'HUMAN SEXUALITY' WORKSHOP SET JUNE 16-JULY 3
AT COLLEGE OF GREAT FALLS UNDER MCH GRANT

MISSOULA--

The Psychology Department of the College of Great Falls will conduct a workshop entitled "Human Sexuality: An Age of Choice" June 16-July 3 on the CGF campus under a $4,150 grant from the Montana Committee for the Humanities (MCH), an organization based at the University of Montana in Missoula. The college provides matching funds for the workshop.

The workshop, to be from 1-4 p.m. weekdays beginning Monday, June 16, in the Providence Forum of McLaughlin Center at CGF, will deal with conflicts between the demands of social and public sexual mores and the freedom of individual and private sexual choices and, in general, with the social, physical and spiritual consequences of human sexuality.

Included will be presentations on such topics as sex education in schools; promiscuity; premarital and extramarital sex; procreation and pregnancy; sexual fantasy and pornography; contraception and abortion; population control; homosexuality and transexualism, and the challenges of the Women's Liberation Movement.

Workshop registration will continue all day Monday. The three-week program is open to the public without charge. Additional information may be obtained by phoning Prof. Anthony C. Ginalias on the CGF campus, 761-8210.

Through its grants, the MCH promotes an exchange of views between teachers in the humanities and Montana citizens in discussions of public policy issues related to the MCH theme, "Private Rights and Public Choices."

Since Oct. 1, 1974, the MCH has extended grants totaling $180,383 to 32 Montana groups sponsoring projects in conjunction with MCH guidelines and matching fund requirements.

Margaret Kingsland, who has offices at UM, serves as MCH executive director.
