Construction of Student Union Building Reported By Engineer-Inspector

Edifice Will Be the Largest on Campus, Inasmuch as it is Thirty Feet Wider and Ten Feet Taller Than the Library; Concrete For the First Floor Has Been Finished

Taller, longer and wider than any building on the state university campus, the Student Union structure west of the library, upon its completion next June, will be as modern as any Union building in the nation. More than 18 per cent of the work has now been completed, M. Leland Kingsley, resident engineer-inspector for PWA, said yesterday.

The first floor in the Union part of the building has been laid. The view from this floor indicates how large the building, which the resident engineer-inspector says is slightly longer, 30 feet wider and 10 feet higher than the library, will be. The library is now the largest building on the campus.

Steps Now Being Laid

The steps leading into the building from the west are now being laid and the balcony-supports are being placed. The third floor is to be given over to a great ballroom directly over the theater and to two other smaller dancing rooms over the Student Union part of the building. Here, if they wish, social groups may give their dances without paying rental fees. On either side of the large dance hall are wings facing the east and west where Mr. Kingsley says, students may sit and talk if they do not care to dance.

Plans of the building may be examined in the small office west of the Student Union construction. The plans include a ground floor, and first, second and third floors for the southern part of the building which is exclusively devoted to the students and their activities. On the north side the theatre is composed of a ground floor, the theater, a balcony, and finally the ball room. The large dance room directly above the theatre is on the same level as the third floor in the southern part of the building.

Little Theatre plans include specifications for a seating capacity of approximately fourteen hundred persons (inclusive of balcony and lower floor) and a large stage. There will be also a motion picture projection room.

Extraordinary plans have been made, Mr. Kingsley said, to make the theater acoustically perfect.

Exits from the Little Theatre number eight. There will be three large entrances (leading from Maurice avenue) into the theatre foyer. There will be two northern entrances, one near the stage, one eastern entrance (also backstage), and two entrances on the north. These entrances lead into the Student Union section.

Approximately forty-five men are employed on the project. This number, however, is variable. They work 30 hours weekly.

Reference Books Purchased Here For Library Use

Volumes Are Obtained to Meet Needs of Students in Introductory Science Courses

To meet the needs of the large number of freshmen enrolled in introductory courses in biological science, approximately two hundred fifty new reference books have been placed on the shelves in the library reading room, at an approximate cost of seven hundred fifty dollars. Each student enrolled in these courses is charged a textbook fee, which covers the expenditure.

Thirty-five copies of "The Science of Life," by H. G. Wells, Julian Huxley and George Wells, are included in the new group of books, each copy costing approximately ten dollars.

Introductory courses in biological science include lectures in geology by Dr. C. F. Deles, in botany by Dr. J. W. Levery and in zoology by Dr. G. F. Himmans. The large classes have made necessary the use of Main hall auditorium and the Little Theatre as lecture rooms in addition to the auditorium accommodations in the natural science building.

Total enrollment in the two departments of biology and botany has reached the 600 mark.

Thursday dinner guests at Kay Brallkill's home were Mary Lou Toim, Kathleen Holmes, Helen Bateman, one Day, Doris Albert and Jane Leonard.

Commercial Group Has First Meeting

Plans Are Discussed for Luncheon of Business Ad Students

A meeting of Omicron chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, men's national professional commercial fraternity, was held in Craig hall Wednesday night. Andreas Grande, president of the local chapter, welcomed the members back to school.

William Harris, vice-president, who is in charge of pledges, spoke on plans for pledging. Plans were discussed for a luncheon which will be given in the near future. It is intended that this will serve as a get-together for all men majoring in business administration.

Former Student Attains National Law Distinction

Carl McFarland Is Winner in Ross Essay Prize Contest; Was Active on Campus

Through a recent communication between Carl McFarland, '27, and Professor Paul C. Phillips of the department of history and political science, it has been learned that McFarland has been awarded the Ross essay prize from the American Bar association. McFarland's essay, which has been in preparation since he was a student of political science and law at the state university of Montana is titled "Administrative Agencies in Government and Constitutional Limitations."

Among other of McFarland's achievements is the recent publication at Harvard university of his book "Judicial Control of the Federal Trade and Interstate Commerce Commission."

McFarland, who is now special assistant to the solicitor general of the United States Department of Justice, achieved distinction while a student at the state university of Montana where in 1929 he received his L.L.B. from the law school and M.A. in political science. While doing graduate work here McFarland was also editor of the "Montana Alumnus" from 1927 to 1930.

As an undergraduate he was secretary to the president of the university, was debate manager for two years and manager of the "Law Review" in 1926 and 1927. McFarland is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Feud Imminent

Barristers Declare Wrath Towards Musically Inclined French Students.

The last strains of the immortal "Marseilles" died away to a discordant wail in the sickening jargon of sophomoric French. Resentment and vengeance in a truly legal manner was quick to follow.

French 13b class members arrived in class the day following their musical efforts to discover a pained and indignant epistle from the lawyers begging them to remember that after all the law building was primarily for the use of students of law and would the French students please refrain from inflicting themselves, or rather their voices, upon said students.

Not to be outdone, French students have posted a retort on the law school bulletin board inviting the lawyers to join them in rendering this most famous of all national anthems and stating that under no conditions will they refrain from exercising their vocal cords.

At the time this goes to press, students of law are framing a cutting, blasting denunciation of all parlyvoos.

Inside information has it that lemonade at 10 paces may be expected at any time. Bets may be placed at the law school. At the present time, odds are in favor of the lawyers but are fast evening.

School Orchestra Starts Rehearsal

With 42 members present, the largest number ever enrolled in the state university symphony orchestra, the first rehearsal was held in the music room at Main hall, Wednesday evening.

After the rehearsal, Harriet Gillespie, president of the orchestra club, made a short address, explaining organization and plans of the club for the coming year.

Grizzly Club Will Tackle Uclan Team

Injuries Hit Squad As They Leave For Tough Football Game At Los Angeles

With two more injuries suffered in the last practice session, the Grizzly football squad left Wednesday for Los Angeles where they tackle the strong U. C. L. A. team tomorrow at the Coliseum. Thirty-three Grizzlies made the trip, accompanied by Coach B. F. Oakes and his staff.

The Montana team is playing the heaviest team in the coast conference, and the chances to win have been further handicapped due to injuries. However, as Game-Captain George Sayatovich said before leaving, "Win, lose or draw, the Grizzlies will be in there fighting until the last whistle."

State university students gathered Wednesday afternoon on Dornblaser field for a rally just before the team started its long trek to California, and gave the men a rousing send-off as they took their last workout before they hit California soil. The team will travel via Salt Lake City and will arrive in Los Angeles today in time to practice either at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena or the Coliseum in Los Angeles.

The U. C. L. A. team is greatly improved since its loss to Oregon, and will be pointing to Montana for another conference victory. They are regarded as one of the best squads in the conference and are still given an outside chance to win the title this season.

Grizzlies who made the trip were Rhinehart, Heller, Brandenburg, Hartzell and Dickson, ends; Babich, Carter, Carpenter, Cosgrove, Rader and Newgard, tackles; Anderson, Pintarel, Farnum, Sullivan, Zemke, Wilcox and Pickett, guards; George Kuka and Sayatovich, centers; Emery, Blastic, Burg, Hileman, Holmquist, Vesel, Story, Whittinghill, Kent, Bonawitz, Caven and Olson, backs. Farnum and Blastic received injuries just before they left and may not see action Saturday.

Those who accompanied the team were Coach B. F. Oakes, Manager Malcolm Stotts, Trainer Leonard Kuka, Kirk Badgley and Dean J. E. Miller.

Students Chosen For First Year Advanced Army

Fourteen Upperclassmen Are Selected For Leadership and Ability in Scholarship

Last spring, 14 students were chosen out of the second year basic military science classes to compose the first year advanced class.

These men were chosen because of their ability to act as a leader and because of their scholastic standing in the military science department.

Those chosen are Benny Bergeson, Billings; Leighton Downing, Missoula; James Freeburg, Portland, Ore.; E. K. Haugen, Missoula; Lawrence Labitt, Hardin; Jack Lubrecht, Bonner; Morris Newgard, Kalispell; Jerry Raggsdale, Columbus; Bob Rickert, Butte; Webster Searles, Missoula; Ben Taylor, Troy; George Van Noy, Lewistown; Robert Zeidler, Plentywood, and Hubert Zemke, Missoula.

At the beginning of this quarter, these men took a physical examination at Fort Missoula, which they had to pass in order to take the advanced military course.

Every summer the first year advanced class spend six weeks training at Fort George Wright on the outskirts of Spokane, Wash.

Allard Will Head Law Association

Bernard Allard, Butte, was elected president, and W. D. Murray, Butte, vice-president of the law school association at an election held October 10.

Clagot Sanders, Missoula, was elected secretary-treasurer; George Nievoehner, Harlem, sergeant-at-arms, and an honor committee consisting of Newell Gough, Missoula; Stanley Trachta, Kevin, and Howard Gullickson, Missoula, was elected.

Plans for a smoker to be held in the near future were discussed.

Kenneth Davis, '32, was a recent campus visitor.

Bozeman Refuses Beard Challenge

Duff Receives Word from Student President at State College

Word was received yesterday that the state college would not accept the beard-growing challenge the university Traditions committee put before them.

Kenneth Duff, A. S. U. M. president, received a telegram from Edward Howard, president of the Associated Students of the state college, saying that the state college student body was unanimously against the beard-growing contest because of their homecoming game with the Colorado Teachers, October 27.

Freshman Team Turnout Praised By Lewandowski

Yearlings Put Up Strong Opposition In Scrimmage With Varsity; Studies Come First

"There are still 56 freshmen football players out, most of whom I presume will stay out until the end of the season," said Freshman Football Coach A. J. Lewandowski yesterday. "There are several yet who will come out, and several who cannot come out, due to conflicts with other college activities."

There are also several men out not eligible for the freshman team who assist in the scrimmages against the varsity. These men have considerable credit due them as they have no hope of receiving freshmen awards and are out merely to fit themselves for the team next year. Among the ineligible who practice nightly are William Flynn, Joe Forzley, Marvin Fletcher, L. A. White, Lloyd Brownlow, George Erickson, Danny Crowley, Willy Sagin and Bill Pierce. All have a great deal of football experience and will help build a stronger Grizzly squad.

"The freshmen are, with such little practice, to be complimented upon the excellent opposition they have given the varsity during every scrimmage. They have undoubtedly helped in forming a competent squad and the competition furnished by them has been of highly beneficial type," Coach Lewandowski said by way of announcing his appreciation for their work.

Every man turning out for freshman football should report on the field promptly at 3:30 o'clock every day in order that practice may be finished on time. Studies come first, however, and Coach Lewandowski prefers that a player miss practice before he allows his grades to become low. A player must be eligible before he can make the team and grades are the most important factor in becoming eligible.

Declares Instructor After Attending Summer Session at U. S. C.

"I had a wonderful time," declared Mrs. Brenda Wilson, instructor in the school of business administration, speaking of her graduate work at the University of Southern California summer session. Since her return to the state university she has resumed her position as an instructor in the school of business administration.

Leaving Missoula at the close of the summer school session here, Mrs. Wilson spent the following three weeks in Los Angeles in the U. S. C. department of business administration. Professor Benjamin R. Haynes, author of commercial textbooks was Mrs. Wilson's instructor in these classes.

Before her return to the state university Mrs. Wilson visited the University of California at Los Angeles campus and later in Berkeley, the University of California. She also spent some time at the Armstrong School of Business which is near the University and affiliated with it. While in San Francisco, Mrs. Wilson visited the Gregg Shorthand offices and Munson's Business college.

Central Board Charters Club for New Musical; Shaw Named Manager

Hi-Jinx to Be Replaced By All-University Show; Participants Form Membership of Organization; Plans for Freshman Rooter Section in East Bleachers Made

Dick Shaw, Missoula, was appointed manager for the 1934 all-university musical show at a meeting of Central board last Tuesday afternoon. Shaw will work with Barnard Hewitt and Dean DeLoss Smith on this production. Central board also granted a charter to an organization that is to be made up of students gaining points in the all-university show which supplants Hi-Jinx. Following is the temporary constitution for the club:

Forestry Honorary Pledges Eight Men

Druids Bld Juniors at Wednesday Evening Business Meeting

Druids, honorary forestry society, met at Professor J. H. Ramskill's home last Wednesday evening, October 10, at 7:30 o'clock.

Lelf Anderson, Dillon; Tom Brierley, Missoula; Jack Buckhous, St. Ignace; Louis Demorest, Chicago, Ill.; Wilfred Dressell, Rosalia, Wash.; James Hennings, Evanston, Ill.; Robert Myers, Missoula, and Stanley Miller, Missoula, juniors in the school of forestry, were bid to membership at the meeting.

The officers of the club are as follows: Dick Gallup, Sunburst, president; Lester Robbins, Brockway, Mass., vice-president; Wesley Hardin, Whitehall, secretary, and Lloyd Hague, Missoula, treasurer. Orville Sparrow, Anaconda, corresponding secretary, did not return to school. Another corresponding secretary will be elected at the next meeting, October 24, at which time the club will hold initiation.

Cards Admit All Students To One-Acts

A. S. U. M. Activity Tickets Permit Bearers to Witness Initial Masquers' Production

Student A. S. U. M. tickets only are necessary for admittance to the Masquers' one-act play presentation on October 18 and 19. There will be no reserved seats.

The first play, "Gloria Mundi," a serious drama by Patricia Brown, won the first prize in French's National Little Theatre tournament held in New York City in 1925. A waiting room in an insane asylum is the scene of the play, which is directed by Orville Skones.

A. C. Herbert, English author of "The Double Demon," calls his play "An absurdity in act." The action takes place in an English courtroom where 11 women and one man are trying a case. The cast is coached by Marion Erickson.

"The Golden Doom," by Lord Dunsany, is a fantastic satire, wholly imaginary as to time and place although the atmosphere is Oriental. All action takes place "outside the King's great door, some while before the fall of Babylon." Robert Bates is directing this play for which costumes are being especially made.

Mountaineers Hold Monthly Campfire

Students Invited to Attend Picnic In Spring Gulch Tonight

An invitation has been extended to any students who desire to attend the monthly moonlight picnic and campfire given by the Montana Mountaineers tonight in Spring Gulch. There is no expense, but those attending are asked to bring their own lunches.

Hikers will meet at the Van Buren street bridge, north of the campus, at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon for the one-mile walk eastward along the river to Spring Gulch. Those wishing to go by car at 5:30 o'clock should call Mrs. E. M. Little and arrange for transportation.

Professor Edward M. Little will lead those who wish to hike to the gulch.

Alpha Phi commemorated its seventh Founders' Day with a buffet dinner Thursday evening. Guests were Dorothy Markus, Helen Brumwell, Eileen Sinton, Jane McLaughan and Eleanor Miller.

Name—The name of this organization shall be determined at a later date by contest.

Purpose—(a) The purpose of the organization shall be to produce each fall quarter an all-university musical show.

(b) Purpose is also to further promote and encourage new talent for said show.

Membership—Section I: Members shall be active and associate.

Section II: Active membership shall be awarded to those earning 15 points.

Section III: Associate membership shall be awarded to those earning 10 points.

Section IV: Points shall be determined by a membership committee with the approval of the faculty director.

Officers—Officers shall be a president, a vice-president and a secretary, responsible to A. S. U. M.

Meetings—Meetings shall be held whenever necessary.

A contest will be held for naming the new club. Prize for winning title will be "two best seats in the house" for this year's show.

A Routers' club is to be formed with freshmen as charter members. Officers are to be elected as soon as possible. All freshmen who buy varsity routers' caps will be eligible for the club and may sit in the center section of the east bleachers, which is to be the student rooting section. Those not wearing routers' caps may not sit in that section.

Du Pont Works Employs Three University Grads

D. E. Kvalnes, H. M. Kvalnes Have Received Doctor Degrees in Chemistry

Dr. J. W. Howard, professor of chemistry at the state university, was recently informed that H. M. Kvalnes, D. E. Kvalnes and C. D. Wilson, graduates of the state university, receiving their degrees in chemistry, are now employed at the Du Pont chemical works at Wilmington, Delaware.

H. M. Kvalnes, who received his degree from the state university in 1925, has a Doctor's degree from the University of California, and D. E. Kvalnes, '27, received his Doctor's degree from the University of Minnesota. C. D. Wilson, '30, is also doing work for a Doctor's degree at Pennsylvania State college.

Dr. D. E. Kvalnes has been employed as National research worker at Harvard university for the last two years, having been awarded a fellowship at that institution.

Fraternity Touch Schedule Started

Several good games have been played in the Interfraternity touch football league already although teams have been practicing only a short time.

In the first game of the season, the Phi Sigs proved themselves competent in winning decisively from the A.T.O.s by a score of 13-0. The game was slow and uninteresting, with no long runs and no close competition. The D.S.L.s measured Sigma Nu in a rough game by a 6-0 score to complete the first day's games.

Wednesday, Phi Delta Theta trimmed S.A.E., 14-0, in a rough game, and the Independents lost to S.P.E. by default.

Thursday, Sigma Nu, largely through the excellent running of Gene Davis, won 41-0. Sigma Chi, in a closely-contested, well-played game, won from D.S.L., 7-0.

Martha Kimball, '34, is teaching in the high school in Red Lodge, Montana.

MILITARY TRAINING FOR YOU

Every year, at this time, new students and old join in the often-sung anvil chorus, deriding the military training which is maintained by the state university. There are many students who forego the "beefing," and there are many who actually look at the R. O. T. C. drills with pleasure, but there are also many who are continually bewailing the fact that they are subjected to the training.

Compulsory military training in all land grant colleges has been established, and the United States Army has built an efficient set-up. Funds and instructors are furnished by the military department, and thousands of students throughout the country benefit from the military training they receive. In spite of all the training and character building that the students receive, there is a group in every school that resents the R. O. T. C.

We believe that this is the wrong attitude for students to take. Think of it this way. Every student who enters military training under the R. O. T. C. learns a great many facts that are not only useful for later reference, but are useful in everyday life. Military training builds character, strengthens the body, and the mind, and has made many students more manly than they were when they entered.

It is our belief, too, that if military training were not compulsory, it would be more popular. If the men who were taken in were selected carefully, more students would want to enlist while in school. If that is the case, why not remember it when looking upon the R. O. T. C. as a demon that robs students of their freedom and recreation?

When you are worrying about your having to enlist for military training, think of the benefits you receive from R. O. T. C. instead of the duties you have to perform. Look at it as a help and a guide instead of as an obstacle, and get into the spirit instead of sulking.

Co-ed Prom Eliminated This Season

Ruth Polleys Gives Outline of Rules Which Govern Freshman Women's Dates

Ruth Polleys, Missoula, president of the Associated Women Students of the state university, has announced that Co-ed prom will not be held this year. At a recent meeting, she outlined rules governing dates for freshman women.

Co-ed prom, formerly an annual Big and Little Sister party, has been eliminated from the campus social program for this fall because of lack of enthusiasm on the part of upperclass women. A vote of A. W. S. representatives taken at the second meeting, Monday, October 8, showed an almost unanimous rejection of the proposed dance. It was last held in 1931.

The executive board states that freshman women shall not have dates on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday at all, and not until 4 o'clock on Friday during fall and winter quarters. Those entering the dormitories as freshmen shall abide by freshman rules during the entire year.

Bob Myers, Missoula, and George Roskie, Billings, juniors in the forestry school, registered Saturday. They have both been working in the forest service.

Contents of Frontier and Midland For Winter Issue Are Announced

Record of President Garfield's Western Travels Feature of Publication; Noted Writer Praises Magazine

Dr. E. Douglas Branch, managing editor of the Frontier and Midland, has announced that the winter issue of this northwestern magazine will be on sale, December 1. Among the well-known contributors to Frontier and Midland is Elma Godchaux who is presenting her short story, "Heat Lightning," in the forthcoming issue. "Heat Lightning" is the fourth contribution by Elma Godchaux to appear in Frontier and Midland. The story concerns the interesting psychological idiosyncrasies of a much-loved young woman of the Louisiana delta.

"Boom Town," by Paul Eldridge, whose "Old Settlers' Reunion" appeared in the autumn issue of Frontier and Midland, is a story of the Oklahoma oil fields and their effect on youth in the boom towns.

Outstanding Stories

Joan Nold's initial story, "The Sheep" is an unusual, virile painting of Christ. The people of a small midwestern town are splendidly portrayed. "The Blessed Robert," by Donald MacRae is the story of a college professor and a German tourist who, over a keg of beer, find strange interrelations. Editors of Frontier and Midland assert that this is one of the most remarkable short stories which has appeared in this magazine.

In the pages devoted to poetry will be found a group of five poems by Jason Bolles. Mr. Bolles, whose home is in Bozeman, has long been considered one of the leading poets of the state. "Spring Evening: The Oilway Smile" by Claude W. Derehelt of Sauk City, Wis., is, in the words of Dr. Branch, a rare "epic fragment."

In the "Open Range" department of Frontier and Midland appears Stanley Seacore's second installment of "The Six Matched Huskies" taken from his forthcoming autobiography. These extracts concern the story of a team of Alaskan sled dogs.

Travel Journal

A hitherto unpublished journal of President Garfield's record of western travels in 1876 will appear in the historical section.

Outstanding among the list of noted writers who accorded the autumn issue of Frontier and Midland, one of the most cordial receptions yet received is the frequent writer of many short stories—Albert R. Wetjen. Mr. Wetjen says, "Frontier and Midland is not only the best of the magazines that are making literary history, but also the sanest. In their enthusiasm and in their undoubted sincerity to invigorate American prose and verse, many of the little magazines come perilously close to running amuck. Frontier and Midland never loses its head, and on the other hand never buries it. It is my personal belief that much of the most important and significant work being done in this country appears in the pages of this publication."

An offer has been extended by Frontier and Midland to university students and Greek-letter organizations to purchase an annual subscription at a discount of one-third. This price will be $1, the usual cost of the four issues being $1.50. Subscriptions may be obtained at Room 101 in the state university library.

Pressure of Other Work Forces Her Resignation at Mass Meeting

Election of Freshmen delegates to the Independent council and the resignation of Vivian Bower, Tarkio, president of the organization, were the developments demanding Barb attention this week.

Miss Bower resigned because of the pressure of other work, notably her presidency of W. A. A., Thursday night. On the preceding day Anice Dolf, Missoula, and Ben Morris, Missoula, were named freshman delegates to Independent council. Their election took place at a mass meeting presided over by Dick Shaw, Missoula, a member of the council.

YOU'LL ENJOY this thrilling response in your flow of energy!

"Even the greatest writers are supposed to find writing a hard task, and if you ever have to do any writing you know just how hard a time the rest of us, who don't aspire to genius, have in expressing ourselves," says Douglas E. Jones, '36. "Majoring in English, I put as much energy into writing as a man would use up in heavy physical labor. When I feel played out I smoke a Camel. Camels give me a real snapback in energy. They are so mild that I can smoke all I want without upsetting my nerves."

You, too, will like Camel's matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Mild—but never flat or "sweetish"—never tiresome in taste. You'll feel like smoking more... and you need not hesitate about it! For with Camels, you will find that steady smoking does not jangle the nerves.

Many Meets Are Being Planned By State University Track Squad

Grizzly Schedule Includes Drake Relays and Contests With Idaho, Montana Schools; Tentative Program Made

Members of the Grizzly track squad will find themselves much busier next spring quarter than previously if the present tentative schedule of meets is accepted. For the first time in the history of the university track teams, the Drake relay meet is scheduled in advance of the spring turnout. Last year, the first team to attend the relays from the university, attended both the Kansas relays at Lawrence, Kansas, and the Drake relays at Des Moines, Iowa, although it was not decided until the day before time to leave that the trip would be undertaken. This year, finances have been set aside for the trip to Des Moines for one sprint relay team and arrangements have been made for taking any team with a chance of winning.

Drake Relays in April

The Drake relays will be held approximately the last week in April and are at a better time than the Kansas relays, which will be held the week before. Both meets would be included in the trip except that the Kansas relays are too early to give the Grizzly runners time to become conditioned.

The annual Intercollegiate meet at Missoula will again be held, all collegiate institutions in the state being asked to participate. This meet will be held as in previous years, the Saturday after Interscholastic Track Meet, probably May 17. Last year the School of Mines, the state college and the state university were the only schools to participate, the Grizzlies winning the meet by a wide margin.

Although not yet definitely arranged, state college officials are thinking seriously of holding a relay meet, featuring relays from the 440-yard relay to a four-mile event but including specials, such as the 100-yard dash, the discus throw and other events in which excellent performers will participate. This meet will probably be held the week after the Intercollegiate meet and will be held at Bozeman.

The following week, the university will sponsor probably one of the most closely-contested meets to be held on Dornblaser field by two collegiate institutions. As it is the year for the powerful Idaho Vandals to come to the university and as they have won the last two dual meets by margins of two points and one point respectively, the coming contest promises to offer a first-class exhibition.

Conference Meet

The annual conference meet will be held in Seattle the last week in May and will be attended by the Grizzlies, although the entire squad will not make the trip. As in previous years, only those who have won events in a meet or have a good chance of scoring at the conference meet will be taken, with the exception of members of the mile relay team.

The exact dates of meets will not be set until a meeting of graduate managers during December, at which all schedules for track meets will be arranged.
