FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

More than 400 high school journalists and advisers are expected to attend the 15th annual Montana Interscholastic Editorial Association conference at Montana State University, Oct. 2-3.

Professional newsmen, MSU faculty members and experienced high school instructors will address delegates on newspaper and yearbook writing, editing and production, according to Dr. Warren Brier, MIEA adviser. The conference will be divided into separate sessions on newspapers and yearbooks.

The MIEA serves as headquarters for high school journalism activities aimed at promoting excellence and professionalism among high school journalists.

Speakers at the conference will include Frank Hull, Dillon; Mrs. Lois Elda Larson, Laurel; William Spahr, Great Falls; Sister Miriam Provo, Havre, and Mrs. Eva Stober, Belt, all high school publications advisers. Edward Dugan, Dean Rea and Philip Hess of the MSU journalism faculty will speak. Sam Reynolds, editorial writer of the Missoula Missoulian-Sentinel, will address the opening session of the conference.

Conference delegates will be guests of the University at the MSU-Utah State University football game on Saturday afternoon following the final MIEA session.
