PUBLICATIONS BOARD:
Leuthold reported that the Publications Board had chosen the following for recommendation to Central Board for acceptance: Natalie Norby for editor of the Sentinel, and Chuck Kaehn as the business manager of the Sentinel. Crawford moved these be accepted. Fowler seconded. Passed 8-0.
TRADITIONS BOARD:
Anderson reported that it was suggested that All-University day be again named Aber Day. Traditions Board did not feel this would be a worthwhile plan for this year. Central Board agreed. Knight suggested that the class officers might work on this program. Anderson said that the Traditions Board is beginning a Who's Who in the Sentinel. Anderson said that this would honor students in all phases of University life, who otherwise might not have any recognition for their services.

STORE BOARD:
Gaughan presented the board with the considerations of the Store Board which include possibility of de-incorporation of the store, and then the possibility of having the student store moved into the lodge and taken over by the student themselves, under Central Board. Gaughan said that the taxation problem would be solved by the elimination of the payment of taxes if the store would deincorporate. Also, Gaughan pointed out that the corporate form of store had kept the store from the control of the students, and that if de-incorporate the store would be more of a student-controlled activity. Gaughan said that in order to de-incorporate, a student vote is not necessary. It is necessary, however, Gaughan pointed out, that the store have no assets at the time of de-incorporation. It is tentatively planned by the store board to assign to ASMSU all of the assets of the student store, and then having the store managed by a committee set up by Central Board. Crippen and Jystad will go with representatives of store board to talk with a lawyer to determine all of the legal implications of such a move. They will report back to Central Board.

With the completion of the business, Erickson called a meeting of Central Board for Saturday, April 14, at 9. The meeting was then adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Ann Crocker
Secretary, ASMSU
