Black Ships Festival

Mike Mansfield 1903-2001
Mayor Iketani, Admiral Cossey, Admiral Oki, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen:

It is once again an honor and pleasure to be in Shimoda for the "Kurofune Matsuri", which marks the first time our two countries met 132 year ago. It was then that our destinies became intertwined in what is now the most important bilateral relationship in the world -- bar none. One can only imagine how difficult those first encounters between Americans and Japanese of radically different histories and cultures were.

It was here in Shimoda where it all began --

   1 century and 3 decades ago, or
   6 score and 12 years ago, or
   13 decades and 2 years ago, or
   133 years ago!
Our President at that time was Millard Fillmore, the 14th President of the United States; today President Reagan is our 40th. President Fillmore through Commandore Perry sent a personal letter to the Emperor of Japan. It was delivered to representatives of the Tokugawa Shogunate and did not, I believe, ever reach His Majesty. The subject covered in President Fillmore's communication did not contain, nor was it about, the opening of Japan to the West; it was instead a plea to the Emperor asking for better treatment for American sailors engaged in whaling activities in the North Pacific and the Sea of Japan. What the President had in mind was a more hospitable climate and more consideration to be given to shipwrecked sailors and others cast afloat in Japan especially, I believe, in the City of Hakodate in Hokkaido.

The ships we see in Shimoda today, and they are most pleasing to behold, will be matched by a squadron of Japanese ships which will appear off Newport, Rhode Island in late July of this year. There, another Black Ships Festival will be held, the third celebration, and it is a pleasure to contemplate that on that occasion Admiral Konishi and his training squadron will be in attendance. These ships represent us as partners in security and partners in peace.
But thanks to the efforts of farsighted, dedicated statesmen, educators, businessmen, and concerned private citizens, we can look back and appreciate the fact that the U.S.-Japan relationship -- which began with the drama of the black ships, the tense negotiations between Townsend Harris and the Bakufu, the shock and sometimes violence involved in opening Japan to the world -- has overcome the barriers of language, culture, and distance. The "Kurofune Matsuri" affords us the chance to reflect upon the sacrifices these people made on behalf of their countries and to reaffirm our commitment to an ever stronger, ever deeper bilateral relationship.

The U.S.-Japan relationship continues to be the pioneering bilateral relationship between the Orient and the West. Now, however, as the 20th century approaches its final decade, we find ourselves faced with an even greater challenge. I firmly believe the next century will be the Century of the Pacific, and that the peaceful, prosperous development of the Pacific Basin will depend on the strength, reliability and durability of the U.S.-Japan relationship, which in turn depends on our shared commitment to political democracy, free market economies, and individual liberties.
As we commemorate Commodore Perry and his black ships' arrival, let us remember how far we have come and how far we have yet to go.

Remember also that it was here in Shimoda where with the Commodore, the Council and the Shogunate first got together and where it all began.
Mayor Iketani, Admiral Cossey, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen:

It is once again an honor and pleasure to be in Shimoda for the "Kurofune Matsuri", which marks the first time our two countries met 132 years ago. It was then that our destinies became intertwined in what is now the most important bilateral relationship in the world -- bar none. One can only imagine how difficult those first encounters between Americans and Japanese of radically different histories and cultures were.

But thanks to the efforts of farsighted, dedicated statesmen, educators, businessmen, and concerned private citizens, we can look back and appreciate the fact that the U.S.-Japan relationship -- which began with the drama of the black ships, the tense negotiations between Townsend Harris and the Bakufu, the shock and sometimes violence involved in opening Japan to the world -- has overcome the barriers of language, culture, and distance.
1 Century + 3 decades ago
6 Score + 12 year ago
13 Decades + 2 year ago

7th March (14) Reagan 40

Letter to the Emperor

Delivered to Ishigaki Shogun

Whaling

Ships in Shimoda Bay today —

Newport in July

Admiral Komaki + Tryin' spade

Partners in Demand

Peace

Arrest of Ruby Partcake.

Return to Residence.

Note:

Eurasia, Tokyo Hotel, Room 30
Embassy, Tokyo Hotel, Room 53
American Embassy, Room 50
Foreign Press, Room 32

d d
d
d
d
d
Saturday, May 17, 1986

Breakfast: Private

9:30AM
Assemble in Hotel lobby. (9:20 in case of rain)

10:00-11:00AM
Blackship Festival Ceremony at Shiroyama Park. (In the event of rain will be held in School Gymnasium)

CEREMONY:

1. Opening remarks by the Speaker of Shimoda Assembly.
3. Wreath Laying Ceremony
   (Ambassador followed by 17 other VIPs)
4. Opening Message
   Governor of Shizuoka Prefecture Keizaburo YAMAMOTO
   Mayor of Shimoda Kiyoshi IKETANI
5. Congratulatory Messages
   Ambassador MANSFIELD
   Parliamentary Vice Foreign Minister Yasuoki URANO
   Commander, U.S. Naval Forces Japan Adm. Cossey
   U.S. Japan Society Masaru OGAWA
6. Presentation of Awards
   Ambassador's Cup (Ambassador Mansfield)
   Mayor's Cup (Mayor Iketani)
   Newport Cup (RAdm. Cossey)
7. Closing Address by the Speaker of Shimoda Assembly.

11:00-12:00PM
Parade (Ambassador rides with Mayor in open car).

12:15-1:00PM
VIP lunchon hosted by Mayor at Tokyu Hotel.

2:30PM
Depart Shimoda by helicopter.

3:00PM
Arrive at Hardy Barracks.

3:20PM
Return to Residence.

NOTE:
Embassy: (03) 583-7141
Shimoda Tokyu Hotel (05582) 2-2411
  Ambassador Mansfield......Room 630
  Danny Russel...............Room 629
  Takebuchi san.............Room 603
  Suwa san..................Room 603
  Captain Lowe..............Room 628
  Adm. Coessy..............Room 620
The "Kurofune Matsuri" affords us the chance to reflect upon the sacrifices these people made on behalf of their countries and to reaffirm our commitment to an ever stronger, ever deeper bilateral relationship.

The U.S.-Japan relationship continues to be the pioneering bilateral relationship between the Orient and the West. Now, however, as the 20th century approaches its final decade, we find ourselves faced with an even greater challenge. I firmly believe the next century will be the Century of the Pacific, and that the peaceful, prosperous development of the Pacific Basin will depend on the strength, reliability and durability of the U.S.-Japan relationship, which in turn depends on our shared commitment to political democracy, free market economies, and individual liberties.

As we commemorate Commodore Perry and his black ships' arrival, let us remember how far we have come and how far we have yet to go.

* * *

Remember also that it was here in Shimoda where it all began.

Thank you.

* * *

With Commodore Perry the Consular

The Shogunate Declared
CONGRESS

AMBASSADOR OF
THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
TOKYO

REMARKS BY AMBASSADOR MANSFIELD
BLACK SHIPS FESTIVAL
MAY 1986
SHIMODA, JAPAN

Governor Yamamoto

Mayor Iketani, Admiral Cossey, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen:

It is once again an honor and pleasure to be in Shimoda for the "Kurofune Matsuri", which marks the first time our two countries met 132 years ago. It was then that our destinies became intertwined in what is now the most important bilateral relationship in the world -- bar none. One can only imagine how difficult those first encounters between Americans and Japanese of radically different histories and cultures were.

But thanks to the efforts of farsighted, dedicated statesmen, educators, businessmen, and concerned private citizens, we can look back and appreciate the fact that the U.S.-Japan relationship -- which began with the drama of the black ships, the tense negotiations between Townsend Harris and the Bakufu, the shock and sometimes violence involved in opening Japan to the world -- has overcome the barriers of language, culture, and distance.
Shinoda was when it all began

Turning 3 decades ago

June, 6 score + 13 yrs.

Perry, Pres. Fillmore. + Whaling

Shogunate

Admiral Konishi + Hayashi Sajūra

Commendation of Yokosuka Naval Base

Commander of Yokosuka Naval Base

Following this ceremony, the Emperor, a great man, and the Emperor's rook, receive the ceremonial sword (the Hands) and the Emperor's sword (the Hands) with a white ribbon, and the Emperor's sword (the Hands) will be similarly received at a ceremony and a

Signature: [Signature]

Aviation of Fireworks from the top of Yokosuka Hotel

(Ambassador's appearance optional.)
Thursday, May 15

2:30PM  Depart Residence for Hardy Barracks.

3:00PM  Depart for Shimoda by helicopter with Adm. Cossey from Hardy Barracks, accompanied by Danny and Takebuchi-san.

3:40PM  Arrive in Shimoda, transfer to Shimoda Tokyu Hotel.

NOTE: The Ambassador will be asked to sign a certificate for the winner of this year's painting contest. The certificate will be left at the hotel for the Ambassador to sign on arrival.

Dinner: Private

Friday, May 16, 1986

Morning: Free
Breakfast/Lunch: Private

3:00-3:30PM  Return courtesy call on Mayor.
Participants:
Ambassador Mansfield
Admiral McCarthy
Admiral Cossey
Commander of Yokosuka Naval Base
Commanders of visiting Naval ships

3:30-3:40PM  Following the courtesy call, the Ambassador will receive the U.S. Ambassador's Cup from last year's painting contest winner (Miss Naryu) and present her with a replica. The Shimoda and Newport Mayor's Cups will be similarly returned to the Mayor and a representative of Newport R.I.

6:00-7:30PM  Garden party hosted by Mayor at Tokyu Hotel.

8:10-9:00PM  Viewing of fireworks from the top of Masaki Hotel (Ambassador's attendance optional).
The "Kurofune Matsuri" affords us the chance to reflect upon the sacrifices these people made on behalf of their countries and to reaffirm our commitment to an ever stronger, ever deeper bilateral relationship.

The U.S.-Japan relationship continues to be the pioneering bilateral relationship between the Orient and the West. Now, however, as the 20th century approaches its final decade, we find ourselves faced with an even greater challenge. I firmly believe the next century will be the Century of the Pacific, and that the peaceful, prosperous development of the Pacific Basin will depend on the strength, reliability and durability of the U.S.-Japan relationship, which in turn depends on our shared commitment to political democracy, free market economies, and individual liberties.

As we commemorate Commodore Perry and his black ships' arrival, let us remember how far we have come and how far we have yet to go.

Thank you.

* * *