11 UTAH STATE STUDENTS
COME TO UM FOR BALL

MISSOULA--

A group of 11 Utah State University forestry students came all the way from the USU campus in Logan, Utah--455 highway miles from Missoula--to attend the 55th annual Foresters' Ball this weekend at the University of Montana. The Utah students also assisted with the construction for the ball.

The students in the Utah group include Cindy Zabel, Jana Dinsmore, Luann Harasek, Karen Adams, Steve Iverson, Tom Hutchison, Mike Hoagland, Craig Pettigrew, George King, Craig Proulz and Dan Fritz.

The Foresters' Ball, sponsored by the University of Montana Forestry Club, begins at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday (Dec. 3-4) in the Harry Adams Field House at UM. Profits from the ticket donations will go into the UM Forestry Club's scholarship and loan fund.

UM forestry students will begin tearing down the displays for the ball at midnight Saturday and should complete the job in about 20 hours, according to Larry Michalsky, Princeton, publicity chairman for the 1971 ball.
