U. C. L. A. Student Leader Is Ousted

John Burnside Is Author of Recent Letter Praising Grizzlies

The recent suspension of five University of California at Los Angeles students, including John Burnside, student body president, for alleged radical activities has aroused some interest on the Montana campus inasmuch as Burnside was the author of a letter to Kenneth Duff a short time ago.

In the letter, reprinted in part in the Kalimin of October 26, Burnside stated that the Grizzlies made a favorable impression on the U. C. L. A. campus because of their clean playing and likeable characteristics.

The five students were suspended for one year from friction had asserted being brought about by a student attempt to have forum meetings, at which political and other questions could be discussed, subject to undergraduate supervision rather than faculty control.

A protest meeting of 3,000 students followed the suspension action. The victims of the suspension orders said the charges were groundless.

Virginia Bode, Nan Divil, Alma Phelan and Rosemary O'Brien spent the week-end at their homes in Butte.

Freshman Class To Hold Election

Officers Will Be Named to Succeed
Temporary Heads

"Elections for officers of the freshman class will be held Wednesday afternoon, November 5, at 4 o'clock in Main hall auditorium," Kenneth Duff, A. S. U. M. president, said recently. The officers elected at this time will serve for the balance of the year, taking the place of the temporary officers who were elected the last week in September.

As in the past, the incoming freshman class elected temporary officers at the beginning of the fall term and then, later in the quarter, another election is held at which the permanent officers are chosen. This is done so that the freshmen may become better acquainted with the prospective office seekers.

At the elections which were held in September, Peter Murphy, Stevensville, was elected president; Kathryn Albee, Deer Lodge, vice president, and June Blankenhorn, Great Falls, secretary-treasurer. There are going to be four class officers this year. Kenneth Duff said that the secretary-treasurer office is to be divided so as to make two offices instead of one. Kenneth Duff will take charge of the meeting.

Chicago College Sends Shipment Of Albino Mice

Rodents to Be Nucleus of Colony
For Experimental Work
In Biology Lab

Two shipments of white rats and mice were received Monday afternoon at the natural science building from the zoological laboratories of the University of Chicago. The animals, which are of a long-developed stock, will serve as a nucleus for a colony for experimental work in biology. They were donated to the state university by Dr. Carl R. Moore, chairman of the department of zoology at the University of Chicago.

The dozen big albino rats and two dozen mice will be used in experimental work on the effect of vitamins and hormones on vertebrates, by graduate students in biology.

The rats come from a stock which was used to found the Wistar Institute at Philadelphia, and the mice are from the laboratory of Dr. Maud Slye, associate professor of pathology at the University of Chicago. Dr. Slye, who is one of the most famous women in the world, has done much experimental work to determine the heredity of cancer. She was awarded a gold medal by the American Medical association and the rickets prize by the American Medical association and the North American Radiological society.

The animals, which were shipped by express, were placed on a train in Chicago Saturday evening and reached Missoula within forty-two hours. They made the journey in prepared cages and were provided with bedding and a balanced ration. They will be kept in cages in the natural science building and will be fed a carefully selected diet.

Rats and mice are the most valuable experimental animals because of being small and easily handled. Dr. G. F. Simmons, instructor in biology, said. Dr. Simmons has worked on vertebrate zoology at the University of Chicago and the University of Texas.

Questionnaires Sent To Workers Here

Employment Conditions Under FERA
Project Will Be Reported

Employment conditions of students in the state university are being examined this week. The reports will be based upon the answers submitted to questionnaires submitted to approximately two hundred sixty students who worked during October.

The final group of questionnaires are due by noon Saturday, Hazel Mumm, secretary of the Deans' council, said yesterday. They are being turned in to Phil Roberts, FERA timekeeper.

The questionnaire is designed solely as a means to keep the council informed as to the employment of students who do both FERA and other work. Following the reports, a survey may be made, Miss Mumm said.

Kathleen Harrington spent the week-end at her home in Butte.

HUSKY STORY IS PUBLISHED BY MAGAZINE

Frontier Will Print Extract
From S. Searce's
Autobiography

In response to the requests of many readers, "Frontier and Midland" will print in the winter issue another story by Stanley Searce. "The Six Matched Huskies" is a tale of dogs and adventure in Alaska. Those who have read the story say it is worthy of those written by Albert Payson Terhune. "The Six Matched Huskies" is an extract from Stanley Searce's autobiography, "Yukon! Yukon! and Youth!" This manuscript is the account of personal outdoor experiences of Mr. Searce since he left Kentucky for the Klondike region in 1897.

The huskies referred to in the forthcoming issue of "Frontier and Midland" form, according to Mr. Searce, the finest sled dog team in Alaska. The allegiance of the dogs to their master, the author, affords the readers of the story the thrills which are typical throughout the entire autobiography.

Jason Boles, professor in the English department at Montana state college, is taking the fore among Montana contributors for the winter issue of "Frontier and Midland." His presentation consists of a group of five poems.

Mr. Boles is remembered in Missoula as the speaker on "Montana Imagery" which was given at the writer's conference sponsored by the university, July 16-19.

Historical Works To Appear Soon In Booklet Form

Hazlitt Translation Was Published
By "Frontier and Midland"
In Recent Issues

The Larocque historical document translated in the "Frontier and Midland" by Ruth Hazlitt, a state university graduate, is to be reprinted as a single booklet, according to an announcement by Professor P. C. Phillips. The journal of Francois Antoine Larocque will appear in "Sources of Northwest History," published by the university.

Miss Hazlitt received her M.A. degree in history at the state university. She is now a teacher of French and history at the Laurel, Montana, high school. In addition to translating Larocque's journal from French to English, Miss Hazlitt gives explanatory notes of the accounts.

The first installment of Larocque's authentic journal was printed in the March issue of the "Frontier and Midland." The three-issue serial is in the form of a diary kept by Larocque who came into the northwest as a fur trader before the Lewis and Clark expedition was started. The May issue continued the adventures, on what is now Montana soil, of the early French trader. The autumn number concludes the account.

Grizzly Warriors Entrain for Eugene To Meet Oregon in Conference Clash

Montana Team Will Face Powerful Webfooters Saturday
In Effort to Defeat Strong Opponents

Twenty-seven Grizzly football players left Missoula yesterday afternoon bound for Eugene where they will tackle the Oregon Webfooters in an important Pacific coast conference game. Oregon has a powerful squad this year, and has lost only one game to the Washington Huskies, who are at present tied for the lead of the conference race with Washington State and Stanford. Last week, Oregon took a close game from Utah university by an 8-7 margin, and the Grizzly opponents will be out to restore some of their punch which has been lacking in past contests.

Last year, Oregon tied for the Pacific coast honors, and although they have lost one game, are still looked to as one of the most powerful football machines on the coast. The team is led by Frank Michak, a sophomore fullback, who is holding his own as a 1934 edition of Mike Mikulak, last year's ace. Michak is a better offensive player than Mikulak, and shows promise of developing into a defensive star as well.

Oregon Shift
Oregon this year uses a modified Notre Dame shift and that system has been difficult for opponents in past games. Montana has been working out since the Idaho loss, and expects to capitalize to some extent on the practice sessions of the past week.

Whitcomb Named Bear Paw Head

Bergquist, Brome Win Other Offices
As New Members Meet

New and old Bear Paws met in Main hall on Wednesday evening, October 31, at 8 o'clock, for election of officers and discussion of this year's program. P. J. Malone, ex-Chief Grizzly, was in charge of the meeting, and George Sayatovich, president of Silent Sentinel, senior men's honorary organization, explained the duties of the Bear Paws.

All active Bear Paws are urged to be in Butte for the Grizzly-Bobcat game to help with the parade and rally before the game. They are also asked to report at the gate at 1 o'clock Saturday to usher at the Cub-Bobkitten game.

New University Directory Ready For Press Soon

Final Call for Information Is Issued
By Registrar; Lists Will Be Posted Saturday

Posting of names for the student directory was completed today. Names of all students have been placed on huge boards in the first floor at Main hall.

Students are expected to examine the lists and make any changes—in pencil—which are necessary in order to make the enumeration of names correct. Special attention should be given to home and Missoula addresses, class ratings, departments and phone numbers, the registrar's office said.

The lists will be available in the lower hall all day Saturday and until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. They will be sent to the printers shortly after that time.

The registrar's office yesterday issued a final call for information concerning officers of campus clubs and associations. The following groups have not submitted the names of their officers: Traditions committee, Associated Women Students, senior class, junior class, sophomore class, Independent council, Interfraternity council, Pan-Hellenic council, economics club, home economics club, Bear Paws, Kappa Tau, Mortar Board, Phi Lambda, Tanager-of-Spur and Quadrons.

Student Directory is made up of the names of all students and faculty members, their home and Missoula addresses, phone numbers and departments. It also contains information concerning social and honorary groups, organizations and administration.

ALL-UNIVERSITY SHOW PLANS ARE NEARING FINAL STAGES AS NEW GROUP SEEKS NAME

Central Board Announces Contest With Prize of Two Loge
Seats for Winning Title; Production Goes
To Wilma Theater December 7

Anyone who takes part in the production and presentation of the all-university show, "The Desert Song," to be presented at the Wilma theater on December 7, will receive points toward becoming a member of the new club. This was Central board's decision at its last meeting.

The contest to find a name for the new club will close November 30, and the winner will be awarded the two best loge seats in the Wilma theater when the all-musical show is produced.

Rehearsals of the production are under way, and final selection of choruses will be made some time this week by Albert DeRae, dance director. In the meantime, all those who tried out are asked to be sure to report for every practice. Jocko Shenk, stage manager of the show, said that help was needed on the production staff, and anyone who wants to work on properties, costumes or makeup is asked to turn in his or her name to Dick Shaw or to the "Desert Song" office in the Little Theatre. The head of the costume committee is Lela Woodgerd, Missoula, and Virginia Lucy, Missoula, is chairman of the properties committee, assisted by Alma Phelan, Butte, and Lois King, Missoula. No one has yet been appointed head of the makeup committee.

Freshman students will be honored by the sophomore class November 24, at a dance in the men's gymnasium. The dance is given annually by the second-year organization. Ray Whitcomb, Baldwin Park, California, sophomore class president, announced that the dance will be the first state university all-date dance this year.

Freshmen will be given complimentary tickets. All other students may buy tickets from members of the ticket committee for 75 cents. Nat Allen's Montanans have been engaged to play. Freshman students will be informed later when and where they may receive tickets.

Members of the dance committee are: decorations—Ken Coughlin, chairman; Abe Thompson, Bob Higham, Neil Helly, Merritt Warden, Don Cowles and Frank Stanton. Chaparons—Jane Boden, chairman; Bob Lathrop, Bill Shallenberger, Clara Max Struble. Programs—Jean Koutos, chairman; Joyce Roberts, Esther Swanson, Katherine Flynn. Tickets—Bill Stolt, chairman; Joe Clemow, John Blair, Forrest Flashman, Larry Bowler, Dick Brome, Arthur Kuhlman and Joe Burns.

Prizes Announced
Walter Shaw, Missoula, will be sales manager of the tickets, which will be sold at several places on the campus and down town starting the last week in November. These tickets must be exchanged at the Wilma office for reserved seat tickets for the show. Student tickets are priced at 55 and 75 cents, all loge seats at $1.35, and townspeople will be admitted for 75 cents and $1.10. Roger Gratton, Missoula, is in charge of ticket sales for the fraternity houses and a woman to take care of the sororities will be appointed this week.

The Wilma theater is being used on a flat rental basis this year instead of the usual fifty per cent for the A. S. U. M. and fifty per cent for the Fox-Wilma.

May Start Tradition
Central board members said, "The new club which has been formed will be something worthwhile when its organization is complete and when it has a name to make famous. This club will amount to something, starting its career, as it is, with a show as big as 'The Desert Song.' No other school in this part of the west puts on a production as elaborate or requiring such an immense amount of work on costumes and scenery. If the show goes over with the degree of success with which it started, and if we can actually present 'big-time stuff' with the right touch, our new club will have something to stand on and hand down as a tradition on the Montana campus."

The idea of Central board is to have an organization similar to the Triangle club at Harvard. Cleverness, originality and novelty will be the basis of selection for the new club name.

Joimae Pollock, Missoula, has been made chairman of the committee which will pick the name from those submitted. Students are asked not to forget that the winner will receive $1.35 tickets for the two best seats in the house. The contest closes November 30.

Mixer Is Planned
By Pharmacy Club
Committees Are Chosen to Supervise
Private Dance of Students

A pharmacy school mixer was planned for Thursday evening, November 8, at a meeting of the Pharmacy club Tuesday afternoon. Three committees were appointed to take charge of arrangements.

On the music committee are Jimmie Adams and Armand Allen. The committee to secure the hall is Frank McArthur and Harold Kolhase, and those in charge of refreshments are Loris Brown and Winifred Keyes.

This mixer, which will be sponsored for pharmacy students and their guests, will be the first party of this kind to be given by the Pharmacy club, the previous mixers being public.

Monte Reynolds, former Grizzly grid star, saw Saturday's game between Idaho and Montana. Reynolds is coach at Virginia City.

Dr. C. H. Clapp Is Kept
From Work By Sickness
President C. H. Clapp is a patient at the Northern Pacific hospital where he went Monday to undergo an examination. He has been suffering from rheumatism.

Dr. Clapp has been feeling ill for some time, and decided that an examination was necessary. Officials in his office reported yesterday that they did not know when he would be back at work.

NOTICE

The Cub-Kitten game Saturday will be announced as was the Grizzly-Vandal game last Saturday. The Bear Paws will usher.

What Are Your Prospects?

That American industry is anxious to employ college men and that there is an increasing demand for the services of the most promising graduates despite the general unemployment was the statement made some time ago by Harvey G. Ellerd, personnel director of Armour and Company in a talk before representatives of a college press association meeting.

Mr. Ellerd stated that while big companies could not take care of all college graduates in this time of stress, most of them were employing as many as they could, because the directors of these companies were confident that college men could fit into the work that their concerns were doing. He also said that since 1932, 480 graduates of American colleges were added to the staff of his own company.

The speaker found, however, that most college graduates were afraid of two conditions—first, being asked to start at the bottom, and, second, being submerged in large companies and being unable to work ahead. He stated that most companies did not attempt to start collegians at the bottom as a method of hazing, but merely as a method by which they could learn the fundamentals of the business. Also, students from colleges were not submerged but their records and promotions were closely watched, and any signs of improvement were immediately rewarded.

It is our belief that many college students are not willing to try for their own work because they are afraid of the conditions Mr. Ellerd has defended. They do not think they should be given menial jobs at first, so they take the easier step of following their parents in business or stepping into a position that has already been made available to them. Of course, there are many students who do not come under this type, students who are forced to find any work they can get or those who, from choice, wait until they can find work in their chosen field. But this other type is evident among any undergraduate body, and these men go out after graduation attempting to find the easier way out.

Remember that your efforts both in and out of college are fully appreciated, and you will be given a chance to make your name if you will take the duties with the privileges. You can prepare yourself with the expectation of finding a job sometime after leaving school, but you must be prepared to work your way to the top. Your college diploma will not give you the top position at first, but it will be a bigger help than anything else if you apply yourself and try to make yourself a better and more capable person.

Our Intellectual Radicals

The recent suspension of five students from the University of California at Los Angeles for alleged radical activities within the student body again brings to mind the question of just how much radicalism is prevalent in colleges today. During the last presidential campaign, 200 Columbia students marched in a Thomas rally in New York carrying a banner which read, "Columbia professors may write Roosevelt's speeches but Columbia students vote for Thomas."

For the past decade or more the intellectual classes have been swinging to the radical left which was formerly the sole property of the "proletariat." Perhaps that is why the present depression has been marked by an attempt to bring about the "revolution" by political action rather than the militant action which has characterized former periods of economic unrest in this country, notably following the Civil war. But do these intellectuals and especially college students, turn to radicalism because they actually have a deep-rooted belief in its feasibility or is it to them, an exciting hobby, one which lends itself admirably to brilliant imaginations and forms an always interesting subject for intellectual bull sessions?

Whatta Memory!

Merrill Remembers Norris As Old High School Mate Despite New Initials

There may be magic in numbers and no coincidences when it comes to figuring out a problem. That is the deduction of Dr. A. E. Merrill of the mathematics department, but he showed a remarkable memory when he figured this one out.

Dr. Merrill was smoothly putting the bee on Captain G. B. Norris, newest addition to the R. O. T. C. staff, one late afternoon, in trying to cajole him into giving a talk before Missoula's Rotary club at a near future date when suddenly his mind not only associated the name of Norris with Rotary entertainment but also with an old high school chum. After much deliberating in his mind, he decided that the Norris he knew in Franklin Academy, Malone, New York, spelled his initials G. A., instead of G. B. Dr. Merrill said, "Of course, the right answer to this is that it was my old high school friend."

They both gave nine for the class of 1905.

Grizzly Cubs Prepare to Battle Bobkittens On Dornblaser Field Tomorrow Afternoon

Both Teams Have Won Even Number of Games and Will Be Fighting for Long End of Average

The Cub team, under the tutelage of Freshman Coach A. J. Lewandowski, is preparing to turn back the lighter Bobkitten team in their conflict tomorrow on Dornblaser field at 2 o'clock. "Brick" Breeden's Kittens come highly recommended and are determined to give the Grizzly yearlings a tough game.

In past years they have won seven games, and both teams will be fighting to be on the long end of the average after this year's conflict. The Cubs are anxious to revenge the 12-0 defeat handed them at Bozeman last year.

Cub Lineup

The probable starting lineup for the Cubs is Vanderzanden and Noyes, ends; Smart and Carpenter, tackles; Pomajevich and Westman or Robbins, guards; Bolton, center; Mariana, quarterback; Popovich and Shelton, halfbacks; and Szahach, fullback.

Others who will see action in the game are Harris, Florer, Martin and Kraft, ends; Shields, Sanders, Cyr and Lapham, tackles; Samuels, Youngquist, Cole, Salmonsen and Biehl, guards; Peak and Hunt, centers; Laridon and Powell, quarterbacks; Bushelle and Graves, fullbacks, and Fox, Roddebush, Leihy and Murphy, halfbacks.

The Bobkitten lineup will include Zimmerman, Corbin, E. Brown, Stromberg, Buzzetti and Ritchel, ends; Penttila, Kimberley, Paris, P. Peterson, Holdsworth and Greer, tackles; Archambault, Moore, Miller, Stannich, Wirtala and Crane, guards; Cline, Willis, Lewis and Barer, centers; Anderson, Allard and Conant, quarterbacks; Gill, Bruce, Oliver and Wirak, fullbacks; Bingham, Murphy, Feldman, Gorsich, Henderson, Merritt and Phillips, halfbacks.

Kittens Have Advantage

Having played one game, the Bobkittens have a slight advantage in that they will be better organized, while the Cubs have changed their plays each week so the Grizzlies could get practice.

Officials for Saturday's game are E. S. McGlone, Butte, referee; Harvey Elliot, Missoula, umpire; C. S. Porter, Missoula, head linesman, and Walter Scott, Butte, field judge.

George Long, graduate of the state university, who for the last summer was employed by the United States Bureau of Fisheries in making a survey of the lakes in Glacier park, recently accepted a position in the registrar's office at the state university.

Plans Made For Annual Swim Meet

Fraternities, Independents Train For Round-Robin Tourney This Month

Interfraternity competition in swimming will start November 14, according to an announcement from Harry Adams, director of intramural sports at the state university. The swimming meets will be run off with teams from each of the fraternities and from the Independents participating.

A round-robin series of dual meets to be completed the first week in December will make up the schedule, and a total of eight meets for each team will be necessary. All contestants entering competition against each of the other entrants. No estimate of the possible strength of the respective teams can be made as last year's winners are not eligible for competition, having won minor sports awards in swimming.

It is hoped that all possible contenders will start practice so that the meets may be run off on scheduled time with no delay this year.

Those wishing to try for the swimming team during winter quarter will find these meets an opportunity to get in shape. Their performance in the meets will count a great deal toward chances for the team which will be selected in the late fall or early winter quarter. The swimming team will compete with the Bobcat swimmers in the annual minor sports carnival held late in the winter term.

Unusual interest was shown in the meets last year which the Independents won, largely through the ability of Hennings, who later was high scorer in the contest with the state college. McArthur, a strong performer for the S. A. E. team last year, has not returned to school this fall.

State University Has Long Lead In Games Won

Grizzlies and Bobcats Getting Ready For Thirty-sixth Annual Football Classic

When Grizzly meets Bobcat a week from tomorrow in the annual grid classic at Clark Park in Butte, it will be the thirty-sixth meeting of the rivals for the football supremacy of the state. Since the first contest in 1897, the Grizzlies have triumphed over the Cats 22 times, and have lost eight times. Five games were ties.

The traditional feud was started in 1897 with a Grizzly victory, the state university administering a 18-6 defeat over the state college. The Grizzlies won the first three games, and the Bobcats triumphed for the next four years. In 1904, the Grizzlies won, but no games were played from 1905 to 1907. From 1908 to 1913, the schools instituted the plan of playing two games a year, one at Bozeman and one at Missoula. Of these games, the Grizzlies won six, the Bobcats, one, and two were scoreless ties. Only one game was played in 1910 and none in 1911. Later the towns alternated having the contest, and in 1926 the game was given to Butte, every conflict having been played there since that time.

The largest score ever made against the state college team by the Grizzlies was in 1904, when the state university won by a score of 79-0. The best Bobcat victory was in 1921, when they won 47-14. In the thirty-five contests the Grizzlies have amassed 519 points, while the Bobcats have totaled 251. The teams have fought three scoreless ties, and two contests have ended in 6-6 deadlocks.

How they scored: 1897, Grizzlies, 18-6; 1898, Grizzlies, 16-0; 1899, Grizzlies, 6-0; 1900, Bobcats, 12-11; 1901, Bobcats, 31-0; 1902, Bobcats, 30-0; 1903, Bobcats, 13-6; 1904, Grizzlies, 79-0; 1905, no game; 1906, no game; 1907, no game; 1908, first game, 0-0, tie, second game, Bobcats, 5-0; 1909, Grizzlies, 15-5 and 3-0; 1910, first game, 0-0, tie, second game, Grizzlies, 10-0; 1911, no game; 1912, Grizzlies, 39-3 and 7-0; 1913, Grizzlies 20-0 and 7-0; 1914, Grizzlies, 26-9; 1915, no game; 1916, 6-6, tie; 1917, Grizzlies, 9-7; 1918, no game; 1919, 6-6, tie; 1920, Grizzlies, 28-0; 1921, Bobcats, 47-14; 1922, Grizzlies, 7-6; 1923, Grizzlies, 24-13; 1924, no game; 1925, Grizzlies, 28-7; 1926, Grizzlies, 27-0; 1927, Grizzlies, 6-0; 1928, 0-0, tie; 1929, Bobcats, 14-12; 1930, Grizzlies, 13-6; 1931, Grizzlies, 37-6; 1932 Bobcats, 19-7; 1933, Grizzlies, 32-0.

Bernice O'Rourke, Helena, spent the week-end in Missoula and was a guest at Corbin hall.

:-: Sporty Vents :-:

The Grizzlies have a tough opponent this week-end when they play Oregon on that school's home field, and there is a possibility that the Webfoot will work the Montanans over plenty to get them in shape for the Bobcat game. Although Coach Oakes entertains no hopes for this coming battle, he would like a good showing at Eugene.

The big battle will be in Butte, November 10 when the Grizzlies and the Bobcats renew their traditional feud on Clark Park. Both teams have been taking it on the chin from their respective conference opponents this season, but the Butte game always sees both teams open up with everything they have.

Football is one sport in which the Grizzlies have always shown superiority, and the Bobcats are far behind in the number of games won since the teams opened their feud in 1897. Incidentally, that was the first year the state university had a football team, and they started things out right with an 18-6 win.

The last Bobcat victory was in 1932 when Edwards and Buzzetti co-operated to stop the Grizzlies by a 19-7 score. That victory was one of the upsets of the season and put later Bobcat teams in a confident mood. So Grizzlies will have plenty to worry about this year, for the Cats will be fighting every inch to repeat the 1932 romp.

One of the highlights of the Grizzly-Bobcat series came in 1904 when the state university team swamped the state college by a 79-0 margin, the biggest score ever made by either team. The Bobcats turned the tables in 1921 when they piled up their best victory of 47-14.

Another one of the big opponents for the 1934 Grizzly edition will be the Gonzaga Bulldogs who play here Thanksgiving Day. Gonzaga has one of the best teams in the history of the school and has piled up some enviable victories over high-class teams in the northwest.

The Bulldogs' biggest threat this year will be Ike Peterson, who is being pushed for all-American honors by Spokane fans. Peterson didn't do much damage last year when the Grizzlies upset Gonzaga, but, according to reports, he will be a hard man to watch on the field this season.

Gonzaga has two capable boys on their squad this year who are going at full speed with the Spokane club, but they should be Montana talent.

Those two are a couple of Missoula men—"Butch" Madsen and Ray Olson.

Both of them have lived in Missoula, but both went to other schools for their high school training and collegiate careers. Madsen is a small but capable back, while Olson is one of the leading ground-gainers and scorers on the squad.

Interfraternity touch football is closed for another year, but the Greeks and Independents will battle it out soon for the state university swimming honors. This is one sport at the school that always gets a big play from the intramural stars, and it is one that provides talent for the Grizzly swimming team.

Last year, the Independents won the meet and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon team was right behind them. But those two teams have lost their big stars, Hennings of the Independents, and McArthur of the S. A. E.s having won letters in swimming.

The Cubs and the Bobkittens renew their fight on Dornblaser field tomorrow in what promises to be a stiff clash. As both teams supply plenty of varsity material to the Grizzlies and the Bobcats, the game should be well worth seeing.

Such players as Carpenter, Robbins, Pomajevich, Bolton, Morris, Peak, Smart, Noyes, Vanderzanden, Leihy and Martin will hold up the line play of the Cubs and support the backfield efforts of Mariana, Laridon, Popovich, Szahach, Shelton, Fox, Kraft, Murphy and others.

At this game, fans will get their first opportunity to see the material that will make up Montana's newest athletic team, the cross-country squad. These runners will make their appearance between halves of the Cub-Kitten game and will try out for positions on the squad that will meet the Bobcat team in Butte, November 10.

Cross-country used to be quite a sport at Montana, and teams were sent from here to compete in the Pacific Coast conference meets. Arnold Gillette, one of Montana's ace distance men, was captain of one of these teams and led them to a conference title in 1927.

While the Grizzlies and Cubs prepare to settle their differences with the state college rivals, football interest in other parts of the country is settling on several teams that seem to have things their own way this season. Those teams which seem headed for national leadership on the gridiron are Minnesota, Army, Navy and Notre Dame.

The Gophers have the best machine in the country according to reports from Big Ten opponents, and they are rated as the best team among the many good ones. Minnesota will not have a chance at the Rose Bowl this year, however, because of a Big Ten ruling prohibiting post-season games.

Webfoot Football Team Has Many Stars This Year

Oregon's Record Shows Four Wins And One Loss; Grizzlies To Meet Them

When Coach B. F. Oakes and his Grizzlies meet the Oregon Webfoot at Eugene this week-end, they will be matching their ability against one of the most enigmatic teams of the Pacific Coast conference this year. The Webfoot have won from tough teams by big scores and have turned around only to lose or squeeze out over others, but, despite this, have one of the most feared if not one of the best teams in coast circles.

After going through the 1933 season in championship style and winding up sharing the Pacific Coast conference honors with Stanford, the Webfoot started this year minus many of their big stars. A record of their scores this year shows that they have won from U. C. L. A. by a 26-3 margin; beat Idaho, 13-6; Gonzaga, 13-0, and Utah, 8-7. Their only loss this season was at the hands of Washington by a 16-6 margin.

This year Oregon started the season minus the talent of Hughes, their big center, and Mike Mikulak, the all-coast fullback of 1933, but have done plenty of work with the veterans on the team this year. Some of the big aces on Oregon's club this year are Bob Parke, co-captain and one of the team's leading ground-gainers; Ralph Terjeson, one of the best blockers on the team; Maury Van Vleet, a shifty ball-carrier; Frank Michak, fullback, and Ray Lopez, who plays left half. Some of the others who will see action against the Grizzlies are Budd Jones, a husky letterman who plays end; Alex Eagle, giant tackle; co-captain "Butch" Morse, an end, and Reischman, a transfer from St. Martin's college.

B. W. Hewitt Announces Ticket Sale for Fall Play

Director Barnard W. Hewitt announced that ticket sales for the Masquers' fall production, November 7, 8 and 9, "The Late Christopher Bean," by Sidney Howard, will begin Saturday, November 3. All seats will be reserved and the number sold will determine whether or not a fourth performance will be given. Students must have their A. S. U. M. tickets punched and receive a reserved ticket for admission.

FOOTBALL HISTORY OF MONTANA TEAMS REVIEWED BY KAIMIN

By Harold Stearns
Part V

Dr. A. G. Hellman, University of Pennsylvania fullback and a track and basketball star, became head coach of the Grizzly varsity and instructor of biology. A tentative seven-game schedule was arranged for the veteran team by Manager Armitage. Secret practice was in order from September 15 until the eleven embarked for Pullman to do battle with the heavy Washington State Cougars. Outweighed 15 pounds to the man the Grizzlies were figured to have no chance with the giants of Palouse but managed to hold them to a 34-9 score. Bender's proteges sifted through the visiting flyweights for 10 and 15 yards on every cross-buck attempted in the first half but the Cougar second string found the going different. Collins was pushed over for a touchdown and Owsley kicked a 25-yard field goal. Busha once squirmed to the one-yard line but was held. Shortly afterwards W. S. C. was held for downs on Montana's one-yard stripe.

Despite Coach Teetzel's gloomy forebodings Utah Agricultural college carried away for the fourth time in as many years a Grizzly pelt, 9-7. The second quarter proved disastrous for Montana as Utah scored all 9 points in that stanza. Craighead fell across the line after blocking a punt, Owsley converting, to roll up the Grizzly counters. Owsley failed on two 30-yard field goal attempts. Dornblaser acted as captain due to Smead's absence and was a pillar of strength in the forward wall.

Fumble Favored Aggies

Playing like madmen from start to finish the light, speedy Grizzlies humbled a heavy Aggie squad at Bozeman 7-0. Previous betting had favored the giant Mountain Lions, as they styled themselves in newspapers of the period, but they fumbled at critical moments all afternoon. Owsley made use of Cy Gatten's fumble on the 25-yard line and romped through for a touchdown. He added the extra point with a conversion.

The week following, Missoula fans saw the Lions walloped, this time by a 20-0 score. The second play of the game, a 40-yard pass, Owsley to Kress, got the Aggie goat and from then on it was all to the Grizzlies. Kelley scored in the first quarter and Owsley in the second and third. Montana made first downs without respite during the first half. A crowd of 2,000 witnessed the Aggie degradation. Receipts were $810.

November 22 Gonzaga administered a 16-7 football lesson to the over-confident Bruins at Spokane. Man for man the teams were evenly matched but it was a case of well-drilled machinery versus individual stars. Gonzaga touchdowns came over left tackle and on a forward pass. McDevitt kicked an 18-yard goal from placement in the third period. Weideman intercepted a pass and Owsley kicked goal for the Montana scores. For the first time a northwestern team wore jersey numerals but the mud soon obliterated the Gonzaga innovation.

Whitman Bags Grizzly Pelt

Thanksgiving day resulted in another defeat for Hellman's unfortunate team which was subdued 35-0 by Whitman at Walla Walla. Whitman did not score in the first half but with Owsley, Craighead and Daems occupying the bench throughout the last period romped through Montana. Long runs were in order and even Baron Dornblaser, playing his last game, could not stop the avalanche of five touchdowns.

A Kaimin sports writer advocated membership in the Rocky Mountain conference, claiming that the coast schools were out of Montana's class. Gold fobs were awarded to the lettermen by Missoula merchants in token of service.

Season of 1914

Jerry Nissen, previously assistant coach at Washington State, arrived to help Dr. Nissen with the 1914 team. Training quarters and a training table were also innovations. Bentz, 215 pounds, and Guerin and Griffith, 204, were the squad Goliaths.

A week's practice was enough to enable the Grizzlies to romp 87-0 in a tune-up game with the Butte Ramblers. A week later for the first and only time in all history, Washington State college took a whipping from a Montana team, 9-0. Bearing the burden of half a dozen previous defeats, Montana played the role of the worm that turned to perfection, Guerin kicking a 25-yard goal and Burris taking the ball over after Vance had passed to Clark. Robinson sparked as field general.

A frustrated but immeasurably stronger Grizzly team could do naught but wallow in the mud of Moscow and failed to score. Montana led in yardage 148 yards to 56 and in first downs 9 to 2 in the scoreless mud fight. Each player weighed in after play 30 to 60 pounds more than upon entrance into the struggle.

Daems, Vance, Guerin and Clarke, the important cogs in the offense and defense, sat on the bench while the subs ran rampant over the Utah Aggies 32-0. Robertson made two 75-yard touchdown jaunts.

The Aggies were outweighed on foreign territory and were overwhelmed by the crack varsity 27-9. Bentz recovered a fumble on the 2-yard line and pounded through. The Aggies countered with a pay dirt march of their own. Vance's pass put the home team in the lead again. Vance contributed a 50-yard run to the five-yard line and two line bucks for six points. Robertson ran brilliantly for another counter. Roubideaux concluded the scoring with a Cat placement kick. Cy Gatten, for whom the Bobcat gridiron and stadium was later named, was the outstanding player of the day.

North Dakota State Defeated

A crippled and listless Montana squad nosed out a 13-0 victory over North Dakota State. Robertson provided the only sensation of the game leaving the sea of mud that was Montana field with water on the knee. The Dakotans had little football ability and straight football was responsible for all yardage.

All attempts to stage a post season game with Oregon State at Tacoma were dropped when the Oregon institution moved its game with Southern California to Tacoma. The receipts were to go to the Belgian relief fund.

The second Grizzly squad, known as the Cubs, had little trouble with the School of Mines and won as they pleased 14-0. Wingfield Brown starred.

Three thousand Spokane fans, confident of Gonzaga's ability to run away from anything in moleskins, were unpleasantly surprised by the 19-0 steamrollering the big maroons from Missoula gave the Catholics. Vance and Robertson started off with end runs and Burris and Sanderson relieved the monotony with line smashes. Vance sped around end for 25 yard and six points in the first half. Robertson passed to Clarke on the 5-yard line and Burris went over the last chalk mark. Robertson then nabbed a Gonzaga pass attempt. Guerin kicked goal. Owsley broke three ribs in the first quarter and watched his last game from the sidelines.

George Varnell, in choosing his All-Northwest eleven, confined himself to conference members but stated that were Montana a member, Robertson and Bentz would supplant his choices. (To be Continued)

College Students To Be Selected For Employment

Soil Erosion Service to Give Jobs
To One Thousand Men
Immediately

A new employment-instruction system will be carried out soon in connection with soil erosion projects throughout the country, the system being inaugurated to open jobs for unemployed college graduates and to develop a trained personnel for the work. This plan was made public recently by the United States Department of the Interior.

The plan is to employ approximately one thousand college men who have been graduated in agricultural courses or kindred subjects. Men who have been recommended by college authorities will be given employment to last over a period of six or eight months. While working, they will be given a complete instruction course which is designed to equip them as specialists in the field of scientific and practical erosion control.

According to present plans, those men whose training records justify such action, will be given regular appointments to sub-professional or sub-technical positions with the soil erosion service as vacancies occur.

The employment project will start immediately, and authorities are sure it will be successful both from the viewpoint of the employees and the erosion service. It has the endorsement of Dr. L. C. White, Civil Service commissioner and authority on public employment.

Rubber Necks

Co-eds Find New Attraction
In Observing Student Union
Building Riveters.

The daring young man on the flying trapeze doesn't worry the men at the state university any more, but a local threat appears to be menacing their hold upon the co-eds.

Freshman women living in the dormitories leave for school earlier but seem to get to classes later, those living at sororities take library books home at night that have to be back by 8 o'clock and the town students take the short cut between Eddy and Connell avenues.

The grass along the sidewalks near the library has been trampled by the ground, made soft by a week of rain storms. Approximately one-half of the women students have stiff necks and it is rumored that some of them in Corbin hall have field glasses.

These every-day happenings are sufficient to cause worry only while the men are at work on the Student Union building. The co-eds, who ordinarily are too dignified to nod when speaking, twist their necks like cranes to watch the steel workers play catch with the hot rivets.

Dolores Harris spent the week-end at her home in Deer Lodge.

English Collegians Debate in America

Teams From Oxford, National Union
Of Students Arrive

Two debate teams from English colleges recently arrived in the United States, where they expect to speak with college teams of the east and mid-western sections. The teams will stay in this country for six weeks, during which they are scheduled to speak at colleges throughout that region.

One team is from Oxford college and is composed of Michael Foot and John Cripps. The other team, which is represented by David Scholes and J. Hirschfield, will speak for the English National Union of Students. The teams are being brought to this country by the National Student Federation.

Cross-Country Runners Must Travel Rapidly to Finish During Intermission

Winners of Contest Will Be Taken to Butte to Compete Against Bobcat Aggregation Next Week

Cross-country runners, in order to finish the two-and-one-half mile course during the fifteen-minute intermission between halves of the Cub game tomorrow, will find themselves pushed for time. Starting at the mile post on the track, the runners will encircle the track once, leave by way of the gate near the gymnasium, and follow the route along the foot of Mt. Sentinel to the old Country club. They will retrace the route, much of which is over gravel, and run one lap on the track for a final sprint. Runners will find it necessary to follow a fast pace throughout the entire race if it is to be finished during the half-time intermission as there will be few seconds to spare, judging from the times in which the course has been covered.

Rose Sets Pace

No competitive times have been clocked, although a few runners have timed themselves when running alone. Jack Rose, the undisputed pace setter, may find himself hard pushed during the last half-mile by several men who are reputedly faster at the finish. His times have been faster than those of other competitors, but as none have run the course at top speed, the winners will not be known until after the race tomorrow.

Winners of tomorrow's race will be taken to Butte to enter the exhibition with the Bobcats on November 10. The number taken is to be determined by the performances tomorrow, and the order in which the runners finish does not decide those to go. If all finish in a close pack, the entire squad will compete at Butte, while if separated by several minutes' time, only the first five or six will qualify.

Adverse Training Conditions

Runners have had adverse conditions under which to work all fall. One week of sunshine and warm weather was followed by three of rain and wind, through which aspirants splashed, wearing sweat clothes.

The cross-country exhibition at Butte was first thought of by members of the track team who realized that something was necessary to persuade distance runners to work out regularly in the fall. Taking their arguments to Coach Harry Adams, plans were made and action towards persuading the Bobcats to enter started.

With something for which to work, both freshmen and varsity runners soon entered a strict training campaign. The benefits of over-distance work in the fall should be seen in the spring. Aspirants should round into shape much faster than those who did not train during the fall. Early season perfection will be more necessary next spring than ever before because of the Drake relays which will be held in April. The relay teams will have to be conditioned at least two weeks earlier than has previously been necessary.

Stansberry's Team Heads for B Title

Columbus High School Mentor Was Grizzly Star Last Year

With only three games left to play, Columbus high school's football team, coached by Bob Stansberry, Grizzly star last year, may win the southern district Class B championship. The team has won four games and lost one.

The season opened with a defeat by Carbon high of Red Lodge. Worden, Laurel, Klein and the Billings Reserves were successively defeated. Return games with Laurel and Carbon are scheduled and Big Timber is slated to play the Columbians in their last game of the season.

Last year, Stansberry played half-back on the state university Grizzly team. During the Stanford game in Palo Alto, he ran 90 yards up the field after the second kick, scoring one of the only two touchdowns made against Stanford during its regular season. Stansberry was named on the all-Pacific coast conference team, and the Associated Press, United Press and Liberty magazine gave him honorable mention in their nationwide selections.

Harvard Business School Announces New Program

The Harvard business school recently announced the inauguration of a program in public administration, which is designed primarily to prepare students for the business aspects of public service. The first training will be given starting January 28, 1935, at the beginning of the extra session of the business school, but later, the school plans to start a two-year curriculum.

The extra session of the school will be designed primarily for students and recent college graduates as well as men with some business experience. Men who do not hold college degrees, but who are highly recommended, will also be given the chance to enroll in the school.

Freshman Track Candidates Look Good This Year

Weight Events Are Weak In Autumn Trials; Distance Men Are Strong

Judging from the men on the campus, prospects for a strong freshman track squad are bright, as future freshman distance men are training with the varsity for the cross-country run and others are participating in fall sports.

Weight men are lacking for a well balanced team but several may appear before spring training starts. The sprints and jumps are also weak, with few experienced men being available, but the middle and distance events should be well cared for. An equally large number of experienced hurdlers is on hand to fill gaps in future varsity teams.

Few of last year's Interscholastic winners are on the campus, although several point winners of the past are enrolled. Largely because of finances, those who were star track men two and three years ago were not able to attend until definite aid could be arranged.

It is probable that many who are on the campus now will not appear at the spring turnout because of grades, finances and conflicting activities. Some are working out this fall, Horace Godfrey, northern district record holder for the mile, and Ted Garlington, former Missoula high school star, preparing for the cross-country trials to be held tomorrow.

Among those who are enrolled this quarter who are not entering the cross-country run and their events are: Sprints, Bud McGiboney, Clayton Olsen, Ross Young; 440- and 880-yard runs, Pay Leiby, Keith Ross, Lester Rees, Bruce Newton, John Skelton, Dean Doak, Bruce Kirkpatrick, Leslie Ellingson; mile, Woodburn Brown, John Horn, Ned Newton, Ben Martin; hurdles, Doug Brown, Henry Bennett, Bob Hileman, Archie Minde, Bob Peterson, Oliver Roholt, Curtis Flint, Bob Thompson, Wilson Smith, Russell Thorp; high jump, Bill McConoughie, Robert Flint, Myers Nelson, Bob Schwartz; broad jump, Clayton Olsen, Leo Lundy, Bob Schwartz; pole vault, Dean Doak, Bill Jennings.

In the weight events, W. Lindgren appears as the only likely contender in the shot put, while Leslie Ellingson and Frank Nelson throw the discs, and Fritz Cyr and Bruce Newton are javelin tossers.

LAW SCHOOL STUDENTS WILL SPONSOR SMOKER

A smoker sponsored by students of the law school has been scheduled for Wednesday, November 7, at 8 o'clock. At this time, several prominent western Montana lawyers will speak on legal subjects. Boxing, wrestling and serving of refreshments will constitute the remainder of the program for the evening.

Bill Gall, former state university student and now on the staff of the Silver State Post at Deer Lodge, was a visitor at the S. A. E. house over the week-end and attended the game.

PHI DELTS WIN LAST CONTEST TO GAIN TITLE

Defeat Sigma Chi to Remain Undefeated in Touch League Race

Phi Delta Theta scored a safety against Sigma Chi in the final game of the Interfraternity touch football schedule to win the series and maintain their record of having been undefeated this season.

Taking the lead early in the race, the Phi Deltas continued their winning form until encountering the Delta Sigma Lambda team which held them to a 0-0 tie.

The score in the final game came during the third quarter. The Phi Deltas punted to the Sigma Chi two-yard line, held them for no gain on the first down and blocked their punt for a safety, the only score made throughout the game.

First-Year Rifflery Starts at University

R. O. T. C. Range Will Be Available Tuesdays and Thursdays

Freshman riflery started recently and will continue for four weeks. The range is open every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock for prospective team members and any other students who have had the basic course in military science.

The first match of the year was held in the R. O. T. C. rifle range last night at 7:30 o'clock, and was a re-entry match fired in the prone position.

Captain George B. Norris stated yesterday that the rifle range will be open on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock for all military science students who desire to try out for the men's rifle team.

Seventeen U Faculty Members Named in American "Who's Who"

Seventeen members of the state university faculty are mentioned in the 1934-35 issue of "Who's Who in America," the biographical dictionary of notable men and women of the United States. Walter R. Ames, professor of education and psychology, graduated from White-water (Wisconsin) Normal School in 1911, receiving his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin in 1926. He has been with the state university since 1919 and professor of education and psychology since 1929. Dr. Ames is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Charles H. Clapp, geologist and president of the state university, is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, finishing in 1905 and receiving his Ph.D. in 1910. From 1916 until 1921, he was professor of geology at the Montana State School of Mines, and president of that institution from 1918 to 1921. Dr. Clapp has been president of the state university since 1921. He is a member of many scientific associations and author of geological reports.

Daughters Came Here in 1915

Freeman Daughters, dean of the education school, graduated from the Kansas Normal college at Ft. Scott, Kansas, in 1896, and received his M.A. from Columbia in 1915. He began his work at the state university in 1915, and has been chairman of the department of education since 1920. In 1930 he was made Dean of that school. Dean Daughters is associated with many educational organizations and was joint author of "Anne Boleyn," published in 1913.

Morton J. Elrod, professor of biology and director of the Biological Station, received his A.B. from Simpson college in 1887 and his Ph.D. in 1905 from Illinois Wesleyan. He has been on the state university faculty since 1897 and director of the station since 1899. Dr. Elrod has contributed many articles to scientific and other magazines and journals, and was editor of the International Educator from 1913 to 1924.

Joseph W. Howard, professor of chemistry, received his A.B. from Shurtleff college in Alton, Illinois, in 1912, and having been awarded the Osborne scholarship medal, was a fellow at the University of Illinois from 1912 until 1915, at which time he obtained his Ph.D. From 1915 to 1919 Dr. Howard was instructor in chemistry at the state university, was assistant professor from 1919 to 1924, associate professor from 1924 to 1927, and has been professor since 1927. He is a member of the Authors' club and contributor to the journal of the American Chemical society and other scientific organizations.

Jesse Gets Ph.D. in 1909

Richard H. Jesse, professor of chemistry and dean of the faculty, graduated from the University of Missouri in 1902, received his M.A. from Harvard in 1907 and his Ph.D. in 1909. Since 1912 he has been professor of chemistry at the state university. From 1918 until 1924 Dr. Jesse was dean of men and has been dean of the faculty since 1924. Many chemical magazines have published his contributions. He is a member of the American Chemical society, of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

Charles W. Leaphart, professor of law and dean of the law school received his A.B. at the University of Missouri in 1905 and his A.M. in 1906. In 1913 he received the degree of LL.B. at Harvard. Dean Leaphart was professor of law at the state university from 1913 until 1916, then taught for three years at Missouri and at Tulane university. In 1919 he returned to the university and has since been dean of the law school. In 1928-29 he taught at Harvard law school, having received the Thayer teaching fellowship. He is a member of the American Bar association, of Phi Beta Kappa, and of the Order of the Coif.

Nels J. Lennes, professor of mathematics, came to the United States from Norway in 1890 and was naturalized in 1899. He graduated from the University of Chicago in 1898, received his M. S. in 1903 and his Ph.D. in 1907. Since 1919 Dr. Lennes has been mathematics professor and head of his department. He is a member of several mathematics societies in the United States and also a member of Sigma Xi. The author of six texts on mathematics, Dr. Lennes has been co-author of a long list of books on various subjects

Merriam Was Rhodes Scholar

H. G. Merriam, professor of English, received his A.B. at the University of Wyoming in 1905, was a Rhodes scholar from Wyoming to Oxford, England, 1904-07, and received his M.A. in 1912. Mr. Merriam came to the university in 1919 and has since been head of his department and of the division of humanities. A member of several national associations, he is also editor of the "Frontier and Midland," a literary magazine, and of "Northwest Verse," a poetry publication.

A. S. Merrill, professor of mathematics, received his A.B. at Colgate in 1911, and his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1916. He came to the state university in 1916 to teach mathematics and has been a professor since 1923. Dr. Merrill is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, of Sigma Xi and of a number of mathematics and scientific societies. He has written several mathematics text-books and has been co-author with N. J. Lennes on others.

Paul C. Phillips, professor of history and political science, is a graduate of the University of Indiana in 1906 and received his Ph.D. from the University of Illinois in 1911. In 1911 Dr. Phillips came to the state university and has since been professor of history. He is a member of several historical and geographical associations, author and co-author of historical sketches, editor of historical books, and contributor to periodicals and biographies.

Jesse P. Rowe, geologist, received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Nebraska in 1897 and his Ph.D. in 1906. From 1898 until 1900 he taught in Butte schools and was principal of the high school and of Lincoln school. Since 1901 Dr. Rowe has been professor of geology at the state university. He was lecturer in geology and geography on "The Floating University" in 1928-29. Author of bulletins and books on geology and mineralogy, Dr. Rowe is also associated with scientific, forestry and educational societies and a member of the state textbook commission. He is a member of Phi Kappa Phi and of Sigma Xi.

Frederick C. Scheuch, professor of foreign languages and vice-president of the university, was educated in Germany and Spain. In 1893 he received the degree of M.E. from Purdue university. Professor Scheuch has been instructor in French, German and Spanish at the state university since 1895. From 1895 until 1908 he was secretary of the faculty, was acting president from June, 1915, until September, 1917, and has been vice-president since 1917. A member of S. A. R. and of Sigma Chi, Mr. Scheuch is also a life member of the Societe Academique d'histoire Internationale, Paris. In 1923-24 he attended the universities of Paris, Vienna and Madrid.

Dorr Skeels, forester, graduated from Michigan Agricultural college at East Lansing, Mich., in 1904. After working as national forest supervisor in various places for 10 years, Mr. Skeels came to the state university and organized the forestry school of which he was dean until September, 1923. Until 1933, he was professor in the school, and since January 1, 1934, he has been chief engineer of the civil works administration for Montana. Mr. Skeels is a member of the American Association of Engineers and a contributor to "The Timberman" and other forestry publications.

Franklin O. Smith, professor of psychology and philosophy, received his A.B. from the University of Iowa in 1906, and his Ph.D. in 1912. Since 1914, Dr. Smith has been professor of psychology at the state university. He is a member of Sigma Xi and of several psychological and scientific organizations.

Thomas C. Spaulding, professor of forestry and dean of the school of forestry since 1923, received his M.S. in forestry at the University of Michi-

Coming Election Is Not Inspiring; No Freak Betting

Despite the oratorical efforts of Burton K. Wheeler, Joseph Monaghan, Jerry O'Connell, Scott Leavitt, Judge George Bourquin and other public officeholders in Missoula this week, state university students have so far failed to back their political favorites with bets, monetary or freak.

Time was when every political campaign brought forth boisterous adherents to one party or another. During the Roosevelt-Hoover campaign of 1932, campus supporters of both men were fluent. It was reported in many quarters that a good deal of hard-earned cash changed hands when the "forgotten man's" favorite was elevated to the executive office.

Back in 1924, the state election became so heated that students exhausted their financial resources only to resort to their wardrobe and bet shirts, pants, shoes, anything that might find a taker.

For instance, Wallace Brennan, new member of the Montana State Board of Education in throwing his support to Erickson, declared that he would take Marcia Patterson, now a housemother at a Florida college, home in his car every night for a week if Dixon were elected. On the other hand, Miss Patterson, if Erickson won, was to attend classes in knee-length skirts for the same period of time.

Bennie Plummer, now a dentist in Portland, was for Dixon, and Ronnie McDowell, now a banker in Big Timber, was for Erickson. The loser was to pay for a shave, haircut and massage for the winner. W. T. Burrell, now coaching in Tampa, Florida, agreed to wear one black oxford and one brown oxford for two weeks if Coolidge polled more votes than LaFollette in the presidential race. Wilfred Fehlbauer, who was recently transferred from the Helena Associated Press office to the Denver office, was to do likewise if Coolidge failed.

Melvin Lord, who was last heard of on the Sacramento Bee, Sacramento, California, agreed to come to school on roller skates if Erickson won the governorship. If Dixon won, Bill Loughrin was to do the skating.

Those who remember the 1924 election are unanimous in their declaration that all bets were paid.

"There was no backing out in those days," one old-timer who still resides in Missoula said. "Bets were paid; the student body saw to that."

FLINT WILL SPEAK

LeClaire Flint, editor of the Livingstone Enterprise, will speak at the second regular meeting of the Press club Wednesday night. His subject probably will be "Stories the Editor Never Prints."

Robert T. Young, professor of biology, graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1896 and received his Ph.D. in 1906 from the University of Nebraska. From 1906 until 1926 he was professor of zoology at the University of North Dakota and has been at the state university since 1927. Dr. Young is a member of Sigma Xi and of other scientific organizations and is author of "Biology in America."

Communications

According to a recent editorial which appeared in the Kaimin, college spirit is dead. The example chosen to illustrate this condition was the Idaho game. "The yelling was weak and unorganized, and the spirit of most students was dampened from the first touchdown until the final whistle," ominously states the editorial.

Would it be too presumptuous to suggest that the contributor of this indictment is not only dimly unobservant, but miserably unappreciative and perhaps even a bit hard of hearing? At last Tuesday's SOS, while not above average in attendance, a wholly commendable spirit was displayed. As for the pep rally on Friday night, the almost unanimous opinion that has been expressed, is that it was one of the best in the school's history.

May we quote once more? "The showing at the football game was a climax to a dismal exhibition." Dismal climax. We wonder if all dismal climaxes are exemplified by over-crowded stadiums, well-drilled hands performing adequately and admirably, animated student bodies enthusiastically supporting their teams, and cheering sections. It is our guess that such factors point to quite a different attitude. The formation of words and slogans as executed by the student section is in itself a symbol of enterprise and co-operation.

This is the kind of spirit Montana students show and there is no incentive lacking for the Grizzlies to play good football. They did their best Saturday, and should have been assured that the students were supporting them. If they did not feel the vital interest that was behind them, it was an unfortunate misunderstanding. This is the "new Montana spirit" and we are proud of it.

Dear Editor and J.F.R.:

"J.F.R." says that he is a senior. As I am a junior, I have completed the basic course in military science and suffered none from an overdose of dirty stories and foul language. Those who have been associated with the army use rough language habitually, but such is the case whenever any large number of men are together.

I heartily agree that there are more important things in the world than uniforms, varsity sweaters, numerals and scholastic achievement. The uniform of an officer is similar to the other awards previously mentioned in that the one who tries for them and can't get them, soon changes his attitude to that of the "sour grapes." The age-old answer to Mussolini—please go to Italy if you like his system. Russia is also a large country with wide-open spaces.

While mentioning school spirit—where was the band last spring for the Intercollegiate track meet? It was out for Aber Day and for two days of Intercollegiate track meet, as was the "army", but neither appeared for the university's only home meet. Surely track men deserve a little support. They certainly held up their end of the load and the students were present in large numbers, willing to show their appreciation of the good performances turned in by the competitors. The yell lines, dukes, barons and knaves were missing and no music other than that furnished by phonograph records was available. The records played

Association Sets Medical Aptitude Examination Date

A medical aptitude test, administered for the last four years by a committee of the Association of American Medical Colleges, for pre-medical students throughout the United States, is scheduled this year for December 7, according to a letter recently received by Dr. W. G. Bateman, professor of chemistry here. Students in all colleges will take the tests at the same time. Approximately ten pre-medical students in the state university take the examination annually, Dr. Bateman said.

This test is now one of the normal requirements for admission to a medical school and any student planning to enter a medical school in 1935 is advised to arrange to take it. Those who take the test should have completed at least one year of pre-medical work.

To defray the expenses of the committee, a fee of one dollar will be required from each applicant.

Approximately ninety per cent of the medical schools in the United States use the tests in the selection of their students. Several students who took the test at the state university have done outstanding work in medical colleges, Dr. Bateman said. The examinations were taken by 9,927 students in 623 colleges last year, and according to reports from medical schools, have proved helpful.

most were "The Stein Song" and "On Wisconsin"—fitting emblems of Grizzly loyalty.

Beefing about school spirit! I have been to every SOS since the spring of 1932 and never attended one yet where the students were more enthusiastic and willing to yell and sing than last week. But, by the time the football players wasted time getting up to the steps and refusing to come, the juniors were tapped into the sophomore honorary society, several choice blunders with the bell (which I maintain should be left strictly alone) were made, and the students, their senses of tradition outraged, stumbled through "College Chums," a third of the original crowd had become so thoroughly disgusted that they had gone.

SOS is one tradition I'd like to see stay. There, one feels something greater than school spirit, something which touches him deeply, but if I attend another one managed as poorly as the last, I'll wait a full year before attending another.

Sincerely,
L. B. T.
