BEAR DON'T WALK APPOINTED
DIRECTOR OF $14,677 NIH GRANT

MISSOULA--

Marjorie Bear Don't Walk, a Flathead-Cree from Hot Springs, has been appointed project director of a $14,677 grant from the National Institute of Health to develop a special health career program at the University of Montana.

The grant will cover the period Oct. 1, 1973 through June 30, 1974.
study

Mrs. Bear Don't Walk will conduct a preliminary/ of health careers on the seven Indian reservations in Montana and prepare a training project in the health career field during the 1974-75 fiscal year.

"The project is designed to assess health needs of Montana Indians, disseminate career health information and develop a training project in the health sciences for Indian students at UM," Mrs. Bear Don't Walk said.

The project proposal was sponsored and written by the UM Indian Studies department.

A 1968 graduate of Montana State University, Bozeman, Mrs. Bear Don't Walk is married and the mother of three children. Her husband, Urban, is a third-year law student at UM.
