FOR RELEASE FRIDAY, OCT. 1

George D. Remington, Montana manager of United Press International, will address about 500 high school journalists at the Montana Interscholastic Editorial Association conference in Missoula Friday.

Remington will discuss "The Newsman in the Space Age" at the opening session of the two-day 16th annual conference on the University of Montana campus, according to Dr. Warren Brier, MIEA adviser.

The conference is a short course in writing, editing and production for students who work on high school publications. University journalism faculty members and high school publications advisers will lead sectional meetings on yearbook and newspaper work.

Remington, a native of Anaconda, will join the state bureau for the Lee Newspapers in Montana in mid-October. He has been Montana manager of the UPI bureau in Helena since 1959. He is a 1950 graduate of the University School of Journalism, where he was editor of the University student daily, the Montana Kaimin, his senior year.
