Thanksgiving Game Draws Huge Crowd

Athletic Board Well Pleased With Results of Fray in Spite Of $316.33 Loss

PREVUES of Hi-Jinx are proving popular attractions, and suggest an evening filled with song, dance and humor. But in addition to that the theater must be filled. That is up to the student body. This is one of its own activities and it should be willing to lend its support to the extent of attending the show. If it is not willing to do this much, then it should not be given credit for the work and time which is being put into the production by the few who are handling and entering into its presentation.

W. E. FARBERSTEIN tells us that "the first American boy to work his way through college was Zachariah Bridger, who entered Harvard in 1653." His job was "ringing the bell and wayting." Many collegians today (be they listed among those who "date") spend a great part of their time in this occupation. But, far from being paid for it, they usually pay.

PHILLIPS RUSSELL in The Chapel Hill Weekly tells us of the college in North Carolina which is an educational institution during three quarters of the year and an inn in the summer months. It is Lees-McRae college which thus reduces its overhead and enables its students to pay their own way. In the summer the college's president, Edgar H. Tufts, is the manager of their Pinnacle Inn, at Banner Elk and its students are the bell boys, waitresses, clerks, cooks and kitchen and laundry workers. Founded by President Tufts' father 35 years ago as a mission school, it became in 1907, the Lees-McRae Institute with the addition of a hospital and an orphanage. Carried on after its founder's death by the Edgar Tufts Memorial association, the school continued to expand until in 1929 it was granted credit as a junior college. In addition to the summer inn the institution handles the operation of "a game farm, a poultry farm, a nursery, a student exchange, the manufacture of maple syrup and buckwheat flour, and a brick library of 5,000 books." All activities are, as far as possible, self supporting, and a student can pass a college year at Lees-McRae for as little as $187. When the college becomes a summer inn in the mountains, the cost to guests remains correspondingly low.

WE PRINT this article in hope that some of our numbers may find it a future. It is a list, made up by the Science and Mechanics, of much-needed articles which have not yet been invented. Among them are a safety razor—one which will sharpen the blade with the same movement which performs the shave; a self-opening envelope—one which is at the same time conveniently and cheaply manufactured; ventilated shoes which will not permit the entrance of dust or shoe dye; porous adhesive to be applied to wounds in liquid form; a blotter arrangement incorporated in the fountain pen; an ideal men's garter—not too tight, not too loose, and a toothpaste cap that cannot become lost or clogged. If anybody can invent an honorable means of passing examinations without study or effort, we can assure him a large market for this product and satisfactory prices due to the crying and unsatisfied demand.

WE WOULD suggest that Parents' Day next year be set at some other time than a holiday for the students. Being students and only human after all, on Thanksgiving they are prone to take a dash home where the color of life is rosier and personal contact can be made with father and his pocketbook. At the very least they know that there is a family credit account at the drug store on the corner. Better have the parents arrive at a time when their sons and daughters have to at least pretend to be busily engaged in the duties of a student.

Joan Marsh spent the week-end at her home in Polson, taking as her guest Catherine Breen.

Three Members Of Faculty Plan To Attend Meet

Football Schedule for 1934 Main Conference Business; Oakes Leaves Tomorrow

Montana's representatives will leave this week for San Francisco to attend the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Athletic conference. Coach Bunny Oakes plans to leave tomorrow. Kirk Badgley, alumni athletic manager, is to go on Thursday which also will be the probable date of departure for J. E. Miller, dean of men.

As far as is known at the present time the meeting will be confined to routine business, dealing with eligibility and other matters of a similar character. The principal business of the meeting will be the arrangement and approval of the 1934 football schedule for the Coast conference.

Dean Miller will represent the faculty at the conference. Mr. Badgley will attend the meetings of the Pacific Coast Graduate Managers' association, and Coach Oakes will be present at the coach meetings.

Phi Sigma Picks Seven As Pledges

Honorary Biological Fraternity to Hold Initiation on December 14

Five students and two professors have been pledged to Phi Sigma, national honorary biological fraternity. The new pledges are: I. W. Cook and E. W. Nelson, professor and associate professor respectively in the School of Forestry; Lloyd Bernhard, Napa, Calif.; Edward Dobrinz, Mapleton, N. D.; Rufus Hall, Two Dot, Mont.; Chandler Jensen, Missoula, and Jerome Frankel, Cleveland Heights, Ohio. The pledges are required to be present at the Phi Sigma meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in the Natural Science building.

The meeting tonight is open to all State University students or faculty members who are interested, but who are not members of Phi Sigma. Initiation for the pledges will be held December 14 at the home of Dr. R. T. Young, professor in the Department of Biology. A special meeting will be held at this time for the election of officers. A second initiation has been planned for winter quarter rather than spring quarter as was formerly the custom.

Gregory Hebert of Kalispell was a guest during the holidays at the Sigma Nu house.

Nationally Read Authors Presented In January Frontier and Midland

Second Issue of Recently Consolidated Quarterly to Appear Dec. 10; Two Poems By Missoula Woman

The January number of the recently consolidated Frontier and Midland magazine will contain contributions of fiction and essays from editors and writers of several nationally known periodicals. The magazine, edited by H. G. Merriam, chairman of the Department of English at the State University, is a merging of the Frontier and the Midland, a former Chicago publication. The January issue will be the second since the consolidation and will be off the press December 10.

Appearing in the issue will be a story, "Dancing Mormons," by Wanda Burnett, a sister of the editor of Story magazine; "The Long Night," by Rodrick Lull, an editor of the Outlander magazine, published at Portland, Ore.; "Run Rabbit" by Paul F. Corey, a well known New York writer; "Brief Glory" by Roland English Hartley of San Francisco who contributes regularly to Harper's magazine, and "She Had Forgotten," by Mary Frances Hinga, a former professor in the Department of English at the State University and at the present time an instructor in New York university.

Poetry Section

Making up the poetry section of the Frontier and Midland will be two poems "Argument" and "Self" written by Mrs. Robert L. Housman of Missoula; a sequence of 11 sonnets entitled "Lightship No. 88," by Ethel Romig Fuller of Portland, Ore.; and

Yell King Whittinghill, Duke Roy Peden Resign After Excellent Season

Resignations of Cheer Leaders Received By Central Board Today; Arthur Adami, Leo Carper, Bob Lathrop Are Candidates; Traditions Committee to Name Successors

Yell King Noral Whittinghill, Helena, and Duke Roy Peden, Miles City, have announced that they will present their resignations to Central Board this afternoon. That "the job takes too much time and interferes with school work" was the reason given by Peden for his action. Whittinghill gave no reason for his resignation.

A new yell king is to be chosen by the traditions committee from a field of three candidates. Arthur Adami, Butte, has been recommended to assume the duties of yell king. He served this quarter as a duke. Leo Carper, Billings, who was a duke last year, and Bob Lathrop, Yellowstone Park, have been named as the possible succeeding dukes.

In making public their intentions yesterday the two cheer leaders issued the following statement: "We sincerely thank the student body for the splendid support accorded us during the quarter. We also want to thank the Band for the work done by that body at rallies and also the freshmen for the bouffies they built. The work has been of a most enjoyable nature and the wholehearted co-

Mary C. Stewart Dies of Injuries Received in Fall

Skull Fracture and Concussion of Brain Cause of Death; Funeral Tomorrow

Mary Carlyle Stewart of Hamilton, a State University freshman and a pledge of Delta Gamma sorority, died Friday evening in the Daly Memorial hospital in Hamilton from injuries received when she fell from a horse Thursday morning.

Miss Stewart had gone to her home for the Thanksgiving vacation. With her sister, Annie Jean Stewart, a State University graduate, she was riding horseback. The break of the strap holding the saddle girth caused Miss Stewart to be thrown to the ground. She suffered a severe fracture of the skull and a concussion of the brain and died without regaining consciousness.

The young woman is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Stewart, a brother, E. K. Stewart, Jr., and the sister, Annie Jean Stewart. A grandmother, Mrs. A. W. Barrere, who makes her home with the Stewart family, was visiting in Ohio at the time of the accident. She arrived in Missoula this afternoon on the North Coast Limited.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian church in Hamilton and burial will be in the Riverview cemetery.

R. O. T. C. Students Awarded Ribbons

Outstanding Men Receive Sign of Merit for Work

Merit ribbon awards which are given to the most outstanding men each quarter in R. O. T. C. requirements, were announced last week by Major G. L. Smith. The following awards were given for spring quarter, 1933:

First year advanced, gold ribbon—William J. Erickson.
Second year basic, silver ribbon—Ralph Gilham, Richard C. Shaw, Albert C. Spaulding and Wilbur H. Wood.

First year basic, copper ribbon—James P. Freeburg, Donald Knieval, Dan S. Nelson and Hubert Zemke.
As an additional award for his work, Wilbur H. Wood, whose name was on the honor roll for spring quarter, 1933, was awarded a silver star.

NOTICE

All students with doctor or medicine bills this quarter must present itemized receipts to the Health Service not later than December 8 for refunds.

Afternoon Dates To Be Granted Freshmen Co-eds

A. W. S. Votes to Allow Four to Six Permission During Winter Quarter

Freshman women will be allowed week dates from 4 to 6 o'clock winter quarter. These dates may be had anywhere and men will be allowed in the dormitories only from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. This is the outcome of a freshman committee which met with A. W. S. several weeks ago.

This quarter there will be dates only on week-ends as has always been the rule. Punishment for dates will be directly under A. W. S., and from now on punishment will be given for the first offense.

These decisions were arrived at after considerable discussion and after word had been brought back from various organizations to A. W. S. executive board.

Casey Runs Wild to Tally Twice; North Sinks Corbin

After both teams had battled through several ferocious minutes of play in the cold and mud of Dornblaser field, the annual football contest between Corbin and North hall girls for the women's championship of the State University was broken up decisively when Kathleen "Casey" Bartley ran wild to score on two long runs and put the game on ice, 12-0, for North hall.

The victory gave the title to North hall and stopped the winning streak that had resulted in the holding of the championship by Corbin for several seasons. Although Miss Bartley "put the game on ice" in the closing minutes of the game, the players of the two teams spent most of the playing time on the ice or in the mud, hard tackles and slipping causing much damage.

Although outweighed almost two pounds to the woman, North's stalwart line put up a great defensive game, and few gains were registered by Corbin's backs. The first touchdown by North was the result of a sweeping end run by Miss Bartley, and the second tally came after a 40-yard gain on a reverse.

Outstanding players were Swanson, Lasby and Bartley for North, and M. Huxley, H. Huxley and Hamilton for Corbin.

A preliminary football contest was staged between the varsity teams of the State University and Utah State college as an added attraction to the women's game.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hughes are the parents of a baby daughter, born Sunday. Mr. Hughes is a former State University student.

Adelaide Olinger was a week-end guest of the Delta Delta house.

Advance Registration Is Started; December 14 Will Be Deadline

Fees to Be Paid January 4; Selections of Courses to Begin Tomorrow; Nine Freshmen Curriculums Fixed

Registration for the 1934 winter quarter must be completed not later than December 13, it was announced yesterday by C. N. Mason, assistant to the registrar. Students have been securing registration cards today and yesterday and tomorrow will commence the actual task of selecting courses, going through the sectionizing melee, and securing the approvals of advisors. No one will be allowed to register from December 14 to January 1, inclusive.

Students registering in advance must pay their fees before 4 o'clock January 4. Others must complete their registration and pay the fees by 4 o'clock January 2. Failure to register or pay the fees will invoke the late registration penalty, it was pointed out by Mr. Mason. The maximum penalty is $5.

Registrations of all students who fail to pay the fees or make arrangements concerning them before January 13 will be cancelled. Any student enrolling during the advance registration period who finds it impossible to return to school next quarter is asked to notify the Registrar's office not later than January 2. All freshmen will be required to

Skit Titles For Hi-Jinx Are Revealed

Main Characters and Specialties To Remain Secret Until Friday Night

Two facts concerning the 1933 Hi-Jinx were revealed yesterday morning by Barnard Hewitt and Harold Shaw, when both managers announced the titles and student directors of the singing and speaking skits to be presented Friday evening at the New Wilma theater. Appearing in Part One of the musical revue will be "House Mother's Lament," directed by Orville Skones, Missoula; two skits, "Blood" and "Drama," directed by Dave Duncan, Billings, and "Break-fast Time" and "A Little Gray Matter" by Noral Whittinghill, Helena. A skit entitled "The Cure," also presented in Part One of the show will be directed by Ossia Taylor, Missoula.

Making up Part Two of the musical show will be "Business in Q," by Nat Allen, Roundup; "The Code Code World" by Gene Manis, Hamilton; "The Play's the Thing," by Harold Shaw of Missoula and student manager of this year's Hi-Jinx. Two skits, "Poor Annie" and "The Great Zeek" will be directed by Phil Pollard, Red Lodge, and "A Stranger Interlude," "Dictator," "The Boys Come Marching On" and "Giving You the Bird" will be directed by Barnard W. Hewitt, faculty manager of the 1933 Hi-Jinx and director of dramatics at the State University.

The first complete rehearsal of Hi-Jinx commenced last night for the singing, speaking and specialty parts and rehearsals will be held daily at the Little Theatre and the New Wilma until the presentation of the show, Friday, December 8.

Test Will Be Given To All Pre-Medics

Bateman to Supervise Examinations At Science Hall Tomorrow

"The medical aptitude test for all pre-medical students intending to enter a medical school next fall will be given at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Science hall, Room 107," says Dr. W. G. Bateman of the Department of Chemistry. "The tests are arranged and sent out by the Association of American Medical Colleges and must be taken before the student can enter a medical school. Any student who plans to enter a medical school in 1934 should arrange to take the test on December 5 as it can be given only once each year."

Last year the tests were taken by nearly 10,000 students. They are now one of the normal requirements for admission to a medical school. A fee of one dollar is charged each applicant to defray the expenses of the committee in charge.

We'll See You Friday Night

It is interesting to know that the origin of Hi-Jinx is accredited to an attempt in 1906 on the part of the student band to raise money for uniforms by presenting an "All Nations Show." It seems that the next year the Glee club took up the idea and at a convocation presented a skit razzing faculty members and prominent members of the student body. The most unusual point in the history, as far as we're concerned, however, is the razz presentation in 1909 by the women students, directed by Mary Stewart, dean of women. This aroused the men who took over the next production and originated the custom of men and women alternating the presentation from year to year. From 1910 until 1916, the show which appeared just before the holiday, resembled a Christmas celebration.

In 1917 the women entered the show as a musical comedy, and the following seven years it appeared as a razz fest. At this time the methods and tactics in securing properties became so displeasing to the fraternities and sororities which were raided in these attempts that Central Board struck the entertainment from the 1925 and 1926 calendars. It was re-introduced in 1927 as a modified razz show and since that time it has slowly developed into our present musical comedy feature. The first actual musical comedy appeared in 1930 when men and women joined in presenting "A Million for a Man," by Curtis Barnes. Since then we have seen "Son of a Gun" and "Must We Go On."

Friday night's performance presents no theme title but is advertised only as an all round Hi-Jinx with only a few clues as to the exact nature of the show. We have seen some promising previews though, and expect this night to be listed as one of the best of this year's all-University activities.

Gone with the old "razz fest" Hi-Jinx is the Dirty Sox razz sheet that originated with that type of show and has remained an aftermath of the old productions. This year we are promised that we may open its pages and find no "dirt," and that if names are mentioned they will be with such humorous ridiculousness that they will not carry the sting of abuse. There is no implication that the new publication will not carry the spice that the old sheet had, but we may expect it to contain college humor instead of high school nonsense.

We Do Appreciate the Church!

A representative of the inter-church group asked at a recent Presidents' club meeting if it would be possible to reserve office space in the new Union building for the University pastor. He said that he represented 300 student members of the inter-church group directly interested in the movement.

With that number of active members the State University could never be pointed to as an example aiding in church decadence. The principal Missoula churches all sponsor church groups, church clubs, carry on social activities, they retain a student pastor and maintain many other contacts and influences among the student body.

There is little doubt that the church holds a definite place in the mind of the majority of students.

Symphony Group To Give Recital Winter Quarter

Watson Named As Concertmaster of University Orchestra; Weisberg Directs

The University Symphony orchestra under the direction of Professor A. H. Weisberg of the School of Music, has been rehearsing for about a month. It will give a recital during winter quarter.

Russell Watson, Missoula, first violinist, is concertmaster. Other first violins are: Mary Shope Davis, Missoula; Kathryn Bailey, Corvallis; Harriet Gillespie, Grass Range; Margaret Lehnson, Missoula; Dorothy Eastman, Missoula; Betty Ritter, Fort Benton; Dorothy Miller, Idaho Falls, Idaho. Edward Jeffries, Missoula, plays the tuba, and Mrs. Darrell Parker, the tympany. Marion Wold, Missoula, is the pianist.

Hammatt Speaks At Joint Meeting

Expresses Satisfaction in C. C. C. Activities in West

R. F. Hammatt of the regional Forest Service offices in Missoula, spoke before a joint gathering of journalists and foresters Tuesday night in the School of Forestry assembly room. In connection with Mr. Hammatt's talk concerning Forest Service activities during the past year and especially the work of the C. C. C., he explained a number of pictures which were shown on the screen. He expressed his satisfaction in the C. C. C. work done in the west since early spring and hopes to have this type of employment continue.

The joint meeting of the Forestry club and the Press club is a revival of an old custom which existed several years ago with the two organizations. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served. Approximately one hundred members of the two clubs were present.

Club Is Formed By Art Students

For the first time in several years, majors in the Department of Fine Arts have organized into a group which will be known as the Art Club. The purpose of the club is for the advancement of art as well as for social activities.

At a meeting held recently in the Department of Fine Arts, Virginia Rigney, Laurel, was elected president; Vivian Bower, Tarkio, vice-president, and Lyle Griffin, Inverness, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Meetings will be held every Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Main hall. Outside speakers will be invited to speak on art subjects. A social hour will follow the sketch class which the club is sponsoring. All art students are eligible for membership.

Man at the Keyhole

By YALE, JR.

What a week-end!

We know that the parents thoroughly enjoyed "coming to college" for Thanksgiving. It was a good idea even if they did eat us out of house and home.

The frosh certainly didn't forget to ring the bell in Main Hall after a Grizzly victory Thursday. In fact they didn't stop till dinner time.

Seen Through the Keyhole

Hi-Jinx rehearsals getting under way with only one week left to go. . . . Squint Peden rehearsing his song a la tuxedo. . . . Lina Greene, Margaret Lord, Ruth Perham, Faye Nimbard and Grace Johnson getting in the last-minute "campaigning" before the contest. . . . Erling Oss doing a great job on the bonfire from the bottom up. . . . Harold Shaw losing 20 pounds worrying over the cracks in Hi-Jinx. . . . Kay Thurston finally getting a seat on the Helena-Missoula train. . . . Sterling Stapp doing a Fred Astaire at the Phi Sig formal. . . . Paul Keith and Andy Anderson writing for an autographed picture of "Cotton" Warburton. . . . Link Landall returning from the Smelter City with five more pounds under his belt. . . . Jerry House going to an Elks' meeting. . . . North and Corbin Halls disregarding all rules of football as they amuse the Mothers and Dads. . . . Captains Harriet Freebourn and Jane Sanders going hysterical on the sidelines. . . . Phil Miller and Jocko Shenk doing the heavy work behind stage for Hi-Jinx practices. . . . KGOV consenting to cooperate in carrying out the "premiere" idea for Hi-Jinx. . . . George Roskie listening to Bing Crosby.

Things I Remember

Remember when the boys gave Hi-Jinx at the Wilma theater, which incidentally, was the last time this show was staged as a razz-est?

Well, the funny part about this particular time was that the girls took an awful razzing long before the show had started. It seems that the boys were rehearsing a few skits upstairs in the women's gym. They had been very secretive of late and the girls were very curious as to what they were going to use in their show that would serve to razz the feminine end of the campus. They just had to find out. So, a group of girls, led by Billie Burke Kilroy, started to ascend the fire escape which at that time led to the top story of the gym. Now as the stories go, the boys, terribly interested in practice hadn't the faintest idea what was going to take place. Step by step the girls got closer to the windows of the room where practice was being held.

Just as they were about to reach their goal, the boys finished practicing and naturally were through with the "props" that they were using. One prop in particular had to do with water of some sort. This they casually threw out of the window right on the heads of the unsuspecting girls. Well, you can just use your imagination as to what happened then, because it was a breach of etiquette worse than freshman girls dating. (Just for fun we suggest that someone ask Pete and Mary Elizabeth about the "props").

College Students May Register in Federal Agencies

Applicants for Jobs May Be Given Work on Projects Authorized By Civil Works Program

Students enrolled in colleges and universities are eligible to register with the federal employment agencies, a communication from the Federal Office of Education shows. Students registering will be referred to college jobs and assigned part-time work on projects regularly authorized by the Civil Works Administration in publically-controlled schools.

Students of the State University seeking employment should register at 126 West Main street in order to be placed on the approved list when and if projects are approved on which they may be employed.

Hazel Mumm, head of the student employment bureau, will provide any further information desired by students seeking the jobs.

Masquers Continue Play Contest Plans

Will Produce Winning Manuscript; Ten Dollars Royalty

The Montana Masquers are continuing their one-act play contest started last year. The deadline for manuscripts will be Monday, March 12. There must be only one scene and the playing time must be at least 15 minutes and not more than 45. The contest is open to any student.

The winning play will be produced by the Masquers and a royalty of 10 dollars will be paid. Any other play that is acceptable will be also produced and a royalty of five dollars paid.

Barnard W. Hewitt, dramatics director, and two others yet to be chosen will act as judges.

Melvin Maury, Miles City, won the contest last year with a comedy, "Souls of Consideration."

Grizzlies Finish Season By Beating Utah Aggies In Thanksgiving Contest

Stansberry, Blastic and Story Lead Attack As Invaders Drop Game By 26-0 Score; Large Parents' Day Crowd Witnesses Triumph for State University Squad

Displaying an exceptional brand of blocking, tackling and running, a fighting, clawing Grizzly football team wound up a successful season Thanksgiving Day by running wild over a strong, obstinate Utah Aggie squad by a 26-0 margin. The Montana club took the ball straight down the field after the opening kick-off to score, and was never in danger after that moment. Long runs by Bob Stansberry, Henry Blastic and Leland Story accounted for the margin of the Grizzly triumph, and the entire squad blocked and tackled in a manner that marked the Grizzlies as the best team on the field.

The two squads put on a show for the thousands who packed the bleachers on both sides of the field. The large visiting crowd, drawn by the State University's first Parents' Day, braved the cold and snow to watch the Grizzlies pile up their decisive victory.

Offensive Stars

Several times during the game Montana backs broke loose to make long gains against the Aggie secondary defense. Bob Stansberry, who was the spark plug of the Grizzly attack, was the principal ground-gainer, having runs of 17, 18, 15, 10 and minor gains to his credit. Blastic scored once, running 65 yards on a statue of liberty and lateral pass play that completely fooled the Utah team. Story, playing his last game for the Grizzlies, played a bang-up offensive game, making gains of 79 yards, and many yards on straight thrusts at the line. Hileman, playing his usual defensive game, stepped out of character several times to reel off long gains. Emery's kicking, pass-receiving and his accurate toe, which accounted for extra points, drew the praise of the crowd.

The line performed exceptionally on offense and defense all during the game, blocking and tackling with a ferocity that battered the Aggies and forced them back. On Blastic's 65-yard run, excellent blocking by Hawke and Anderson cleared the field for Blastic after he had done some nice footwork along the sidelines to stay inside the line. Although they were outclassed, the Utah Aggies put up a stiff battle, and took everything the Montana line had to offer.

The Aggie's much-praised line did not function as well against Montana as was expected of it, and many gains were made through their forward wall. During the first half, they seemed to lack pep and spirit, but they came back during the second period to put on a nice exhibition of interference that threatened at the Montana goal-line several times.

Grizzlies' First Score

Montana's first score came after the opening kickoff, which Emery returned to the Montana 44-yard line. Repeated gains netted four first downs, and ended when Story crashed through center for a touchdown. Emery kicked the extra point, and Montana led, 7-0.

Shortly after the first score, the Aggies got into Montana territory and threatened to score after several long gains. Burke Fry, Utah's quarter, attempted a pass, but Story intercepted and ran 81 yards before he was stopped. After several short gains, Story again took the ball over center for another score. The kick failed, and the score stood 13-0 at half time, no tallies being made during the second period.

In the third quarter, long gains again put the ball in scoring position, and Stansberry passed to Emery for another score. Emery's kick was good, and the score stood at 20-0. The last score came in the final period when some clever deception, good blocking and some fine running by Blastic on a lateral pass scored after a 65-yard run. The kick failed and the score stood, 26-0, that being the final margin of victory for the Grizzlies.

Outstanding Players

Stansberry, Blastic, Emery, Hileman and Story led the offensive for Montana, each reeling off long gains. Hileman played his usual good game as a defensive back, and Emery's punting was good. Stansberry and Blastic were the best ground gainers in the Grizzly backfield, and Story played an outstanding game in both departments of play. In the line, Hawke, Reynolds, L. Kuka, Sullivan, Carpenter, Rhinehart and Brandenburg did outstanding work, with some good performances being turned in by Anderson and Heller.

Elmer Ward, the Utah Aggie's all-conference center, proved himself to be the pillar of defense for the Logan team, breaking up many Grizzly plays and starring at the pivot position. John Hull and Captain Gordon Dixon at ends were two fine wingmen, and were in most of the plays. In the backfield, Fry, triple-threat quarterback, was the most consistent player. Worley, a small flash, and Wardell were good ground gainers.

Substitutions: Montana—Crowley, quarter; Roberts, fullback; Blastic, Grattan, Kent, Bergeson, halfbacks; Brandenburg, Lockridge, Hartsell and McCall, ends; Newgard, Previs, Anderson and Dahlberg, tackles; Sullivan, Zemke and Benson, guards; G. Kuka and Wilcox, centers. Utah State—Lockyer, fullback; Wardell and Gutke, halfbacks; Tripp, end; Mabey, guard; Wansguard, guard; Hendricks, tackle.

Sporty Vents

The Grizzlies wound up a fairly successful season Thanksgiving day by running wild over the Utah Aggies to break up an otherwise close battle by a 26-0 score. Which gives Coach Oakes' men a record of three games won and four lost, a better record than has been shown for some time.

Montana defeated Montana State College, Gonzaga university and the Utah Aggies, and dropped games to Washington State, Idaho, Oregon State and Stanford. The men outscored their opponents, amassing 91 points to their opponents' 85. Oregon State was the only team that was able to shut out the Grizzlies, who scored in every contest but that one.

Plenty of credit goes to those boys who played the best ball they knew how all season, and faced some tough competition with few rest periods or letups.

Coach Oakes drilled his men to play hard football for sixty minutes of every game, and they did just that. Everyone who saw them in action, admitted that they had a world of fight and spirit that taught a lesson or two to some of their bigger opponents.

Bob Stansberry and Henry Blastic were accorded honorable mention in the Associated Press 1933 selection of All-American football players, Blastic as a quarterback and Stansberry for his triple-threat abilities at halfback. Other Montana players who received honorable mention were Parke and Dyer, State College; Erickson, Mines, and Ginnus, Intercontinental.

Three far-western men were picked this year for the first time. "Cotton" Warburton of the Trojans was selected quarterback, Bill Corbus of Stanford received a guard position, and Schwammel of Oregon State was named as tackle.

The team, one of the first to appear in print this season, contained these men: Geisler, Centenary, and Skidaway, Pittsburgh, ends; Schwammel,

Forty Cubs To Receive Monograms

Freshman Football Members Are Recommended for Numeral Awards This Year

Forty freshmen football players have been recommended for numerals for the 1933 season by Coach A. J. Lewandowski. These men in order to receive the monograms must make the required grades this quarter, or they will be ineligible.

The following men have been recommended: E. Alexander, J. Baker, N. Bonawitz, L. Bowler, M. Brandenburg, F. Burg, H. Copenhaver, P. Connors, H. Doyle, P. Downey, E. Eaves, W. Freebourne, R. Fritsen, W. Haskell, R. Hillman, H. Huser, M. Kane, H. Keimig, E. Leiphelmer, J. Mariana, J. Neubauer, G. Neff, C. Olson, R. Whitcomb, G. White, E. Oss, J. Pickett, R. Rader, S. Ryder, G. Shultz, A. Terrill, G. Vucanovich, H. Van Duser, H. Wheat, C. Whittinghill, W. Graff, L. Hughes, B. Kruger, J. Typer and W. Hamilton.

Oregon State, and Crawford, Duke, tackles; Corbus, Stanford, and Schwammel, Iowa, guards; Bernard, Michigan, center; Warburton, Southern California, quarterback; Buckler, Army, and Lund, Minnesota, halfbacks, and Sauer, Nebraska, fullback.

The best team in the country, on paper, is Princeton, having had no ties or defeats. But the best they could do in the A. P. All-American lineup was the selection of Charles Ceppi as second-team tackle.

With the season on its last legs, the All-American selections will start pouring in now, and from these will come one based on every selection in the country. Still there will be plenty of good players who will not receive the credit they would have received had they been on a more widely known team.

Kaimin Selection Of Coast Team Is Announced

Montana Places Two Men on Mythical Squad; Stansberry, Reynolds Get Honors

By Collin Raff

With the approaching end of the Pacific Coast conference football schedule and the title safely in the hands of Oregon and Stanford, the usual all-Coast conference teams begin to appear. This year's games have produced a bevy of candidates for the all-star aggregation, many of whom will be in serious running for the mythical All-American team.

We are picking an all-Coast team, based on the performances of the players in their respective schedules and based on the opinions of sports authorities on the Coast who have seen these men in action.

The hardest problem confronting the selectors is picking a man when two or more have shown equal ability throughout the season. The best example of this is in the case of Bob Grayson of Stanford and Mike Mikulak, Oregon's powerful fullback. Both have played sensational ball this year, Grayson being the spark-plug of the Cardinal attack and kicking, and Mikulak proving himself to be one of the most powerful line-plungers in the game. In this case, Mikulak gets the call for the first team, because Grayson is a sophomore and will show up better after a year or two of play.

Palmer of the Trojans and Bill Smith of Washington draw the end positions over Moscrip of Stanford and Klawitter of Washington State. Palmer is one of the best defensive ends in the business, and Smith, although an end, is one of Jimmy Phelan's biggest scoring threats.

Schwammel of Oregon State has proved to be an outstanding tackle, and reached his peak in the Fordham game this season. Ransome of California is the other tackle choice. Theodoratus, W. S. C.'s bid for all-Coast, is a good tackle, but is not as good as he is cracked up to be.

Hughes of Oregon is one of the best

pivot men on the Coast, getting the call for that position. Warburton of Southern California is the leader of the Trojan attack, and is the best ground-gainer and signal caller that can be found. Franklin of Oregon State and Norby of Idaho draw the other backfield assignments, Franklin for his running and kicking ability, and Norby for his blocking ability.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO BE A FOOTBALL REFEREE

M. J. ("MIKE") THOMPSON, FAMOUS FOOTBALL REFEREE

IF YOU WANT TO SEE nerve strain, look at "Mike" Thompson's job—refereeing two tons of football brawn. "Mike" Thompson has been a steady smoker for years. "I'm open-minded on cigarettes," he says, "but I've got to keep my nerves in shape, so I stick to Camels."

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

M. J. ("Mike") Thompson, football's most famous referee, has to keep his nerves healthy. He says:

"Because nothing can be allowed to interfere with healthy nerves I smoke Camels. I have tried them all—given every popular brand a chance to show what it can offer. Camels don't upset my nerves even when I smoke constantly. And the longer I smoke them, the more I come to appreciate their mildness and rich flavor."

Many smokers who have changed to Camels report that their nerves are no longer irritable... "jumpy." Switch to Camels yourself. You will find that Camels do not jangle your nerves—or tire your taste.

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Growler on Sale Thursday; Shaw Asks Co-operation

New Magazine to Feature Article By Kennedy; Clark Writes On Dance Ban

The Growler, satirical and humorous publication of the students of the State University of Montana, will be put on sale at the Student Store and at the Library on Thursday of this week.

"Keep Cool," a short story by Mike Kennedy, who graduated from the School of Journalism last spring, will be the feature of the fall issue. Cartoons by Phil Pollard, an article by Professor W. P. Clark favoring the repeal of the ordinance prohibiting dancing in the beer parlors, and "A Code of Fair Competition" by Dick Traxler will also be featured.

"We hope the students will back us in our new venture," said Harold Shaw, editor of the magazine. "Our primary purpose is to please and entertain the students of the University."

Men's Rifle Team Will Begin Match

R. O. T. C. Building to Be Scene Of Shooting Contest

The men's rifle team will begin the 1933-34 shooting season with an individual rifle match to be fired in the rifle range at the R. O. T. C. building beginning at 7:30 o'clock Thursday, December 7.

The match will be fired under the following conditions: The range will be open to any individual and a charge of 25 cents will be made for each target used. Two sighting shots and ten shots for record on the prone position will be allowed. Weapons used will be .22 caliber with metallic sights and all competitors except the R. O. T. C. students will be required to supply their own rifles and ammunition.

Prizes will be awarded on a percentage basis and competitors may fire any number of targets but will be permitted to score only one.

Scribes to Hold Annual Banquet Tomorrow Night

Lumbermen's Mess Hall at Bonner To Be Scene of Journalists' Leading Event

Climaxing fall quarter activities in the School of Journalism, Press Club banquet will take place tomorrow night. This annual affair held in the Lumbermen's Mess hall in Bonner is the first of a series of social functions to be held by the journalists this year. Tevis Hoblitt, president of Press club, announces that the ticket sale has been sufficient to insure the presence of a large group of journalists and their guests. Arrangements for the use of the mess hall have been completed, and the executive board of Press club has all plans for the turkey dinner completed.

Entertainment following the meal will be led by Dean A. L. Stone, who is to be toastmaster. His son, Dr. Emerson Stone will lead in the singing. Among the principal speakers of the evening will be Dean A. L. Stone, Professor R. L. Housman, Andrew Cogswell and Irene Vadnais of the School of Journalism and President C. H. Clapp. Several School of Journalism graduates are expected to be present and speak briefly.

Later in the evening the journalists will adjourn to the recreation hall where there will be dancing.

Hoopla! ... Whoopee! ... Well—Hi-Jinx!

Let's have pretzels and let's have beer ... And anything else you want. What with the Repeal and Hi-Jinx all in the same week!!!

The Terror! Or did you know there was a Terror? Hadn't you heard? Well, you just don't know the score. Two prowling, prying, poking, peeking Snakes in the Grass are abroad at this hour—and if you have any skeletons in your closet—no matter how old and musty, or well-hidden they may be—watch out. They will be due for a public airing Friday, December 8 in that yellowest of sheets—"Dirty Sox."

Mabelle Willard and Jack Robinson have been in every nook and cranny of the town—and what they haven't dragged out! If you think that those few shady spots in the dim past are known only to yourself and the Almighty—get set for a shock for the whole wide world will know them on Friday.

By the way, "Dirty Sox" will be a dime ... If you forget yours that'll be your tough luck.

This Hi-Jinx is going to be one neat affair.

Janice Koppe—the pretty special little gal from Billings—is doing a song and dance that's very fancy. Like nice music ... plenty of snap? ... It's all there.

And that perennially irrepressible fella—Don Marrs—struts his stuff ... And does he have stuff? ... And can he strut it? ... Shoot, Marrs!

The Sigma Chi's (bright lads, those Sigma Chi's) brought the ghost ... They forgot it had already walked once this year ... Or possibly it dances this week ...

Anyway, the Theta's are a little jumpy on the subject.

And legs!!! The redeeming feature of this show is legs. What choruses. Al DeRae can pick'em, we guess.

We hear, it's not authentic now, but anyway we hear there's a stooge. You'll hear him, she or it Friday night—watch for the stooge.

Independents Lead In Swimming Meet

Hennings and McLernan Are Stars In Leading Aquatic Team

Independent men continued their uninterrupted string of victories in the interfraternity swimming competition with two more victories. No meets were held over the week-end due to the Thanksgiving holidays, but the schedule will be completed next Monday.

Meets held last Wednesday resulted in Phi Delta Theta forfeiting to Independents; Sigma Phi Epsilon losing to Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 32-12, and Phi Sigma Kappa winning from Sigma Nu by a 29-14 score. Last night Sigma Chi swamped Sigma Phi Epsilon, 35-9; Phi Delta Theta won from Sigma Nu, 23-21, and Independents defeated last year's champs, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 25-19.

Outstanding performers for the various teams included Hennings and McLernan of the Independents, McArthur of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Hawkins of Sigma Chi and Lelphelmer of Phi Delta Theta.

Meets to be held this week are: Wednesday at 4:45—Phi Delta Theta versus Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Sigma Phi Epsilon versus Phi Sigma Kappa. Friday at 4:45—Sigma Alpha Epsilon versus Sigma Nu; Phi Delta Theta versus Sigma Chi.

3—about Cigarettes

Not so long ago practically all cigarettes were made by hand

Now, Chesterfields are made by high-speed machines that turn out 750 cigarettes a minute, and the cigarettes are practically not touched by hand.

BY the use of long steel ovens—drying machines of the most modern type—and by ageing the leaf tobacco for 30 months—like wine is aged—Chesterfield tobacco is milder and tastes better.

Only pure cigarette paper—the best made—is used for Chesterfield.

And to make sure that everything that goes into Chesterfield is just right, expert chemists test all materials that are used in any way in the manufacture.

Chesterfields are made and packed in clean, up-to-date factories, where the air is changed every 4½ minutes. The moisture-proof package, wrapped in Du Pont's No. 300 Cellophane—the best made—reaches you just as if you went by the factory door.

In a letter to us, an eminent scientist says:
"Chesterfield Cigarettes are just as pure as the water you drink."

Congratulations!
