Forty-six Schools Announce Entries For Track Meet

Deadline for Mailing Blanks Near; J. P. Rowe Is in Charge Of Committee

For the past two weeks entries for the Thirty-second Annual Interscholastic Meet have been coming in to Dr. J. P. Rowe, chairman of the committee, and with only 24 hours left until the deadline for mailing the blanks is reached, 46 schools have enrolled for the event.

The following schools have signified their intention of competing in the annual meet: Florence-Carlton, Gildford, Harlem, Harlowton, Judith Gap, Richey, Malta, Saco, Thompson Falls, Ingomar, Belt, Antelope, Belfry, Girls' Central (Butte), Shawmut, Big Sandy, Stockett-Sand Coulee, Columbus, St. Ignatius, Lopevine, Hot Springs, Cut Bank, Brockton, Culbertson, Garfield county, Three Forks, Outlook, Belgrade, Ismay, Rapelje, Carbon county, Browning, Plevna, Plains, Helena, Laurel, Park City, Stevensville, Ennis, Charlo, Augusta, Bridger, Sweet Grass county, Dooley, Columbia Falls and Mildred.

Many of these schools, especially the smaller institutions, seem to be interested in the Little Theatre tournament and the debate and oratory contests, while the larger schools have entries in nearly all of the track and field events.

Concert Series To Close Soon With Ensemble

Mass Piano Program Headed By John Crowder Is May 23

Sixteen pianists performing in ensemble will complete the outside entertainment program this season. The concert, directed by Professor John Crowder of the music school, will be held in the Missoula county high school auditorium May 23. Eight pianos will be featured.

All state university students will be able to hear the ensemble, which created a furor of excitement and praise in Butte Thursday. The ensemble, composed of prominent Butte pianists and directed for the last six months by Professor Crowder, is the first group drawn from local talent which has appeared on the community concert programs.

During the past year four performances by nationally known concert stars and lecturers have been given. The Crowder ensemble will replace Upton Close on the five-part series. Close was unable to lecture here because of illness.

The performance of the Crowder group in Butte won the praise of critics for "brilliant technique and mastery of the variety of themes and movements." The Butte audience called the pianists back for several encores.

Many of the same selections will be used in the Missoula concert. Debussy's "Petite Suite," Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," Bach's "Allegro Moderato," Schubert's "Symphony in B-Minor," Saint-Saens' "Dance Macabre," Beethoven's "Turkish March from the Ruins of Athens," Schubert's "March Militaire" and Weber's "Invitation to the Dance" were among the numbers featured in Butte.

The ensemble is composed of Professor Crowder, director; Mrs. Helen Lavelle, Margaret McHale, Eleanor McCutcher, Mrs. H. T. Forbes, Mrs. J. E. Stephenson, Mrs. Zada Dickson, Evelyn McPherson, Mrs. Ruth Bennecks, Mary Hocking, Mrs. Alex Baehr, Mrs. C. Pietsch, Dorothy Matthews Judd, Helen Marie Hanson and Pearl Goldberg, of Butte; Mrs. Hildur Nagle of Anaconda, and Mrs. Ralph Bagley of Deer Lodge.

Clapp Critically Ill as Relapse Brings Danger

Complications Cause Change In University Head's Condition

"Still critical" was the way the condition of President C. H. Clapp was described this morning after a heart attack yesterday had brought fears that the university president would not recover.

President Clapp spent a much easier night than he did Sunday, however, when a sudden relapse accompanied by a sinking spell made blood transfusions necessary. His pulse this morning was "high and steady." The unexpected relapse placed Dr. Clapp in the most critical condition of his six months' illness. He has been treated for bacillary dysentery and complications.

At the suggestion of physicians at Northern Pacific hospital, President Clapp turned over his duties as president to Vice-President F. C. Scheuch. During his long illness he has taken care of most of his correspondence.

During the past six months, during which time Dr. Clapp has twice been taken home and once to Spokane, where he received treatment, his condition has improved sporadically, with relapses again demanding close attention.

He entered Northern Pacific hospital last October for treatment for bacillary dysentery. Complications resulting from constant treatment and operations led President Clapp in a weakened state. The relapse Sunday night was, however, the most serious the university president has undergone. His condition was so critical for several hours Sunday that almost no hope was held for recovery.

Blood transfusions yesterday made physicians and relatives hope once more that Dr. Clapp would recover.

He was able to talk with physicians yesterday, however, and his family was in close attendance. Mrs. Clapp remained at the hospital throughout last night.

Council Members Elected to Offices By Independents

Plans for Annual Picnic Announced; Quarterly Dance Is On May 21

Eight new members were elected to the Barb council at the mass meeting held last week in the forestry library, and only four of the old council members retained their positions.

All classes were well represented except the senior class, and nominations and ballots were rushed through. After the elections Dick Shaw gave a short talk explaining the Barb ticket in yesterday's election, and the meeting adjourned.

June Paulson, Harlowton, and Bill Johnson, Hamilton, were elected as delegates from the freshman class. Betty Eiselein, Roundup, and Don Whitesitt, Stevensville, were chosen to represent the sophomore class, while Bill Browning and Peggy Wilcox are to be junior delegates.

Although serving for a short time only, Michael Clapp and Mary Brickson were elected by the seniors until Commencement. Dick Shaw declined a nomination in favor of Clapp, stating that his duties with the Student Store baseball team were too heavy to permit his regular attendance at council meetings. Delegates-at-large are Pam Fergus, Armells; Dick Ormsbee, Haugan; Ben Taylor, Troy, and George Van Noy, Lewistown.

Of those elected, Mary Brickson, Dick Ormsbee, George Van Noy and Ben Taylor have had previous experience as members of the council. Peggy Wilcox also was a member of the council as a sophomore.

When next year's freshman class begins to organize, two delegates from that class will be elected to take the place of the two graduating seniors. Council elections will be held at the first meeting in order to elect a president, secretary, treasurer and vice-president.

The Escape

"Stand back! I am a desperate man!"

"Gold in the Hills" Will Open At Opera House Tomorrow

With his moustaches twirling, Richard Murgatroyd, deep-dyed villain of "Gold in the Hills, or The Dead Sister's Secret," will stalk across the boards of the Campus Opera House tomorrow night as the curtain rises on the first-night performance of J. Frank Davis' three-act melodrama. And behind him, with his honest heart beating, will come John Dalton, intent upon revenge; revenge for the dastardly betrayal of our heroine, Nell Stanley.

From the golden throat of Rose Robinson, bowerly nightingale, the heart-rending strains of "A Bird in a Gilded Cage" will rise to give authentic atmosphere to the beer hall scene. "Sweet Rosy O'Grady," "The Bowery," and "The Sidewalks of New York" will be sung in the genuine Gay '90 style.

Leading Roles

Playing the leading roles are Eleanor Miller as Nell Stanley, Orville Skones as John Dalton, Willis Haskell as Richard Murgatroyd. Robert Bates speaks a prologue written in the Wycherly-Congreve style. The supporting cast in the order in which they appear are: Ossia Taylor, Lizzie Jones; Eleanor Speaker, Barbara Stanley; Woodburn Brown, Hiram Stanley; Manzer Griswold, Sam Slade; Stratford Peterson, Jenkins; Carl Chambers, Big Mike Slattery; Tom Ogle, Pete the Rat; Helen Ann Meloy, Old Kate; Henry Dion, Slick Steve; Margaret Henrikson, Little Tommy; Carroll Ayers, the Professor; Ada Forsythe, Mamie; Kai Heiberg, Bill the Dip; Victor D'Orazi, One Punch Dugan; Frank Stanton, Chuck Connors; Harry Stockman, a Derelict; Nell Helly, Reginald Vanderlop; Jean McConochie, Edith Vanderlop; Roger Clapp, James H. Glue; Dorothy Ann Bally, Rose Robinson. Other Bowerly boys and girls include Edward McKenzie, Ernest Rand, Hilda Harter, Eleanor Snow and Joan Morrison.

Hewitt Is Director

Barnard Hewitt, director of dramatics, is directing "Gold in the Hills" and Les Smith is in charge of the music to be played by Carroll Ayers and Dorothy Eastman. Jocko Shenk is stage manager of the production; Richard Pope, master electrician; Lily Johnson, mistress of the wardrobe; Lois King, property mistress; Erma Heinemeyer, makeup artist, and Mary Kohn, business manager.

Costumes and setting have all been designed to give as genuine an atmosphere as possible. The first act takes place on the Old Homestead, where "something is amiss"; act two in a bowerly beer hall, and act three back at the Old Homestead, on Christmas Eve.

Seats may be reserved by presenting A.S.U.M. cards at the Opera House office between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock and 1 and 5 o'clock. Townspeople may phone reservations at 40 cents the seat. The curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday night, and again on Thursday and Friday. The staff asks that reservations be made early.

Interscholastic Campus Tours To Be Started

University Buildings Will Be Open for Inspection By Visitors

As an innovation for the Thirty-second Annual Interscholastic Meet, members of the student body and the faculty are co-operating to promote a program of special exhibits in each department to interest the visiting high school students.

From 9:30 in the morning to 12 o'clock noon on Friday, May 17, the different buildings on the campus will be thrown open to the visiting students, and members of the student body will guide the groups about the campus, explaining the work taking place in the different departments.

In each school having an exhibit there will be a professor in charge to answer questions and explain the work to the gatherings.

The committee in charge of the program asks that the student groups on the campus co-operate with the faculty to make this new and interesting function one that will last and that the high school visitors will enjoy. Letters have been sent out to the various fraternities and sororities, and their co-operation is needed to make the program successful.

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair and cooler.

Polleys Named Vice-President In Light Vote

Tom Roe Wins Close Race For Business Manager From Warden

Casting a much smaller vote than was polled in the primaries, the student body yesterday elected its governing officers for the ensuing year. Approximately seven hundred twenty-five votes were cast and only four offices were uncontested in comparison with 10 last year. Although strong feeling was evident on the campus in respect to the elections it was not apparent in the vote.

Bitter Rivalry

This was one of the most bitterly contested elections that has occurred in university politics. It is thought that it even surpassed the "big fight" of 1933. The fraternity machine was one of the outstanding phases of the political fight. Although the fraternities pledged themselves to support each other it was quite apparent to the outsider that there was considerable friction among the groups.

On the other hand, the Barbs fought the battle the whole way. Dodgers and landbills made their appearance on the campus. They were quite definite in their denunciation of certain groups on the campus and advocated the support of non-fraternity men for political offices.

Presidential Vote

Jimmie Meyers, candidate for A.S.U.M. president, defeated his opponent with a total of 462 votes, Willis Avery receiving 251. Betty Ann Polleys clinched the vice-presidency of the student body by polling 541 votes. Marie Benson received 178. For secretary of the A.S.U.M., Josephine Marsh received 370 and Pam Fergus, 170. Tom Roe was elected business manager with 351 votes, while Merritt "Red" Warden received 309.

Abe Thompson and Cal Emery were elected to serve on the store board. Thompson claimed 436 votes, Emery 404. The defeated candidates were Leon Lockridge with 253 and Webster Searies, 173.

The following offices as they will be held next year are: Senior delegates to Central board, Nate Provinsse and Bill Blaskovich, with 87 and 86 votes respectively. The two defeated candidates were Virginia Bode, 73 votes; Richard Ormsbee, 25.

Class Officers

Leighton Downing was elected senior president with a total of 106 votes. His opponent, Ben Taylor, received 35. Vice-president, Winifred Keyes, 130. Secretary, Thelma Buck, 116. Treasurer, Monty Robertson, 94; Lillian Hopkins, 48.

In the junior class offices, Charles Whittinghall was elected to Central board with 98 votes. Maryalys Marrs received 78. Junior class president is George Neff, 115; Art Kulman, 55. Vice-president, Joyce Roberts, 95; Phil Garlington, 81. Secretary, Dorothy Russell, 98; Betty Eiselein, 71. Treasurer, Betty Lee Miller, 170.

Kenneth Hufford Takes Position in Stevensville

Kenneth Hufford, a state university graduate, has received a position with the Harper Logging company in Stevensville, according to word received by friends here at the state university. Hufford was graduated from the business administration school. He is timekeeper and office clerk for the logging concern and has stated that he is doing well.

While in school, Hufford was president of Alpha Kappa Psi, national commercial fraternity on this campus, and was active in other school affairs. He stated in a recent communication that his training at the state university had helped him fill his present position.

Thirty-one Years of Success

Back in May, 1904, 71 students representing 17 state high schools visited Missoula and were guests of the state university in the First Annual Interscholastic Track Meet, that meet starting the path toward one of the largest tournaments of its kind in the United States. Think how that first meet must have appeared to those high school students who were having a new experience in their educational life, and think how that first meet would affect the students of today who have witnessed or heard of the present-day Interscholastic Meets. The state university has come a long way since that first meet in 1904, but each year seems to bring new ideas and new plans that are incorporated to make it the biggest and best of its kind.

A few athletes from neighboring schools were probably among the first visitors attracted here by the state university's high school meet. However, the plans must have developed into successful meets during the next few years and during the succeeding years, because now this meet has grown to amazing proportions, attracting more than five hundred students from approximately one hundred high schools from every corner of Montana. It now includes almost every possible kind of competition, track and field athletics being augmented by golf, tennis, debate, declamation, dramatics and journalism.

This year the meet promises to be far above former meets in that new plans and new ideas are being added to it. The decorations committee has added the campus and the dormitories to the scheme already being carried out each year by the fraternities and sororities. An Interscholastic Queen contest aroused interest throughout the state and will add to the activities of Track Meet week. A bigger and better meet is in the offing, and the state university can pause after this year to look back over those many meets since 1904, thinking "They still want to come back."

What Good Is College?

How many of us have heard older people ask, "Why did you go to college before you came to work for me? You have had to learn everything over anyway." We must admit that in many cases this speech holds perfectly true. We spend four years in college learning a trade or a profession and when we are graduated and given a position, we must learn all over again. However, this does not always hold true, and even if it did hold true in every instance, college would have offered us enough in addition to our specific problem so that we could arm ourselves for what we would encounter.

No matter what field one takes for his chosen career, one must learn every problem and every phase as soon as the job is undertaken. College prepares us for that job in some degree, but being removed from the practical side of the job and not having the facilities to give us that practical angle, college can not fit us one hundred per cent. In some cases, however, the college graduate can step right into the field he has studied and he can make good without learning the business all over again. In such cases the man is more to be judged than the college that trained him. In other cases college does not eliminate the necessity of learning all over again, but once the college graduate has learned his job, he goes ahead much faster than others.

If college does not help the job-holder, what does it do for him? As we have said, a college education allows him to advance much faster than he would if he did not have that education. College also offers that social and intellectual ability that others do not possess, those qualities making for more friendships and more ability to mix with those around one. It gives the graduate a broader outlook on life and makes him realize the complexity of the ground he must cover. College may not win the race for a man, but it must be admitted that it gives him a head start on his rivals.

Taking It on the Chin

Internationalism has been taking it on the chin. With the European nations crawling into shells of nationalism, the United States senate rejecting the World Court and French medical students striking in protest to the presence of foreign students in their universities, the realization of the dreams of Wilson and others of a brotherhood of nations seems more remote than ever. Various clubs in the United States have started the march toward internationalism, but one must only guess as to how much they will be supported by other countries.

What those men tried to create is not unattainable, and the presence of the college youth of today makes the efforts of internationalists appear brighter. The last few years have been marked by a mushroom growth of clubs engaged in studying international problems.

It must be admitted that the American students who have been actively engaged in this study are making some headway, because they have enrolled great numbers from the nation's undergraduate body in their work, and they have openly preached their doctrines in every section of the country. In some sections they have received encouragement and backing, but in other sections they have been cried down and discredited. As yet they have not been wholly successful in their attempts, and it is difficult to judge just how much help they will eventually receive.

One must also admit that the cause is a worthy one — that the hope for an international brotherhood in which all men are peace-loving and non-aggressive is a happy one. But is the world ready for such activities? True, the ground must be broken, and the path must be cleared, but it seems that the many nationalistic hurdles will make that path a hard one to travel. We believe that a world such as ours is not yet ready for this crusade against nationalism.

Elections on the state university campus are over for another year, and Jim Meyers proved his popularity by polling a large majority to win the student body presidency. Meyers will rule on the campus for one year, during which time he will need both the support and the help of the students as a whole. To the students we say, "Get behind him," and to Jim Meyers we say, "Good luck. May you have a chance to do big things for us."

Bobcats Take Relay Laurels From Grizzlies at Bozeman

State College Runners Surprise Coach Harry Adams At Track Carnival, Taking Majority of Honors In Winning First Meet in Decade

With an exceptionally strong array of middle-distance and distance runners, the Bobcats from the state college won four of the relay races on Gatton field last Saturday to win the State Relay Carnival sponsored by the state college and hang up a win over the Grizzlies on track and field for the first time in a decade.

The Bobcats showed more power in the relay events and pulled a few surprises, taking several field events at the same time to complete the victory.

Surprises were started in the first relay, the spectacular shuttle hurdle race, in which the Bobcats beat out a Grizzly quartet by several feet when Gene Davis took a nasty spill. Then in the last race the dope was upset when Barney Meyers, after having run a leg of the four-mile relay, returned to beat Godfrey on the anchor lap of the medley race after the Grizzly frosh had taken an early lead.

Bobcats Upset Dope

The biggest upset of the day came in the 440-yard relay, which was thought to be a Grizzly point-winner. With clock-like precision the Bobcat runners passed the baton in the second lane and gradually overcame the advantage. White of the Bobcats and Robertson of the Grizzlies started on the last leg together, and White gathered strength in the final 50 yards to win by slightly more than a yard from his Grizzly rival.

The Grizzlies came through in the mile relay, the half-mile relay and the two-mile event to score their wins. Peden, LaDue, Preston and Duff collaborated in the mile event to win handily, while Robertson and Keenan joined Duff and Peden to take the 880-yard event. Vadheim, Preston, Barnhill and Taylor hung up another university win in the two-mile race.

Preston Is Ace

Jack Preston turned in the iron-man performance for the Grizzly runners, taking laps in the mile and two-mile events. He ran the fastest lap in the mile event and returned a few minutes later to turn in a fine performance in the longer race. Taking the baton from Barnhill, Preston paced through his first half of that lap and then finished even, handing the baton to Taylor, who turned on the heat in the final stretch to beat his Bobcat rival to the tape by 15 yards.

The Bobcats also pulled a surprise attack in the field events, taking the broad jump, javelin and shot put. The rest of the field events went to Grizzly favorites, with Stein taking the pole vault easily and Walcott finding no serious competition in the high jump.

The success of the Bozeman meet Saturday assured an annual event. Conditions were perfect, and many entries from state institutions provided a strong competitive field.

Only Seven Days Remain in Spring Football Practice

Coach Fessenden Has Short Time To Work Out Offense For First Game

With seven days remaining for regular spring practices, Coach Doug Fessenden is using every possible method to produce a skeleton offense which he will stress during the ten days of practice before the first game against Southern California next fall.

Taking only one day to look over his material and size up the players, Fessenden dived headlong into his task and at the end of the week had his teams running through more intricate plays than fans have witnessed for many days.

"With the short practice that we have in the fall, the players must have an idea of what we are to use for our first game," he said. "We are through the fundamentals and will deal only with formations and plays for the remainder of the session."

In the future practices the players will be divided into two evenly matched teams to compete against each other in a regular game to be played the final day, Wednesday, May 15.

Saturday the squad went through a long scrimmage session, and Coach Fessenden expressed his approval of the showing made and the spirit shown.

"Unless something unforeseen crops up we are going to have a good team next fall. Sometimes the team that doesn't look so good on paper turns out to be better than anyone expects," he predicted. "Our team will not be in there trying to hold down the score. We are going to score touchdowns. That is what we are working toward now."

W. A. A. PLAY DAY

W. A. A. will be host to valley high schools and Missoula county high school Saturday, May 11, in the annual high school play day.

Games will be played from 10 o'clock until noon, 10 color teams competing. The afternoon will be devoted to track, field events and swimming. Stella Stewart is in charge of the program.

Two Baseball Clubs Remain Ahead in Race

Phi Deltas and Phi Sigs Win; Sigma Chi Takes Game To Retain Second

Another week-end of baseball in the Interfraternity league saw no change in the two first-place clubs, both the Phi Sigma Kappa and Phi Delta Theta teams winning their games to stay at the top without a defeat. The Phi Deltas had a close call with the Delta Sigma Lambda club, while the Phi Sigs won by default.

Friday afternoon the Independents went on a batting and scoring spree that didn't end until they had driven in 20 runs to beat the Sigma Nu club, 20-4.

Two games were scheduled for Saturday, but only one of them went through. The Sigma Chis and the S. A. E.s played the morning game, with the Sigma Chi batters breaking up an otherwise good ball game to win by a 13-5 margin. Close baseball was featured in the first two innings, but the Sigma Chi men found Bowler's offerings to their liking, and slowed up by poor support from the field, he granted 13 runs. Bowler and Wells worked for the S. A. E. team, and Labbitt and Powell formed the Sigma Chi battery.

In the afternoon game, neither team showed up and the game between the S. P. E.s and the Sigma Nus was postponed.

The Phi Sigma Kappa league-leaders won their Sunday morning game by forfeit.

Phi Delta Theta had a close shave Sunday but came through in the pinches to win from the D. S. L. team, 4-3. Crowley started the game for the Phi Deltas with Lathrop catching, and the two changed places during the game. Castles and White formed the D. S. L. battery. Crowley won his own game in the fourth inning by punching a home run that decided the issue.

They are on a tower 40 feet high and will be run by electricity from the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad line.

Wednesday, between 8:30 and 10 o'clock, the Mountaineers will hold their bi-weekly swim in the Wilma plunge. There will only be one more swimming party after this one, as the plunge will be closed after May 18.

The monthly scouting trip will be taken this Saturday, although definite arrangements have not been made.

Will Cave will lead his monthly hike to some historic point of interest May 19, and Miss Jo Pershina will lead a trip up the Rattlesnake range from the Jocko side.

Individual Sports Program Planned

Buck and Nichols to Be in Charge Of Arrangements

The curriculum will include such sports as golf, tennis, archery, riflery, badminton, horseshoe pitching and ping pong. Thelma Buck of Kalispell will be in charge of the arrangements and Lucille Nichols of Stevensville will be her assistant.

"We hope that this program will develop interest in recreational sports for adulthood," said Miss Ruth Nickey, director of physical education, "as it will make our program reach more women of the student body. The individual sports manager and her assistant will have much work to do and it will be up to them to maintain interest and enthusiasm in their work and to keep the program alive."

Communications

Editor:

A critical reading of Mr. Chinske's communication in the April 30 issue of The Kaimin will reveal that, far from being an aspersion on the University Placement bureau, the incident he cites is really evidence of the care and discrimination shown by the bureau in recommending its candidates. Ordinarily a principal or superintendent wants a teacher qualified to fill a certain position involving certain duties, and he sends out a call for applicants having these qualifications. It is notorious that many placement bureaus, especially private ones run for profit, supply names of a greater number of candidates, many not remotely qualified for the particular opening, in order to give to their clients the appearance of zeal and activity and to increase the chances of getting their commission. The fact that the University Placement bureau sent the names of only a few candidates for the coaching position mentioned by Mr. Chinske suggests, not that the bureau was remiss, but that it was conscientiously trying to supply only applicants fitted for the post. Such a procedure saves trouble for the employer and disappointment for an otherwise large number of unsuccessful candidates. Evidently Mr. Chinske and his "said principal" believe that quantity is superior to quality.

Any attacks on the University Placement bureau should have grounds more relative than this.—H. R. H.

Pity the Worm

Scientific Assassin Must Wait For Final Date on Securing Dog License Tags

William Negerbon, Butte, graduate worker in the biology department, has sliced approximately four feet of tapeworms into sections five micras in thickness during the last few weeks of this quarter. A micron is equal to 1-5000 of one inch.

But in spite of the thinness of the cuts, Negerbon is rapidly running out of specimens. As a result he has issued a call for more tapeworms. He called the dog pound. The keeper informed him that the deadline for dog licenses was May 1, therefore he would not be able to accommodate him until that date.

If by any chance a student has postponed the purchasing of a dog license too long, he may have to go and plead with Negerbon on the question of humanitarianism versus scientific research. But Negerbon realizes that he cannot extract the tapeworm from the dog without first killing the dog.

Reed and Koch Are Sponsoring Publicity Agency

Organization Formed to Assist Campus Groups to Carry Out Advertising And to Promote Interest

Plans for the formation of an agency to assist campus groups in their advertising campaigns were announced yesterday by Wilbur Reed and Stanley Koch, co-directors of the agency. "Campus Studios," as the agency will be called, will be prepared not only to design and execute posters for advertising, but to advise in the formation of complete publicity campaign plans. "We feel sure that the campus has long needed such an organization," the directors said. "Too often committees have neglected to see the real need for a definite advertising campaign, with the result that much of the effect of the posters they order is lost. We will be equipped to do careful and original work on displays, favors and other types of art work, as well as handling newspaper write-ups and printed publicity."

Wilbur Reed, in charge of the division of art work, has been manager of the state university sign shop for the past year, and through his contact with various advertising committees of student organizations is acquainted with the problems confronting campus advertisers. He received his training in sign shops in Seattle and Minneapolis, and has been teaching the course in advertising in the fine arts department at the state university.

Stanley Koch, in charge of publicity and manager of the organization, has obtained experience as advertising manager for the Little Theatre major productions, the 1934 Varsity Vodvil and for the Oval club presentation of the operetta, "Desert Song."
