Grizzlies Train Big Guns on Vandal Camp

SOMETHING we would like to have someone work out and show us is a time-budget for students. It no doubt has been done many times but we have never seen one. True, we have encountered much advice (both direct and indirect) on how to go about making out our own budget. The ones we designed ourselves, however, were never very practical—we always seemed to forget the little unexpected things that are always happening, and we could never seem to arrange to have them occur at the right time. Then, too, Father Time is not lenient about advancing the next day's allowance and he never supplements with an extra five of anything.

BY NOW we should all know that Montana emphatically was not favored over Idaho, but that it only might be. That doesn't deaden our enthusiasm one bit.

A PREPOSITION is a poor word to end a sentence with. Be it known that Warren B. Davis of the Missoulian tells us that once an editor actually did post the word on his bulletin board, and that the cub reporter who indiscreetly guffawed before the contradiction on the reminder was noticed and corrected and relieved of his job.

WE ADMIT, Mr. K. H., that our short address to you in the last column was vague, and our meaning, therefore, misconstrued. We did not mean to attack you personally, although we did use your words as an example. We attempted and succeeded, we realize, not at all to point to the fact that a person can do just about anything he wants but that the consequences, which are many and various, are apt to be in many cases displeasing. Our attitude is that it would be fine if a person could do what he wants with such self-assurance that "what he wants" is "what is right," that he accept the consequences with a cool grace. Remember the jumping jacks, Mr. K. H.

WE certainly miss the "gotta cigarette" cry around here these days. If this keeps up the front porch will soon become an established institution.

MANUSCRIPTS for Hi-Jinx will soon be due. We hope they will bring some new and original work in the musical revue line. With new regulations regarding the managing and directing of Hi-Jinx, all we need for a real show is some real manuscripts upon which to build it.

THE B was hidden by an NRA placard, and the slogan on the passing truck said EAT IDAHO. Such an act would truly merit a conference victory.

THE Idaho campus is also staging a campaign for the revival of school spirit. The spirit which they are attempting to revive dates back to 1903 when Idaho defeated W. S. C., 32-0. The campaign slogan is "Repeat 1903" and in an effort to make their homecoming game with W. S. C. as nearly as possible a facsimile of that one in 1903, the Vandals are already cultivating beards and the Vandalettes getting out hair ribbons. The movement is called the new NRA, No Razors Allowed. Three prizes, one each for the best, trickiest and booby beards, have been offered by the "I" club and the Blue Key, men's national service honorary, who are sponsoring the campaign.

Play Will Be Major Production Of Masquers' Autumn Quarter Program

Back-stage work for "The Front Page" was started last Monday and is well under way, according to Harold Shaw, stage manager. The play, a three act comedy by Ben Hecht and Charles MacArthur, is the fall quarter production of the Montana Masquers. Assistants to Shaw are Charles McDonald, Kai Heiberg, Stanley Koch, Missoula; Jack Oliver, Anaconda, and John Shenk, Erie, Penn.

George Boileau, Missoula, will be master electrician, and he will be assisted by John Clark, Missoula. Dorothy Benish, Missoula, will have charge of costumes. Her assistants will be Mary Brickson, Maxine Fowler, Florence Jones, Antoinette La-Casse, Lillian Hopkins, Hansi Steinitz and Dorothy Simmons, Missoula; Helen Huxley, Lewistown; Elizabeth Schubert, Great Falls, and Carol Wells, Scottsbluff, N. Y.

Emma Bole, Bozeman, is in charge of properties and Genevieve Krum, Anaconda, is in charge of make-up. Their assistants have not yet been chosen. Those interested should see Mr. Hewitt.

The play requires only one set. The scene is the press room of the Municipal Courts building in Chicago.

Rotary Club Plans Dinner and Dance

Prof. J. H. Ramskill Is Chairman Of Arrangements Committee

The Rotary club of Missoula will entertain the last week in November at their annual party given in honor of the sons and daughters of Rotarians.

J. H. Ramskill, professor in the School of Forestry, is in charge of the party. Arrangements have not been completed as yet, but a dinner party has been planned. The tables are to be arranged so as to leave an open space available for dancing in the center of the room. Following the dinner there will be dancing acts and a general dance. Where the dinner will be held has not been decided.

GRID-GRAPH MIXER WILL FLASH RESULTS OF VANDAL CONTEST

Students Will Dance at Women's Gymnasium and Hear Returns Of Game at Idaho; Huge Board Will Show Position Of Football on Playing Field

News of the Montana-Idaho game will be flashed by direct wire from the field at Moscow to Montana students at the initial grid-graph mixer of the year in the women's gymnasium tomorrow afternoon. Admission will be 25 cents a person. The mixer will start at 2:30 o'clock and the first reports from MacLean field are expected shortly after that time.

Results of each play will be announced between dances and the position of the ball on the field, the team in possession of the ball, and the score will be clearly shown on a huge board at the completion of the play. Constructed to represent a gridiron, the board is to be placed in a position where it can be easily observed. Bear Paws will be in charge of the operations. All townspeople desiring first hand reports on the game, are urged to attend the mixer. Chairs will be provided to accommodate those who do not care to dance.

Kenneth Duff, a member of the M club, which is sponsoring the entertainment, assured everyone of a good time when he said, "The teams are apparently evenly matched and due to the keen rivalry the game promises to be close. It will be nearly as exciting to get the authentic returns from the field as to actually witness the game. In addition students may enjoy an afternoon of dancing to the music of Nat Allen's orchestra."

Grid-graph mixers were first introduced to Montana students on Thanksgiving day in 1929 and since that time they have proved very popular on this campus. Always informal, dates are unnecessary for the mixer. It is possible that similar dances will be held when the Grizzlies play Gonzaga in Spokane and when they engage Stanford at Palo Alto.

Plans for Annual Spur-Bear Paw Dance Completed

Intercollegiate Knights Organization Explained By Tice, Member Of Bozeman Chapter

Plans for the annual Spur-Bear Paw dance were discussed at the Bear Paw meeting held last Tuesday. The dance will be held in the men's gymnasium November 17. Music will be furnished by Buck Stowe's orchestra.

Harry Tice, Harlowton, a former member of Intercollegiate Knights at the State College at Bozeman, gave an outline of that organization. Intercollegiate Knights is the national organization corresponding to Bear Paw.

Bear Paw was organized in 1920 and in 1922 became Bear Paw chapter of Intercollegiate Knights changing from a purely local organization to part of a national group. They did not function satisfactorily under their new organization, becoming almost a failure. During the latter part of 1923-24 a complete reorganization was effected and Bear Paw was reinstated as it was first organized and as it remains today.

Rejoining the Knights has been proposed from time to time with no results. The purpose of the society is to defend American traditions and ideals, promote the interests of R. O. T. C. training, preserve and develop the essential qualities of efficient officers and to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country.

Student Is Victim Of Injury at Hall

Virginia Shanley, a resident of North hall, was the victim of a painful accident Wednesday morning when her zeal for study led her to set the alarm for 5 o'clock. In her dash across the room to shut off the alarm, she stumbled, fell against a chair, and cut her chin severely. She was taken to the Thornton hospital where medical aid was administered.

University Fraternities Burglarized

Members of Sigma Nu and Sigma Delta Lambda Lose Valuables

Two fraternity houses and a student rooming house were listed among the five burglaries which took place last Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. The loot included watches, wearing apparel, money and other articles.

From a rooming house at 601 Daly avenue, the thieves secured an expensive green and gold watch, a pair of gloves and a chain and knife. The articles were taken from the study room of Gordon Berg and Clarence Borrad while the students were asleep in an adjoining bedroom.

As the burglar entered a second room, Caroline Steinman, a resident of the house, heard him. Thinking he was her brother, she called out. Frightened, the marauder fled down the stairs, slamming the front door behind him.

Police were immediately informed of the burglary when the loss by the students had been determined. Nothing was taken from the other rooms.

At 340 University avenue, the Delta Sigma Lambda house, the thieves ransacked a student's room, taking a watch and chain, suit of clothes and a fraternity pin.

The Sigma Nu fraternity house at 1006 Gerald avenue, reported the loss of a wrist watch, watch and chain, a small amount of money, clothing, a fraternity pin, and other articles.

Police are of the opinion that the same person or persons are responsible for all three burglaries. In each instance entrance was made through the front door after the occupants had gone to sleep.

CENTRAL BOARD NAMES TWO TRACK ASSISTANTS

At its meeting Tuesday evening, Central Board approved William Garvey, Oak Park, Ill., and George Boileau, Milltown, as assistant track managers for the 1933 season. These men will assist varsity manager, Harold Kohlhaase, Missoula, in his track duties.

Scabbard and Blade to Honor Theodore Roosevelt's Birthday

Organization to Decorate Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery, Washington, D. C., This Afternoon

Today the various companies and alumni posts of the national society of Scabbard and Blade located at 78 universities and colleges and a number of our larger cities, celebrate the anniversary of the birth of former President Theodore Roosevelt as National Scabbard and Blade day. E Company, 4th Regiment, the local company at Montana University, is observing this event by a special meeting to be held at the University R.O.T.C. building.

This afternoon Scabbard and Blade will decorate the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery, Washington, D. C., in memory of the 3,000 members of their organization who participated in the World War.

The national society of Scabbard and Blade was founded nearly thirty years ago at the University of Wisconsin by five cadet officers, and last year a Memorial Flagpole was erected at that institution by the national society in honor of the founders. It now has 78 chapters in 45 states and a total membership of approximately twenty thousand.

The purpose of the society is to defend American traditions and ideals, promote the interests of R. O. T. C. training, preserve and develop the essential qualities of efficient officers and to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country.

North Coast Ltd., Resentfully Honors Oakes' Grizzly Team

Football players may now be classified as privileged characters. The precedent was established yesterday afternoon when the Grizzly squad held the North Coast Limited 15 minutes while wrathful officials phoned frantic messages to the University operator in an attempt to hurry them.

Coach Oakes in his enthusiasm for just one more touchdown against the Frosh, forgot that the North Coast leaves at 3:45 o'clock—forgot right up till 3:35 o'clock. When the squad finally arrived at the depot they effected no hurry, but strolled nonchalantly onto the platform, suitcases in hand, apparently unaware that they were creating a sensation.

An additional five minutes was spent in putting the famous Grizzly drinking water aboard.

J. Malone; Sigma Phi Epsilon, John Buckhous; Sigma Chi, Bob Rickert; Independents, Joe Swan and Clarence LaCasse.

DR. HOWARD COMPARES ORGANIZATION METHODS

Dr. J. W. Howard of the Department of Chemistry, spoke Wednesday evening to the members of the Student Co-op at the Chimney Corner. He compared the methods used by the University of Chicago in reorganizing courses to those used by the University of Montana.

The University of Montana has adopted the survey courses that are being tried out at the University of Chicago at the present time. Chicago reports them to be very successful, and several colleges throughout the country are adopting them.

Conference Cellar Role Is the Issue

Hegira of State University Fans To Moscow, Changes Rumored In Starting Lineup

Twenty-six Montana warriors, the advance guard of a determined Grizzly offensive with a conference win as their objective, entrained from the Northern Pacific depot yesterday afternoon and departed in the general direction of a Vandal retreat at Moscow.

Accompanied by Coach Bunny Oakes, Manager Tom Roe, Trainer August Vidro, Dean A. L. Stone, of the School of Journalism, and Noral Whittinghill, yell king, the Grizzly squad will spend tonight in Pullman, Wash., and use the Cougar field for workouts before moving on Moscow tomorrow afternoon.

Men who made the trip are Hart-sell, Brandenberg, Heller, Rhinehart and McCall, ends; Carpenter, Leonard Kuka, Dahlberg, Previs and New-gard, tackles; Sullivan, Anderson, Hawke and Reynolds, guards; Say-atovich, George Kuka and Wilcox, center; Stansberry, Hileman, Emery, Story, Crowley, Blastic, Kent, Roberts and Bergeson, backs.

Will Be Open Contest

It will be an open contest, with the Montana fight and drive to counter-balance the greater weight and experience of the Idaho club. Both aggregations are determined to climb out of the cellar position of the Pacific Coast conference race.

Many Grizzly fans, intent upon seeing Montana emerge from the also-ran classification to a higher standard among the contending teams of the conference, are moving on Mac-Lean field today and tomorrow. Air-planes, automobiles, trains and side-door Pullmans will furnish transportation for the Grizzly support units.

Some Favor Grizzlies

Various authorities and semi-authorities have seen fit to favor Montana over Idaho after the near upset of Washington State here two weeks ago, and the Grizzlies' crushing defeat of the State College Bobcats a week ago. However, the Montana outfit has not beaten Idaho in the last two years, each game having been a terrific battle. Idaho ran up three touchdowns and kicked each goal in their 1931 Moscow fray, only to have a heavier Montana offense steam-roll for three touchdowns in the last eight minutes of play. Two conversions were incomplete and the Idaho goal line was within reaching distance when the official's gun ended the game.

It was a nip-and-tuck ball game here last year until "Little Giant" Willis Smith broke loose in the third quarter with an 80-yard punt return for a touchdown, and the break demoralized the Grizzlies to the extent that they allowed another Vandal score in the last period.

Rivalry Is Classic

Tomorrow, anything may happen. With the Montana-Idaho rivalry having classic proportions, and the two schools on a par athletically, predictions are near to being impossible. The heavy Idaho forward wall smothered the plunging Mikulak of Oregon, and the speedy but lighter Grizzly front line held Washington State's Sorboe.

When the referee blows his whistle at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, it is not unlikely that a surprise starting lineup including Hartzell and Brandenberg at ends, Carpenter and Emory in the backfield, with the latter running the team, will be assaulting the Vandal goal. Idaho will probably start Garst and Fowles at ends, Moser and Klumb at tackles, Nutting and Ap Berg at guards, Swann at center, Jacoby, Norby, Ward and Earl Smith in the backfield.

Will Hold Smith

Word has leaked out of the Vandal camp that Coach Leo Calland intends to hold Willis Smith on the bench until the regulars have so battered the Montana team that the "Little

Let's Walk a Mile--

"No smoking in any building except in offices or lavatories; and in the Library in only the two downstairs smoking rooms."

This official bulletin was issued by President Clapp Wednesday and copies sent to all the members of the University faculty.

It is not the first time that a similar notice has been posted in the various campus buildings. Nearly every quarter this happens and for a while the students respect the wishes of the University officials. But in a few days the notice becomes nothing more than a piece of paper with some printing on it and the buildings are again hazy with smoke.

This time it is an ultimatum. University officials have tired of being lenient and depending upon the student to carry out their wishes. Last summer two fires were caused by carelessness on the part of students smoking in University buildings. Too many lives and too much money are involved to allow this matter to be given only casual attention. In case of fire, it is altogether probable that a good many students and instructors would suffer. The loss of a building would mean something very much like disaster to the department it housed and to the University as a whole. This is the greatest danger of smoking, but there are other prohibitive reasons deserving attention.

No one, not even the most seasoned smoker, enjoys attending classes in a building groggy with smoke. Good ventilation is essential to comfort and health. Some students find the odor of smoke offensive. The University officials are justified in asking the co-operation of the students in this matter. Not only have they provided rooms where smoking is permissible, but they have been lenient in the residence halls and fraternity houses. Co-operation is essential. One student isn't going to deprive himself of the pleasure of a cigarette if his neighbor is going to regard the notice as so much "blah."

If we are tempted to snatch a "drag" in a forbidden place when no one seems to be looking, let's remember that a great deal more is involved than the satisfaction of a selfish and unnecessary desire.

Here as anywhere else, there are those who "beef" about a column such as this because they think it is endangering their reputation. Doing this is what I have tried NOT to do. I especially mentioned in the first issue that it is all done in fun and that no harm is intended. Let us be thankful that the "beefers" are decidedly in the minority. From now on let us read the Keyhole column purely for HUMOR'S sake.

Three Teams Lead In Touch Football

Postponed Games Will Be Played To Clean Up Schedule

Threatened by continued bad weather, the interfraternity touch-football series may be concluded without playing the second round-robin schedule. All postponed games are expected to be played off by next Wednesday. The contests are being played in the order in which they were originally scheduled.

Three of Wednesday's games were postponed because of the wet field, the only game played being Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Independents, the Phi Sigs winning 8-7. The games changed to a later date were Sigma Nu against Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Chi and Alpha Tau Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon versus Phi Delta Theta.

Tuesday's Games

Sigma Chi continued its winning streak with a 20-0 victory over Delta Sigma Lambda. Phi Delta Theta won from Sigma Nu, 19-0. Thursday games resulted in Sigma Nu defeating Independents, 6-0, and Phi Delta Theta winning over Sigma Phi Epsilon, 19-0. The Delta Sigma Lambda-Independent game was postponed until next Tuesday.

The rest of the schedule follows:

Friday—Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi, and Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Delta Sigma Lambda at 5 o'clock.

Saturday—Independents vs. Alpha Tau Omega; Phi Delta Theta vs. Phi Sigma Kappa at 11 o'clock. Monday—Sigma Chi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; Sigma Nu vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon at 4 o'clock, and Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Alpha Tau Omega at 5 o'clock.

These games and the four others postponed constitute the remainder of

Enthusiasm Shown at Idaho Rally Held in Main Hall

Student enthusiasm was shown by the pre-Grizzly-Vandal conflict rally at Main Hall auditorium last Tuesday night. Coach Bunny Oakes thanked the students for the support given the team at the game in Butte last Saturday, but warned them that the Vandal game was not yet won. He asked them not to be over-confident of victory and emphatically stated that the team would have to work hard for a conference victory at Moscow.

Yell King Noral Whittinghill announced that arrangements might be made for students who wanted to go to Moscow for the game. A new song was rehearsed and Whittinghill led the students in yells.

Pres. C. H. Clapp said he had no objection to students making the trip to the game. He expressed his approval of Montana's team and agreed with Coach Oakes that the team would have to work hard for a victory.

the schedule. The latter will probably be played Tuesday afternoon.

Sigma Chi has yet to meet the other undefeated teams, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa. All three teams have been tied once, Sigma Chi by Sigma Nu and the other two teams playing each other a scoreless tie.

Name of Spanish Club Is Changed

A welcome address given in Spanish by Prof. B. E. Thomas opened the first meeting of the Spanish club which was held October 18, at the Alpha Chi Omega house.

The main address of the evening was made by Prof. Paul Bischoff on "New Relations Between America and Latin-American Countries as Contrasted With the Old Relations."

At a short business meeting it was decided to change the name of the club to "Pan-American." Arrangements were made for a Spanish Christmas party to be held at the end of the fall quarter.

The next meeting will be held November 15.

Joe Burns was a dinner guest at the Alpha Tau Omega house Wednesday evening.

One Man's Opinion

THE BEEF MARKET

They answer:

"We, the Kappa seniors, wish to thank the beef column for the free publicity and also to extend our greetings to the unknown 'Kappa Senior' who wishes to discipline our pledges. Why don't you come down sometime?"

"We extend you an invitation to come to a meeting to learn our method of giving suggestions to the pledges. It is not through the Kaimin."

"One man's opinion may be as good as another's, but we think seven signed is better than one unsigned."

"Jane Adams,
"Mary Taaffe Corette,
"Kathlene Fitzgerald,
"Lina Greene,
"Flora Horsky,
"Caroline McDaniel,
"Betty Nofsinger."

Although the invitation was there, Mae West did not sign.

Romeo is back for more. After taking a beating in "Tick-Talks" for being a selfish little meany, he counters with this:

"Sir: I must beg to remark that I was not complaining about the consequences of having done what I wanted, but about not being able to do what I wanted.—K. H."

Try wanting to do what you can, and then perchance you will find that you're doing what you want. Blame that crack on Aesop.

A student in the School of Law puts the fist on the Kaimin for a recent brev, to-wit:

"In reference to the tiny article in the upper right-hand corner on the last page of the latest edition of the Kaimin, it would seem silly to make any comment, so silly in fact that I think it might well warrant an anonymous criticism. Nevertheless, anonymous or not, this does deserve criticism:

"Higher education was well established in central Europe by the 14th century, when the University of Prague was founded."

"Here is a statement which, to the average casual reader seeking a bit of odd information, would obviously give the impression that the founders of the University of Prague in central Europe were pioneers in the educational field. Isn't it reasonable; isn't this the logical implication to Kaimin readers, who are alleged to be interested primarily in education?"

"Now here is a statement which, on the face of it, extends great credit to the Slavic people, when comparatively speaking, their educational backwardness was in fact genuinely pitiful. Therefore, I would suggest from the point of view of educational interest that henceforth these little, unappreciated spaces be used to contain facts less equivocal and misleading. For instance:

"The world's oldest university at Cairo, 970 A.D., is still operating with approximately 10,000 students and 300 professors. There is neither charge to the student nor recompense to the professors."

"Respectfully,
"J. McClernan."

The item to which you refer does not (emphatically) give the reader the impression that the founders of the University of Prague were pioneers. Does the article not say "higher education was well established in Central Europe by the 14th century—" meaning that, by the time Prague was founded, education had already been well established? I think you misread the item.

However, if your contention is that the Egyptians were farther advanced educationally by the 14th century, we do not dispute you. Rather the column is grateful for your interesting note about the oldest university.
