A total of 43 high school musicians who participated in the 1973 Montana High School Fine Arts Camp June 17-29 at the University of Montana completed a week of daily rehearsals and performances in small ensemble groups Friday (July 6), the final day of the Montana High School Artists Camp (MHSAC) at UM.

The MHSAC was held for selected musicians who participated in the fine arts camp. A total of 173 high school students were on campus for the fine arts camp.

MHSAC activities the past week emphasized work by small groups composed of voice students and others specializing in stringed and wind instruments. Pianists were among those selected for participation in the MHSAC.

An alphabetical listing of MHSAC participants by students' hometowns follows. Students from Montana are listed first.
