MISSOULA --

An art display featuring at least 15 stainless steel works by Ted Waddell, an assistant professor of art at the University of Montana, will be shown at the University from Feb. 14-March 17.

Most of the works in the display will be in the Gallery of Visual Arts in Turner Hall.

A reception honoring Waddell will be held from 7-9 p.m. Monday (Feb. 14) in the Turner Hall gallery. The public is invited.

Dean Douglas, director of the Gallery of Visual Arts, said the stainless steel works by Waddell are the result of Waddell's "latest experiment in form and surface."

"The integration of these elements are a rare visual experience, almost a relief from the general daily atmosphere," Douglas emphasized.

The art display will be open to the public without charge from 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday or by appointment through March 17.
