13 UM FACULTY, STUDENTS TO PARTICIPATE IN CHILDREN-YOUTH COUNCIL MEETING IN MISSOULA

MISSOULA--

Thirteen University of Montana faculty members and students will participate in the eighth meeting of the Montana Advisory Council on Children and Youth from April 14-16 in Missoula.

Approximately 65 council members from throughout the state are expected for the meeting.

Gerry Fenn, Helena, community planning coordinator for children and youth organizations in Montana, said attendance at the three-day meeting will be by invitation. Miss Fenn said those interested in attending may phone Mrs. Mabelle G. Hardy, a UM instructor in social welfare at the University, 243-5541.

The meeting will be held at Western Federal Savings and Loan Association, 2230 Brooks. Registratiton will begin at 6:30 p.m. Friday (April 14).

Eight Montana Constitutional Convention delegates from District 18, Missoula, will participate in a follow-up session to Con-Con entitled "Creating a Public Awareness and Understanding of the Revised Constitution." That session will be from 7-10 p.m. Friday.

An in-depth look at four Missoula programs will be presented Saturday (April 15). Programs to be considered and the resource persons will include "Project 100," Andy Logozzo; "The Social Work Department at UM," Robert Deaton; "UM Speech Pathology and Audiology Department," Charles Parker and Evan Jordan, and "Indian Awareness Program," Harold Gray.

On Saturday afternoon at the Golden Horn Theater on South Higgins Avenue the group will discuss "The Missoula Children's Theater Program," featuring Jim Caron and Don Collins as the resource persons. A performance of "Hansel and Gretel" also will be presented.

CHILDREN-YOUTH MEETING -2

A live-in experience will be featured on Saturday night. Miss Fenn said the participants in the eighth meeting of MACCY will visit homes and other locations in Missoula "for the exchange of ideas and information related to children and youth."

The participants will return to the Western Federal Savings and Loan on South Brooks for an exchange of information about the overnight visits.

A work session on voter registration, focusing on the young voter, will close the three-day meeting at noon on Sunday.

UM students participating in the program will include Arlynn Fishbaugh, Janie McCall, Alan Thompson and Ray Moore.

The MACCY was established by Gov. Forrest H. Anderson by executive order in February 1970.
