1971 UM GRADUATES IN PHYSICAL THERAPY
RECEIVE AWARDS FROM MISS STAAEL

MISSOULA--

Nila Lee Hirning, Missoula, and Gene M. Morris, Anaconda, 1971 graduates of the University of Montana, each has received a copy of the book "Gray's Anatomy" for professional achievements in physical therapy while attending classes at the University.

The awards were made available and presented by Nora B. Staael, an assistant professor of health, physical education and recreation at UM who specializes in the physical therapy curriculum on the Missoula campus.

Miss Staael said Miss Hirning and Morris were named winners of the books by other UM seniors who attended classes with them.

Miss Hirning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hirning, is a 1962 graduate of Missoula County High School. She plans to enroll in the army's physical therapy program at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Morris, Anaconda, is a 1964 graduate of Anaconda Central High School. He is an army veteran and plans to attend a physical therapy school in Little Rock, Ark., to complete his credentials. After that Morris plans to return to Southeast Asia to work with war casualties through "Project Concern."
