University Grid Men Honored This Evening At First Varsity Ball

Bear Paws and Spurs Feature Copper, Silver and Gold Motif at New Dance; Groups Plan Extensive Decorating of Hall for Affair

Students will see the birth of a new tradition on the Montana campus tonight in the men's gym at the state university when Bear Paw and Tanan of Spur, sophomore honoraries, inaugurate the first annual Varsity ball, honoring Montana's grid men. Copper, silver and gold, which have been, and in succeeding years will be triumphantly carried by Montana's football teams, comprise the color theme of the decorations. Colored streamers are to be hung from the girders above the gym floor to the rails around the indoor track. Large cardboard footballs will be placed at either end of the gym floor and provisions will be made for dimming the lights. During the "Montana" dance, while the orchestra is playing "Up With Montana," a flood of copper, silver and gold balloons will be released from the roof to float down on the dancers. All Bear Paws and Spurs are requested to be at the gym at 4 o'clock this afternoon to help decorate.

Les Smith's entire orchestra, featuring Billie Smith, blues singer, and special feature arrangements, will provide the music for students who gather to do honor to Varsity football. In a statement late last night, John Sullivan, captain of the Grizzly team, said: "We, the 1935 Grizzly football squad, want the student body and members of Bear Paw and Spur, who are sponsoring this ball to know that we appreciate the honor accorded us and feel that affairs of this type help a great deal in boosting football in Montana."

Proceeds of the dance will go to the Athletic board to further athletics in Montana. Chaperones, selected by the dance committee are Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Shallenberger, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Little and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Severy. On the guest list, headed by the Varsity football squad, are Acting President F. C. Scheuch, Coach Douglas A. Fessenden, A. J. Lewandowski, Harry Adams, W. E. Schreiber, George Ring and Ed Furlong.

Bear Paws and Spurs in charge of the dance include Ray Whitcomb, president of Bear Paw, chairman; Vince Bergquist, Marion Mix, orchestra; Robert Lodmell, Vic Hultine, Selden Frisbee, decorations; Betty Elsielein, Maryalys Marrs, Jean Kountz, favors; Joyce Roberts, Esther Swanson, Frank Shaw, Merritt Warden, tickets; the Campus Studios, publicity.

Varsity ball will be strictly a date affair, but not a program or a formal dance, although next year, according to Ray Whitcomb, it is planned to make it a formal in order that it may take its place with such traditions as Foresters' ball and Barristers' ball. Tickets may be purchased at the door tonight.

Check Has First Meeting of Year

New Conversational Club Organized By Eleven University Men

Check, new state university conversational group, held its first meeting in the law school Wednesday afternoon. Bill Browning, Belt, led the discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian situation with Richard Ormsbee, Missoula, acting as chairman. Each member of the group is required to cross-examine the main speaker following his presentation of the subject, three minutes being allotted each. Joe McDowell, Deer Lodge, will be in charge of the discussion at the next gathering of the group Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Eleven men, representing several divisions and schools on the campus, constitute the membership of Check. Subjects of general political, economic and campus interest will be discussed at the weekly meetings.

Press Club Gives Flint Membership At Opening Meet

Shacksters Are to Elect New Officers Soon to Begin Planning Of Activities

Press club marked its opening meeting for this year with the conferring of an honorary membership upon Paul Flint of Helena, ex-newspaper man and guest speaker of the evening. For the first time since its organization nearly 35 years ago, the journalists' club, to which all students in the journalism school may belong, presented the certificate indicative of service to and interest in the group.

Dorothy Griffin, Billings, presided in the absence of Julian Heilbrunner, Butte, who did not return to school. After her address of welcome to the freshmen, Miss Griffin introduced Dean A. L. Stone, who then presented the featured speaker.

Mr. Flint spoke on politics in relation to journalism, and the future of journalism in Montana.

Following the speaker, Bill Giltner, last year's Press club president, talked briefly concerning the traditions of Press club, its activities and its purposes.

At the next meeting freshmen representatives for the executive board of Press club will be elected, as well as a new vice-president to take Miss Griffin's former position. Miss Griffin is now president.

Coffee and doughnuts were served at the close of the meeting.

Foresters' Hike Will Take Place Tomorrow Night

Group Makes Plans for Initiation Of New Members, Social Events of Year

Fall hike, sponsored by the Forestry club, one of the oldest traditions on the state university campus, will be held at Marshall gulch Saturday evening.

Liars, tree choppers, log sawyers and tree climbers of the forestry school will be featured in a series of contests to be held by those attending the fall hike, one of the season's most interesting events.

Members of the Forestry club, faculty members and invited guests will leave the forestry building at 7:15 Saturday night in trucks and cars. For two years the fall hike has been held at the "Sacred Grounds" of the Druids in Pattee canyon.

In addition to the fall hike, plans were made at the meeting of the club for the initiation of 75 new members of the Forestry club to be held at the next meeting of the group, October 30. According to officers of the club, there are now more members in the club than have ever before been enrolled. Plans of the club for social events during the year, based on the increased enrollment, are elaborate. These include a smoker, to be held in honor of advertisers in the Forestry Kalmin, a fall dance, with Bill Wagner in charge of arrangements, and a series of refreshment meetings.

Boxing, wrestling, tumbling and exhibitions will be featured at the forestry smoker to be held at the last meeting of the club during the fall quarter. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Harold "Strangler" Lewis, Hub Zemke and Clifford Pool. The smoker is held each fall quarter to show the appreciation of the forestry school for the support of the business men who advertise in the Forestry Kalmin.

Bob Johnson, Andy Anderson and Leonard Peterson were appointed to the committee in charge of arrangements for the initiation of new Forestry club members.

Burg Chosen Student Head Of Committee

U Building Chiefs Expect Memorable Dedication Next Month

Floyd Burg, student member of the Student Union building executive committee was last night appointed to head a committee composed of Robert Zeidler, Wyman, Zachary, Barbara Keith and Virginia Bode to draw up plans for the grand opening and dedication of the Student Union building on the week-end of November 22 and 23. A determined effort will be made to make the formal opening an outstanding event in state university history.

Burg was also selected to make a survey of state university students as to their feelings regarding the social control of the clubrooms and lounge-rooms in the building. For his information and guidance, he has suggestions at hand from the National Association of College Unions and from other union building directorates throughout the United States, on the control of such buildings. Burg will sound out student opinion and present his findings to the committee for action.

The executive committee also discussed the allotment of offices to campus organizations and asks that any such group wishing an office or meeting room file a written request with Kirk Badgley not later than October 25, in order that dispositions may be made.

Seats are being put in the auditorium and the contractors are installing the gridiron, above the stage. Lighting fixtures are practically complete and heat has been turned on to facilitate work.

Central Board Fills Various Student Committee Vacancies

Cook Chosen as Varsity Basketball Manager, Fogelson Appointed Track Head; U Governing Group Will Purchase New Stage Equipment

Several appointments, headed by the selection of Edward Cook, Missoula, as varsity basketball manager, and Howard Fogelson, Conrad, as varsity track manager, have been made by Central board. Three students were named to fill committee vacancies. Three more members of Athletic board. Two new members were named to the Outside Entertainment committee to aid in the selection of artists to appear before state university and Missoula Community concert association audiences. They are William Giltner, Billings, and Leon Lockridge, Whitefish.

Central board has also voted to use $100 of the entertainment fund to purchase theatre equipment and has passed a resolution to underwrite $222 worth of stage equipment as a guarantee in case a loss is suffered in budgeting. This will cover any deficit at the end of the year.

M Club, Football Team and Bear Paws Are Supporting 1935 Whisker Campaign to Begin Saturday; Jinx Is to Be Cremated

Saturday has been designated by the Bear Paws as the official beginning of the 1935 whisker campaign. Although Traditions board has not, as yet, officially stated that it would back the campaign, Bear Paw last night voted to sponsor the movement on the campus in support of the M club and the football squad, who last Monday resolved to lay aside their razors until Montana wins a game. Bear Paw further decided to adopt the slogan, "Beat the Jinx" for the campaign.

"Beginning Saturday and continuing until Montana wins a football game, no man on the state university campus is to shave," said Leroy Seymour, new chief grizzly, last night.

The campaign is to be combined with a novelty rally, scheduled for next Wednesday evening, at which the four year Montana conference-football jinx is to be cremated with all due ceremony.

The whisker campaign, a revival of the contest of 1933, in which prizes were given for the best beard grown, is to be promoted by the publication of a black list of the names of those who refuse to co-operate. The list will be compiled by the Bear Paws. The first black list is to be read at the rally Wednesday night and subsequent lists may be published in the Kalmin. It is possible that an award will be given for the best beard.

The members of Bear Paw are to cease shaving today. Seymour stated last night that he expected one hundred per cent support from the student body males. Every member of the sophomore men's organization, however, is designated to report any man who appears on the campus freshly shaven, beginning Saturday morning.

The cremation is to be one of the most unusual student meetings of its kind in the history of the state university. Starting with a funeral march of mock solemnity, an effigy of the conference football jinx will be borne in a coffin at the head of the procession. The procession will reach its climax with the placing of the coffin on the funeral pyre, at which time the tempo of the rally will change to the typical enthusiasm of a pre-game gathering, symbolizing the awakening of the new Montana spirit.

Elaborate plans are being made by Traditions board and the honorary organizations of the campus concerning the details of the procession.

NOTICE

Campus organizations wishing offices in the Student Union building are asked to turn in a written request to Kirk Badgley before October 25, in order that the Student Union executive committee may act upon all requests.

Howard Flint Ex-Missoulain Passes Away

Well-Known Forest Service Chief Was Instructor At University

Howard R. Flint, forest inspector in charge of aerial mapping for the Forest service, who lay ill on a scow traveling down the Salmon river and was taken off by airplane only to die in a Missoula hospital last Monday, was at one time associated with Montana state university as an instructor in the forestry school.

Flint, well known Forest service executive and former resident of Missoula, acted as instructor of forest protection at the forestry school during the spring quarter of 1933, while Dean T. C. Spaulding was at Helena on a leave of absence acting as Montana state relief commission administrator.

While a member of the National Geographic expedition down the Salmon river, called because of its roughness "The River of No Return," Flint was taken ill. For five days he was not able to receive medical attention or notify the outside world of his illness. Sunday Flint was rushed by plane to Missoula. He died Monday afternoon.

As a last request, Flint requested that his body be made available to medical men and scientists for study of the strange illness that caused his death. Doctors found, after an autopsy, that Flint's death was caused from a severe cold combined with long exposure and exhaustion. Infection localized in the brain and pituitary glands.

The Harvests of Planning

Announcement that the federal government is considering plans to allocate to the state university funds for construction, fact-finding and rehabilitation purposes is one that should receive the hopeful attention and interest of Montanans everywhere. There are so many things this state needs—but more important probably than any of these needs is the imperative necessity for direction. The state must know about itself—its resources, its people, its backgrounds, its industrial and agricultural possibilities—before it can chart a course for the present and the future.

Montana is a state rich in natural resources; at least a large majority of its people are of pioneer stock, accustomed to hardship and hopeful for the future. We have forests, agricultural lands, minerals, stock-raising, factories—an economic entity. It is not difficult to visualize a happy future for the state if it but goes in the right direction.

The surveys of range rehabilitation, cut-over land, forest and grazing, shelter belt and range reclamation should result in a new, concrete chart by which planning for the future may be started. Later mineral and industrial surveys will probably be made.

Naturally a student publication such as the Kaimin is thoroughly interested in such projects as are proposed under the PWA division of the proposed allocation. Its interest is not confined to the journalism building construction, however, but includes the chemistry-pharmacy building, the Indian memorial building, the armory and the Women's club building, as well as the fact-finding investigations. Anyone who has attended classes in the present wooden journalism "shack," with its scorching heat during the spring and summer, its refrigerator possibilities during the winter and its vibration when the press is running, looks forward to that bright day when the journalism school is properly housed. The same sort of story, with variations, can be told about the chemistry-pharmacy building. There is an imperative necessity for other buildings, and the proposed projects would fill the gap that now is so keenly felt.

If the federal government allocates funds for all or part of the contemplated projects we will be more than satisfied. We believe that this is one allocation which will reap big harvests for the state and its institutions.

How About It?

Every quarter each student pays $2.50 into the health service fund and every quarter some students receive great benefits from this service in the way of pills, cough syrup and having necessary doctors' bills taken care of. Of course, there is a good deal of criticism of the health service, most of it unfounded, by the students who follow the usual pattern of criticizing whatever they can. In some instances there may not be enough money in the fund to take care of all the illnesses in one quarter and some students are prone to feel that they should not be expected to pay even a part of their bills.

One of the major complaints, and the one we are most inclined to agree with, comes from those students who participate in a varsity or freshman sport. Whenever an injury is suffered by one of these men the money comes not from the health service but from the athletic fund. These students, however, still pay their health fees. It does seem strange that the health service should repeatedly refuse to meet even a part of these bills. Perhaps a remedy would be to have those taking part in university athletics, and there are approximately 90 of them each quarter, pay their health service fees to the athletic fund inasmuch as their injuries are handled exclusively through that service. Or it might be possible to secure the services of a local hospital and staff of doctors on a yearly contract to take over the work of the health service and administer to student ills at no additional cost.

Call 'Em Left

Mark time, March! Error, Mark time, October. Well, anyway, Call 'Em Left is "as you were." That is to say, dear readers, we are back on the field of battle.

Whoever was in command during our absence did something wonderful to this column, because we got accused of being clever, original, observing and generally just awfully smart! Of course, we'll take all the credit, ourselves, if nobody minds.

It is said there are three kinds of lies—lies, damnable lies and statistics.

From "B. Y.'s" by-line in the Daily Trojan we can't refrain from borrowing this:

"Dear Bee-Wye:

Hello again!

"We auto be ashamed for what we are going to do, but—wheel do our best to satisfy. The topic for today will be: 'How to kill a Dusen-berg with one Rock-nee.' No one will LaPay-ette this on account of it goes against the Graham.

"Does your Cadillac vitamins? To ob-V-S this, feed him a little orange Marmon-lade. That'll Bu(l)ck him Hupp.

"Auburn this up and LaSalle go home."

J. and U.

P. S. "Remember, a boy's best friend is his motor."

In the middle of all this and that, what would you think of a university humorous publication to follow the Growler? It would be a printed, not mimeographed, job. The Growler has been in the snows of the bitter winter of '33. Why did it die? Coldly intellectual. Mimeographed. No continuous appeal to the average student. If a new publication makes its appearance, real wit must take the place of out-of-place intellectuality and yet merely cute cracks and dirty digs must go by the board—but we are in favor of a student magazine.

Just after passing out papers for a philosophy final, a Fordham professor noticed a co-ed in the class busying herself applying a powder puff to her nose.

"My dear young lady," he remarked sarcastically, "you are not taking the make-up exam—yet."

Philippine farmers till their soil to the tunes of native orchestras. One American university proposes the same system for students trekking from one class to another. How about "In a Blue and Pensive Mood" as the theme for the philosophy students (if we had any on the campus) or the "Grasshopper and the Ant" for zoology students? Why stop there? "I Get a Kick Out of You" might be appropriate for varsity football practice, and "You Are My Lucky Star" for the poor little freshman physical scientists who will soon be trying to absorb astronomy from Dr. Merrill.

A Chinese family feels rich, we read, with one hundred dollars a year. Here is food for thought. But, after all, who wants to be a Chinese family?

Wonder if we'll ever see F. O. Smith and Ernie Atkinson psyching to school in the problematical-transportation manner of Hampton K. Snell on his new velocipede?

Speaking of saving shoe leather—a newspaper says that 10 million styles of shoes are worn by women today—some feat!

Two can live as cheap as one, but it costs more.

SEEN AND HEARD—Dwight Mason giving his views on the Ethiopian situation and the university football squad over KGOV, outdoors, Wednesday night... Helen Swan, North hall proctor, acting as lonely hearts' agent for foresters and dormitory innocents.

That equals one (1) seen and (1) heard. More later. We neither saw nor heard this, but we were told that last Friday night's earthquake, no-called, did some small amount of damage to the floor of the auditorium of the new building. That's too bad, because if the new building is going to be damaged, there's plenty of time ahead, and we don't want any flaws before the Jernt is even opened.

Thirty Co-eds Are Prospects On Rifle Team

Nine Former Markswomen Ready for Matches With All Comers

With nine former team shots reporting for practice and an addition of three new members who show prospects of developing into satisfactory shots, the women's rifle team is practicing for a match scheduled with the Forest Service Rifle club, an organization comprised of Missoula men, to be held in November.

In addition to several shoulder-to-shoulder matches with local men's teams during the autumn season, the women's team will accept all challenges for telegraphic matches with other universities and will enter the Garden City league matches during the winter quarter.

The Garden City league matches will be the climax of the current season. Eight teams will enter the matches, seven of these being local men's teams. The women's university team will shoot under the same conditions as the men's teams, and will not, as they have in the past, be given an advantage. In previous matches the women's team was given the preference of shooting positions.

Captain A. E. Rothermich, coach of the women's team, said Monday that he expected the women to make an excellent showing.

In addition to the members of the team, there is a class of 30 women taking riflery. Captain Rothermich said that he expected five or six of the class to develop into excellent shots.

New members of the team are Louise Monk, June Blankenhorn and Marie Cook. Louise Monk, during practice session, fired a score of 98 out of a possible 100.

Buck Announces Sports Program

All Women Must Participate In Sports To Gain W. A. A. Credit

Thelma Buck, individual sports manager, announced yesterday that during November there will be tournaments in each of the sports offered during fall quarter. Those sports are ping-pong, volleyball, shuffle-board, horseshoes, tumbling, and outings. Each of the 60 women who have turned out for individual sports is required to obtain 16 hours of participation in at least two sports. During the tournament every woman must participate in one sport in order to finish her requirement for W. A. A. credit in individual sports. This program enables her to become acquainted with sports which she may use in post-school days.

Women desirous of obtaining W. A. A. credit are urged to get in their practices as soon as possible. The women's gymnasium will be open every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in order to enable all enrolled to use the equipment.

Urey Again Given Adams Fellowship

Dr. Harold C. Urey, state university graduate, and last year's Nobel prize winner, has again been awarded the Ernest Kempton Adams research fellowship in chemistry, Columbia university announced last week. Urey has held the fellowship since 1933.

Dr. Urey received his B.A. degree in chemistry from the state university in 1917. His discovery of heavy water in 1934 brought him the Nobel prize for the greatest service to mankind along scientific lines. The scientist was one of the speakers at the 1935 commencement exercises at the state university.

PROFESSOR PLATT SPEAKS

Addresses Please

Consequences Will Be Hard On Slackers Who Do Not Register Right Residence

Did you get your mail? If not—stop and be caught thinking. Are you one of the many students who have not registered your correct address at the registrar's office? Perhaps you have not read your student handbook. On page 80 and so of that little book of essential facts, do's and don'ts, there is a paragraph which says in very plain black print, "notices sent to students at the address on file in the registrar's office will be considered delivered, and the student will be held responsible for the knowledge of the contents of such notices"—and that is just what is meant.

It is very important to you, that your correct address is listed in the registrar's office, because if it isn't, you will be excluded from classes by the end of the week.

Work is to be started on the directory of students and faculty in the near future. Incorrect names and addresses slow up this work. This is the last warning—verily let it be said unto you—leave your correct address with the registrar!

Phi Delt and Sigma Chi Lead as Tight Battles Feature Football Race

Tie Games Played in Unusually Close Struggle for Top:
D. S. L., S. P. E. and A. T. O. Independent Contests
Result in Scoreless Stalemates Thursday

Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi remain the only undefeated, untied teams in the Interfraternity touch football league. The Phi Deltas, 1934 champions, triumphed over Delta Sigma Lambda last Monday and scored their second victory at the expense of Sigma Nu Wednesday. Sigma Chi won its first start against Phi Sigma Kappa in another Wednesday fracas.

Tuesday, Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated the Alpha Tau Omega nine 6 to 0 when Multz caught a long, disputed pass over the goal line. Phi Sigma Kappa won from the Independents 9 to 0 in the other Tuesday game.

Both of the league leaders played Wednesday and Sigma Chi won from Phi Sigma Kappa 6 to 0. Tom Judge scored on a running play for the only score of a rough game marked with many penalties. Bill Wheaton, leading scorer in the league, caught a pass from Mitchell and scored, enabling Phi Delta Theta to defeat an aggressive Sigma Nu team.

The games featured Thursday night's play when both the Delta Sigma Lambda-Sigma Phi Epsilon and the Alpha Tau Omega-Independent games were overtime scoreless affairs.

Touch football games this year are featured by scoreless ties or low scores. Three overtime games, more than half the number made in the entire 1934 season, have been played in the course of a week.

University Cubs Launch Practice For Kitten Game

Gonzaga Yearlings Are Scheduled
For November Fifteenth;
Squad Is Out

The university Cubs, under the direction of Freshman Coach George Ring are preparing a definite offense for their two games which are to be played at later dates when final arrangements are completed. The large freshman squad which numbered, previous to the wedding out process, approximately one hundred aspirants, now totals less than fifty.

The schedule for the freshman team includes a game at Bozeman with the Bobkittens on October 26, and a game at home with the Gonzaga Bullpups on November 15. The Bobkitten game which previous to this year was played on a home and home basis, has to be moved to Bozeman due to a Rocky Mountain conference ruling.

Kirk Badgley, athletic manager, does not as yet consider the schedule complete and is searching for more freshman games. There are several under consideration that might be arranged with a very good possibility of a game to be played in Butte against one of the Independent league teams.

Those who have been chosen by the freshman coaches to continue turning out for freshman football practice are Andrews, Arlee, Bradford, Brower, Brown, Campbell, Connolly, Cortelloni, Chabre, Dolan, Farnum, Forte, Golden, Gibson, Hileman, Holland, Huston, Hill, Hinderman, Jacobey, Johnson, Jones, Kellner, Lazetich, Liethead, Nainland, Lundberg, Magee, Mongold, Monegan, Morris, Nybo, O'Brien, Oeder, Patterson, A. Peterson, P. Peterson, Ralston, Robinson, Ross, Ruffcorn, Ryan, W. C. Smith, F. Smith, Spellman, Strizich, Tuffley, Wetzel and Williams.

Sporty Vents

For the past week the Grizzlies have not worked too strenuously. With another week to prepare for the Idaho contest the practices have been devoted more to polishing a waning offense than to scrimmages.

o-o-o

Idaho is playing a tough Oregon team this week-end and they are out to redeem themselves for their last two poor performances. Oregon figures to win easily, and for that, if no other reason the game still is a toss-up. And while we are on the subject of Idaho we found this little quotation after the Whitman game in the Idaho Argonaut: "The spirit of the students was good. The singing of 'Here We Have Idaho' at the end of the game was especially fine," Coach Ted Bank. If the School of Mines beat the Grizzlies the new Montana spirit would do more than sing about it.

If a symposium was taken on Public Enemy No. 1 we are sure that Ed Goddard would carry off the honors on the Montana campus without a struggle. Before the season is over he will receive quite a few votes from other schools if he performs the way he did against the Grizzlies.

o-o-o

The Montana team is getting tired of softening other teams for their opponents. They are also tired of receiving praise for losing games. One of the most important things a team can acquire is the tradition or habit of winning games. This year's Grizzly team is planning on acquiring that habit and passing it on to Grizzlies who will follow them. The team is out to win games this season, and those that appear in the loss column will not be "moral victories" but just plain losses and should be treated as such.

Last week the choices turned out fairly well except for U. C. L. A. and Whitman trouncing Stanford and Idaho. It appears that a form player can not have a good day so the choices for this week will not be so conservative. Tulane over Minnesota, Ohio State over Northwestern, Tennessee over Alabama, Rice over Southern Methodist, Nebraska over Kansas State, Southern California over Oregon State, California over Santa Clara, Washington over Washington State, and Oregon over Idaho.

Schedule Planned By Coaches Club

Proceeds to Be Given to Local Fund
For Montana Athletes

The local administration of the athletic scholarship fund recently set up in Helena for the purpose of benefiting graduated high school students will not necessarily entail the donation of any money to the statewide organization, but will closely dovetail with the activities of the Downtown Coaches Club, Don Foss, president of the latter and one of the Missoula scholarship representatives, said.

The Downtown Coaches club has arranged its program separately from the statewide group. The club has an extensive schedule of shows, dances and rummage sales, the proceeds from which, together with membership donations, are given to the local athletic fund to help the cause of Montana athletes.

Foss, Franklin Thrallkill and Russell Smith are the local members of the board of directors of the fund.

Special Low Prices Set For Missoula High Game

State university students will be admitted to the Missoula-Kalispell high school football game, to be played on Dornblaser field Saturday, for twenty-five cents and the presentation of their A. S. U. M. activity tickets.

According to an announcement made by Kirk Badgley in collaboration with the local high school officials, arrangements have been made to permit university student attendance under these special rates. The high school clash will start at 2 o'clock.

Gridders Continue Intense Training For Crucial Game

Team Journeys to Idaho Next Week
For Important Vandal Tilt;
Injured Men Back

This week's open date is making little difference in the heavy practice program of the Grizzly football squad. Since early this week, with the exception of a few days of light work, the Montana team members have been undergoing intense preparation for the coming struggle a week from tomorrow with the University of Idaho Vandals. The open date, however, comes as a well earned rest and should give the few injured members of the squad an opportunity to recuperate in preparation for the game in Moscow.

Coach Douglas Fessenden was added to the casualty list this week, when a heavy cold forced him to miss the last two practice sessions. Wednesday and Thursday the squad members worked out under Coaches Harry Adams and A. J. Lewandowski, who put them through a short scrimmage with the yearling crew. Fessenden is expected to return to the field today. The Grizzly coach is planning plenty of scrimmage for the team against Idaho formations.

Only the cripples will be given a rest from scrimmage. Most of them, however, will be on the field and are expected to be in shape for the Vandal game. Charles Whittinghill, who was injured in the Trojan game, was back on the field yesterday and, while not taking part in the heavy work, expects to play against Idaho. Hartzell, who is suffering with boils, has missed practice for the last several nights but plans to be back in a suit soon.

The Idaho team already is making preparations for Montana. Practice has been started against Grizzly formations even though Oregon is on their schedule this week-end. The Vandal injured are recovering sufficiently to be in the lineup against Oregon, but those whose condition is questionable probably will not see much action until the Montana game.

Tomorrow Coach Fessenden is planning a trip to Pullman to witness the Washington-Washington State game. The Grizzlies will face the Huskies the Saturday following the Idaho game. It is probable that the assistant coaches will attend the game also as will John Sullivan, captain of the Grizzly team.

Dillon Normal College Challenges Cub Team

Grizzly Cubs, in quest of more football clashes, received a challenge from the Dillon Normal college for a game on Armistice Day, November 11.

Kirk Badgley, athletic manager, received the request but cannot state definitely whether or not the Cubs will accept until satisfactory financial arrangements have been made.

The game, if the Cubs can accept, will be played just four days before the tentative clash with the Gonzaga freshmen. George Ring, freshman coach, would like to play the Normalites at either field, regardless of the fact that there would be just a short time to recuperate for the Gonzaga Bullpup game.

Meet Monday To Start Year For Hoopsters

Coach Calls Eligible Stars
For Early Court Drill;
Brown Director

Eligible varsity basketball players for the 1935-36 season will start the year's activities at a meeting Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the third floor of the men's gymnasium. Coach A. J. Lewandowski will address all those who are not out for football.

Lewandowski is contemplating basketball practice on Tuesdays and Thursdays until November 1 when daily practice will start. Until Lewandowski is relieved of his football duties, fundamental practices will be held under the direction of Jimmy Brown, a three year sweater winner on the basketball court.

Only one veteran, Hank Blastic, is starting his third year of basketball. He has played with the Grizzly basketball team for the past two years and was an outstanding scorer on the Cub team three years ago. He has held an important place in the Grizzly lineup with such players as Bill "Swede" Erickson, Naseby Rhinehart, Al "Buck" Heller, Monte Reynolds, Bill Hileman and several other Grizzly hoop artists.

Seven juniors who had regular berths on the squad last year will be on the court from the outset of the season. Walter Keithley will again be stretching his long frame ceiling-ward for the ball at center, interchangeably with equally tall Robert Lodmell. Tom Mitchell, the Ohio ball player, and Leonard Noyes will again be defending the Grizzly hoop, while George Rathert, Ray Stevens and Mark Waddell are other promising men with experience on the Grizzly club.

Graduates from Freshman Coach Bill Erickson's Cub squad of last year are expected to play an important part with the Grizzly hoopsters. Doug Brown, Jimmy's brother, and star hurdler, will be training his eye on the basket in the near future. Paul Chumra, Charles Miller and Bob "Cat" Thompson, three Anaconda stars of two years ago are eager for action. John Castles, Don Holmquist, John Marsh, Norris Quam, "Tex" Glover, Paul Szakach, Milton Popovich, and Jack Shields will be out as soon as the football season ends. Carl Swanson will join the squad soon after the football season concludes. He was all-mining district center in 1930 and has since played with independent teams.

Few games have been scheduled as yet but contests with Fresno State college of California, Idaho and Washington State college have been arranged, the first of these, with Fresno, to take place on December 23 and 24 in Missoula. A full schedule, including the leading Montana conference schools and Montana State college will be arranged. Noted traveling troupes

Seymour, New Chief Grizzly, Sees Fighting Montana Spirit

"We are going to keep in step and build up a great varsity spirit that Montana has never before known," LeRoy Seymour, Butte, newly-elected chief grizzly of the Bear Paws, said at the first meeting of the organization Tuesday evening. Paul Chumrau and Charles Miller, both of Anaconda, were elected right paw and left paw, respectively.

John Sullivan, president of Silent Sentinel, senior men's honorary, presided at the meeting until the new president was elected. Sullivan told the Bear Paws that a representative of Silent Sentinel will be present at all their meetings and asked that they cooperate with him.

Dean A. L. Stone outlined their new duties and explained the purpose of Bear Paw.

"Your spirit and loyalty toward the university is the reason you were tapped into this organization," said Dean Stone. "Your work was watched during your freshman year and you were selected as the outstanding representatives of your class."

"The purpose of Bear Paw is more than policing and ushering at the games. It is the contact group between students and visitors, whether groups or individuals."

Dean Stone also expressed the desire to see the Bear Paws' power to paddle return and said the reason for paddling being abolished was the overzealous attitude of one group of Bear Paws.

Group Pictures Will Be Utilized In 1936 Sentinel

Twelve Social Organizations Signify Approval of New Scheme; Six Vote Negatively

Campus fraternities and sororities voted by a majority of 12 to 6 in favor of using group pictures with double page spreads in the 1936 Sentinel. Editor Robert Bates, Great Falls, proposed the scheme and requested that each organization state its preference at its active meeting. In previous years individual pictures of each member have been the vogue but additional space to depict and enumerate chapter activities will be available with the use of a group picture.

Those organizations voting in favor of the measure were Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Delta Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Sigma Kappa, Delta Sigma Lambda, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon. Those voting negatively and in favor of individual pictures were Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi.

"In behalf of the Sentinel staff, I wish to express our appreciation for this cooperation," said Editor Bates last night. "By way of reassuring those groups whose vote indicated skepticism we wish to say that the new plan was suggested only after careful consideration convinced us that it had artistic possibilities far beyond the scheme used in past years. A similar plan is being utilized in many larger school annuals."

The group pictures will be taken within the next month. Houses will be allowed considerable leeway in choosing the date and time for the pictures to be taken.

Mortar Board Answers Organization Questions

Questionnaires pertaining to the organization were answered and sent to national headquarters of Mortar board. They were graded by members of the local chapter at a special meeting held recently.

According to an announcement made by the local group, Mrs. Mary Elrod Ferguson, by virtue of her position as Dean of Women, was chosen as a sponsor of the group.

Enterprising Cub Gets Eyes Filled Proving Abilities

When the editor said in earnest tones that it is the duty of every journalist to become acquainted with the people on his run, the humble cub, trusting the editor and having ambition of notable proportions, faithfully vowed that by the end of the day every person in the chemistry department would be his bosom pal.

Weighted down with the best of intentions and armed with his most disarming personality the reporter barged exultantly into the chemistry building to begin his conquest of the hearts of all students therein. Upstairs in the laboratory he found a happy bunch of the boys, whooping it up, whereupon he rolled up his pants cuffs and entered into the fun and frolic. Finding that he had no trouble in upholding his end of the jubilee the reporter grew triumphant. Assured that his conquest was successful he became completely disarmed.

The chemistry students came to marvel at the reporter's talents. They suggested that he prove from whence came his ability by taking a lung capacity test.

Whereupon a dangerous looking gadget was produced, with pipes and wheels placed promiscuously on the surface. Several of the boys took turns on the thing, each managing to keep the wheel spinning for a considerable length of time, the seeming object of the test.

The unsuspecting reporter felt himself capable of qualifying for a position of respect among the other windjammers in the room and readily accepted the invitation to test his lungs. He was carefully instructed to place his mouth over the tube and blow until he was windless. But hardly had he begun to exhaust his supply of wind when a small aperture directly in front of his eyes, which he had failed to note previously, emitted an inky cloud of soot.

Visit the Park Hotel Tavern and Hear the Garden City Hillbillies

With darkened visage, but as yet undaunted in spirit, the reporter resolved to find a means of spinning the wheel. The second attempt ended unexplicably with a mouthful of the same disagreeable stuff.

With ambition much deflated, bowed down by the burden of bitter disillusion, and feeling nothing but rancor and hate for his editor, a malice that was displayed blackly across his face, the reporter returned to the "shack" to demand a run upon which he will be able to make the acquaintance of a more civilized, less facinorous group.

Miss Eleanor Sickels, who was an instructor of English here during the summer session, has recently completed "In Calico and Crinoline," a book of true short stories of American women.

North Hall Group Chooses Leaders

President Is Helen Lane of Butte; Plans for Dance Discussed

Helen Lane of Butte was chosen president of North hall for the coming year at the first meeting of fall quarter held Wednesday night. Other officers elected were: vice-president, Betty Jane Frahm, Whitefish; secretary, Peggy Donahoe, Wallace, Idaho, and treasurer, Dorothy Floyd.

Letitia Kleinhaus, student office assistant, was in charge of the meeting. Plans were outlined for the fall formal, to be given Friday, November 1, and committees were appointed to arrange for programs, chaperons and music.

About November 6 or 7, Miss Anne Platt, professor in the home economics department, will be guest speaker at dinner, when she will continue her talks on etiquette.

The new officers will take over their duties at the next meeting of the club.
