Central Board Minutes
Thursday, March 5, 1953

Present: Lambros, Brennan, Tascher, Henne, Shanahan, Jones, Anderson, Newlin, Abbott, Briggs, Wunderlich, B. Smith, Beighle, Gaughan, and Dinn.

The meeting was called to order by Danny Lambros; and minutes from the previous meeting were read and corrected on page two. line two, to read that Budget and Finance Committee had not been completely within its constitutional rights by recommending that another committee spend its funds more wisely. Budget and Finance Committee should have simply acted as a watchdog and should have simply suggested that Central Board look into the matter.

Patty Walker read a recommendation from Budget and Finance Committee to the effect that ASMSU give the A-Cappella Choir group the amount of $300, including the profits from the Stan Kenton appearance and any proceeds from previously-made arrangements for funds, to be used to help finance their trip to the Pacific Northwest Music Educators' meet in Bellingham, Washington. After a little discussion, Brennan moved that the recommendation be accepted, Newlin seconded, and the motion was carried. Later on in the meeting, Doug Beighle came in and said that that the Publicity—Travel Committee had also decided to grant the choir $300, which meant that they now had enough funds for the trip.

The second Budget and Finance Committee recommendation was to the effect that a student delegate to the Pacific Northwest Conference on Higher Education be given $35, to help defray expenses for this trip. During the discussion, it was pointed out that the conference would be in Oregon and that Doug Anderson would probably be the student to attend with Mr. Freeman the Thursday before finals, as he was one of the few eligible students who could go at that time and who was willing to help pay expenses. Following some discussion concerning how such a student delegate should be most fairly selected, these two motions were presented by Newlin, seconded by Brennan, and passed: (1) That a student delegate be sent to the Pacific Northwest Conference on Higher Education and that he be given $35. And (2) That a notice be placed in the Kaimin concerning the selection of a student delegate to the conference and that the student be selected by a committee of Lambros and Freeman.

Concerning Social Committee activities, Brennan reported that the final social calendar would be set up the next Wednesday and that the contract with Johnny Reitz had been signed. Possibilities of using Reitz's band for either a junior prom or the Interfraternity Council dance were discussed, and it was pointed out that the Gold Room would probably contain decorations for the high school Junior Prom also on the night of Reitz's appearance. Discussion followed concerning whether ASMSU should have financial responsibility to any extent for possible profits and losses in either case, and the point was made that ASMSU should not consider taking on such responsibilities unless the dance be open to all students. Henne suggested that the matter be referred to the presidents of both organizations.

A Publications Board recommendation was then presented to the effect that the following students be appointed Kaimin associate editors: Joan Brooks, Ray Moholt, Carla Wetsteon, and Bob Newlin. Anderson moved that the motion be accepted, Wunderlich seconded, and the motion was carried.

Under her Traditions' Board report, Henne reported that consideration was being given to ideas for a Biber Bounce the Saturday of Track meet. And under new business, Shanahan moved that we allow the Red Cross group to pass a blanket at the next game. Newlin seconded and the motion was carried. Henne also moved that we let the Red Cross continue their drive to the next Wednesday. Shanahan seconded, and this motion was carried. Lambros reported that four or five student council members would probably come from Utah for the game the next night, and he asked that Central Board members be present in the Union at noon the next day for a possible lunch for the guests and at 5:30 for dinner. Being no further business, the meeting was then adjourned with the understanding that there would be no meeting the next Thursday unless some important business should come up.
