Kittendorff To Fashion Play Masks

Characters in "The Adding Machine" will wear masks, according to Director Larrae Haydon. Kay Kittendorff, Missoula, makeup mistress for the Masquer production, will make the masks, which have been designed by Haydon.

"Makeup on 'The Adding Machine' consists of the ordinary conventional type of stage makeup, plus the use of masks," said Haydon. The mask device is used primarily to indicate the dual personalities and repressions of Daisy and Mr. Zero.

Masks Used by Greeks

"This particular device, while it has been adapted to modern use by Eugene O'Neill, is not a new device in any sense of the word," he continued. "Actually, it has been used since the time of the Greek theater, 600 B. C., down to the present day, but very sporadically.

"It's an aid to the playwright, for one of his greatest problems is putting over to the audience the thought pattern behind what a character says and does. The particular type of mask we are using is a half-mask. The use of the masked character is one of Eugene O'Neill's innovations.

Characters Look Alike

"The rest of the masks used," Haydon explained, "are to render the rest of the characters in an exact pattern, portraying very stolid stupidity. In one particular scene all the characters look alike, dress alike and talk alike.

"Making the masks is a moulage job, where plaster for a cast is poured directly over the face of one of the actors. From this cast a negative is made, and from the negative, prints of cheesecloth and plaster. After the prints are finished, they are fitted to the individual actors, then painted," Haydon concluded.

DeMers New Cadet Captain

Cadet Lieutenant Robert J. DeMers, Missoula, has been promoted to the rank of cadet captain, replacing vice-Cadet Captain Douglas Brown, Butte, who has withdrawn from the university. The appointment was made by Colonel Eley P. Denson, professor of military science and tactics.

DeMers, a junior in the School of Business Administration, will command Company B. Brown was seriously injured at Butte during the holidays when he was struck in the leg by a ricocheting bullet. He is a senior in the physical education department and a track letterman.

MSU Graduate Is India Bound

Lois Blewett Lawson, graduate of the Home Economics department in 1938, is now on her way to India as the wife of Walter Lawson, mining engineer. Mrs. Lawson formerly lived in Butte and is the sister of Alex Blewett, Montana law graduate.

Lawson is a graduate of Montana School of Mines in Butte.

Scribes and Masquers Practice

This picture shows journalists and actors as they practiced in the gym before Tuesday's game. The writers appeared with bright pajamas for sweat suits. Masquers won 51 to 43 before an audience of 115.

Independents, In Top Spot, Defeat PDT

Mavericks won undisputed lead in interfraternity basketball by defeating Phi Delta Theta, 26 to 18, last night. Sigma Nu swamped Sigma Phi Epsilon, 41 to 6, in the second game.

The Maverick-Phi Delta game started slow, six minutes passing before Beal, Maverick, scored the first point on a free throw. The lead alternated during the first half but Mavericks led, 10-8, at half-time. Mavericks remained ahead during the second half, steadily increasing their margin.

Beal Was High

Beal was high-point man, scoring seven points. Hoon led the Phi Deltas with six counters. C. and E. Steensland, Yovetich, Rosenberger and Beal played well for the Mavericks, and Hoon, Haviland, Breen, Bauer and Foster for the Phi Delta team.

SN Kept Lead

The Sigma Nu-Sig Ep game was fast. Sigma Nu led all the way. Half-time score was 21-0. No personal fouls were called on the Sigma Nu team, the first time this season an interfraternity team has gone through a game without fouls.

Thornally, netting six baskets, topped the scoring, followed by Gorton with nine points and Price with eight. Miller with two baskets led Sig Ep scoring. Jellison made the other basket.

The entire Sigma Nu team played good ball. Miller, Jellison and DeHaven played best for Sig Ep. Hastay and Thomson were officials for both games.

Team—	W.	L.	Pct.
Mavericks	3	0	1.000
Sigma Nu	2	1	.666

Arizona Council Plans Organizing Western Greeks

Norman Stortz, Forsyth, president of Interfraternity council, last night read a letter from the University of Arizona Interfraternity council suggesting a plan by which all western Greek letter governing bodies could form an association. The local council decided to curtail action on the proposal until further information could be obtained.

Rushing rules were taken into consideration at last night's session. A committee to make a study of the rules and offer suggestions for improvement will be appointed at the next meeting of the council.

Jack Lynch, Billings, asked that the delegates take back to their houses for approval the plan of having fraternity quartets sing over station KGVO. Lynch also gave a report on progress being made on arrangements for Interfraternity dance, February 18.

ORGANIZATION PICTURES TO BE TAKEN SATURDAY

Editor Chuck Mueller has asked that the following people report to Ace Woods studio Saturday for campus organization pictures for the Sentinel: Ward Buckingham, Thomas Driscoll, Helen Brumwell, Montana Mayland, Virginia Strickland, Olga Skiftun, Bill Mufich and Lillian Cervenka.

The girls will be photographed in drapes and the men in suits. The Sentinel will take care of the cost of these pictures.

Women Plan Furnishings For Lounge

Mrs. Mary Elrod Ferguson, Dr. Lucia B. Mirrieles and Mrs. Monica B. Swearingen met with representatives of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary, Wednesday afternoon to make further plans for furnishing the lounge and lunch room in the NYA building.

The maintenance department is remodeling interiors of the two rooms, and, with contributions from several collegiate and alumni groups, Alpha Lambda Delta is buying curtains, dishes, hot plates and other interior furnishings.

The lounge and lunch room is for all college women who wish to bring lunches. In order that adequate equipment may be purchased, Grace Jean Wheeler, president of Alpha Lambda Delta, asks that all women who plan to use the lunch room leave their names with Mrs. Ferguson some time before Wednesday.

FESSENDEN TO TALK

Coach Doug Fessenden left for Great Falls this morning where he will deliver a speech at the annual meeting of the Great Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce tonight. Coach Fessenden will discuss the transformation of a star high school athlete to the ranks of college or university.

He will return from Great Falls tomorrow.

Lost, Strayed or Stolen? Ten University Graduates

Everything from tap-dancing shoes to chewing gum is lost daily on Montana State university campus and now it's alums.

The unofficial bureau of missing persons established in the registrar's office sends out a call for lost alumni. Any and all persons who have seen or heard of these missing persons are urged to get in touch with the registrar's office. Montana must have its alumni—all of them.

The list on today's bulletin includes 10 graduates who have passed into the limbo of missing persons. They are William Aho, 1924; Helen Aiken, 1927; Stanley A. Allen, 1926; Lucile Eldora Bartlett, 1932; Ralph Julius Beebe, 1927; Mrs. E. A. Belote, nee Dorothy Douglass, 1929; Mrs. Ada Fifield Bicknese, 1932; Palmer Romaine Bowdish, 1935; Keith Robert Brown, 1922, and Merrill Robocker, 1928.

Forum Vote Ousts Whip As Penalty

Robert Ball States Bill Was Not Introduced In Legislature

Campus Congress voted against the adoption of the whipping post law in its forum last night. Robert Ball, Red Lodge, speaking against the bill, clinched his argument with the fact that Senator Robert Pauline had not formally proposed the law in the legislature because of unfavorable public opinion.

Louise Jarussi, Red Lodge, negative speaker, pointed out that the majority of automobile accidents aren't caused by drunken drivers. Drunken pedestrians, carelessness of pedestrians, drivers who fail to dim their lights and drivers who don't observe traffic signs contribute to the majority of motor accidents.

Others Offend Too

"Is it just for the drunken driver to get from five to fifteen lashes as punishment when there are others who are responsible for as much carelessness?" Miss Jarussi asked.

Imprisonment and deprivation of liberty means little to the intoxicated driver but he does have fear and distaste for the thought of a public whipping, Frances Copeland, Denton, said in speaking for the affirmative.

Drastic Curbs Needed

"Why shouldn't the public demand drastic punishment for a person who, for his own pleasure, drives a car when he is unable to handle one and by so doing risks striking at the most vital principle of nature—life itself?" Miss Copeland asked.

The second affirmative speaker, Winn Dowlin, Jr., Billings, pointed out that the dangerous offenders are persons unable to profit from the academic brands of punishment. "For these people, infantile in both mind and character, an infantile punishment is necessary," Dowlin concluded.

Four Debates Listed Tonight

Four Interfraternity debates are scheduled tonight, John Pierce, debate manager, announced. The topic for each is, "Should Roosevelt Be Elected for a Third Term?"

Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi will be in Library 102 at 7:15 o'clock. Walter Coombs will be judge. Also at 7:15 o'clock, Sigma Nu vs. Phi Sigma Kappa is scheduled in Library 103. Ty Robinson will be judge.

Mavericks vs. Phi Delta Theta will be in Library 102 at 8:15 o'clock. Carter Williams will be judge. At 8:15 o'clock in Library 103 Sigma Phi Epsilon will meet Theta Chi. Dick Wilkinson will be judge. The affirmative has been assigned to each team listed first.

Sigma Delta Chi will meet Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Our Drivers' License Law— So Old and Six Bits

The Montana safety council has suggested that the state legislature establish a rigid test before the issuance of a driver's permit to an applicant. In their suggestion they further state that drivers now having permits would not be subjected to the test unless they violated highway regulations.

In other words, a permit holder at present would have the state's permission to have at least one accident in which he was at fault before the state would make him submit to a driver's test. Perhaps he'll be lucky and not kill anyone, just maim him for life.

Montana's present law in essence requires that a person be of a certain age and have 75 cents. Ability to handle a car has very little to do with the obtaining of a permit.

More than one person now holding such a permit has no more business behind the wheel of a car than a moronic drunkard. Some of them are capable of driving sensibly but just don't.

Great strides have been made in Montana in recent years in the improvement and patrolling of highways. Several notorious stretches, known as "Hell's Highways," have been eliminated or at least reduced to a state of comparative safety. All drivers are required to have permits now—but look at the kind of permit!

Speed-Reading Practice Is An Aid to Retention

"The fastest reading students in San Jose State college read eight times as rapidly as do the slow ones," declared Dr. Brant Clark of the psychology department recently.

Dr. Clark pointed out that in courses such as Fundamentals of Reading, designed to increase the students' reading speed, improvements of 100 per cent have been recorded.

Of the 35 in Clark's class this quarter, all have shown some increase in their rate of reading and ability to understand what has been read.

"The self-improvement method is not as effective as supervised correction, but if a student practices reading daily with the idea of increasing his speed rate and tests himself regularly, some good may result," said Clark.

Psychological experiments show that a fast reader can read 800 words per minute, the average reader 350, and the slow reader about 100 words per minute, of reasonably difficult college text material. Speedy readers remember what is read better than a slow reader, therefore the time needed to complete an assignment varies with different individuals. Instructors should take these factors into consideration when assigning home work, Dr. Clark believes.—Spartan Daily.

WOLFE VISITS CAMPUS

Kenneth Wolfe, who received his B.S. degree in forestry from Montana State university in 1921, visited the campus this week. Mr. Wolfe is married to Isabel Gilbert, who received a B.A. degree in Latin here in 1916. He is employed by the Forest Service with headquarters in San Francisco.

Sentinel Editor Says Yearbook Has Good Start

Exactly one-fifth of the 1939 Sentinel has been completed, according to Editor Chuck Mueller. The completed pages are being engraved by the Commercial Art and Engraving company of Los Angeles.

"The sections on football, Aber day, track, class officers, military science and fraternities are completed and we are about 30 pages ahead of last year," said Chuck. "The company doing the printing and engraving has a very fine plant in Los Angeles with all of the newest equipment. We plan on having at least four-fifths of the book finished by March."

The Sentinel contents will appear in the following order: Faculty section, seniors, student government, Greeks, dances, dramatics, convocations, athletics and organizations. A definite theme is being followed throughout the book.

Registrar Improving To Be Released Soon

J. B. Speer, registrar, is rapidly improving at St. Patrick's hospital from a recent appendectomy and will be released sometime this week.

Dean Stone Remembers

● Bleacher Lollygogging

"Improvements on the campus have been so many and so varied lately that we don't realize how great they have been unless something occurs that reminds us of the contrast between then and now," remarked Dean Stone as he handled an old photograph. "This picture was made not so very long ago as the calendar runs, but ages ago in light of contrast. There's not much here except the tower of University hall that looks natural. 'I've been interested lately in the Kaimin's drive for better lighting on University avenue. The new lighting system on Daly avenue is an improvement which I appreciate, personally. It provides a lighted way home for me at night. Not so many years ago, when it was dark on the campus it was dark—and I mean dark. There wasn't a lamp on the oval."

"The erection of lamp posts around the circle was the result of a persistent campaign on the part of Mrs. Kate Jamieson, who was then dean of women. The completion of the contract added the ornamental posts to the campus landscape but there was delay in the wiring job and it was some time before students realized the full effect of the installation.

"However, the light was turned on after a while. Then appreciation came of the full effect of the outcome of the dean's campaign, successfully terminated. Mrs. Jamieson drew a long sigh of relief. She was satisfied.

"But there was at least one coded who was philosophical and pragmatic and something of an opportunist, as well. 'Oh, all right,' she commented. 'Let 'em burn. They don't shine on the bleachers.'"

"Her remark was oracular. The lights have been shining ever since and now they are taken for granted. I wonder what would be the result if somebody turned on the floodlights on Dornblaser field some night."

The Kaimin
University of Montana
Communications:

A recent editorial in the Kaimin climbed all over our pride in maintaining the tradition of the victory bell. Stung to the quick, we valiantly scaled the stairs of Main hall Saturday night to really lay on it. Being common knowledge that freshmen must do this job, it was not disappointing to find some six or eight greener candidates waiting outside of the locked door to the bell tower. Being no Houdini or common locksmith, we let the matter drop. We will accept your apologies, if any, and hope you will spread a little journalism on the keeper of the keys.

Respectfully,

Third Term Is Rejected By Students

Campus Vote Approves President Roosevelt And His Policies

By Student Opinion Surveys
of America

In a sampling referendum conducted for the Montana Kaimin and scores of other co-operating college newspapers, the Student Opinion Surveys of America show that 65.5 per cent of the students "generally approve of Roosevelt today as president." The survey included students of all shades of political affiliation.

This figure, however, does not mean that they would like to see him run for a third term, for only 28.2 per cent answer yes to that question. The most significant deduction of the results of this poll is that although the students like the president they don't want him to be a candidate again.

The world is witnessing a perplexing situation in American politics: a president going into the last half of his second term, with strong opposition to his startling policies—but still with the confidence of the majority of the people.

Students Support President

The youth of the nation now acquiring a higher education, the leaders of the country of tomorrow, are in accord with the rest of the citizenry, and are even more enthusiastic, in the support of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Surveys, recently organized for sounding out campus opinion, have conducted two ballottings on Roosevelt, so it is possible to determine his trend of popularity on the colleges.

Dec. Jan.

Approve of Roosevelt	62.8	65.5
Favor third term	27.2	28.2

F. D. R.'s increase in popularity during the month may be attributed to events focusing attention on foreign affairs and national defense. Condemnation of Nazi treatment of Jews, the Lima Conference, trade treaties with Great Britain, and rearmament are policies generally approved by the public.

It is of interest to compare the nation's student vote of 65.5 per cent for Roosevelt with the January figure released by the American Institute of Public Opinion, showing 58 per cent of all voters approving. Although students are more emphatic on this count, they tend to agree more closely on third-term sentiment. The survey shows 28.2 per cent favoring; the Institute shows 30 per cent.

Tradition Is Reason

Those who do not want to see him run again most often mention tradition against third term as their reason. Others don't like his policies, especially spending. On the other hand, those in the minority believe he is the only man available who can carry out the program he started. An arts and sciences senior interviewed at the University of Pittsburgh gave a typical answer of the thinking student's reason for approval: "His progressive attitude is necessary to prevent a breakdown of democracy."

The president's popularity, by sections, runs in this order, from highest to lowest: South, Far West, West Central, East Central, Middle Atlantic, and New England.

Trips, Marriages And Jobs Figure In Alumni News

Trips, marriages and jobs have figured in recent news of Montana State university alumni.

Mrs. J. F. Holt, the former Bell F. Caswell, '25, is the mother of a child born last month in Missoula.

Mrs. Lois Blewett Lawson, '37, left from New York with her husband, a mining engineer and a graduate of the School of Mines at Butte, for Calcutta, India. The Lawsons are taking a postponed honeymoon and will visit in England for several days before going on to Bombay. Mr. Lawson is in the employ of an implement company and they will be in Calcutta for some time.

Ellen Marguerite Owens, '28, is now Mrs. German Zook of Kalispel.

William Negherbon, '34, was the author of "A Surplice for the Father," which appeared in the July-August issue of Story magazine.

Richard Thomson, '37, now working in New York, may leave in the spring for a year's study in interior design in Paris.

Dorothy E. Miller, '21, is now Mrs. Idar Seabloom and is working in the Spokane County Welfare department. The university had lost track of Mrs. Seabloom for 10 years.

Lieutenant F. W. Searles, infantry reserve, is the department secretary for the Montana Reservist.

Eight Swimmers To Meet WSC And Idaho Soon

Chichester, Sawhill, O'Hare
Will Make Trip

Eight varsity swimmers will leave February 2 to represent Montana in the first intercollegiate nautical meets with Idaho, February 3 at Moscow, and Washington State February 4 at Pullman.

Those making the trip are Krell, 50- and 100-yard free style; Burgess, backstroke; King, 100- and 200-yard breaststroke; Sawhill, backstroke; O'Hare, 220- and 440-yard free style; Olson, 100-yard free style; Chichester, breaststroke, and Shaw, diving.

Krell, O'Hare, Sawhill and Chichester will swim the 400-yard free style relay. Burgess, King and Krell probably will be entered in the 300-yard medley relay, which consists of 100 yards backstroke, 100 yards breaststroke and 100 yards crawl stroke.

Whadja Say, John?

By JOHN CAMPBELL

Having caught some lost breath since Tuesday night, we can discuss the exciting minutes of the last meeting between Grizzly and Cougar basketball. Yessiree, Montana's well-earned triumph over WSC is a battle which will go down in the books as one of the most thrilling basketball contests ever staged in the 17-year-old history of the Grizzly gym. If you think you were happy to hear the gun sound, how about Doc Schreiber, who has waited for this home treat since 1930!

"Kid Coffee" Lasts Seven

Boxing coaches would do well to seek pointers from Gene Elliot, Billings, who showed Kid Coffee how to last seven rounds against 14 foresters Sunday.

The tree-choppers were up Spring Gulch skiing and elected Elliot camp cook. Gene dumped a pound of coffee into three gallons of water and passed out the brew.

But soon the cry went up for more coffee. Obliging Gene filled the coffee pot up with snow and boiled the grounds a second time, using a paper sack for a water bucket.

Again and again the skiers demanded more coffee, so Gene repeated the snow-and-used-coffee-grounds process five more times. After each of the seven boilings, Gene had to drink the first cup. If he could then get up and bring in more wood, the rest of the boys figured it was safe to drink.

All but Austin Madeen were somewhat skeptical. Even after the grounds had been boiled seven times, Madeen asserted that the last cup was just as good as the first.

Free Throwing To Start Soon, Reports Adams

Annual free-throw contest will start February 8, Harry Adams, minor sports director, announced yesterday. Anyone, including freshman and varsity basketball players, is eligible to enter.

All contestants have 25 tosses for the first round of the contest. The 16 shooters with the highest percentage of good shots are selected and shoot 25 more. From this group eight are picked to throw 25 more tosses and the four highest are chosen to toss the same number in the final round.

Dwight Miller, Missoula, won last year's contest, with Jim Saldin second and John Campbell third.

Montana 38, WSC 37—at last the Grizzlies are getting some breaks. One point or a million, they still won, and they deserved to win. Credit for the golden, glorious triumph goes to every Grizzly who played top-flight ball, inspired by Coach Dahlberg's undying belief that he knew his underrated kids could win. An outstanding feature of the game and certainly a major factor in the Montana triumph was Frank Nugent's steady-nerfed pinch hitting from the foul line in the dying seconds when points were precious.

Backboard play, where the Dahlberg midgets were not conceded a chance, found Montana better than WSC. The hulking giants of the coast, whom we knew couldn't shoot like they did the first night, were out-scrapped under the rim. Had Kerpa shot his successful goal a split-second sooner, the Grizzlies would have gone starving again. Montana gets two days' rest before meeting Idaho Southern Branch, who beat them by a point last month. Bring on the Bobcats!

Speaking of MSC reminds us of the terrific manner in which they start the football season this fall. Last year was bad enough when the Cats had two days' practice and then traveled south to take three unmerciful beatings, but this year is worse. Starting September 23, the Dychemen battle Portland and the Pilots will want to avenge last year's upset. The following week Montana State tackles Idaho at Moscow. No wonder the Cats are so far down in the pigskin review ratings.

Through gritting teeth we congratulate the Masquers for the most humiliating defeat the Kaimin has yet suffered. Edna Holding's hirelings sent the scribes to press with a shocking defeat Tuesday. Building their attack around Robinson and Allen, big George Ryffel and Coach Blackie Bartley, the stage screws set a swift pace in the second half to win over their pajama-clad rivals. Hank Blastic attempted to save the game for the journalists but his eye was dim. The scribes gave their best, but underestimated the amazing actors.

Paul and Babe Coming Soon

Chief Push Joe Pomajevich said yesterday that Paul Bunyan and Babe probably will be down early as usual and make their annual inspection of the campus. Students may expect to see their tracks on the sidewalks and steps soon.

To make Paul feel more at home when he does arrive, the big log-skidder has been hauled to the oval. Last year when he was down he said, "You know, fellas, that old skidder looks mighty home-like to me. When I was just a little shaver, my dad rigged a cradle on one of those things and broke in 20 teams of reindeer to pull me. Of course, when I was about a year old I outgrew it. But the old man got two of them and I used them for roller skates until I was three."

This year Paul will bring down his small dining hall which will seat only 150 at a time. Babe was chasing Johnny Inkslinger in a friendly game of tag last week and happened to step on the large hall.

Scrapper

Captain Jim Seyler is one of the hardest fighters on the Grizzly hoop squad and he proved this with his spirited play against Washington State. Seyler, a big reason why the lofty Cougars failed to connect on rebound shots, was Montana's high-point man in the second game with 11 counters.

Council to Meet At Baty's Home

Inter-church council will have its monthly meeting at the home of Rev. Harvey F. Baty, inter-church pastor and director of the Montana State university affiliated School of Religion, at 7:30 o'clock tonight. University student representatives from seven churches will attend.

Church recreation will be the topic of discussion. Party ideas will be exchanged and a demonstration of folk dances given. Techniques for handling recreation groups will receive attention.

Churches represented will be the Presbyterian, Episcopal, Methodist, Congregational, Baptist, Immanuel Lutheran, St. Paul's Lutheran and Christian.

Alleyne Jensen, Sidney, is student manager of the council as a representative from the field work laboratory.

Adams Plans Big Schedule For Grizzlies

Montana Trackmen Have Eight Meets Slated For Spring

With an eight-meet track schedule in sight for the coming season, Coach Harry Adams will have plenty of work lined out for his men this year.

Starting with an indoor meet at Seattle April 7-8, and ending with the northern division meet at Pullman May 27, tracksters will be busy every week-end during the season.

Emigh, Stenson, Hoon, Ueland, Murphy, Pacchio, Payne, Lindberg and Klesney in the sprints and distance runs, Eiselein (if he returns spring quarter) and Kizer in the hurdles, and Seyler, Lazetich, Stejer, Quinn, Jacoby, Burgess, McDowell and Ryffel in the field events will give Coach Adams a mixed squad of veterans and newcomers.

Track schedule:

April 7-8, indoor meet at Seattle; April 21, Cheney at Cheney; April 22, Whitman at Walla Walla; April 29, MSC relays at Bozeman; May 6, Idaho at Missoula; May 13, intercollegiate at Missoula; May 20, Pacific coast meet at Seattle; May 27, Northern Division meet at Pullman.

Austrian Expert Explains Terms Used in Skiing

Hannes Blaha Speaks to Club
After Four Weeks' Use
Of English Words

Dr. Hannes Blaha, Austrian ski expert and instructor, though not eloquent after four weeks' practice in speaking English, last night explained to Press club in his initial speech in the United States on difficult ski terminology. The speech included such terms as "koerperknick," "knickschniese," "vertikali" and "scharge," all of which have no accurate English translations.

Ski races include two major divisions, slalom and downhill races. Slalom racers speed through flags forming a series of gates arranged in seven ways. A successful high speed run requires lightning turns, usually christianias, Blaha said.

Slalom runs include the schneise, through flags following the steepest slope; the knickschniese, a run following the bends in the steepest slope; the traverse, a run across the slope; the wendi, a series of gates requiring s-curve running in fast succession; the vertikali, similar to wendi but faster and more dangerous, and the charge, which is a variation of vertikali and traverse. Runs usually include all types of flag arrangements to make the race more difficult, Blaha explained.

Noted Graduate Receives Praise From Chemists

Cornelius Bol, '14, was recently acclaimed by the 1938 Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry for his invention of a new mercury vapor lamp which is now being used to light many European airports.

Bol received his B.S. degree in physics from the university in 1914 and returned to his home in the Netherlands. Last year he perfected the new landing field lamp which was adopted by several European countries.

The magazine describes it as "a lamp of unusual brilliance. It consists of a small tube containing mercury vapor, under more than a thousand atmospheres of pressure, surrounded by a quartz jacket through which water under high pressure is circulated."

The increased pressure changes the mercury vapor spectrum from the usual blue-violet to a bright white light. According to the article it is expected the lamp will be used widely in America.

Horror Tales Not True; Only 350 Priests Killed

Louis Ornitz, veteran of the war in Spain, outlined the experiences of the 3,400 American volunteers in the Abraham Lincoln and Washington brigades and explained their reasons for joining Loyalists in an address before the International Relations club and townspeople in the Methodist church last night.

President's Ball To Have Contest For "Jitterbugs"

A "jitterbug contest" with two gold loving-cups as prizes will feature the annual Roosevelt Birthday ball Saturday, January 28, at the Student Union and the Elks' temple, according to Frank Stanton, business manager. Proceeds from the dance will go into a fund used in a nation-wide fight on infantile paralysis.

Tickets are good for two admissions to local theaters as well as to the dance.

Fifty per cent of the returns go to the national fund while the remainder goes to the newly organized Missoula County Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Prevention.

Floyd Day, chairman of the committee in charge, says that a "March of Dimes" campaign has been inaugurated. Boxes have been placed in department stores for dime contributions, donors receiving buttons.

Hal Hunt and his band will furnish music at the Student Union ballroom, while Jack Bumgartner will play at the Elks' temple.

Society to Hear Freeman Report

Members of the American Association of University Professors will attend a dinner in the large meeting room of the Student Union building at 6:30 o'clock Friday, January 27.

Professor Freeman will report on the annual convention which he attended in Chicago during the Christmas holidays.

Members of the American Federation of Teachers are invited to attend.

University Women and Fort Missoula team No. 2 will meet in a rifle match tonight.

measures through the use of loud-speakers at the front, through radio, leaflets, and "illegal" newspapers, Ornitz said they were so highly effective that from 200 to 300 rebel soldiers deserted to join the opposing ranks after each effort.

At the conclusion a collection was taken up for the hospitalization of those American volunteers who, "out-powered 1,000 to 1, fighting the deadliest of modern armaments with little or no artillery, still march to the front singing in a noble sacrifice of their youth defending that type of liberty culture is able to develop."
