'CUCKOO'S NEST' OPENS WEDNESDAY AT UM

MISSOULA--

"One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest," Dale Wasserman's stage adaptation of the best selling novel of the same name by Ken Kesey, will open Wednesday, Nov. 5, and run through Sunday, Nov. 9 at 8 p.m. in the University of Montana Masquer Theater.

A sometimes hilarious, subtly unsettling and always entertaining production, "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest," is the story of an energetic and all-too-often independent young man, Randle MacMurphy, who has been tossed mercilessly into a world of order and ultimate organization.

Directed by David MacIntyre as partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Master of Fine Arts degree, "One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest" provides a sense of introspective analysis of the society that surrounds us and the standards that come from that society.

Tickets for "Cuckoo's Nest" are available at the Masquer box office, which opens at noon daily. Reservations may be made by phoning 243-4581. Tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students with valid identification.
