TWO UM OFFICIALS WITNESS
MILITARY TRAINING METHOD

Dr. Darrell J. Inabnit, executive vice president of the University of Montana and Dr. Richard A. Solberg, associate professor of botany and director of the UM Biological Station, are examining military officer training programs this week.

Dr. Inabnit is attending a civilian orientation and evaluation tour of Naval ROTC and Cadet training programs at Pensacola, Florida, and Dr. Solberg is involved in the same activity with the Army ROTC and Cadet training programs at the Presidio of San Francisco.

The sessions are designed to demonstrate to educators the sophisticated skills required to maintain today's modern military in readiness.
