students were the recipients this week of notices of eligibility to entrance to the second period in the new curriculum system which is to go into effect September 1, 1931. These notices were sent to all students having at least 96 credits who will graduate after that date.

The statements of eligibility record the date of entrance to the second period, the number of grade points and credits the student had at that time, the number of credits he will have on entrance to the second period, the number of grade points he is deficient, if any, and a record of incompletes and conditions on the student's record at the time of entrance.

Must Make "C" Average. The new rule provides that students must make a "C" average, that is, one grade point for every credit, during the second period as well as during the first. Formerly students could apply excess grade points earned during the first two years of their college course to credits earned during the last two years. The new plan prohibits this, and in order to carry this plan out all students will have their grade points earned during the period reduced to a "C" average. This refers only to grade points toward graduation, however, and students who are applicants for honors of any kind may have their credits evaluated for that purpose.

One of the greatest changes inaugurated in the new plan provides a penalty of one minus grade point for every credit of "F", which will count toward graduation. Formerly minus grade points did not count in the evaluation of credits for graduation.

Third Feature. The third feature of the plan provides that students who have incompletes or conditions at the beginning of the quarter in which they enter the second period will find it optional as to whether or not they will remove them. If the student chooses not to remove the incomplete or condition, he may notify the Registrar's office to that effect, in writing. In such a case the grade will be revoked, and will not revert to an "F" later. If the student chooses to remove the incomplete or condition, he may do so according to the present method. In this case he must accept whatever grade the instructor in the course chooses to give. After a student has once made a decision in regard to this, he may not change it.

Catherine Bailey, freshman from Hamilton, was injured yesterday when she slipped on the wet floor of the women's shower room in the men's gymnasium.

"JUNO AND THE PAYCOCK," ANNUAL FALL QUARTER PLAY, TAKES SHAPE

Cast Contains Eight Actors Who Have Appeared in Previous Masquer Programs.

According to Director William Angus the Masquer production of "Juno and the Paycock" is rounding out under the intensive work of the past week and coupled with an experienced cast promises to be an excellent play. The three-act play, "Juno and the Paycock," written by Sean O'Casey, is a strong tragic dissection of Dublin slum life and should prove very popular to Missoula theatergoers.

In the cast of "Juno and the Paycock" are eight players that have previously appeared on Montana Masquer programs in the Little Theater. The other new participants have had considerable high school dramatic experience. Both of the leads for this Irish play have played in major productions of the Masquers before.

Appearing in the male lead of Captain Jack Boyle is William A. Brown of Helena, who has previously played in four major productions and one one-act play. This is his third year of dramatics at the University. He first played as the diplomat in "Twelve Thousand." As John Duffy in Lennox Robinson's "The Whitehead Boy" he scored a distinct success. Last fall his comic role of Sprules, the Butler, in "Dying for Money," found favor as did his work in the winter quarter play, "Hell Bent for Heaven." His last appearance was in the part of Trapper Joe in "Spring Sluicing."

Juno Boyle.

Marian Hobbs, vice-president of the Montana Masquers, is carrying the female lead in "Juno and the Paycock" in Juno Boyle, the ill-fated wife of the worthless Captain. Her first play in Snow on Sentinel Postpones S. O. S.

Due to inclement weather conditions the S. O. S. planned for last night was called off, according to Dick O'Malley, yelling in charge of the arrangements in the absence of Bob Hendon.

A program had been arranged for the evening and a peppy rally had been anticipated. According to O'Malley the yell leaders expect a record attendance at the Gonzaga-Montana game Saturday and those who were disappointed in not being able to vent their enthusiasm last night will have ample opportunity Saturday.

SMITH REVIEWS BOOK BY FREUD

Civilization and Discontents Discussed at Colloquium.

Professor F. O. Smith of the Psychology department reviewed Freud's "Civilization and Its Discontents" at the meeting of the Colloquium last Wednesday. "The question has been raised why, in spite of the material progress of modern civilization, there does not seem to be an increase in happiness, why comforts and convenience have not brought satisfaction?" said the speaker.

"According to Mr. Freud our unhappiness is a result of suffering and our suffering comes from disorders of the body, from injuries from the physical world or from our relations with people. The latter seems to be the chief source of discontent," stated Professor Smith.

Foresters Decide To Limit Tickets For Annual Dance

Committee Starts Plans for Winter's Ball—Mark Cedar Boughs.

Tickets for the annual Foresters' Ball will again be limited to 400, it was decided at a meeting of the executive committee of the Forestry club Tuesday evening.

Despite the fact that former years have proved that this number of tickets is not nearly enough, the members of the committee went on record as stating that, in their opinion, it would be poor policy to increase the amount.

Hugh Redding, chief push of the Ball, and Stan Larson, chairman of the bough committee, will make a trip up Hayes creek, southwest of Missoula, on the Hamilton road, tomorrow. There they will mark areas of cedar growth which are in need of thinning. This must be done before deep snow comes. Cedar boughs, which are comparatively rare in this section of the state, have been found well adapted for purposes of decoration.

DEAN MOLLETT IS MADE HEAD OF ASSOCIATION

Is Appointed Chairman of District Eight of National Group.

Dean C. E. Mollett of the School of Pharmacy has accepted an appointment as chairman of district number 8 of the National Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. He served as chairman for schools of this division three years ago.

As the representative of the faculties of the pharmacy schools in district 8, which includes Colorado, Utah, Montana, New Mexico and Wyoming, it will be his duty to arrange a meeting of the members of the boards, will assist Dean Mollett in arranging this meeting at some central point early in the new year if possible. The diversity of location of the pharmacy schools within the five states included in district 8 makes it difficult to promote a meeting of this sort.

Dr. J. W. Sturmer, Philadelphia, chairman of the executive committee of the National Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, was instrumental in appointing Dean Mollett to serve as chairman in this district.

Warren B. Davis Will Speak to Press Club

Missoula High School Journalists Will Be Guests of Club.

High school journalists will be guests at the next Press club meeting that will be held in the Shack next Wednesday evening, November 19. Warren B. Davis, editor of the Daily Missoulian-Sentinel, will be the speaker of the evening. Charles Hardy, instructor in the School of Journalism and head of the mechanical department, will talk on the new equipment and will show the function of the department to the visitors and to the Press club. The Sophomore class will furnish a musical program. The meeting will be concluded with refreshments.

Plans are now underway for the biggest event of the Journalism year in the plans for the Press club banquet. Committees were appointed at the last meeting and they have been working to make the banquet the biggest and best that has ever been put on in the school. It has been decided that the annual feed will be held in Bonner and the meal is to be served in the lumberjacks' mess hall. The date for the big event has been tentatively set for December 3.

Eminger Talks At Meeting of Spanish Club

"Interesting Personalities I Have Met in Mexico," Is Title.

"Interesting personalities I have met in Mexico" was the title of a long talk given by Elsie Eminger, foreign language instructor, before a group of 25 members of the Spanish club, last Wednesday evening at the Zeta Chi house.

Miss Henrietta Wilhelm, former Spanish instructor at Missoula county high school, but who is now doing graduate work at the University, was present as a new member of the club. Mrs. Paul Bischoff was the guest of honor.

It was voted in the business meeting to have a picture of the club in the 1931 Sentinel, and the matter of the proposed Pinat or Spanish Christmas party was discussed. It was concluded that because of the lack of time for adequate preparation and the conflict with other social functions, it would be better to postpone the party until next year when it may be put on in a more elaborate manner. However, in its place, the club plans a party of an informal nature to take place sometime before Christmas, the date pending further arrangements.

A number of new songs were tried out and Spanish cross-word puzzles were worked. Refreshments were served.

Roger Dineen, Hamilton, has returned to school after several days' absence due to the death of his father. He transferred to the School of Pharmacy this year.

Student Directory Is on Sale Today

Students may now obtain copies of the 1930 Student Directory at the Student Store, the telephone booth in Main hall, the residence halls, and all fraternity and sorority houses. The book, which sells for 25 cents a copy, contains the Missoula addresses, home addresses, telephone numbers, majors, and ranks of all students who are registered in the University this quarter. It also carries the addresses, telephone numbers, and office numbers of all faculty members.

LAWYERS HAVE SCHOOL SMOKER

Missoula Attorneys Attend Entertainment.

Barristers from all over town flocked to the Law School building last night for an evening of merry-making in the form of a smoker.

Tony Moe prepared the thing in great style, with the co-operation of other members of the Law school. Cliff Gribble, president of the Law School association, served as master of ceremonies, cleverly guiding the evening's entertainment from Dean C. W. Leaphart's address of welcome, through the fast, furious boxing bouts, speeches by W. L. Murphy and E. F. Gummer, Missoula attorneys, and a general period of rousing good times.

An old Dutch lunch climaxed the affair—beer, pretzels, rye bread sandwiches and all the "trimmings."

The large number of barristers that attended proclaimed the event as the best social affair of the year.

Quardrons Choose Senior Garb at Monthly Meeting

Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Phi Are Hostesses to Senior Women.

Light weight, medium blue, flannel scarfs will be worn by senior women as the insignia of their class ranking. It was decided at the monthly meeting of Quardrons, held last Tuesday at 5 o'clock at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

Scarfs were chosen this year in preference to the usual sweaters, but all women wishing them must place their orders with the sales committee before December 9, the date of the next meeting. Mary Wilson and Zahla Snyder, appointed by Fay McCollum, president, as members of the committee, urge all the women to order the scarfs as a ten per cent rate cannot be secured unless a certain number are ordered.

The next meeting will be held at the Alpha Chi Omega house and Delta Delta Delta will furnish the entertainment. A musical program given by Alpha Phi at the last meeting, included selections by Marion Smith.

MONTANA GRIZZLY BAND MIXER WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

Ticket Sales Indicate Success of Third Annual Dance Sponsored by Musical Organization; Phil Sheridan's Orchestra Will Play.

Coming tonight on the eve of the Gonzaga-Grizzly football game, the annual Band mixer will give fans a chance to get some of that new Montana spirit while dancing to music from Phil Sheridan's orchestra. Ticket sales give every indication that this, one of the largest all-University mixers of the year, will be a success in every way.

Fox Is Named Chief Grizzly By Bear Paws

Dick Fox of Billings was named Chief Grizzly of Bear Paw, sophomore men's honorary organization, at a meeting Wednesday night. John Bills, Judith Gap, was elected Right Paw, which corresponds to the office of vice-president. Lloyd Andrews, Big Timber, was chosen Left Paw, or secretary-treasurer.

Bill Boone of Deer Lodge, last year's Chief Grizzly, presided over the meeting. He outlined the organization's work and asked the members to give their wholehearted, enthusiastic support to the new officers. A number of men were appointed to work up publicity at the different fraternity houses for Saturday's game with Gonzaga.

Bear Paws will usher at this game, as well as police the different sections of the field. They will also carry paddles and punish the infringers of the no-fussing rule.

EUGENE FOBES WILL EDIT 1931 FOREST KAIMIN

Kenneth Beechel Receives Post of Business Manager.

Eugene Fobes, Pasadena, California, a junior in the School of Forestry, will edit the 1931 Forestry Kaimin. It was announced yesterday.

Kenneth Beechel, Madison, Wisconsin, also a junior in Forestry, will be business manager of the publication, according to Bill Ienthal, president of the Forestry club. The men were picked by the executive board of the club at its meeting Tuesday night.

The Forestry Kaimin is the annual publication of the School of Forestry. Its first appearance was made in 1915. Prior to this a four-page leaflet containing news from the school had been published at very irregular intervals, for the benefit of forestry graduates who were in war service. After the war, the magazine evolved into its present shape and size.

The magazine is more of a technical nature than anything else and contains articles by various men of note in the forestry world. It also contains a complete resume of School of Forestry activities and organizations.

Dr. Clapp Leaves For Washington, D. C.

Prexy Will Attend Convention of National Association.

Dr. C. H. Clapp, president of the State University, will leave tomorrow for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the meetings of the National Association of State Universities, which will be held November 18, 19 and 20.

This association was formed for the purpose of promoting the general welfare and greater interest in the higher institutions of learning of the nation. Administration problems which arise will be discussed at these meetings.

While on this trip, Dr. Clapp will visit several of the larger eastern cities and plans on being gone about ten days.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI MEETS.

Alpha Kappa Psi, national commercial fraternity, held a regular business meeting Thursday night, November 13. All members of the fraternity, both actives and pledges, were present.

Sheridan's orchestra, considered one of the best jazz bands in the state, will be at its best with several novelty numbers as well as red-hot dance music. It will be remembered that this organization gained national recognition last year while on a vaudeville tour through the East.

This dance, the third annual mixer sponsored by the Grizzly band, will help pay for new music and instruments bought during the last two years. Also, the bright, new uniforms purchased last year have not been entirely paid for yet. This year a complete new set of march books as well as several new concert suites have been bought.

Roy Freeburg, director, points out that while the band is not "broke," money is needed to clear up some of these old debts. "Seeing that this is the only time of the year when the band asks for extra support, students should take this opportunity to show their appreciation of the band's efforts."

Band Is One of Best.

As a R. O. T. C. band the Grizzly band is one of the best in the West. Last year it was called the best in the Ninth Corps area which includes all the large universities in the West. Critics who heard the concert given last fall in Kallispell agreed that it was one of the finest college musical organizations they had ever heard. A complete instrumentation of forty instruments including nearly every known wind instrument is the pride of the Grizzly band.

George Rovington and Vernon Hoven have charge of the general dance committee. Members of the ticket committee include Horace Warden, Jack Robinson, Leslie Pace and Richard Fitzgerald. Vernon Hoven has charge of the publicity. Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary band fraternity, has charge of the general arrangements.

Band activities for this week include the Armistice day parade, the dance tonight and the game tomorrow.

Irish Angles Explained by Two Orators

Negherbon, Fitzgerald Talk On Picturization in O'Casey Plays.

Representative angles of the Irish struggle for home rule were featured by the two speakers on the second public program of the Montana Masquers in the Little Theater Tuesday evening. Differences in opinion of the rebellion background as presented by William Negherbon and the Irish interpretation by Professor Brassill Fitzgerald provided the audience with an added interest.

In laying the foundation for the study of the famous Irish playwright, Sean O'Casey, Mr. Negherbon seemingly had drawn his references from English sources and gave the English version of the Irish uprising in 1916. He cited the incidents of the fighting of Easter week of that year and also the struggle in O'Connell street. His description of the burnings in Dublin and Belfast and the looting of the shops as the Sinn Feins stormed the English garrisons was very vivid. His reference, however, to the ignorance of the Irish who failed to take advantage of this uprising, and to the apparent state of barbarism that they returned to at the time of this reign of terror was taken exception to by Professor Fitzgerald in his talk on Sean O'Casey.

Men of Culture.

Professor Fitzgerald of the English department, in reply to the statement of Irish ignorance, pointed to the men of culture that arose from that chaotic condition. Such men as Sean O'Casey, Lennox Robinson and George Russell were products of the new Ireland that arose from the rebellion. Barbarism of the rebellion was justified in the principle of freedom, according to Professor Fitzgerald who believed that the worst of the terrorism was done by the hands of the Black and Taus.

No S. O. S., But—

LAST night, because of the cold weather, there was no S. O. S. as had been planned. Old Man Weather interfered with plans for the creation of some real pep for the Gonzaga game. The yell king and his dukes, working under the assumption that the long absence from the campus of any home varsity football game had caused a consequent decrease in spirit, had laid elaborate plans to counteract this. Let us hope that such efforts would not have been necessary—that pep for the Gonzaga game will be present and active just the same.

This is the next-to-the-last game of the season. The next-to-the-last chance to see many of our favorites in action. The next-to-the-last chance to yell for a Milburn-coached squad. Let's make it a high-spirited crowd for a good game—let's turn out one hundred per cent!—V. H.

An Appeal for Fairness.

MONTANA State college campus is in an uproar. Wednesday a story broke from the campus at Bozeman centered on an 11 o'clock permission rule for co-eds, issued by Dean Una B. Herrick, dean of women. It did not take long for details of the controversy between the Dean and the students to read the University campus, especially from the students' viewpoint, and opinions have been formed.

It is natural that the University students should side with the students on the College campus, especially so since co-eds at Missoula are allowed 12:15 permission, with no indication that such a rule will be changed. Posters which were issued by the fraternities at Montana State Wednesday have already reached the campus here, and a great deal of comment has been made. However, students here should stop and think that they should not speak disparagingly of the actions of the administration of another institution, even though it appears unjust. We have seen only the students' side of the controversy, and no doubt, such a rule would not have been passed without a good reason, in spite of the statement issued by students.

Therefore, before you commit yourself on a question about which all the facts are not known, stop and think that there is a reason for everything. Perhaps, when President Atkinson returns, the matter will be satisfactorily settled for everyone concerned.—M. W.

Student Culture.

WHY do college students evade, avoid or purposely miss opportunities that are some of the much-praised benefits of higher education? Approximately two weeks ago the column, Montana Musings, lamented the lack of interest shown by students in the concert given by University professors. Student attendance at the public lecture by A.E., noted Irish lecturer and poet, was negligible. Last Tuesday night the Montana Masquers presented another of their public programs, no admission charge. The crowd was pitifully small.

The question is: Are we students going to support those cultural opportunities which are, ostensibly, one of the reasons we come to universities and colleges?

Surely, sacrifices have been made for many students to attend college. Higher education does not or should not mean merely lessons and grade points. If it does, then higher education has failed in a primary purpose. Here we are given special advantages—let us make use of them.

One of the new organizations on the campus is the literary group which has for its purpose the advancement of not only creative writing but of culture of all kinds; all students are invited to join and urged to attend lectures, debates, concerts or similar entertainment given on the campus. Credit should be given to this group for the informal meetings they arranged with A.E. and the English debaters to which all students were invited.

Student non-attendance at these and similar events is truly deplorable.—I. V.

Hangovers

Unusual happenings make good news stories, say journalism teachers. Freshmen are told that if a dog bites a man, that is not news. But—if the man turns around and bites the dog, that is news.

If that is the case, imagine the headlines that would be used if a Bull were caught Throwing a Professor!!

Oderferous (a ten-dollar word) in the extreme.

Today's Short, Short, Story Story.
Five in the middle. Five cards around. Five in the middle for openers. Five is bet. Five and up fifty. Silence. Concentration. Called. Five aces versus Five Hearts. Five dollars in the middle. Five in the morning. Five Headaches. Five cuts. Five yellow slips.

Did you ever consider the fact that while MA's and BA's are nice to get—it's usually PA who pays for them? And they say it's the woman who pays and pays and pays!!!!

"There ain't no justice," objected the co-ed when a Big Bad Boy took her lolly-pop away.

By the way, George Bovington and Swede Hoven, big shots in the band, claim that no pretty girls will be admitted to the mixer tonight.

It looks like the gym will be mobbed by upperclassmen of the feline sex.

Pity the Muser who says he doesn't like horse-faced girls.

Speaking of cats—I see by the paper that a big game hunter says that lions are friendly!!

So are co-eds and rattlesnakes.

STUDENTS OUSTED FROM SCHOOL FOR DRINKING

Was talking about the Air Derby the other day when a poor dumb young thing wants to know if that is the kind the freshman football coach wore at the frosh game last week.

She also wanted to know what made the cheese in the moon of that particular green shade.

Can you imagine the line coach with a derby and a cane? At least he wouldn't be mistaken for a dressmaker.

Today's Simile.
The Kittens' defense against the Cubs last week was as weak as the announcer's wisecracks.

tobacco

At Illinois it's ~

ALONG Green Street, where campus leaders stroll . . . in the great slate-roofed fraternity houses of Champaign . . . there is one pipe tobacco which always rolls up the biggest vote. At Illinois it's Edgeworth, every time.

A pipe—Edgeworth. That is the smoking combination which has won the college man. Harvard, Cornell, Michigan, Stanford, Dartmouth—all agree with Illinois. Natural merit has made Edgeworth the favorite tobacco in America's leading colleges and universities.

College men everywhere respond to the appeal of pipes—packed with cool, slow-burning Edgeworth. Be guided by their verdict: try Edgeworth yourself. Find it at your nearest tobacco shop—15¢ the tin. Or, for generous free sample, address: Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

In dormitories as well as in the gym . . . beware of "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

THE man who's making his "M. A." as well as the man who's making the team—the fellow whose foot-work is from class to class as well as the bright boy who can foot it in 10 seconds flat—any one or all of them stand a good chance of having that ringworm infection commonly known as "Athlete's Foot." In fact, 50% of the men in universities as widely separated as those of Pennsylvania and California have caught it, according to authoritative reports. "At least half of all adults suffer from it at some time," according to the U. S. Public Health Service.

The symptoms vary, but all are traceable to one germ, trichophyton by name. Sometimes it starts with redness between the toes and it-chi-ing. Again, tiny blisters appear; or it may show itself in a thick, moist skin condition; or dryness with little scales.

It lurks in the very places where we all go for cleanliness and health—on the edges of swimming pools and showers—in gymnasiums—on locker- and dressing-room floors. In spite of modern sanitation (you have to boil socks 15 minutes to kill it) this fungus parasite infects and re-infects bare feet almost any time they come in contact with damp floors.

Absorbine Jr. kills the germ of "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

Tests in a famous New York "lab" have revealed that Absorbine Jr. penetrates flesh-like tissues deeply and that wherever it penetrates, it KILLS the ringworm germ.

It might not be a bad idea to examine your feet tonight. At the first signs of the symptoms mentioned, douse on Absorbine Jr. And keep a bottle handy in your locker as a preventive. Use it after every exposure of bare feet on damp floors. At all druggists—$1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

Tree Nursery Closes Season

Stock Is on Hand to Ship to Montana Farmers.

School of Forestry nursery has closed a successful season and the last stock has been dug and heeled-in for the winter. There is on hand for shipment to Montana farmers desiring to start windbreaks, shelterbelts, or woodlots next spring, about a half million tree plants.

It is expected that a few shipments will be made yet this fall, the stock to be heeled-in by the farmers over the winter months, with the advantage that the stock will be on hand as soon as the ground is ready for it next spring. However, this will be the case for the most part where the ground to be planted has been summer-fallowed for one year.

Although tree stock at the School of Forestry nursery is grown primarily for use by Montana farmers, some stock has been shipped this fall to the government experiment stations at Mandan, North Dakota, Fort Bortoneau, North Dakota, Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Fort Warren, Wyoming. A few species of evergreen stock which have proved hardy to Rocky mountain conditions are being used for exchange and for eastern orders.

Farmers who are interested in establishing shelterbelts, windbreaks, or woodlots are urged to talk the matter over with their county agents or to communicate with the Extension Service at Montana State college before planting. Through these men, who are ready to help and give expert advice on the subject, application may be made to the School of Forestry nursery for stock at a nominal cost.

Due to the fact that roads within the nursery are extremely soft in early spring and late fall, extensive damage is done by automobile travel when people travel across the beds. For this reason, it has been necessary to close the nursery to auto travel this week.

LONG SPEAKS AT FIRST MATH CLUB MEETING

Members of the Math club held their first meeting of the year last Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Craig hall. Franklin Long spoke on De Moivre's Theorem.

Following the talk there was dancing and refreshments were served. All students taking math this quarter were eligible to attend this meeting.

Congressional Bill Helps Pharmacists

Passage of Measure Opens New Field For Graduates.

Another important field has been opened to graduates of the four-year course in the School of Pharmacy through the passage of a bill by Congress which gives pharmacists in the employ of the government the same rank, pay and status as physicians and dentists.

This is the first formal recognition of their public health service work which pharmacists have received and should result in stimulation of student interest in this field, according to Dean Mellett of the School of Pharmacy.

A second bill affecting the status of pharmacists will be reintroduced in Congress at the next session. If passed this bill will create in the United States Army a pharmaceutical corps which will give pharmacists the same rank and compensation for their work as other medical men receive. That this measure failed to pass at its first introduction was due chiefly to the opposition of Surgeon-General Ireland.

Another bill of contest to drugists throughout the country which was passed recently changed the name of the Hygienic Laboratory of Public Health Service to that of National Institute of Health. The public service work of the institute is under the direction of Surgeon-General U. S. Cummings.

Journalism Frats Meet This Sunday

Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, journalism honoraries, will hold a joint meeting at the Journalism shack next Sunday, November 16. Charles Hardy, head of the mechanical department, will talk. He will give the members of the organizations the view of the composing room from the composer's standpoint. The meeting will begin at 3 o'clock.

been cast. His antics in this part are sure to be appreciated by everyone. He has appeared before in "The White-headed Boy."

Three of the stage crew on this production are doing double duty by performing on stage as well as stage work. Clifton Hemgren of Missoula has played in the Masquer production, "Spring Shindings," "Ropes," "Man Born To Be Hanged" and "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife." Lee Rhelm of Butte has had parts last year in "Hell Bent For Heaven" and "The Undertaking Undertaker." Michael Kennedy, the other duelist, has been active in stage work.

Of the freshmen in the cast all have had plenty of training in their respective high schools. Charles Holstrom has appeared in Anaconda high school productions. Jane Thelen of Great Falls has done dramatic work there and Martha Kimball has played in many productions of the Missoula county high school.

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES HELENA ROTARY CLUB

On Wednesday of this week Dr. C. H. Clapp, president of the State University, was the principal speaker before the Helena Rotary club's formal observation of Armistice day. His topic was one in keeping with the world celebration of the signing of the Armistice.

While in Helena, Dr. Clapp visited St. Charles college as the guest of Dr. N. C. Hoff, president of the college.

McBain Art Work Is Displayed Today

Paintings that were done here and in the Bitter Root by R. V. McBain will be put up in the Art department today. The collection consists of 25 paintings all of which McBain has painted within the last year. Just one year ago he had a similar exhibit of paintings that he had painted. While this display is on the same general character it is of newer work, all of the work that is now up having been painted during the past year. According to Professor C. H. Riedell, these pictures show a considerable increase in power over the display of a year ago.

Dinner Scheduled For Mountaineers

Mountaineer club members will attend a dinner tonight at 6:30 to be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Shoemaker, 104 Central avenue. The price of the dinner will be 50c.

According to the invitations received, those present may expect to visit the following points of interest: Mt. Delicatessen, the Cave of Good Woodmanship and the Hall of Allas.

GOAL!

FOURTH down! Seconds to play! Defending a slender one-point margin of victory, eleven husky bodies have valiantly repulsed three smashing attacks which have advanced the ball a scant foot to the fifteen-yard line. With success almost certainly within the defender's grasp, the field goal specialist drops far back behind his stalwart line. A crashing impact—a blur of rushing bodies—and his nimble foot sends the ball high between the goal posts for the winning points!

Shift this scene to a battle ground of modern business. The goal is an important contract . . . a substantial order for equipment or appliances. Salesmanship, backed by a product of established quality, plays its important part; but a Westinghouse representative is more than a salesman. The background of specialized engineering skill that enables him to serve his customers as a consultant in electrification is what supplies the necessary "punch" to win.

To many a younger college man with Westinghouse has come the opportunity to apply his talent toward the conclusion of a worthwhile transaction. The young men whose photographs appear on this page are but a few of the many who, with college only a few years behind them, are finding success with an organization offering such a variety of opportunities in the world's electrical work.

K. Ekegren Leads Grizzlies In Gonzaga Fray Saturday

Game Will Be Played Here at 2 o'Clock; Both Teams Are Crippled From Previous Encounters.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow, Major Milburn will send his Grizzlies against the Bulldogs of Gonzaga University on Dornblaser field. It will be a crippled Montana team that takes the field but they will fight to the last.

Kernit Ekegren has been appointed Grizzly captain for the game and he will be the only member of the regular backfield to start the game. Clyde Carpenter has not recovered from leg injuries received at Berkeley. Waldo Ekegren broke a bone in his wrist in the California game and as it has not properly healed there is little chance of his playing tomorrow. Cox is still suffering from injuries received early in the season. Madden has an injured ankle and Lyon and McCarthy are not in good shape.

The Bulldogs have not won a major contest this year and will try hard to trounce the Grizzlies tomorrow. Tuesday, the Bulldogs lost another game when they went down before the Haskell Indians in the Armistice day feature at Spokane. After leading for three quarters, Gonzaga could not stand off the Indian rally and the final score was 19-7. The last time Montana played Gonzaga, the Grizzlies won 7-0. The game was played in Spokane in 1928 and the Bulldogs were favorites but Montana upset the dope.

It is reported that the Bulldogs were badly battered in the Haskell game and will not be in the best of condition tomorrow. If this is true it will help even matters with the battered Grizzlies. It now appears that the field will be wet Saturday and the heavy Montana line may be advantageous for a power attack.

Foreign Language Library Increases

Another group of books has been added to the foreign language collection in the Library. The additional books, which include 200 French, Spanish and German readers and grammars, have been donated by Professor F. C. Schenck and Mrs. A. H. Weisberg, both of the Foreign Language department. The list includes such authors as Moliere, Racine, Zimmerman, Hauff, Goethe, Hugo, Dumas, La Fontaine, Corneille, Balzac and Bordeaux.

Manage Intramural Competition.

Company basketball teams are now being organized for the R. O. T. C. inter-company competition. Harry Adams, intramural director, has announced practice hours for the various teams and has chosen cadet officers for managers.

Company A and the band have been combined for the basketball league as both have a much smaller enrollment than Companies B and C. The first game of the title race will be Wednesday, November 19. Cadet officers who will act as athletic managers are Bud Grover, Company A; W. W. Hannah, Company B; and Bob Parmenter, Company C.

R. O. T. C. teams will have the use of the men's gym for practice according to the following schedule: Saturday, November 15, 9 to 10 o'clock—Company A and band; 10 to 11 o'clock, Company B; Monday, November 17, 7:30 to 8:30 in the evening, Company B; 8:30 to 9:30, Company C; Tuesday, November 18, 7:30 to 8:30, Company C; 8:30 to 9:30, Company A and band.

MISSOULA MERCANTILE

Anne dear:

Here's the snap I promised you of Bill and me at the game. Of course it doesn't register our joy when our team made that winning touchdown. Neither can it show how proud I was of Bill in his new Michaels-Stern overcoat. He looked like a million dollars in it — and he said he was as warm as toast in spite of the cold.

Isn't it a shame that Michaels-Stern don't have that wonderful stylist, Lord Rochester, design some coats for co-eds? I paid about three times as much for my coat as Bill did for his — and it isn't a bit smarter — nor half as comfortable.

Try to be at the next game. I want you to meet Bill. Lotsa love,
