HENRY A. KISSINGER TO SPEAK
AT UNIVERSITY OF MONTANA

MISSOULA--

Presidential assistant Henry A. Kissinger has accepted an invitation to deliver an address on the University of Montana campus Friday, April 14, as part of the continuing Mansfield Lectures on International Relations.

Kissinger, who is President Richard M. Nixon's assistant for National Security Affairs, also is scheduled to meet informally with students and faculty during his visit which will culminate with his public appearance on the night of April 14. The lecture time and location will be announced at a later date.

This will be the fifth annual address in the series which was established in 1967 under the Mike and Maureen Mansfield Endowment of the University of Montana Foundation. The series, supported by donations of approximately $120,000, was founded in recognition of the Senate Majority Leader's 25 years of congressional service and the University's 75th anniversary which coincided in 1968.

Kissinger has been a consultant with several government agencies including the Department of State, National Security Council and the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. He is a professor on leave from Harvard University, and was foreign policy adviser to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in the presidential campaign of 1968.

A noted author, Kissinger, in 1968, received the Woodrow Wilson Prize and Citation from the Overseas Press Club for his book, "Nuclear Weapons and Foreign Policy."

He graduated from Harvard College with high honors and holds M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the Harvard University Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. He has been the recipient of several academic honors including the Guggenheim Fellowship and membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Senator Mansfield inaugurated the lecture series in 1968 with an address entitled "China: Retrospect and Prospect." He was followed by Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith, "New Industrial State: The Case, Criticism and Consequences," in 1969; Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, "United States Relations with Latin America," in 1970; and Dr. Milton Friedman, "Dollar Standard: Problems and Prospects," in 1971.
