Angus Gets Spring Meet Play Entries

Sixteen High Schools Will Compete In Little Theater Tournament During Track Meet

Entries for the Little Theater tournament to be held at the State University, May 11, have been received from 16 high schools by William Angus, who is in charge of the tourney. Two additional schools have been technically disqualified by failing to announce their entries, although they had signified their intentions of entering.

The rules of the tournament forbid the announcement of the presentation of the respective schools, but the schools now definitely entered are: Albion, Anaconda, Belt, Valley, Billings, Butte, Choteau county (Fort Benton), Flathead county (Kalispell), Gallatin county (Bozeman), Hamilton, Hardin, Helena, Missoula county, Powell county (Deer Lodge), Simms, Sweet Grass county (Big Timber) and Whitehall. Beaverhead county (Dillon) and Belgrade are the schools defaulting through failure to give definite entries.

The plays entered are as follows: "Aria da Capo," "Buying Culture," "Farewell, Cruel World," "The No Count Boy," "Thirteen Hundred Feet Under," "Sparkin'," "Fixin's," "The Birthday of the Infanta," "The First Dress Suit," "The Happy Hourney," "Riders to the Sea," "On Vengeance Height," "Famine and the Ghost," "The Trysting Place," "The Marriage Proposal" and "Bread."

"Thirteen Hundred Feet Under" is an original play written by a high school student, Albert McArthur. McArthur won a national play-writing contest and is a student at Butte public high school.

"Far-Off Hills" Is Major Production For Spring Term

Lennox Robinson Is Author of Play Which Has Been Presented In West Only Once

When "The Far-Off Hills" is presented April 29 and 30, campus audiences will view a play so new as to be practically a premiere in the western United States.

The play was written by Lennox Robinson, director of the Abbey Theater, Dublin, Ireland, one of the most famous playhouses in the world. The play was staged there during the 1930-31 season. In this section of the country, the comedy was presented at Portland, Ore., by the Abbey Theater players on tour.

Robinson is no stranger to the State University Little Theater, his "White-Headed Boy" having been produced here in the spring of 1929. During the summer session of 1930, he personally produced a play here.

A. E. Malone, a critic of Irish drama and dramatists, states that Robinson is one of the greatest of Irish dramatists, probably being unsurpassed in the field of satirical comedy.

The complete cast and production staff will be announced at a later date.

State President, A. A. U. W. Discusses "Organization Problems"

"Organization Problems" was the subject of the talk given by Dr. Gladys Branegan of the Department of Home Economics at Montana State College before the local executive board of the A. A. U. W. of which she is the state president. The talk was given at a luncheon Saturday at the Florence hotel.

Dr. Branegan also spoke before the members of the A. A. U. W. at North hall Saturday afternoon on the state plans for the biennial meeting which will take place at Great Falls next autumn.

Last Sunday Dr. Branegan was entertained at breakfast by Helen Gleason of the State University faculty. She left for Helena at 5:20 o'clock Sunday afternoon where she will meet with the local branch of the A. A. U. W. of that city.

Geologists Plan Spring Field Trip Near Drummond

Geologic Features of Vicinity Will Be Studied During Week of May 2-8

Advanced students of geology in the structure of geology class are planning their annual spring field trip. The trip, which will be held the first week in May, is taken under the supervision of Dr. C. F. Deiss.

Leaving Missoula on May 2, the class will visit in the vicinity of Bearmouth, Drummond and Garnet, with headquarters in Drummond. The trip furnishes practical application of the principles learned in the course in geological structure. This course is designed primarily to illustrate geologic features and principles by a study of actual cases, on and off the field.

"The country in the vicinity of Drummond and Bearmouth has some wonderful exposures and structural features," Dr. J. P. Rowe, chairman of the Department of Geology, said. "There is particularly a great deal of folding."

The entire trip will be made by auto. The party will return to Missoula, Sunday, May 8.

School Units Are Approved By Educators

State University Is One of Five Montana Schools Receiving Four-year Rating

The State University at Missoula, the State College at Bozeman, the Eastern Montana Normal school at Billings, the School of Mines at Butte and the Northern Montana College at Havre were accredited by the Northwestern Educational association at a session held Thursday. The Inland Empire association also met at Spokane last week.

The Eastern Normal School and the Northern Montana College were accredited for a two-year term, and the others for four years.

Transfer Membership
Previously these six units have belonged to the North Central Association of Secondary and Higher Schools, and executives of these institutions decided several weeks ago to transfer membership. The standards of the two associations are practically identical.

B. E. Thomas, professor of Spanish in the State University Department of Foreign Languages, was unanimously elected chairman of the modern language group. Both last year and this year Mrs. Louise Arnoldson has been offered the nomination but declined, and she presented Mr. Thomas' name for the 1932 office.

Daughters Attends
Dr. Freeman Daughters was this year's delegate from the State University to the Northwestern meetings. Chancellor M. A. Brannon, who was elected chairman of Phi Beta Kappa for the coming year; Pres. G. H. Vande Bogart of the Northern Montana College and State Supervisor M. P. Moe, chairman of the secondary commission, also attended this session.

Fellowship Group Presents Program

Students Conduct Services at Church In Stevensville Sunday

The Inter-church Fellowship group gave a program of worship at the Methodist church of Stevensville Sunday evening, April 10.

The program was one of a long series of worship services that were put on in the churches of Missoula during the winter quarter and are now being given to the churches outside of Missoula. The service given at Stevensville consisted of several musical numbers and three talks under the general theme of "The Christian Life."

Those who spoke were: Mary Dohi, Louise Kemp and Nemesio Borge, who talked on "The Content of Christian Life," "The Art of Christ Living" and "The Christian Life Made Practical," respectively.

In addition to the talks, a quartet consisting of Joy Browning, Louise Kemp, Orval Dreisbach and Joe Simangan gave several musical numbers. Doris Wearne, a graduate of the State University, assisted in the program.

Rev. and Mrs. Jesse W. Bunch acted as chaperons.

Modern Literature Has Been Acquired By Spanish Section

Fifty Volumes of Drama and Novels By Noted Authors Will Arrive from Spain

Fifty volumes of modern drama and novels, including a complete new set of the works of Cervantes, and up to date representative literature of contemporary authors Azoren, Unamuns and Banoja, are being imported from Spain by the Spanish section of the Department of Foreign Languages, and will arrive soon.

The books will be much cheaper than usual for the students, due to the low exchange rate, and because the volumes are uncut and unprepared for class work. They exist in the form as written for the Spanish public. "This year is the first time that novels not especially prepared for class work have been used. It is felt that a fuller scope of Spanish literature can be studied, since so many works which could be obtained in the edited books are available. The full flavor of the Spanish writing now can be absorbed," stated Miss Elsie Eminger of the Spanish section.

Seattle Magazine And Frontier Merge

Illness of Muse and Mirror Editor Is Reason for Combination

Muse and Mirror, a poetry magazine published by Helen Maring at Seattle, Wash., recently has combined with the Frontier, published by H. G. Merriam of the State University. Due to the depression and the illness of Miss Maring, it became necessary for the paper to cease its individual publication.

The people having subscriptions to the Muse and Mirror will receive copies of the Frontier in place of them. In case they are already subscribers to the Frontier, their subscriptions automatically will be extended. Miss Maring states that the subscribers will get more than their money's worth this way, and will be helping to support one of the finest publications of prose, poetry and historical interest in the west.

During the eight years Muse and Mirror has been in existence, it has published 1,224 poems. The editor states that more than 9,300 poems were criticised during this time.

Tacoma Debaters Receive Decision In Contest Here

Harry Hoffner and Kenneth Rhude Represent State University In Season's Last Debate

A decision in favor of the College of Puget Sound of Tacoma, Wash., was given in the debate held Friday evening in Main hall auditorium. H. K. Snell, assistant professor in the Department of Economics and Sociology, acted as judge. The Tacoma college was represented by George Thomas and Herman Mattson, who upheld the negative side of the question, Resolved, that Congress should enact legislation providing for the centralized control of industry.

The Washington debaters have been on a 6,000-mile debate tour. The debate here was the thirtieth one in which they have argued the question. The State University debaters were Kenneth Rhude and Harry Hoffner, both freshmen from Butte. "These men did some very good work during this debate season, and have established an enviable record. Hoffner's work in the Tacoma debate was outstanding, and Mr. Snell stated that he was the best individual speaker of the two teams. The decision was given to the coast men because they presented a more unified set of arguments than did the State University men," stated Darrell Parker, Varsity debate coach.

Reunion News Will Feature New Alumnus

Articles on Athletics, Track Meet, Debate, Also Will Appear In April Issue

Complete information to date on the Reunion to be held at the State University this spring will feature the April issue of the Alumnus which will appear next week. This article is by Patricia Regan, Missoula, senior in the School of Journalism. The 1932 summer session, announcing the visiting faculty members with pictures of the latter, is featured in another article of the spring issue of the magazine.

A farewell to J. W. Stewart, a discussion of the athletes that have been developed by him, and an article on the Twenty-ninth Intercollegiate meet to be held at the State University this spring are contributions of Fred Compton, Williston, N. D., junior in the School of Journalism.

The work done in debate during the past year is summarized in an article by Stanley Hill, Sand Coulee, sophomore in the School of Journalism, Grant Kelleher, Butte, junior in the School of Law, a member of the debate team, has written an account of the debate trip to the coast.

"What Some of the Alumni Are Doing," contains articles about George T. Armitage, '14; Howard A. Gray, '26, Harold C. Urey, '17, and Helene Kennet Wilcox, '02. A picture of the Class of 1902 will be printed in this section. George T. Armitage has contributed an account of the work he has been doing in Hawaii.

Rowe Makes Track Meet Finance Plan

Lubrecht, Peterson, Fleming Are Members of the Ticket Sales Committee

"Everything will be in readiness by April 25 for our big financial drive," Dr. J. P. Rowe, chairman of the Intercollegiate committee, stated yesterday. "The Chamber of Commerce committee has just finished the additions to the list of names to whom tickets will be sent, and by May 6 we hope to have a good estimate of our financial returns."

W. C. Lubrecht, Alex Peterson and Roger Fleming are members of the committee. They replace Jim Brown, who has had charge of the ticket campaign for a number of years. Mr. Brown did not have time to conduct the campaign this year, but is assisting the committee in its preparation. As in the past, all stenographic work in this connection will be handled by the State University office.

"Last year 889 contestants from 118 schools attended the meet," Dr. Rowe said. "This year we hope to have 1,000 from 130 schools, since there has been in past years a gradual increase in attendance. However, with present conditions, it is very difficult for us to make any estimate. With the railroads giving a one-fare round trip rate for the meet, there is an added inducement to many schools to send more contestants than formerly."

Entry blanks were sent Friday to all accredited high schools which belong to the Montana High School association. Enclosed with them was a circular letter, asking that all high schools, wherever possible, take advantage of the railroad rates. The letter also asked that the committee be informed as to the exact time of arrival of contestants in order to facilitate plans for the meeting of trains and housing of contestants.

Psychology Group And Sociologists Plan Annual Trip

Institutions at Warm Springs and Deer Lodge Will Be Visited Saturday, April 30

Major and minor psychology and sociology students and the class in abnormal psychology will make an educational inspection tour of the state penitentiary at Deer Lodge and the state hospital at Warm Springs, Saturday, April 30.

The Deer Lodge tour is being arranged by Dr. Harry Turney-High, and the Warm Springs tour by Prof. Ernest Atkinson. Mr. Atkinson will make the transportation arrangements for both trips.

Spanish Students Celebrate Holiday

Pan-American day will be celebrated with a special program by the Spanish club, Wednesday evening, April 14, at 7:30 o'clock at the Kappa Delta house.

In all schools where Spanish is studied, this day is observed by the students in order to create through them a better relationship between North and South America.

Hazel Borders, vice president of the club, will take the place of the president, Clifford Walker, who did not return this quarter. "Anyone wishing to renew membership in the club, or wishing to join it, please pay the 50 cents dues to their instructor or bring it to meeting. Cecile Sighrue, instructor in the Department of Foreign Languages, announced.

Religious Leaders Speak at Annual Youth Conference

Ninety Delegates Attend Sessions; Rev. J. W. Bunch Has Charge Of Arrangements

The annual youth conference at the State University opened with a banquet held in the Methodist church Friday evening and came to a close Saturday evening at a close Saturday evening. About ninety high school students and religious leaders were present at the sessions held all day Saturday.

During the Saturday sessions, Dr. Henry R. Best of Billings spoke on "Proving Oneself" and Dr. Cecil Clifford of Kalispell spoke on "Finding Oneself." The sessions, which began at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, were interspersed with periods of games and entertainment under the leadership of Carleton Thoroman of Superior.

In addition to the talks and games, pep singing was held under the leadership of Rev. H. J. Frame of Hamilton. The Saturday morning session was followed by a picnic lunch on the banks of the Missoula river. The afternoon session began at 3 o'clock and lasted till 5:30 o'clock after which the group took a trip to Greenough park. The evening meeting commenced at 7:30 o'clock.

Most of the delegates at the conference remained in Missoula Saturday evening and attended the church services Sunday morning. Rev. Jesse W. Punch, State University inter-church pastor, was in charge of the conference.

George Gullbault, a 1928 graduate of the School of Pharmacy, is working at a drug store in Roundup.

First Grid Game Draws Big Crowd To Watch Plays

Squad Members Demonstrate New Type of Offensive Tactics Developed by Oakes

More than two hundred State University football fans turned out Saturday afternoon to watch the 1932 Grizzly gridsters prance through their paces in the first game of the spring practice session. The squad, split into the whites and the blacks, allowed few substantial gains on either side.

Coach Oakes seemed pleased with the work of his men and the outlook for the new type of offensive he has developed for Montana. When asked to comment on the game, Oakes said: "We are farther ahead at this time than we were last year and our prospects look a little brighter."

Men who showed particularly well in the scrimmage practices and who have merited some favorable comment from the coaches are: Vesel, fullback; Sayatovich, center; Rhinehart, tailback; Heller, end; Oech and Anderson, guards, and Carpenter and Benton, tackles. These men are from last year's Cub squad.

Dailey, hard-hitting fullback, has been transferred to the wingback berth and is showing well. Williams and Wilson are picking up the guard duties and give plenty of promise in that position while Cosper is causing trouble to the ball carriers who hit his tackle territory.

The weather was ideal for the game and the men ran hard. There were few injuries and none that will keep the men out of uniform long. Vidro, G. Kuka, Swanson, Story, Hileman, Stansberry, Sayatovich and Rhinehart are nursing bruises but will soon be playing again.

Frontier Features Historical Article

The Journal of Lieut. John Mullan, 1858, never before published, will be featured in the May issue of the Frontier, which will appear on April 20. Mullan was the pioneer for whom the Mullan Trail was named. The book is a combination of the diary and papers of Mullan, which are valuable from a historical standpoint.

Seven short stories are to be included in this issue. "Theatricals at Fort Shaw in 1874," an account by Agnes B. Chowen, who participated in them, and the third installment of the unpublished letters of Joaquin Miller also will be featured. Other poems, historical articles, Open Range and Folklore material, Book Reviews and Literary News will find their usual places in the magazine.

Mrs. A. J. Krum of Anaconda visited her daughter, Genevieve, at the Kappa Delta house over the week-end.

Track Squad Goes Through First Tryout

Men Show Well in Various Events Held on Track and Field Last Saturday

Prospects for having a good Varsity track team look brighter as a result of the past week's work-out than they did in the earlier part of the season.

For the first time in the history of the State University, four men on the squad have thrown the discus over 131 feet. Walter Cox has thrown the discus 136 feet, while Russel Peterson, Monte Reynolds and Henry Murray all have tossed the platter better than 131 feet. Clyde Crego is tossing it 126 feet, five feet better than his best mark while a member of the freshman squad in 1931.

Saturday afternoon, Clarence Watson, paced by Lewis Steensland, ran a fast mile. Watson has shown much improvement over his early season form in 1931, while Steensland also is improving rapidly.

Bob White stepped through a fast hard half-mile the same afternoon. White earned his letter in that event last year. Elbert Covington, another one-year veteran, led the field in the quarter. Arthur Caven, interscholastic record holder of the 220-yard low hurdles, was hard-pressed to beat Vic Agather to the tape in that event. Al Spaulding ran through the 120-yard high hurdles alone, Billy Vickerman not being out for track Saturday.

Ten-second speed in the century was displayed when Ken Duff narrowly defeated Roy Peden in one of the closest contests of the afternoon. Duff is a former Butte Central runner, who showed up well in several state meets, while Peden holds the interscholastic record in the 100-yard dash. Monte Robertson, Fred Griffin and Billy Burke look best as varsity prospects in that race at the present time.

In the pole vault, Billy Burke, Hugh Lemire and Lewis McDaniel all cleared 11 feet easily. Al Dahlberg, Jack Bainton and Monte Robertson all cleared 5 feet 8 inches in the high jump. Al Flint led other entries in the broadjump by a wide margin. "Snick" Lockwood, holder of the intercollegiate javelin record, and Bill Hawke were throwing the javelin, but the distance was not measured.

Sporty Vents

Dornblaser field was one busy place Saturday afternoon, with Stewart pushing his charges through their first brisk drill and Oakes' men of football tussling in the first game scrimmage of the afternoon.

One thing stood out as the Whites and Blacks hurried through the mock battle. That was the number of freshmen on the two squads. Sixteen last-fall Cubs were under fire at one time or another.

"Sledge Hammer" Dailey, shifted from tailback to a wingback position, but still has a chance to carry the ball on reverses. Known throughout Montana and the coast as a line-plunger, Dailey's speed has been overlooked by some fans.

In the Trojan-Montana game, the red-head and Art Caven took after Pinckert with the all-American ten yards in the lead. After a chase of 70 yards they hauled him down on the 4-yard line. Anyone with that velocity should be able to take a reverse play.

Bunny Oakes will give his squad some stunt plays and pass formations this week. The scrimmage last Saturday lacked those two essentials.

The observer could not notice much difference in the play under the new football rules as used by the Grizzlies in the game. The use of hands was not watched particularly close by the officials. Tackling was hard, generally low and effective.

The rule that when a knee touches the ground causes the ball carrier to be called "down" did not stop piling up, although the piles were usually less deep than formerly. Oakes, however, gave them a series of verbal bombings for the piling.

The observer did not arrive on the field of combat in time to see the kickoff. Little John described it thus: "One man bent over the ball while on the trot pace with 10 fellow skirmishers in front. One man picked up the pesky ovoid, wrapped himself around it and was just getting started behind four or five convays when a meany swept the ball carrier's feet to one side, leaving the boy fall to the ground." The observer decided not to pursue the questioning any farther.

Adams Sets Dates For Two Tournaments

Golfers and Tennis Players Will Try For School Championships

Eligibility rules for the all-school tennis singles tournament will permit anyone who is registered in school to compete regardless of the number of years that person has played in the past. Only eligible men, however, will represent the State University in the State Intercollegiate Golf and Tennis tournament to be held May 5 and 6.

Registration for the tennis championship closes Wednesday and all men who intend to compete must have their entry blanks in on or before that date. Blanks may be obtained from Harry Adams, director of intramural and minor sports athletic competition, at his office in the men's gymnasium. Entrants for the all-school golf championship must have their names in on or before Wednesday, April 20, and play will begin Saturday morning, April 23. The persons selected to represent the State University in the State Intercollegiate meet will be selected from the eligible winners.

Any further information concerning these tournaments may be obtained from Harry Adams.

Robert Lacklen withdrew from school yesterday to return to his home in Billings. With his parents he will leave soon on a month's visit to Atlantic City and will not return to the State University until next fall.

An intimate glimpse of politics from behind the scenes will be offered members of the Press club tomorrow evening in the review of "The Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens," which will be given by Philip O. Keeney, librarian at the State University.

Another feature on the program has been planned, Eddie Astle, president of the club, said yesterday, but it will be in the nature of a surprise. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Verne McCann and Geraldine Ede were Sunday dinner guests at the Kappa Delta house.

Concert Pleases

Lowndes Maury Composition Finds Appreciative Audience At Sunday Concert

Missoula people and State University students were delighted with the concert presented by the State University Symphony orchestra Sunday afternoon in Main hall auditorium. "Concerto in E Flat Major," the original composition of Lowndes Maury, State University graduate, especially pleased his listeners with its maturity and finish and the masterful way in which Maury himself interpreted it, assisted by the orchestra.

One of the features which added interest to the orchestra's excellent rendition of the "Overture to Goethe's Egmont" was the explanation of the movement given by Prof. A. H. Weisberg before its presentation. The theme of the overture—the Holland people's unhappiness under tyrannical government, the execution of Egmont, their leader, and the eventual freedom of the people—also formed the subject of Prof. F. C. Scheuch's talk on Johann Wolfgang von Goethe. The whole program was given as a part of the international celebration in honor of the bicentennial of Goethe.

Violin solos by Luella Head, Kathryn Bailey, Jean Smith and Pauline Ritchey were well received, and "Largo from the Concerto for Two Violins," Bach, played by Russell Watson and Mary Shope Davis, was especially enjoyed.

Improvement of Study Methods Is Aim of Committee Which Clark Heads

Prof. W. P. Clark of the State University was appointed chairman of the council for the promotion and improvement of the study of Latin in schools and colleges of the Inland Empire association at its convention in Spokane last week. The council will formulate plans for the improvement of study methods and endeavor to institute them in all member schools of the association.

"The speakers on the program at the convention were exceptionally good and each gave a very interesting talk," said Professor Clark. Some of the speakers on the main program were: Judge Lawrence Allen of Ohio; Dr. Ernest Horn of the University of Iowa and Dr. N. C. Hoff of St. Charles college, Helena.

Dr. Horn also addressed the classical section of the convention, of which Professor Clark was chairman. On the subject of "The Problem of Learning to Read Languages." In his talk he stated that very often failure of students to grasp a subject was due to their inability to read understandingly. Dr. Horn is in the Department of English at the University of Iowa but his work is similar to that of the foreign language section.

While in Spokane Professor Clark visited with many friends from the various schools and colleges in the northwest, two of whom were Prof. W. M. Reed of Washington university and Prof. H. L. Axtel of the University of Idaho. Professor Clark returned to Missoula last Thursday.

Publication Creates Favorable Comment

Word has been received by the Department of English from Prof. B. E. Thomas, associate professor of foreign languages who is on sabbatical leave this year. Professor Thomas is studying at the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Professor Thomas states that he has received all the copies of the Frontier that have been sent to him, and has read them with a great deal of interest. He has shown the magazine to several of the professors at adison, and states that they have been favorably impressed with it, and may subscribe to the magazine.

"The reputation of the State University of Montana on the Wisconsin campus is exceedingly good; the students we have sent here all have made good to a degree above the average, if reports are to be credited," stated Professor Thomas.

Professor Thomas is enjoying his work this year immensely and states he wishes he had another year at his disposal in which to finish up the work he is doing.

Neil Eplin, Thompson Falls, and Bob Bell, Polson, both residents of South hall, spent Sunday at the latter's home in Polson.

Mensuration Class Works on Problem

Revenue from Timber Area Near Here Will Be Figured by Foresters

A new problem in school work, that of determining what revenue can be obtained on a 2,700-acre area, is being worked out by the mensuration class of the School of Forestry. The scene of the research is that part of Pattee canyon which includes all of the military reservation and all lands north of Clark's Fork divide. The problem is to be completed in June, 1933.

The class in forest mensuration is now collecting data to be used in forest regulation, forest finance, logging engineering and grazing management. The computation of all field data will be completed next year. The final data will be compiled into a forest working plan covering all phases of technical forestry.

The class is divided into crews of two men, each crew covering a little more than four hundred acres.

In addition to the above work, the forest problems class consisting of six men, is working on sample plots to determine the rate of growth of various species, with regard to the rapidity with which cut-over areas may be seeded up and the mortality of different trees with varying degrees of thinning. This class is also studying the feasibility of changing the type from one species to another. The purpose of this work is to determine the most practical means of managing stands so as to produce the greatest possible revenue.
