4-10-1973

Basketball Grizzlies ninth nationally in team defense

University of Montana–Missoula. Office of University Relations

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/newsreleases
Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Relations at ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in University of Montana News Releases, 1928, 1956-present by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.
The Montana Grizzlies are ranked ninth nationally in team defense according to the final National Collegiate Sports Service's statistics release.

Montana gave up 1616 points in 26 outings during the past hardcourt season, an average yield of 62.2 points, and joins such basketball powers as national champion UCLA, Marquette and Pennsylvania in the top ten. The Bruins of UCLA rank fifth, Marquette ranks seventh runner-up and Pennsylvania is the / to the University of Texas at El Paso as the stingiest major college team.