Indians Make Turney-High Tribal Chief

Winnebagos Name Faculty Member Yellow Thunder; Students Witness Ceremony

Dr. Harry Turney-High, professor of economics, and well-known anthropologist in the field of the American Indian, was created a chieftain of the Winnebago tribe of Indians of Wisconsin. The elaborate ceremony which honored Dr. Turney-High was witnessed by students in his anthropology class which he conducted this summer at the University of Wisconsin.

The Winnebagos are a famous tribe, and are far more advanced than the Indians of Montana. They are a peaceful tribe, having never been known to the Americans as dangerous enemies. A Siouxian dialect is spoken by this tribe of Indians and they are responsible for the famous effigy mounds of Wisconsin. The tribe occupies two reservations and many of the Indians have become independent farmers.

The name conferred upon Dr. Turney-High was Wa-kun-ja-na-ga, or Yellow Thunder, the name of the clan's greatest fighter. He was admitted to the small clan of Thunderbird, the only clan which appoints chiefs.

Dr. Turney-High has made a particular study of the Winnebago tribe and for this reason was admitted to the tribe as a chief.

Grizzly Band Begins Intense Drill In Preparation for the Butte Game

Membership in Bands Total Fifty; Freeburg Plans Christmas Concert Featuring Solos With Band Accompaniment

Intense drill, both in marching and in playing, has been the program for the State University band for the past week and will continue until the Bobcat game at Butte. Director Roy Freeburg has returned after nearly a year's absence in California with many new march and concert numbers which he intends to use at the football games this year.

Late registration has brought the total number of musicians to a new high mark. According to reports Director Freeburg and his assistants will have a hard time cutting the band down to 42 members for the Butte trip because so many of the members show marked musical ability.

Early predictions say that this will be the largest and best band ever seen at the State University.

Registration is still open for anyone who wishes to join. Mr. Freeburg would particularly like to find an oboe player and a bassoon player.

Besides getting ready for the Butte game, the band is making preparations for a concert to be held December 6. This concert will feature Christmas numbers and will include a number of vocal solos with band accompaniment.

Personnel
Late registration has brought the total membership in both bands to 56. The personnel of the band is as follows: Roy E. Freeburg, director; George Bovingdon, student leader;

Improved Systems Will Be Started Soon at Library

Special Catalogue Is Designed to Enable Students to Find New Books

For the benefit of those students who wish to find books which have not yet been catalogued, a new system will soon go into operation in the Library, according to Philip Keeney, head librarian. As soon as a new book comes into the library a card for it will be placed in one of the first catalogue drawers which will be reserved especially for these new books. As soon as the book is permanently catalogued this temporary card will be withdrawn.

Another aid to students, especially freshmen, is the information desk which is located in the corridor outside the reading room. This desk has been placed there primarily to aid students in the use of the new call slips. According to Mr. Keeney, this desk will be moved into the reading room in a few weeks.

Year's Plans Are Made by Biology Club

Educational Films Will Be Part of Year's Program for Phi Sigma

Phi Sigma, national biological honorary fraternity, held its first meeting of the year Tuesday evening, in the Natural Science building. There were 20 members present.

Plans for the year's work were made, and committees were appointed by Martin Carstens, the president. The year's plans for the regular monthly meetings include student talks and speeches by men prominent in biological work. Arrangements are being made for showing at least three educational films in public programs during the year. These films, depicting forest fires, and plant and animal life, are made and loaned by the United States Forest Service.

"The films are not 'talkies,'" Mr. Carstens said, "but we hope to have a speaker with each movie. Some of the films are very well done."

A short talk on "Where I Spent My Vacation" was given by each member, and refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Stussy of Butte were the guests of their daughter, Cornelia at the Delta Gamma house over the week-end.

Journalists Edit Communication to Montana Schools

Initial Issue of High School Editor Goes to Press This Week in School of Journalism

The Montana High School Editor, communication for accredited high schools of the state which are interested in journalism, will go to press and be sent out by the end of the week, according to Mrs. Inez Abbott, instructor of Journalism and editor of the publication.

Miss Margaret Ronan of Missoula county high school is secretary-treasurer of the Editorial association, and all the records and history of the paper were burned in the fire which destroyed the Missoula high school. Information of the meeting held last spring was given to the editor by Colin Raff of Missoula, now a freshman at the University, who was secretary of the meeting. Marie Francis, Springdale, senior in the School of Journalism, is assistant editor of the paper.

Schools that have paid their dues for the coming year are: Missoula, Billings, Laurel, Florence-Carlton, Bozeman and Box Elder. Copy for the paper was gathered largely from first issues of high school papers in the state and letters. Second issue copy is due by October 15.

Grid-Graph Mixer Will Be Saturday

Billy Burke Is In Charge of General Arrangements for Entertainment

Dancing to the news by private wire of the play-by-play returns from the Idaho-Montana football game at Moscow will be possible for the second time this year at the grid-graph dance which will be held at the women's gymnasium Saturday, October 10 at 2:30 o'clock, according to Billy Burke. Yell King, who is handling the festivities.

Always popular, the last grid-graph was especially well liked, and Burke believes that this one should be even more so. Phil Sheridan and his orchestra will furnish the music. Bill Brown and Billy Burke will do the announcing as "the backs go tearing by."

Kappa Epsilon, women's national pharmaceutical honorary society, held a business meeting at the home of Gladys Lines, alumni member, Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the session.

Former Resident Gives Lecture on Alaska to Class

Dr. R. Marshall of Wiseman, Alaska Talks to Botany Group On Arctic Life

Dr. Robert Marshall, one time of Missoula but for the last year a resident of Wiseman, Alaska, spoke to the class in systematic botany on Tuesday, concerning the northernmost limit of tree growth.

Dr. Marshall also gave account of life within the Arctic circle, and the town of Wiseman, in particular. Wiseman is a former gold-mining camp. Its present population consists of 77 white people and 50 Eskimos and Indians. When the weather is good, supplies are shipped into town by airplane. When the weather is bad, dog trains are used. Dr. Marshall did most of his traveling for purposes of research by dog train. There is one automobile in the community, an old Model T Ford, which was imported last year. Unfortunately, there are only six miles of road over which the car can travel.

Organization Of Masquers Sees Change

Point System Determines Student Eligibility for Entrance to Either Division

Montana Masquers dissolved their old organization at a meeting held in the Little Theater Tuesday evening and formed a new group consisting of two separate units.

Regulation for admittance into either of the societies will be by point system. The point system has not been thoroughly developed as yet but it is probable that eligibility into the "University Players," which is the first unit, will probably be attained by a minimum of 15 points and eligibility into "Masquers," the higher branch, by a minimum of 30 points. Each organization will have separate officers.

It seems that the purpose of the change was because the Masquer's membership was getting too large. The new arrangement will make the society more select and guarantee an active number of workers.

A meeting of the new "Masquers" will be held in the Little Theater next Tuesday for the formal adoption of the constitution that the constitutional committee has drafted.

Burke Leads Rally For Football Team

Sending off the football team with cheers, a number of the students led by Billy Burke, Yell King, and his two Dukes, Roy Woods and Dick O'Malley, met at the Northern Pacific depot at 9 o'clock last night.

Because the team must obey training rules the rally was held at 9 o'clock, although the train did not leave until 12:05 o'clock this morning.

'Wild Horses' Is Feature in New Frontier

Professor Merriam Edits Magazine Which Will Appear October 20

The Frontier, edited by Harold G. Merriam, professor of English, will come off the press October 20.

Students on this year's staff of the Frontier include Harvey Thirloway, Butte, circulation manager; Robert Blakeslee, Missoula, business manager; Jack Waldbillig, Missoula, assistant business manager.

One of the features of this issue of the Frontier is "Wild Horses," a long story of dryland farming by Harvey Huse. Brassell Fitzgerald, of the Department of English, commends Huse's work as being one of the finest he has ever read. Huse is advertising manager of a large eastern lithographing concern. He is an occasional contributor to several magazines.

An eight-page poem by Lew Saret is another interesting feature. The poem is included in Saret's collection, "Wings Against the Moon," just recently off the press.

The use of the Frontier is required in many freshman and sophomore composition classes, and those who failed to order their copies may procure them in the Library on October 20.

New Additions to Book Shelf Are By State Authors

Bruce Hopper, Author of Recent Text On Sovietism, Was Former Journalism Student

Among the recent addition to the library's new book shelf which should be of interest to State University students are "Pan-Sovietism," by Bruce Hopper, former student in the School of Journalism, and "A Warrior Who Fought Custer," by Thomas B. Marquis, a Montana resident for more than thirty years.

"Pan-Sovietism" was published in March, 1931 by Houghton-Mifflin company and was taken from a series of lectures given before Lowell Institute. Commenting on this book, Outlook has this to say, "A shrewd, well-balanced and informative book, free from bias and based not only on historical studies but on solid, first-hand knowledge of modern Russia." Equally complimentary was the Springfield Republican which says, "A fascinating book which sparkles throughout."

Tells Indian's Side

"A Warrior Who Fought Custer," is the first book to give the Indian's side of that famous battle. Marquis wrote it after a series of interviews with Wooden Leg, one of the few survivors of the Custer battle.

During the summer two books were received from the Frontier, Wycherly's "Buccaneers of the Pacific," and Comfort's "Apache." The Nippon Yusen Kaisha official guide also sent to the library recently a book of travel entitled "Glimpses of the East."

THE UDDLE

Murgatroyd and Pete were quietly married yesterday, children, at the home of Murg's uncle, Ernest Lee Blottovich. A few intimate friends attended the ceremony.

The bride wore a simple flowing gown of amber, a white foamy veil and carried a heavy suitcase. Pete was dressed in the conventional black cutaway with large pockets.

Mr. Blottovich, Murg's uncle, was indicted yesterday on a second charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Pete and Murg left immediately on their honeymoon, which will take them around the world.

"If we like it the first time," Pete told Uncle Hud yesterday, "we will probably go around and around several times."

Lady Nicotine was unable to attend the wedding.

How much will it cost me to go to Butte for the game?
Your loving nephew,

Dear Reggy:
It depends upon how many times you have been there before. Third and fourth offenses usually draw heavier fines.
Your loving Uncle,

Which reminds Uncle that those of you who intend to visit friends in Butte over the week-end of the game had better make your hotel reservations this week.

College Man's Prayer

Please, Lord, give us each the grace To rate a girl with pretty face, Not too thin, nor too well fed, With nice blue eyes and bluish head. And, Lord, a dark one now and then Completes the lives of college men. Give us her, then, so we might Play the dark against the light. Give us lines as slick as butter To set the female hearts aflutter. Give us, too, a manner bold, Forgive us all the lies we're told. But Lord, don't do your job too well, For married life, we think, is hell. Spare us all engagement pain, Please wrap our pins in cellophane.

Oakes and Hendon Address Directors

Missoula Business Houses Are Asked To Close October 24

Bernard Oakes, head football coach, and Robert Hendon, president of A. S. U. M., spoke before the board of directors of the Missoula Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon Thursday, October 8.

Coach Oakes and Hendon both asked in their talks that the business houses in Missoula close Saturday, October 24, so that the employees of the concerns may attend the Washington State-Montana football game.

Tonight, Hendon believes, President Clapp, Kirk Badgley and he will meet with the retail board of trade to discuss the matter to a greater length. Howard Toole of Missoula, representing the State Board of Education, will also attend.

Two new students registered at South hall during the past week. They are Wilbur V. Hewitt, from Terry, and Rubin Douglas from Browning.

Biology Students Do Research Work

Laura Jo Forhan, student assistant in the Department of Biology, took a course in vertebrate zoology in the biology research laboratory at Woods Hole, Massachusetts, this summer. Field work in this course included sea trips in yachts and sail boats. Specimens for study were obtained by dredging and deep-sea diving.

Herb Eastlick, '30, was also a student at the Woods Hole laboratory this summer. He was doing research work on the muscle tissue for the Department of Psychology of the Washington college, St. Louis, Missouri, where he is now located.

Clever Equestriennes to Cavort Around the Campus

A course in horsemanship has been added to the Department of Physical Education of the State University, with an initial enrollment of 20. Jerry Ryan, senior, manager last year of the Ryan and Powell riding academy, is heading the new women's course.

A consignment of eight horses from the Ryan ranch near Deer Lodge arrived on the campus Tuesday in charge of Vere Braley, Alberta, Canada, rodeo performer and expert horseman.

Credit will be given those enrolled in this course the same as in any other course in physical education. The fundamentals of mounting, dismounting, saddling and unsaddling will be the main principles taught. A fee of $15 is charged to enroll. Vere Braley and Jerry Ryan will conduct the classes, both being expert horsemen and well qualified to teach horsemanship.

A price of 75 cents for the first hour, and 50 cents for each additional hour, is offered to those who wish to hire riding horses occasionally without enrolling in a class.

Grizzly Grid Squad Leaves For Moscow

Team to Use New Plan of Attack; Oakes Makes Many Changes In Lineup for Game

A new plan of attack and new faces to defend last year's victory over Idaho, when Montana's Grizzlies face the Vandals at Moscow, tomorrow, are part of Coach Oakes' bag of tricks which he has been building up during the last week.

Arthur Caven, sophomore halfback, will probably be in the starting lineup, with Wendell Williams possibly playing right half in place of the veteran Cox. In both the game against the Saints and the one against the Huskies, "Sledgehammer" Dalley, 188-pound fullback, has earned that position permanently, while Cale Crowley will bark the signals as quarterback against the Vandal lineup.

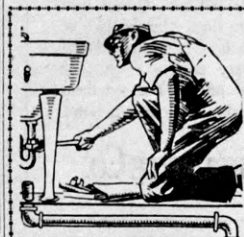

A week of strenuous battling against the fighting Cubs of Coach Lewandowski, has brought many changes in the Grizzly lineup and has strengthened many plays as well as aided in planning a defense against Idaho. The Cubs have been running Idaho plays in all recent scrimmages.

Meeker Will Play

Del Meeker, small but mighty sophomore fullback, will be used as substitute, but will see plenty of action. Monte Reynolds, sophomore, has put up a fight during scrimmages in an effort to oust Botzenhardt from right guard position and John McKay, state intercollegiate boxing champion, and Bill Hawke, sophomore, are battling for left guard berth. positions has not been definitely decided.

Left end position will probably be filled by Chalmers Lyman, basketball player, who is taking the place of Al Dahlberg. Right end will be held down by Augie Vidro.

Last year the Vandals' line was opened up and with a series of passes from Fox to Vidro, the Grizzlies streamed down the field for two touchdowns in the first half. Several plays have been constant drills for the Grizzlies during the past week and any one of these may bring the same results in tomorrow's encounter.

Following the Idaho game, the Grizzly squad will leave for Spokane where it will scout the Bobcats in a night game against Gonzaga university.

Communication

It has been one of the finest of surprises to discover what a week of University life will do. On Thursday evening, October 1, the Library seemed alive with countless children. The upper corridor was a veritable nursery filled with groups of giggling boys and girls and the lower corridor was a smoking salon turbulent with the laughter and loud conversation of more boys and girls. The primary object of the library was totally forgotten and the few who came to study were probably in despair long before closing time. Another Thursday evening has rolled around and the corridors are free from smoke and with very few exceptions the folk who have occasion to use them are ladies and gentlemen. More power to them.

Smoking is permitted in the basement and chairs have been placed there for the sake of convenience. The acoustics in the lower corridor permit all conversation to be carried directly upstairs, hence if conversation between 9 and 9:30 o'clock in the evening would be refrained from, the folk in the reading room could finish in quiet the assignments before them.

KEEP KISSABLE

WITH OLD GOLDS

Charming women are first won by OLD GOLDS' appealing taste. But their enthusiasm doubles when they find that OLD GOLDS do not taint the breath or mar the whiteness of pearly teeth.

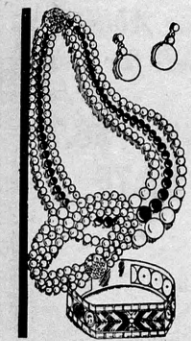

That's because OLD GOLD is a pure-tobacco cigarette. Made from the finest nature-flavored tobacco. So good, it needs no added flavoring.

It's "foreign flavoring," not good tobacco... that leaves unwanted aftermaths. Play safe. Smoke pure-tobacco O.G.s. They leave nothing behind but pleasant recollections.
