MONTANA USINGS

By Al Erickson.

LAST CHANCE for students to hear the Grizzly band this quarter will be this Sunday afternoon when the bandsters will give a concert in Main Hall. It's a good band and it will be a good concert regardless of the weather. Of all the afternoons in the week, Sunday should contain the most leisure hours for students. True enough, the last feeble attempts towards preparations of Monday's lessons are made on Sunday afternoons but the listlessness of a heavy dinner is usually sufficient to drop one into a good sleep. Band music such as only the Grizzly band can produce is the eye-opener that will keep you awake and make you enjoy your Sunday afternoon.

THERE ARE plenty of opportunities for Missoula music lovers to enjoy concerts and music study this week. Tuesday Professor John Crowder gave the first of ten recitals which will include a "Review of Music Literature." Individual culture advancement through the study of music is the objective of the course. This branch of culture is perhaps the most neglected, not because of initiative, but mainly because of the supposed lack of musical ability. Musical ability is not native to everybody but the capacity for music appreciation is universal. Moreover the historical background of music and the study of the lives of worthy composers is usually stunted in the ordinary run of everyday education.

NAMES SUCH as Paderewski, Rachmaninoff, Grieg, Godowsky, Newland, Mendelssohn, MacDowell, Bach, Schumann, Chopin, Mozart and Beethoven to most of us are extremely unfamiliar. When actually they should be as well known to students that boast a college education as the names of authors and playwrights. When men such as Dreiser, Lewis, Rollins, O'Neill, Green, Poe, Longfellow, Thackeray, Tennyson, Keats, Shaw, Ibsen or Goethe is mentioned most of us have a fairly good superficial knowledge of their lives and accomplishments. The group is wide and representative yet the field is not very forbidding in the face of a study of all the musicians mentioned above. It is just a case of educational opportunity that has been directed toward the latter while the musical part has been slighted.

WE ARE GLAD to note that our old friend the open shelf is to be with us again. A committee has been appointed for its restoration and we hope that it will be immediate. If it does not appear this quarter perhaps it will be ready by the beginning of the winter quarter. For the benefit of the freshmen who have not had the experience of delving into the many forms of literature that are presented on the shelf we will give an explanation. The open shelf contains books of all types, mostly popular books and plays, is located on the opposite wall directly in front of the main door in the library reading room. It is hoped that everyone will take advantage of this opportunity for book reading.

AND THE HUNGRY wolves are howling at the door again—at the door of the library. The usual last minute rush for examination knowledge has begun. Students stagger out of the library doors loaded to the lips with huge volumes that will be copied verbatim in their voluminous term paper. Gaunt and weary they come, furtively seeking the magic lamp of information and wisdom which will at last push them through the door labeled with the doorknocker of a passing grade. Oh, well, somebody has to be a pioneer.

TURNEY-HIGH RECEIVES GIFT.

Professor Turney-High has received a gift of a piece of pottery from Dr. J. G. Wahl, formerly of the Biology department of the University. The piece is ornamental, with decoration in three colors. It is the work of Acomis Indians, and of indeterminate age. Dr. Wahl found the piece of Old Laguna in New Mexico.

FOOTBALL TEAMS ARE HONORED AT GRIDIRON BANQUET

All Members of Varsity, Freshman Grid Squads Hear Talk By the Major, Missoula Men and Seniors.

Football men of both the Varsity and freshman teams were guests at the annual Gridiron banquet given at the Florence hotel last night. Every member of the Varsity and freshman football teams is a guest at this annual banquet, whether he has made his letter or not. Major F. W. Milburn was toastmaster and introduced the speakers who were of the University faculty, Missoula business men and graduating seniors.

Major Milburn in his farewell speech said in part, "I hate to leave you. I like the state and I like the school."

Dr. Asa Willard said, "You'll never have to get anything out of your system that the Major as coach gives to you. Anything you learn from him is on the square."

Other speakers on the program were as follows: President C. H. Clapp, H. O. Bell, Missoula automobile dealer; H. L. Bickelbach, Missoula sportsman; T. C. Spaulding, dean of the School of Forestry; A. E. Drew, Missoula insurance man; Jimmie Morrow and Carl Walker, coaches of the freshman team; J. E. Miller, dean of men; Dr. M. J. Elrod of the State University faculty; Ray Roene, Missoula sports editor; Oakley Coffee, Missoula business man; Jack Sterling, Missoula business man; Harry Adams, assistant varsity coach; Dr. J. F. S. Marshall of Missoula; Ernest Holmes; Dr. Pat McCarthy and Don Foss.

Waldo Ekegren, honorary 1930 football captain and Kermit Ekegren of Harlem; Jerry Ryan, Deer Lodge; Clyde Carpenter, Billings; Ted Rule, Deer Lodge; Clarence Muhleik, Kenosha, Wisconsin; Emile Perrey, Phillipsburg; Tom Moore, Phillipsburg; Frank Spencer, Geyser and Joe Grove, Glenwood, Minnesota were the graduating seniors who made farewell speeches.

School of Music Sponsors Recital

Sigma Alpha Iota Members Present Program.

Seven members of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's national honorary musical fraternity, appeared in a program last night at 8:15 o'clock. The program was presented by the School of Music and included piano and vocal numbers.

The program was as follows: "Who'll Buy My Lavender?", German; "In the Boat", Grieg; "Love Is a Merchant", Carew, by Marion Cline. "Sonata on 31 No. 2" allegro movement, Beethoven by Margery Dickinson.

"In Days of Yore," Halsman Kjerul; "Synovos Song", Halsman Kjerul; "Ambler", Singing by Ramona Noll.

"El Cefire", Spanish Folk Song; "In the Luxembourg Garden", Manning; "The Winds in the South", Scott by Nan Walsh Tiernan.

"Sonata on 57 Allegro Assia", Beethoven; "Moment Musical", Schubert by Gale Shelbaer.

"Ah! Sad Indeed My Heart," Tschalkowski; "The Saticade", Brahms by Hazel Alden.

"Throb of the Passionate Day", Lohr; "Lifeless and Grey the Sea Lies", Lohr by Mrs. A. J. Mosby.

INTERFRATERNITY DISCUSSES BALL AND AVERAGES

Council's Dance Date Is Set For February 20 This Year.

Interfraternity Council held its regular meeting Wednesday night at the Phi Sigma Kappa house.

A discussion of the annual Interfraternity Ball took up a large part of the business meeting. The Ball this year will be held on February 20.

Following this there was a lengthy discussion on difference in grades of those fraternity men living inside the fraternity house and those living elsewhere. It was debated whether or not more numerous activities of men in the houses should cause the lower averages which were found to exist among that element.

The next meeting of the council will be held at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house.

James Stevens Writes Story For Frontier

"Great Hunter of the Woods" Is Feature of December Issue of Magazine.

"Great Hunter of the Woods," a Paul Bunyan story, will appear in the December 10 issue of the Frontier. James Stevens, the author tells how Paul establishes the custom of having turkey for Christmas dinner. Dublin, Terrible Terrier, Paul's dog, regrets that there are no mice running around in the woods so that he can catch them for mice pies. Stevens is the author who got out the first collection of Paul Bunyan stories, the hero of the early and present day lumberjacks.

In the Stute Box for this issue appears a critical article in verse by Braxill Fitzgerald of the English department. Also in this section is included an anecdote by Frank R. Linderman, "Bogey of the Box."

"Chivalry and Comfort" is contributed by Clara McIntyre, professor of English at the University of Wyoming. This is an essay on present day fashions and should appeal to the women readers of the Frontier.

A second article on Chinook Jargon is written by E. H. Thomas of Seattle, Washington. This is as interesting as his first article and discusses the language of the Chinook Indians.

"Diminution," a story of a cowboy who goes from a dude ranch to Los Angeles and becomes a truck driver, has been contributed by John E. Underwood of Casper, Wyoming.

The Frontier, a magazine of the Northwest, is edited by Professor H. G. Merriam, chairman of the English department and is published four times a year.

Forestry Rifle Club Members Increase

Large Enrollment Necessitates Twice-A-Week Practices.

Membership in the Forestry School Rifle club has increased to such an extent that it has been necessary to set aside two nights a week for practice.

Last Tuesday and Friday nights, the prone position was explained, with Coach Matsen giving special instruction to beginners on lining of sights and correct position. A great improvement in accuracy of new members can be noted already. The five highest scores for last week were: Evans Hawes, 98; William Fair, 97; Cal Gunterman, 96; Robert Matsen, 92; Robert Aple, 92 and Warren Stilling, 92.

Starting next Tuesday, Coach Matsen will give instruction on the sitting position.

Group Singing Will Feature Band Concert

Varied Program Is Scheduled By Freeburg's Men Next Sunday.

Community singing, led by Emerson Stone, noted song-leader, will be a feature of the Grizzly band concert to be held Sunday at 4 o'clock in Main hall. No admission will be charged for this concert which is the last of the quarter.

This is the first time a plan whereby the audience sings the words to a song while the band plays the tune will be attempted on this campus. Due to the popularity of Mr. Stone as a song-leader and the popularity of the Grizzly concert band it is expected that there will be a large attendance at the concert Sunday.

Professor Roy Freeburg, instructor in the music department and regular band leader, will direct the band. This will be Mr. Freeburg's last public appearance on this campus until next fall quarter. He will spend this winter and spring quarter in Seattle where he will do graduate work at the University of Washington. Next summer he will accept a position on the faculty of the California Normal college. He will return here next fall.

Mr. Freeburg has been on the faculty here for the last two years. He came here after his graduation from the University of Washington. Since his arrival here Mr. Freeburg has gained recognition as one of the best band leaders in the West.

Program for Sunday's Christmas concert:

1. Overture—Poet and Peasant, Suppe.
2. Suite—Ballet Egyptian, Lullaby.
3. Oriental Fantasy—In a Chinese Temple Garden, Ketylay.
4. Community Singing (Led by Emerson Stone)—O Come All Ye Faithful, Reading; Hark the Herald Angels Sing, Mendelssohn; Silent Night, Gruber.
5. Christmas Selection (Band assisted by the sight singing class)—Beneath the Holly, Brockton.

Students End Registration Wednesday

Charge Will Be Made After December 10; Fees Due Later.

Advance registration for the winter quarter will close Wednesday, December 10. Students who are not registered by that date must wait until Monday, January 5, to complete registration. All such students will be charged a late registration fee of two dollars that day, and one dollar per day after that, not to exceed five dollars.

Students who have not yet secured their registration certificates must now get them at window number one of the Registrar's office. No extra fee is charged for beginning registration late. Those who have already consulted their advisers may get their prerequisites checked at windows two and three. Students whose last names begin with initials from "a" to "j" should go to window two, and those whose names fall in the rest of the alphabet, to window three.

After having their prerequisites checked, registrants who are taking courses that are being sectionized must go to window four. They may then turn their registration certificates, class cards, and handbooks in at window one.

Students will have from January 5 until January 10 to pay their fees. No statements of fees will be given out before January 5.

Council Will Discuss Allocation of Funds

Dr. Clapp, Deans Jesse, Leaphart Attend Meeting.

Allocation of funds up to the amount of $1,157,700 will be discussed at a meeting of the Executive Council in the chancellor's office in Helena on December 8.

Dr. C. H. Clapp, Dean C. W. Leaphart and Doctor R. H. Jesse will attend the meeting.

Presentation of requests and reasons for the allocation of funds from the bond issue will also be discussed.

DR. CLAPP WILL ATTEND RHODES SCHOLAR MEET

Committee Holds Session in Butte.

Dr. C. H. Clapp will attend the meeting of the Montana Rhodes Scholarship selection committee which will be held in the new Finlen hotel in Butte December 6.

Members of the committee are President Clapp, chairman; J. R. Thomas, secretary; A. V. Corry of the State School of Mines and President Alfred Atkinson of Montana State College.

Montana candidates selected at the meetings will go to the Regional Committee for the selection of the four Rhodes scholars. Round Moltzan, Fergus; Albert Roberts, Helena and Eugene Sunderlin, Missoula, are the University's representatives who will attend the Butte meeting.

Thirty-two scholarships are given annually in the United States, the states being grouped into eight districts of six states each for the purpose of making these appointments. Under the new plan of selecting Rhodes scholars, each state nominates two men to appear before the district committee which selects the four outstanding candidates from the 12 nominated.

The eighth district is composed of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and North Dakota. The district meeting will be held December 10 and 11 in the Davenport hotel in Spokane. Professor H. G. Merriam, head of the English department, will be present at this meeting.

It is possible that five men will be chosen from the eighth district this year as George Huber of Idaho, who was chosen to go to Oxford this year, was drowned last summer.

Open Shelf Is Reinstated by Central Board

Committee Is Appointed to Select Books to Go in Reading Room.

Central Board, at its Tuesday meeting, announced the following committee to take charge of the Open Shelf for this year: Winifred Feighner, chairman; Professor William Bateman; Professor Braxill Fitzgerald; Jess Cambron; Paul Treichler and Bob Nelson.

The Open Shelf was innovated two years ago. It was intended as a place in the library where students might have the opportunity of selecting books for personal pleasure, and has since become a regular feature of the library. It was originally stocked by ten members of the faculty who gave ten books apiece.

The Open Shelf committee is responsible for the selection of books placed upon the shelf. The collection is very cosmopolitan in the types represented. Adventure, poetry and philosophy, old and modern, are to be found. Among the books on the open shelf are the latest added to the library including some excellent literary essays and biographies.

State College Presents Comedy to Campus Tonight

Students May Buy Tickets at Little Theater Office At Any Time Before 8:15.

Players from the Montana State college will present tonight an uproarious comedy, "The Show-off" in the Little Theater at 8:15 o'clock. The play is being produced under the auspices of the Montana Masquers. Last week the Masquers presented their fall production in Bozeman in an exchange of plays of the sister institutions. Tickets are now on sale at the Little Theater office.

Thirteen Players

Thirteen players and Director Bert B. Hansen of the Montana State college Tormentors arrived in Missoula yesterday afternoon. This afternoon they will be guests of the Montana Masquers at a tea dansant at the Phi Delta Theta house. The reception will be held from 3:30 to 5 o'clock and all students are invited to meet the Bozeman actors.

"The Show-off" is under the direction of Bert Hansen, author of the one-act play "Blind Windows" which the Montana Masquers presented in the Little Theater a few weeks ago. According to the director, the play was very well received in Bozeman where it was presented Monday and Tuesday nights and should prove popular in Missoula. This is the first opportunity this year that the campus has had a chance to see a good, live American comedy.

LOVE, SONG, MEN OFFERED AS IDEA IN HI-JINX SCRIPT

Joint Meeting of All Committees Tuesday Night in Main Hall Considers Manuscript Submitted for Annual Song Show.

Prince pretenders, love, saloons, downtrodden men, quartettes, dances, songs and a butler by the name of Parkerette are parts of the manuscript submitted for the 1931 production of Hi-Jinx as read to a joint meeting of all committees held Tuesday evening in Main hall under the direction of Miriam Barnhill, business manager. The manuscript is now before the executive committee for consideration.

Spanish Club's Last Meeting Ends Quarter

Dr. J. P. Rowe Talks of Trip With Floating University Last Year.

Closing a successful quarter of activity, the last meeting of the Spanish club which was held at the Phi Delta Theta house Wednesday was attended by 35 members. The principle feature of the evening was an extensive talk delivered by Professor J. P. Rowe of the geology department concerning his trip with the Floating University and his experiences in Cuba, the Panama Canal, Japan and China.

Special selections of Spanish songs were played by the Filipino students, Nemesio Borge and Jose Simangan, banjo and guitar artists. "Preguntamelo," a Spanish guessing game, was the surprise which Miss Virginia Sughrue, Spanish instructor, introduced. Ice cream, assorted cakes and coffee, composed the refreshments.

NOTICE

Scientific French will be offered again during the winter quarter 1931. It will not be on the spring schedule.

State College Presents Comedy to Campus Tonight

Students May Buy Tickets at Little Theater Office At Any Time Before 8:15.

Players from the Montana State college will present tonight an uproarious comedy, "The Show-off" in the Little Theater at 8:15 o'clock. The play is being produced under the auspices of the Montana Masquers. Last week the Masquers presented their fall production in Bozeman in an exchange of plays of the sister institutions. Tickets are now on sale at the Little Theater office.

Typically American

As a typical American comedy, "The Show-off" has become classic. It is of the later type of dramatic artistry in comedy, tending toward the use of excellent characterization for the production of humor. This is readily found in the dashing hero Aubrey Piper. With deft, small strokes George Kelly builds up Piper into an outstanding liar and egotist. There is never any need for anyone to wish, "Be yourself Aubrey" for he is never anyone but himself.

All of the show-off's action and blatant conversation turn the family of Fisher against him in the play but he overcomes odds to marry Amy, the charming daughter. Setbacks occur but Aubrey pushes on undauntedly. The conclusion ironic but mirth-provoking is in favor of the windy Aubrey. Appearing in this play are eight actors, seven of them having played in Tormentor productions before.

Assistants Named

Tuesday afternoon Central Board appointed Michael Kennedy and William Gail as assistant managers and they are now co-operating with Miriam Barnhill in promoting further plans before the close of school for the holidays.

The appointment of Francis Teason to work with Jeanette McGrade, Marguerite Brown, Georgia Mae Metlen, Ingomar Olsen and James Speer on the dancing committee was announced by Manager Barnhill yesterday.

Tryouts Next Week

"Tryouts and talent tests will probably be held sometime in the early part of next week," stated Miriam Barnhill this morning, "we are going to make an attempt to get everyone with the least bit of talent to make a try for our production this year. We want the best talent available."

Members of the executive committee have expressed themselves as being very favorably impressed with the quality of the manuscript which was read Tuesday evening. They have said that the plot is exceedingly interesting and that the dialogue moves quickly with scintillating humor.

Date is January 31. Hi-Jinx will be presented at the Wilma theater on January 31, the date having been changed from January 17 to allow for more practice in order to put on a more finished show. The production is sponsored by the A. S. U. M.

In former years the show has been put on by the men and women in alternate years. The manuscript has been built around the razzing of the opposite sex. According to the recommendation made by the executive committee this year Central Board changed the show to one of the musical comedy type. Songs and dances will be featured and a show produced that will appeal to a greater number of students in the opinion of Central Board.

History of Hi-Jinx

Hi-Jinx is traced back to 1906, when the University band put on a show which they called the "All Nations Show". The next year a similar show was put on, this time by the Glee club. This year the show was in the form of a skit, razzing members of the faculty and a few of the prominent students. The custom of men and women alternately putting on the show was started in 1910. Hi-Jinx has gradually grown until this year it is possible that the hope of many, to have the show a musical comedy equal to any college show, may be realized.

In 1926 the show was entirely abolished by action of the Dean's council. It was not until 1928 when the men put it on that the show was reinstated.

Committee Members

The executive committee is made up of twelve members, six women and six men students. They act as supervisors and censors of the show and pass final judgment upon all actions. They are responsible to Central Board and to the Dean's council. Carl Walker, chairman, Mary Louise Davenport, Francis Ruckman, Thelma Williams, Rhea Traver, Marion Cline, Fay McCollum, Archie Grover, Bob Nelson, Billy Rohlfis, Al Erickson and Bob Hendon are the members.

Members of the production committee are Marion Hobbs, chairman, Betty Torrence, Dorothy Briggs and Calvert Simons. Marion Cline is chairman of the Music committee with George Bovington as assistant.

Singing will be in charge of Marjorie Dickinson and Ramona Noll. The costume committee is made up of Mary Ruth Larison and Edith Conklin. Jane Bateman and Francis Falck are co-chairmen of the scenery committee and will be assisted by Ruth Riedell. Publicity is in charge of Bob Hendon.

BIOLOGY CLUB MEETS

Members of the Biology club held a meeting yesterday afternoon from four till five o'clock in the Natural Science building. At this meeting, William O. Negerhorn delivered a paper on German Journals.

After the business, refreshments were served before adjournment.

The Tormentors and Us.

MONTANA STATE TORMENTORS will present "The Show-Off" at the Little Theater tonight. This is the first time in history that sister institutions of the University of Montana have gotten together in this way with an exchange of plays, or similar presentations. It is a very commendable practice to be inaugurated this year.

Last week the Montana Masquers took "Juno and the Paycock" to Bozeman, where it was presented on the Montana State campus. It was well received, and the hospitality shown the University actors could not have been better. The least the University student body can do is to return the favors done its members, but there is a great deal more that can be done. We can show them in many ways that we appreciate their coming here, that we enjoy their visit on our campus, and thereby send them home with the pleasantest memories of their stay here.

"The Show-off" is a comedy, highly entertaining and well worth every student's time and money to attend. "Juno" was a tragedy, and "Granite", to be presented by the Masquers during the winter quarter, is a tragedy. Students who come to the Tormentors' play tonight will enjoy a light comedy between two heavy dramas. It is not a play to be missed without being sorry in more ways than one.

In addition to the play this evening, there is a tea dance given in honor of the Tormentors who are on the Montana campus by the Masquers at a fraternity house this afternoon. Students will have an opportunity to meet the players from Montana State then, and to manifest the pleasure they feel at having members of "The Show-off" cast as our guests for these few days.

University Utopian.

DURING and novel is the plan announced recently at the University of Chicago of doing away entirely with hours and residence requirements as criteria for winning college degrees at that institution. The plan has been a long time perfecting, and is at last being put into operation by Robert Maynard Hutchins, Chicago's forward-looking, youthful president.

The present structure of the University of Chicago consists of undergraduate and graduate schools of Arts, Literature and Science, and professional schools of Medicine, Law, Divinity, Education, Commerce and Social Service Administration.

In the new Chicago structure, the freshman will enter a general "college" in which he will not have to attend classes unless so moved, will get no formal grades, and will take no formal examinations until he is ready to take a final, all-inclusive one. If he fails this he may remain in the college or quit, as he desires. If he passes he may leave the university honorably, taking no degree, or he may go into a "Division" to take more difficult courses in seminar groups in preparation for a degree. Upon receiving a degree, or upon passing through the "college" with distinction, he may enter one of the professional schools.

There are in this new university four main Divisions, offering all degrees save those now offered by the professional schools. They are Humanities, including philosophy, art and the languages; Social Sciences such as psychology, economics and anthropology; Physical Sciences, including mathematics, astronomy, and chemistry; and Biological Sciences which include botany, physiology and pathology among others.

Curricula now in charge of 72 departments will be divided among the 12 groups—the College, the four Divisions, and the Professional Schools. Each College faculty member will also be a member of a Division, thus furthering correlation between departments. All budgets will go to the 12 deans; it will be enormously more simple to handle 12 divisional than the former 72 departmental budgets.

Everywhere in the United States modernizing of higher education has had the same aims: to free the capable student from the drag of the incapable, and to encourage and reward intellectual initiative. Everywhere this liberalizing process has included certain steps—removal of compulsion to study, and replacement of frequent and specific examinations with infrequent, comprehensive ones. Harvard, Princeton and Dartmouth have long since taken modifications of these steps, and in Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn's experimental college at the University of Wisconsin, the radical plan of studying human eras whole instead of human knowledge piecemeal has been tried with success.

The University of Chicago has advanced to this stage more rapidly than many other institutions, perhaps, because of the pressing factors of a large and intricate budget and a monster student body with a wide variety of demands. Such a structure, certainly, is not so greatly needed at a smaller and less complex university. Outsiders, hearing of the plan for the first time, are prone to be skeptical of its working out; that it is assuming concrete form is nevertheless witnessed by the fact that already deans for the new organization have been named. Many details remain to be settled, of course—athletic eligibility to meet Big Ten Conference requirements, for example—but the affair will at least be given a trial.

Of it, President Hutchins says: "The whole business is an experiment. Perhaps we have not the brains to get from it all we should, but it will compel us to think what we are doing."

Hangovers

This is the time of the quarter when everyone has a mad on at somebody for something.

Profs. come in for their share . . . It's a good thing houses aren't equipped with dictaphones or there would be about three or four hundred collegians out looking for another school at which to spend their time.

Time is as easy to spend as money. But—to get back to the dictaphone idea. It has been said that Americans lack originality in their swearing.

What could be a better place to make a survey on Ye Gentle Arte of Using Ye Lordes Nayme in Vayne than right here on the campus?

Heard a bizad flunkee spouting off yesterday . . . His philosophy was distinctly Schopenhaueristic . . .

SOME grade curve.

What good is the grade curve when nobody uses it?

Seven Arts Club Meets for Last Time in Quarter

Seven Arts club held its last meeting for this quarter Tuesday evening in the foyer of the Little Theater.

The program for the evening consisted of a musical program of phonograph recordings of the best selections from the most famous composers. The phonograph for this purpose was loaned by Dickinson's. Refreshments of cookies and coffee were served after the meeting.

Seven Arts club is a new organization on the campus, having been formed this quarter for the purpose of creating a greater interest of its members in art, literature, music, drama, poetry, and journalism, and all seniors and juniors interested in these arts are eligible for membership. Quarterly dues of 75c are assessed to finance the club.

An excellent schedule of programs has been arranged for next quarter, according to Raymond Enyart, chairman of the arrangements committee. He also says that the club has been a great success since its origination and predicts even greater successes as the school year continues.

North Hall

Wednesday dinner guests at North Hall were Pauline Grafton and Thelma Wendie, guests of Rhea Traver; Virginia Malloy, guest of Bernice Romero; Martha Smith and Alberta Wilcox, guests of Margaret Viel; Margaret McKay, guest of Kay Bailey; Esther Larson, guest of Peg Jacobs; Fay McCollum, guest of Marjorie Bodine; Olive Fitzgerald and Margaret Boyd, guests of Juanita Rueger; Cletia Shepherd, guest of Jane Thelen; Frances Walker, guest of Ruth Wold; Phoebe Patterson, guest of Mary Beth MacKenzie.

Mrs. J. W. Moore was honored at a bridge party given in her honor by members of Sigma Kappa last Tuesday afternoon. Her guests included Mrs. Harriet Rankin Sedman, Mrs. J. B. SOCIETY OF AMERICAN FORESTERS MEETS IN SCHOOL LIBRARY MONDAY

Rutledge Parker, State Forester, Speaks on "Objectives of Needed Forest Legislation in Montana."

Members of the Society of American Foresters met at their semi-monthly meeting Monday night, in the library room of the Forestry building.

Rutledge Parker, state forester, was the principal speaker, choosing for his subject, "Objectives of Needed Forest Legislation in Montana." Following his talk, the meeting was given over to a very interesting open discussion on this topic.

The Society is composed of technical foresters throughout the northern Rocky Mountain region, composed of Montana, Idaho, the Dakotas, northern Wyoming and eastern Washington. About one hundred eighty men are members and there were about fifty present at Monday night's meeting. Professor Irwin W. Cook, of the School of Forestry, is president of the organization. The next meeting will be Monday, December 15. Dean T. C. Spaulding will be the principal speaker and his talk will be on "Objectives of Private Forestry."

Chinese Art Attracts University to New Exhibit.

Oriental books and reproductions of Chinese pictures represent the latest achievement of the Art department. A collection consisting of about 300 reproductions from Chinese paintings dating back as far as 1750 has been secured.

This collection is of special interest at this time because history of art classes are now studying the history of Chinese art. The collection was secured through the courtesy of E. T. Shima of New York, and was put together for the special purpose of furthering exhibits in schools and colleges throughout the country.

FRENCH POSTAL IS DISCUSSED BY MRS. ARNOLDSON

Peculiarities of System Are Explained at Stamp Club Meeting.

Peculiarities of the French postal system were discussed by Mrs. Louise G. Arnoldson, assistant professor of Foreign Language, at a meeting of the Philatelic Society, at the home of Professor C. H. Riddell, last Wednesday. Mrs. Arnoldson pointed out the complexity of the system.

The French have a system whereby they allow business concerns to advertise in the books of stamps and to use the extra paper on the edges of the blocks of stamps for the names of the different concerns.

In France the postal system, the telephone system and the telegraph system are all under the one business administration. The postal system is not only very complicated but is strict in not taking a package weighing more than 22 pounds. To send packages by parcel post one must take his material to a distinct parcel post bureau, and not to the general post office.

Their method of posting letters is rather unique in that they may post letters in the provided blue boxes, in the base of the lamp posts or in any slot in the wall where ever the officials see fit to provide a mail box. The latter system proved its worth in an incident wherein a truck backed into a brick wall damaging it to the extent that repairs were called to repair the damage. During the course of the repair work they found that the place had at one time been used as a mail box, but some postman must have forgotten that such mailing provisions had been made and hadn't collected the mail, and letters were therein found dating back as far as 1904.

The French people seem to enjoy the more complicated ways of doing things. They believe in the theory that the things that are harder to attain are thoroughly enjoyed. Their postal system is perhaps the most striking example of this characteristic in the people.

Press Club Has Annual Banquet In Bonner Hall

Housman Presents Framed Tribute From Students and Faculty to Dean Stone.

Presentation of a framed tribute to Dean A. L. Stone was the main event in the Press club banquet in Bonner Wednesday night. Professor R. L. Housman presented "In Appreciation," a tribute from the faculty and students, which was the first piece of work printed with the recently installed equipment. The printing work was done by Charles W. Hardy, head of the mechanical laboratory.

President C. H. Clapp, Dean Miller, Dean Harriet Sedman and Warren B. Davis were introduced by the toast master, and gave short talks. Other speakers on the program were Mrs. Inez Abbott, Professor R. L. Housman, Charles W. Hardy, Grant Higgins, Margaret Brayson, Liz Maury, Doug Hutchinson. Members who had given their time to make the affair a success were introduced; they were Mary Wilson, Mel Rawn and Packy Cooney. Clyde Jones and Fred Miller, members of the Missoula staff were also introduced. Dr. Emerson Stone led the crowd in singing. Norma McGurk and her gang gave musical numbers. During the course of the dinner copies of the Incinerator, banquet news sheet, were passed out.

After Eddie Astle gave his version of the banquet the party adjourned to the Bonner community dance hall.

FACULTY PARTY

About 40 members of the faculty enjoyed a dancing party given last Friday evening at North hall. Mrs. I. W. Cook and Mrs. R. C. Line comprised the committee in charge of all plans and arrangements. Features of the evening were six novelty dances. Music was provided by Eddie Merit's orchestra. The dance was such a success that another is being planned to be given some time near the end of the Christmas holidays. It will be in charge of Mr. E. L. Freeman.

Prominent Men Attend Sigma Delta Chi Convention.

Bob Hendon has returned from Columbus, Ohio, where he attended the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity. The convention was held at Ohio State university.

The meeting was attended by about 75 delegates, many alumni and such prominent men in the journalistic field as Marlin Pew, Frank E. Mason, Edwin V. O'Neil, Franklin Beck and Ward Neff. Hendon says that it was a very good meeting. On his return trip Bob stopped at the University of Wisconsin and also at Montana State college at Bozeman.

Crowder Begins Music Lecture, Recital Series

Programs Continue for Nine Tuesdays at Music Building.

Playing to an audience of 40 townspeople and University students, Professor John Crowder of the School of Music last Tuesday evening gave the first of his proposed series of 10 lecture-recitals. The next program of the series will be given on Tuesday, December 16, at the same place—the Music building on University avenue.

The program last Tuesday consisted of sketches of the works and significance of certain famous composers, and then of selections of their compositions. The compositions included were: Moonlight Sonata, Beethoven; Moment Musical, Schubert; Military Marches, Schubert; Country Dances, Beethoven; Turkey in the Straw, Gounod. The program was appreciatively received by the audience as an introduction to the true appreciation of good music.

SENIOR WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION FIRST ADOPTS NAME OF QUADRONS IN 1923

Purpose of Social Group Is to Promote Acquaintance Among Women Graduates.

Quadrans is an organization of all the senior women on the campus. It meets the second Tuesday of every month at one of the sorority houses. The last meeting of the quarter will be held Tuesday, December 9, at the Alpha Xi Delta house with Alpha Xi Delta and Delta Delta Delta as hostesses.

Two meetings have been held this year, the opening meeting at the Delta Gamma house, and the November meeting at the Alpha Chi Omega house with Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Phi as hostesses.

Organization
Quadrans is primarily a social organization to strengthen acquaintanceships among the women of the graduating class. Each year the group chooses senior women's garb. Quadrans nominate from the group candidates for May Queen and A. W. S. elects May Queen in the annual election before May Fete every year.
It has become customary to hold the last meeting of each year in the Natural Science building lecture room, and to invite junior women as guests of the seniors. At this meeting the entire group elects from the junior group officers for the following year. Quadrans officers this year are Fay McCollum, president; Kitty Quigley, vice-president; Georgia Fisher, secretary; Mary Louise Davenport, treasurer.

History
The organization has had a long history. In 1923 the name Quadrans was adopted by the group of all senior women, known before that time as Mortar Board. Under the name Mortar Board the organization existed since about 1916 with all senior women eligible as now. The honorary group now known as Mortar Board was then known on this campus as Penetralla, becoming a part of the national Mortar Board about the time that the name Quadrans was adopted by the non-honorary group.

Nothing definite can be found concerning the organization of senior women on this campus into such a group. Kaimin files for 1917 report meetings of an organization not new that year. For many years the Quadrans movement and activities at the State University, but because the Quadrans members do not return the following year it was found more convenient to let A. W. S. handle this. Although one of its important functions was thus taken from it, Quadrans still remains an active social organization to which all senior women may belong.

A. W. S. PLANS YEAR PARTY FOR TOWN CHILDREN

Annual Christmas Fun for Youngsters Will Be December 6.

Between one hundred and two hundred Missoula children will be the guests of A. W. S. at the annual Christmas party given in their honor, Saturday afternoon, December 6, at 2:30 o'clock, in the women's gymnasium.
Beth Manis is in charge of the arrangements for the party this year. Dorothy Rawn has been appointed chairman of the food committee, and Adelaide Olinger is head of the entertainment committee. The party was first given by the branch of the Y. W. C. A. that functioned on the campus quite a few years ago, and was taken up by A. W. S. at its installation.

Each child present will receive a pair of stockings besides gifts of candy and fruit. The guests, who will be of both school and pre-school age, will be transported to the gymnasium by bus, through the courtesy of O. H. Coats.

Kirkwood Memorial Grove Has Addition

Nine-Inch Douglas Fir Transplanted From Pattee Canyon.

Kirkwood Memorial Grove, at the north end of the campus on Van Buren street, will soon have added to its group of trees a nine-inch Douglas fir, which will be transplanted from its present environment in Pattee canyon.
A three-foot ditch has been dug around the tree. As soon as the soil on the roots has been frozen sufficiently, a tractor will pull the tree out and it will be taken to the Grove in a large rock boat. In this manner, with the dirt frozen to the roots, it will be transplanted with no injury to the tree.

Ray Calkins is chairman of the committee and is assisted by Evans Hawes, Bob Holgren and Alfred Young.

Walter W. McNamara, '16, who since his graduation from the School of Pharmacy here has been proprietor of a drug store at Benton Harbor, Michigan is now living in Alhambra, California. His address is 1505 South Chapel street.

William Fair, Missoula, a junior in the School of Forestry, has been pledged to Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

ATHLETIC BOARD REPORT SHOWS HOME GAME LOSS

Largest Attendance Was for Game With Mt. St. Charles.

Cash receipts and disbursements for home games in football during the autumn quarter, 1930, are recorded in a report of the athletic board for the quarter. This report includes only the payments made by faculty and townspeople. Each student pays five dollars for all student activities, two dollars and fifty cents of which pays for a season ticket to all varsity football games. The income from this source is not sufficient to pay for the equipment used by the players.

The report shows a loss on every home game, the largest being from the Gonzaga game. The smallest deficiency was on the first game of the season, that with the Anaconda Anodes. However, some of the loss on home games, is made up by income from games not in Missoula.

The largest attendance of the season was at the Mount St. Charles game, when there was a larger number of both students and people who paid admission. This was the first intercollegiate game of the season. The smallest attendance was at the Anodes game, but a larger part of this was under the classification of general admission than in the other games. Fewer people attended the Gonzaga game than any other after school started.

Members of Filipino Club Plan Rizal Day

Pantomime of National Hero's Death Will Be Program Feature.

Members of the Filipino club will hold a Rizal day program on December 30, probably in one of the Missoula churches.

Rizal is the Filipino national hero and martyr and a feature of the program will be a pantomime of his execution. Speeches and songs will also be included.

Officers of the club are: president, Nemesio Borge; vice-president, Marciano Raquel; secretary-treasurer, Jose Simangan.

Miss Irene Dickson of Seattle, Washington, who is the District Inspector for the National Sorority of Sigma Kappa, will arrive to inspect the Missoula chapter of that sorority next Saturday afternoon.

Wynn Christopher, '34, River Forest, Illinois was in South hall infirmary this week with a severe cold. He was taken to a hospital yesterday.

Tractor Company Field Man Speaks

Forestry Club Hears W. N. Wagner, Caterpillar Representative.

W. N. Wagner, San Leandro, California, field man in logging work for the Caterpillar Tractor and Equipment company, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Forestry club, Wednesday night.

Moving pictures of tractor logging were part of the entertainment. These were given through the courtesy of the Caterpillar Tractor company, the same concern which lends a new tractor to the School of Forestry each year.
Bill Gallagher, '26, and Roy Robinson, managers of the company's local branch, presented to the school three large pictures of logging operations. These will be placed in the logging engineering laboratory.

ANTIQUE CO-EDS

Which Is Granny's Gown, Asks Reporter.

Peering into the clothes closet of the laboratory in the home economics department and finding there not a kaleidoscope row of jaunty sport dresses such as coeds might select to display their sewing genius, but hangers clothed in bouffant-skirted models which might have graced the wardrobes of grandmother's youth, is an indication of another trend of modern times.

There is just a step between the fashioning of the dresses of the "gay '80's" and these newest creations in which simplicity of color and extravagance of design accentuate reversion to a custom of dress that was once passe.

One of the most effective of the models to which the finishing touches are now being made in the sewing class is an evening dress of white satin which has a ten-gore skirt measuring seven or eight yards around the bottom. A number of the others are less ambitious in design—afternoon dresses in black crepe, black moire and autumn brown with touches of orange. However even the sport dress of wool georgette suggests remotely the flowing lines and close waistline of the mode to which those women of long ago conformed.

TWO OF FACULTY PLAN TO ATTEND SCIENTIFIC MEET

Spaulding and Ramskill Will Go to Spokane the Last of December.

Dean T. C. Spaulding and Professor J. H. Ramskill of the School of Forestry, are planning to attend the annual convention of the Northern Scientific association to be held in Spokane December 29 and 30.

This association is composed of men prominent in the field of education and science in the northwest. It was organized about 1925 and from a meager beginning, grew rapidly, until now it is a large organization. The late professor J. E. Kirkwood, of the Botany department was one of the association's founders. Charles H. Clapp, president of the University, is a former president, as is also Chancellor Melvin A. Brannon. Professor G. D. Shallenberger and Professor C. W. Waters are also members of the association. University of Idaho, Washington State college, Gonzaga university, Cheney Normal, Ellensburg Normal and Lewis and Clark high school are some of the schools which are represented.

At the meeting in Spokane, Professor Ramskill will read a paper on "Some Effects Caused by Loss of Water During the Seasoning of Wood."

Fellowship Group Hears Discussion

Elsie Eminger, Spanish instructor, was the main speaker of the meeting held by the University Fellowship group at 616 Eddy avenue at 8 o'clock Tuesday.

Miss Eminger discussed social and religious life in Mexico where she spent last summer studying. A musical program and a social hour concluded the meeting.

Hildegard Mertz, a graduate of the School of Journalism last spring, and who for the past year has been secretary to Professor Dorr Skeels of the School of Forestry has left for Chicago where she will be employed.

Martha Dunlap, '28, who is engaged in publicity work in Chicago, has sent back to the library in the School of Journalism some interesting pamphlets of public relations work.

Watch for it.

Pharmacists Give Agaric Specimen To Drug Museum

Fungus Found in Clearwater District More Than 65 Years Old.

White agaric, a fungus growth found on larch trees, has been donated in large specimen form by the School of Pharmacy to the museum now under construction for the American Institute of Pharmacy. This specimen, which is more than 65 years old, was found by Dean C. E. Mollett in the Clearwater district of the Blackfoot.

The museum to which this specimen will be shipped is under construction as a result of a campaign which was launched to provide for the erection and maintenance of an all-pharmacy headquarters in the District of Columbia. The building will be erected across the Mall from the Lincoln Memorial and will include offices of the 12 national pharmaceutical associations in addition to the rooms for the historical museum and laboratories for research.

Many pharmacy students and faculty members of the University have contributed to this enterprise.

At a recent meeting of the National Pharmacy association in Baltimore, Maryland, the name of the building was changed to that of the American Institute of Pharmacy.

Easy Lesson No. 1

Roller History Recalled By Gray-Beard.

Sadly neglected so far this year, Montana's popular sport among women, roller-skating, may face a closed season until spring, unless indoor skating is resorted to. That means that this and that will probably be the result.

Roller-skating takes its name from the instruments upon which it is practiced, namely, "roller-skates." Roller-skating, defined carefully, comes from the word "roller" meaning, "one who rolls," and skating, which means "shooting away a cat." Thus the term "roller-skating" means "one who rolls while shooting away a cat." It is possible, however, that "roller" at one time, may have had reference to one who rolled his "R" while shooting away a cat. The fact that there is no "R" in the popular cat-shooting expression of today has nothing to do with that explanation. Today's cat-shooter may have lost an "R" coming, as it apparently did, from Egypt, where Pharaoh was first to engage in pest-extermination on a large scale. Regarding this, Xenophon has said: "non ragionem di lor, ma garda e passa," which translated freely, means, "Skat, you dirty thing."

The proper method of roller-skating, according to recognized tradition, is to apply the skates to the feet, being sure to get the little things that look like wheels (they are wheels) pointing downward. It is well to get the skates on the right foot, or rather on the proper foot. One goes on the left foot and one on the right. If they are mixed up, the skater faces the danger of getting tied into knots, because habit is a strong force in the sturdy little things. When they are securely fastened to the feet, standing up. That's right; now, stand up again. When the art of standing is mastered, stroke off with the right foot, being sure to bring the left foot along quite close behind, because you will need it in the next lesson, which will follow in a future issue.

Forests Discuss Annual Ball and Forestry Kaimin.

More than 60 members of the Forestry club met Wednesday night in a regular business meeting in the School of Forestry club room.

The Foresters' Ball was discussed and there was also some talk on the Forestry Kaimin. The subject of corresponding with other schools of forestry in the United States was brought up and it was planned to develop some such contact with these schools. It was also decided to have a series of 15-minute talks by different members of the club. These talks will be instructive and will deal with different phases of forest field work.

Refreshments were served after the business meeting.

When Martin Carstens went to Roman to spend Thanksgiving day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Carstens, he was accompanied by Joe Grove, Lyle Bucklin and Rufus Hall. While in that vicinity, the boys went to Polson where they saw the power sight for the new dam. They state that a regular city has sprung up where the construction is to be done.

Fraternity Alumni Meet at Luncheon

Alumni members of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity met at their regular semi-monthly luncheon yesterday noon at the Florence hotel. Work is progressing on an alumni file which will enable the group to know the whereabouts of all Montana alumni.

Lee Merrill, '28, is president of the club. Meetings are held the first and third Thursday of every month. Membership is open to all Western Montana alumni of Phi Sigma Kappa, as well as to all members of Iota Nu, the old local chapter.

Next Tuesday.

Forlorn Freshies

Heed Loy B. Ruiz of the Philippine Islands.

Many a freshman on the campus thinks he is unfortunate to be away from home his first year in the University. Let such a forlorn yearling take heed to the following situation of one of his classmates:

Loy B. Ruiz of Manila, Philippine Islands, is spending his first year at college, his first year in a country with a winter season and his first year away from home at Christmas, with about a quarter of a continent and one of the Seven Seas between him and his home.

Ruiz came to Missoula from Alaska where he had been working in the salmon canneries since May. Before that he had sailed with Filipino friends from the Islands. "Now," he says, "the other fellows are scattered all over the country going to different institutions."

He speaks English with very little accent, having been taught in the Philippine schools. "It is practically the only language used in the schools of the Islands," he said.

There are about 50 colleges in Manila other than the University of the Philippines, according to Ruiz, since educational institutions of higher learning are centered in the capital rather than spread throughout the divisions of the Islands as the United States does in having state universities.

Ruiz says that he likes Montana very well and is getting used to the cold weather. "We have a little snow in December in the Islands, but it is not very heavy," he said. "It is a long way from home and I would like to go home at Christmas as students who live in Montana are able to do, but maybe I can make a visit to the Islands this coming summer."

Ruiz is interested in journalism and says that he heard about the school on the Montana campus while he was in Alaska. Colleges in the Philippines do not have schools of journalism, according to Ruiz, but they offer courses in it in the liberal arts curriculum with practical equipment to teach with, but are not considered as good as schools of journalism in the United States.

Barristers Will Hold Annual Ball In Elks' Temple

Clifford Gribble, Bob Allen Are In Charge of Affair.

When the Barristers trip the light fantastic at their annual ball tonight, they expect to make it one of the biggest and best barristers' balls that ever graced the Montana campus.

According to Bob Allen, the chairmen for the affair have been selected from the faculty of the School of Law. They will be: Dean and Mrs. C. W. Leaphart, Professor and Mrs. A. N. Whitlock, Professor and Mrs. J. H. Toelle, Professor and Mrs. W. L. Pope and Professor and Mrs. David R. Mason. Invitations have also been extended to the members of the Montana Supreme Court, Governor J. E. Erickson, and the Law school class of 1930.

The dance, which is to be formal and exclusively for members of the Law School association, which is sponsoring it, will be held in the Elks Temple.

The following is a fac-simile copy of the summons sent out for the affair:

Case No. 1930

ALIAS SUMMONS FOR PUBLICATION

In the Superior Court of the Law School of the University of Montana in and for the Law School of the State of Montana.

Barrister's Ball, Plaintiff.

Various and Selected Females to-wit: Those who have been individually invited, Defendants.

The Law School of the University of Montana sends greetings to the above designated defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, which is filed in the office of the clerk of the Law School, and to file your answer and serve a copy thereof by appearing upon the evening of the 5th day of December, in the year of our Lord 1930; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken for the relief demanded in the complaint.

This action is to bring about the dissolution of the union entered into between the above-mentioned parties. Said union having been entered into by the several plaintiffs and the several defendants at several times and several places under several circumstances. Plaintiffs for a cause of action alleges various negligent, careless and reckless acts on the part of the defendants by reason of which a solemn union was disrupted. The relief sought by plaintiff is to have the said union dissolved. Witness, my hand and the seal of said court this 5th day of December, 1930.

CLIFFORD C. GRIBBLE, Clerk of Court.

Robert H. Allen, Deputy.

Charlotte Russel, Law school librarian, recently enjoyed a visit from her sister, Miss Francis Russel of Butte. She came Wednesday, spending Thanksgiving with her sister and returning Sunday evening.

OLD STYLES

Will Bustles, Peg-Tops Come Back?

What? Are bustles, leg-o-mutton sleeves and high-wheeled bicycles coming back?

Imagine picking up a newspaper, dated December 1, 1930 and finding styles displayed, featuring trailing skirts, peg-top trousers, padded shoulder coats and brush-like sideburns for the male visage. That is what accosted the eye, however, when on Sunday morning the modern man and maid opened the daily paper.

What to do? That was a problem. Were the rights of freedom to be trampled beneath the feet of some idiotic stylist? No. A thousand times, no. Never could man again be made to wear barrel cuffs, six-inch collars, Alder-like whiskers; and woman, the padded corsets, voluminous skirts and countless undergarments.

Freedom. No dictates of extreme fashion. Man could continue to wear his choking bow tie, his tight garters, non-stretchable vest and coat and inane collar clasps. And women. They could now have no fear of changing from skirts that sweep the floor on one side and reveal the knee on the other, to those that sweep the floor all around and revealed nothing; from hats that look like the top half of a casque helmet to those that scraped both sides of the doorway; from shoes that consist of 20 square inches of leather and several more of glitter to shoes that necessitated the use of half a cowhide and buttoned halfway to the knees, and from eight ounces of silk slip to eight petticoats, each of a different color, texture and weight.

It was with due relief the readers of the Sunday paper discovered the styles displayed were only an advertising feature and didn't mean a thing.

Four Dozen Books Are on "New" Shelf

Forty-eight new books have been placed on the new book shelf in the library. They include histories by Casplicka and Romera Navarro; foreign novels and criticisms by Lorente, Benavente, Plato, Chinar, Trefz, Ibanez and Bauche; American history and frontier stories by James, White and Striker. There are also other works including articles on botany, psychology and race analysis.

ADDED COURSE IS OFFERED IN PRESCRIPTIONS

School of Pharmacy Gives Two Sections Over to Dispensing.

An additional course in dispensing, section two, is being offered by the School of Pharmacy during the winter quarter to take care of a number of students who could not be accommodated at the beginning of this quarter because of a lack of prescription desks.

Section one of this course dealing with prescription practice will meet on Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 3 o'clock in Science hall. Section two will meet from 3 to 5 o'clock Tuesday and Thursday. The instructors will be Prof. Leon Richards and Hazel Landeen, graduate assistant.

Singin' in a Car

Musical comedy hits, grand opera solos, folk songs, jazz, hymns and heart songs mingled and amalgamated into a whirling vortex of harmony as the scribe street car rocketed back from the "big feed" in Bonner Wednesday night. There were no long white silences as the crowd thrilled, lilted, sang, chanted and crowded through the multitudes of songs that sprang from instant inspirations.

Snatches came from such historic songs as "Son-of-a-Son-of-a-Gambler," "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Pack up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," "Silent Night," "Old Man McDonald's Farm," "Hall, Hall the Gang's All Here" and lastly the famous Press club "Baloney Song."

W. A. A. PLEDGES NEW MEMBERS AT ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTY

Dances and Tumbling Exhibitions Feature Program With Distribution Of Numeral Awards.

W. A. A. held its annual Christmas party last night in the women's gymnasium. Dances, an exhibition staged by the tumbling classes and distribution of awards won by members were the high lights in the evening's program.

Tumblers
The program which opened at 8 o'clock began with the presentation of the fall quarter's tumbling class. Those taking part were: Charlotte Smith, Jane Bateman, Fritz Walker, Jenn Sanders, Eleanor Fredrickson, Jane Nash, Margaret Johnson, Mary Elizabeth Woody, Emma Bravo, Frances Richards, Glory Morin and Pae Logan.

A dance by red lumps followed. The six girls who participated in the dance were: Jeannette McGrade, Cornelia Clack, Katherine Froger, Gladys Larson, Gladys Mayo and Juanita Ruegger. Marguerite Brown and Helen Spencer gave solo tap dances and Marion Smith accompanied them on the piano.

W. A. A. Pledges
Around the lighted Christmas tree girls who were taken into the organization were called forward and pledged. Teddie Reed, president of W. A. A. read off the following names: Jaunita Armour, Mary Rose, Elsie Toothaker, Marie Cuffe, Ferne Reeve, Sara Miles, Marion Hanford, Evelyn Henriksen, Maxine Davis, Lovira Hart, Winifred Morris, Elin Bredberg, Vera Gilbert, Mary Sulgrove, Ethel Morgan, Margery Minnehan, Mildred Trussell, Margaret Sullivan, Lucille Brown, Mary Castles, Pansy Shaw, Ada Wood and Laura Martin.

Santa Claus assisted in the presentation of awards. The freshman who won numerals for teams were: Ethel Morgan, Mary Castles, Mary Sulgrove, Margaret Sullivan, Lucille Brown, Laura Martin, Ada Woods, Margery Minnehan, Pansy Shaw, Jaunita Armour, Mildred Trussell and Marion Hanford.

Sophomores who were given awards were: Elin Bredberg, Maxine Davis, Winifred Morris, Lovira Hart, Virginia Connolly, Evelyn Henriksen, Mary Rose and Marie Cuffe.

Vera Gilbert was the only junior presented with an award. Jean Peterson and Vera Anderson were the two members who won monograms for earning 600 points. "M" sweaters, which require 1000 points were presented to Emmepaul McCormick, Una Randall, Caroline Griffith and Sally McMardo.

Following the formal presentation, bags of candy were distributed, and dancing ended the evening's fun.

Junior French Club Adopts Constitution

Move Is Taken Relative to Proposed Affiliation With National.

Relative to the proposed affiliation with the National Association of French clubs, the Junior French club adopted a constitution at its meeting last Tuesday evening in the Law building.

Twelve members were present. The program which was arranged by Edward and Bob Dussault, consisted of musical numbers sung in French by the group. Refreshments were served. Archie and George Grover were appointed as the program committee for the next meeting.

Hikers Follow Cave on Trip Past Sentinel

Pioneer of Missoula Leads Mountaineer Club on Weekly Jaunt.

Will Cave led the Mountaineers Sunday November 30 on their trip up Pattee canyon, around Mount Sentinel and down Deer creek into Bonner.

According to Mr. Cave who is a pioneer of Missoula, the route followed is an old trail used by the Flathead Indians when the water was high.

Twelve members were present: Will Cave, Edythe Hall, Violet Jacobs, Helena Krebs, Avis Wheat, Hazel Swearingen, Ruth Baake, Helen Swan, C. L. Smith, Richard H. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Swan.

Forestry Graduates Get Service Positions

Phillips, Mathews and Leavitt Are Doing Practical Field Work.

Several graduates of the School of Forestry last spring have secured positions in different branches of the United States Forestry service.

Floyd Phillips, Salem, Oregon, is now with the United States Indian service, at the Klamath agency in Oregon. Phillips, who passed the civil service examinations last spring, considered several offers from different branches of the Forest service before accepting the position in Oregon.

Tom Mathews, Missoula, also passed the civil service examinations last spring. He is now working in the Wyoming National forest, out of Daniel, Wyoming. At present he is on a timber sale in the Horse Creek area, in charge of a marking crew. In the near future, he will go into the Kemmerer district to make a survey report and to work on a management plan.

Roswell Leavitt, Great Falls, also a member of last year's class, is working with the Forest service at Dillon.

MASONS HAVE SON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason are parents of a son born Tuesday, November 26. Mr. Mason is assistant registrar at the University and Mrs. Mason will be remembered as Mabel Smith.

ANNUAL SCHOOL DATES ARE SET FOR FORESTERS

Tractor Companies Work in Conjunction With School Of Forestry.

First announcement of the annual Tractor school, which is conducted annually in Missoula by the School of Forestry in conjunction with caterpillar tractor companies, says that the 1931 show will be much bigger and better than formerly.

March 19 and 20 are the dates set for this year's school. "The success of the school in the past two years has given us an opportunity to enlarge its scope and capacity," said Dean T. C. Spaulding yesterday. "This year, not only will tractors be featured, but auxiliary logging apparatus of all kinds that can be used with mechanical transport, the new and better types of highway machinery and farm machinery will be on display."

Special invitations will be sent this year to all county commissioners in the 12 western counties of the state. There will possibly be a day for county commissioners and highway constructors, when better and cheaper methods of using highway machinery will be taken up. It is also planned to have special days for farmers and for loggers.

Instructors for the school will be some of the best men, in their individual lines, that may be obtained throughout the United States. The cost of instruction is borne by the tractor and machinery companies. One instructor in this year's school will probably come from Peoria, Illinois and another will come from San Leandro, California.

Dorr Skeels Goes On Business Trip

Professor Dorr Skeels of the School of Forestry, left yesterday for Moore, where he was called on business.

A planted plantation of fir trees near Moore was burned. Skeels will serve on a board of appraisal and arbitration, which will assist the company and the property owners in arriving at an agreement regarding the amount of damages to be paid to the claimant by the company.

Carl Tysel, graduate of the University, was a week end guest at the Phi Delta Theta house.

Cook's Logging Class Will Inspect Camps

Students Plan Jaunt to Greenough Location Tomorrow.

Logging camps of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, at Greenough, will be the scene of the next inspection tour of Professor I. W. Cook's Logging class.

The class will visit the Greenough camp tomorrow. This will be the third of a series of visits to camps of the vicinity. Approximately 25 members of the class have made the trip on both previous occasions and they are proving very popular.

Notice

University women of junior or senior standing who plan to do club work or teaching will be offered a course in Girl Scout leadership in the spring quarter, according to a representative of intermountain states from Girl Scout headquarters. The course will include organizing scout work and making plans for training.

Faculty members are invited to attend a tea dantsant to be given today from 3:30 to 5:30 at the Phi Delta Theta house in honor of the Bozeman "Tormentors".

There will be a W. A. A. hike Sunday leaving the Women's gymnasium at 2:30 o'clock. Members will hike to Bonner and return by street car.

Library copy of James Branch Cabell's "Beyond Life" and "Types of World Literature", by Houston and Smith. Return to Kaimin office.
