Faculty Men Will Address High Schools

Simmons and Housman,
Miller and Holm Will Give 16 Talks

President George Finlay Simmons, Dr. R. L. Housman, Dr. J. E. Miller and Speech Director James N. Holm will give a total of 16 commencement speeches at state high schools between May 15 and 29, according to a report from the president's office.

Three high schools are on the itineraries of President Simmons and Mr. Holm, debate coach. The former will speak at Superior, Columbia Falls and Dillon, and Holm will head the commencement programs at Missoula, Laurel and Joliet.

Dr. Miller, dean of men, will speak four times, at Victor, Polson, Eureka and White Sulphur Spring, over a period of a week and a half.

Dr. Housman, executive head of the journalism school, will be the busiest traveling speaker with six talks scheduled over a nine-day period. His itinerary begins May 17 at Nashua high school and he appears at Bainville two days later. On four consecutive days he will make the commencement addresses at Fairview, Plentywood, Brockton and Sidney.

Scobey and Wolf Point high schools will hear Dr. G. D. Shallenberger, chairman of physical sciences. Professors E. A. Atkinson and Paul A. Bischoff and Dr. L. G. Browman will speak at Augusta, Alberton and Corvallis respectively.

Prendergast, Turli To Head AWS Groups

Ann Prendergast, Butte, has been appointed chairman of the Lantern parade June 3. Lantern parade is annual feature of Commencement week in which hall university women participate.

Sally Hopkins, AWS president, appointed Eleanor Turli, Brockway, chairman of a committee to send AWS handbook, "Montana Co-eds' Campus," to state high school senior women. Emmajane Gibson, Butte, and Kathryn Russell, Bozeman, will assist.

University Receives 938 Summer School Inquiries

Shallenberger Is Director of Session; Instruction
Will Be Offered in 17 Departments,
Seven Professional Schools

Nine hundred and thirty-eight personal inquiries concerning summer school have already been received and many more are expected, Dr. G. D. Shallenberger, director announced recently. This is 12 per cent better than the total of 884 received last year, and the University is looking forward to one of its largest and best summer sessions.

Fifteen visiting professors have been appointed for the summer session, to augment the regular faculty members, some 50 of them, who will stay for the summer quarter. Courses are offered in seventeen departments and six professional schools.

Supplementing regular class work at the summer session will be ten conferences. The conference of social science teachers, the conference on high school journalism, the conference on cooperative study of secondary school, the conference on educational problems, the Montana Music Educators conference and the conference on speech are primarily for educators, although much of value will be found in each of them for anyone who attends.

The Institute for Commercial and Trade association secretaries is designed to aid those engaged in this work and those expecting to enter it. It is expected that representatives of every chamber of commerce and trade association in Montana will be present to hear lectures by nationally known experts in the field, and take part in the round-table discussions. The conference on world affairs features lectures by a journalist of international repute. The high school music school offers four weeks of intensive training to youthful musicians. The athletic coaching school will feature training in football, 6-man football, track and comprehensive work in athletic training.

One four-day trip and four one-day trips to nearby places of interest are planned under the direction of Dr. Fred Barkley, instructor in botany. Campus recreation activities will be under the direction of Nelle Porter, Billings high school, and Catherine Harrington, Anaconda high school. Miss Porter has been on the staff in previous years.

Last year's summer session had an enrollment of 856, and 31 bachelor's degrees, 13 master of arts degrees, and 13 master of education degrees were granted. There are three sessions, one nine-weeks' session from June 12 to August 11, and two six weeks' sessions, June 12-July 21, and July 3-August 11.

Alpha Lambda Delta will meet at 5 o'clock Wednesday in the NYA building.

National Pharmacy Men Making Inspection Tour

Doctors A. C. Taylor, E. F. Kelly Arrive on Campus
For Purpose of Rating Montana School
Relative to Sixty-six Others

Dr. A. C. Taylor, president of the District of Columbia Board of Pharmacy and Dr. E. F. Kelly, secretary of the American Pharmaceutical association, are making an inspection tour for accrediting the Montana School of Pharmacy.

Taylor and Kelly, representing the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education, American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, National Association of Boards of Pharmacy and the American Pharmaceutical association, started their inspection yesterday and will continue through today.

Congratulate University

Dr. Taylor and Dr. Kelly said, "We wish to congratulate the university, the pharmacy school and the citizens of the state of Montana for the very fine facilities they are going to offer the students in the new building. It is splendidly arranged and when it is occupied and equipped it will compare very favorably to any building in the United States when the population of the state is taken into consideration."

Kelly and Taylor came to the university from North Dakota, where they completed an investigation at the University of North Dakota's pharmacy school. According to Kelly, this is the second year that the council has been making these inspections.

To Give Ratings

"The purpose of these inspections is to enable the council to issue lists of accredited schools of pharmacy for the general public," said Kelly. The schools will be given ratings of "accredited" or "not accredited." To be an accredited school, it is necessary that the school meet the minimum requirements set by the council, Taylor said.

To Insure Uniformity

"This inspection is to insure uniform work in all parts of the country when a person has a prescription filled. This is a voluntary inspection and the schools are inspected according to their equipment, library facilities and teaching staff," Kelly went on to say.

The university is one of the 67 schools that is to be inspected and rated. The rating is to go into effect this fall.

After the inspection is completed a report will be sent to Washington, D. C. and suggestions for improvement will be mailed to the pharmacy school heads.

Whitefish Takes Debate Tourney Over Great Falls

Whitefish debaters defeated the Great Falls team Friday night for Interscholastic debate honors, according to James N. Holm, judge. Conrad moved through the six rounds of debate to win third.

Other high school teams were Fergus county, Gallatin county, Three Forks and Froid. Each debated three times on the affirmative and negative ramifications of the Anglo-American alliance.

Each debate was rated either "superior," average or "inferior" and according to the rating by the judges divided 100, 90 or 80 points respectively.

Whitefish, represented by Jack Maxwell and M. J. Mitchell, winner of the best speaker award, piled up a total of 341 points. Margaret Severance and Wilson Nicoll of Great Falls were given 322 points. "The finals merely proved that point ratings were correct," Holm said.

Marshall Hattersley and Mary Grady, Conrad, trailed in third place with 298 points.

Drea O'Connell Injured in Fall

Drea O'Connell, Butte, is confined to St. Patrick's hospital with a broken neck, received when she was thrown from a horse Sunday afternoon.

Miss O'Connell was thrown from the horse near the university tennis courts and dragged about one-half a block before the horse was stopped.

Dr. Meredith Hesdorffer said her condition was good.

NOTICE

Student-Faculty council will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Law building, according to Leroy Purvis.

SPURS—OLD AND NEW

Twenty-four new members of Tanan-of-Spur were tapped Friday afternoon of Interscholastic.

We Look at the Future; A Matter of Policy

Well, Bill, we're on the other side of the fence now. Last week we were trying to sneak a story in a little late, but now it's our turn to beef at the reporters and stall Sarge Hardy until that much-cursed stack of copy goes down the chute. And we are still wondering just how we're going to remember to change the date lines every day and keep the machines busy on days when copy is a little short or all the stories are late.

But then, like all embryonic editors, we're looking forward to the job and planning for the year just as you did. And we appreciate your advice and your help in getting us started right. We'll probably get lots of hair-brained ideas before the year is out. But we can promise that we'll think things over before we act.

We are well aware of the fact that the Kaimin is the students' newspaper. It is our aim to keep it that way. We are trying to manage the Kaimin, not to push any particular group or faction. And we are going to work our heads off to make the Kaimin as interesting as possible and to cover the campus as impartially as we can. To keep the Kaimin the students' newspaper, we will print all the student news we can and give credit where it is due, without partiality.

You mentioned not being afraid of sticking our necks out. Well, Bill, we did a pretty good job of that when we asked for this job. And we will very likely get in the way of the axe a few times in the next year. No, we're not afraid of getting our necks nicked, where it is necessary. But if we go around with our necks protruding all the time, we may not have them when we need them most.

You shouldn't have written "30," Bill. You have written the first page of the daily Kaimin, and you did a good job. So now we'll write "add 1," pick up the story where you left off and try to do as well as you did.

Dean Stone Remembers

• THE SENTINEL

"Well, it's over once more," said Dean Stone as he surveyed the traces of his part of Interscholastic, "and it was the best ever. A great crowd, perfect weather and an orderly performance combined to do credit to Doctor Rowe and his associates. Now we have to look forward to the Sentinel and to May Fete—two more markers before commencement.

"There's not much which marks more emphatically and graphically the course of campus history than do the successive issues of The Sentinel. Staff members of the annual have in instances gone far since they took their official leave of the campus. It is interesting to measure progress by that chain. The Sentinel started modestly, as did all our traditions. It was not until 1908 that it became ambitious and became a book which was big enough to cast a shadow. The junior class produced The Sentinel then and it was the class of '09 which made a book of the annual. That was a go-getter class, anyway.

"Alice Wright was editor. Ethel Orvis was one of her assistants and Ida Cunningham was on the local staff. Florence Thleme, Mary Rankin and Montana Buswell were other girls who helped. Miss Buswell wrote the theme poem of the book. Charlie Farmer, Berney Kitt, Gil McLaren and Allan Toole were some of the boys. These names don't mean much to present-day students but they are familiar in the houses and well remembered by some of the older university folks. Florence DeMers and Charlie Eggleston did the illustrating and the book contained some of Doctor Elrod's fine photographs—published then for the first time. It was, all in all, a daring volume for its time.

"The Class of '10 picked up the torch the next year and boosted The Sentinel along toward its present status. Arbie Leech was editor—now we're coming to names which are more familiar, we hear some of them every day. Robert C. Line was one of the literary editors. Art Bishop and Walter McLeod were athletic editors. Frank Bonner, Thayer Stoddard, Massey McCullough, Lamar Maclay, Hugh Forbis and Charles McGowan were staff members. Mamie Burke, Laura Johnson, Margaret Lucy and Hazel Butzerin were amongst the girls on the list. Frank Bonner made the pictures.

"The Class of '09 dedicated the first of these volumes to President Craig—the other was inscribed to President Duniway. The early books appear strange in comparison with the volumes of these days, but not half as strange as do the costumes in the pictures."

Lawyers Elect Olsen President

Arnold H. Olson, Butte senior, was elected president of the Law School association for the year 1939-40 at a meeting last week.

Other officers are John A. Carver, Boise, Idaho, vice-president; Jeanne Mueller, Missoula, secretary; Sam Barer, Bozeman, sergeant-at-arms; Herb Conrad, Conrad, trustee of the student loan fund.

Second Position Retained By ATO Aggregation In SPE Contest

Today, 4 o'clock, Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi.
Tomorrow, 4 o'clock, Theta Chi vs. Mavericks.

Phi Delta Theta clinched the Interfraternity baseball title Sunday by taking Sigma Chi, 16 to 7. Phi Delt has seven wins and no losses with one more game to play. Alpha Tau Omega continued in second place with five wins and two losses by winning from Sigma Phi Epsilon, 8 to 7, Sunday.

PDT, 16; SX, 7

Dean Galles, first man up for the Phi Delt, smashed out a home-run to start the scoring. Jens doubled in the second and scored a run for Sigma Chi to tie the score.

Campbell's single in the last of the second scored Robinson and Bauer to put the Phi Delt in the lead, 3 to 1. Three walks, three singles, a double and an error in the first of the third scored five runs for Sigma Chi and put them ahead, 6 to 3.

A 10-run rally in the last of the third put the game on ice for the Phi Delt. Five walks, five singles and a double scored the 10 runs. Phi Delt made it 16-6 in the fourth when a walk, a single and two errors scored three runs. Halsey came home on a catcher's error in the fifth for Sigma Chi to wind up the scoring at 16 to 7.

Batteries: Phi Delt, Campbell, Bryan and Bauer; Sigma Chi, Wharton, Dolan and Dolan, Jens. Umpire: Greene.

ATO, 8; SPE, 7

ATO scored two runs in the last inning to overcome Sig Ep's lead and win the game. Sig Ep started scoring in the first when Wagner came in. Poe, McCauley and Rooney crossed the plate in the last of the third to put ATO in the lead, 3 to 1. Two more runs in the second and one in the first of the third put them ahead, 6 to 1.

Five Sig Ep runs in the last of the third tied the score at 6-6 and Wylse's run in the fourth put Sig Ep in the lead, 7-6. Morrow crossed the plate and Rolston stole home in the fifth to win for ATO, 8 to 7.

Batteries: ATO, Poe and Morrow; Sig Ep, Bays and DeHaven. Umpire: Helm.

Amateur Photogs Display Pictures

Fifty photographs, representing some of the best work of amateur photographers of the state, are on exhibition in the Art building today and tomorrow afternoons from 2 to 6 o'clock. The exhibit is sponsored by the Missoula Camera club and is the first Montana amateur photographic salon.

One university student, Otto Rasmussen, Lavina, is among those whose photographs are on display. It is planned to make the exhibit an annual affair.

Montana Garners 14 Points In Northern Division Meet

Powerful Cougar Aggregation Sweeps All Flat Races; Oregon State College Trails Poor Second; Grizzlies Nose Out Huskies

Montana Grizzlies picked up 14 points in the Northern Division track and field meet at Pullman Saturday. The powerful Washington State college Cougars, in sweeping to their seventh straight division championship, won every flat race from 100 yards up to the two-mile, grabbed firsts in the shot and mile relay and placed men in almost every other event on the calendar.

Jack Emigh, ace Grizzly sprinter, took second in the 220 and third in the 440. Emigh, starting in lane one in the quarter-mile, was crowded against the curb on the 220-yard straightaway and was forced to run around half a dozen sprinters at the curve to pull up on Cougar Pettichord and Montgomery, Washington runner. He was a step behind the two at the tape, running the distance in 48.2 seconds. Emigh was nosed out in the furlong by Curt Ledford, Cougar. Ledford crossed the tape a yard in advance.

Sophomores Do Well

Montana's ace sophomore half-mile duo, Ole Ueland and Wilbert Murphy, stepped the fastest 880 ever run by a Grizzly, but failed to place. The winner's time was one of the best of the meet. Ueland's time was 1:56.7, and Murphy's was 1:57.3. They came fifth and sixth.

"Jumping Jim" Seyler snatched two seconds for Montana in the high jump and broad jump. Seyler barely missed 6 feet 4 inches after clearing 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump. He leaped 22 feet 1 inch in the broad jump.

Captain Al Eiselein scampered over the high sticks behind Carlson, Oregon State, and Busby, Idaho, to come third. Eiselein was second to Carlson in the high hurdles heat.

Relay Team Places

Montana's mile relay team, Ole Ueland, Bob Price, Wilbert Murphy and Jack Emigh, placed fourth in that event. Ueland, Murphy and Emigh were still puffing from previous races, but the quartet managed to carry the baton around in 3:21 seconds, an unofficial two seconds under the Montana relay record.

Dixon Garner, smooth-striding Cougar, turned on the power on the final lap to run the legs off Leibowitz, his Vandal opponent. Garner finished 50 yards ahead. His time of 4:16.4 clipped .4 of a second off the meet record.

Diablo Enters Glamour Race

The charms of Diablo, canine heartbreaker, are pushing him into the spotlight of campus doggy social life. The fascinating ingenue made his debut about three months ago, and already challenges Glamour Girl Garbo and Simba, canine Hedy Lamarr, for popularity.

Diablo is a four-months-old German police dog. His owner, Forester Gille Wooten, points with pride to his double dew-claws, as evidence of good blood. Wooten says that Diablo will be about the size of Garbo when he is full grown.

Wooten acquired Diablo by trade, giving in exchange for him a rifle. Diablo attends Wooten's classes almost regularly, and has learned proper classroom etiquette for dogs.

THIS young lady, and thousands of others like her, will move a tremendous quantity of merchandise off dealers' shelves and into customers' hands before very long. She and her masculine counterparts will require a gift supply which constitutes a market no merchant in that line can afford to overlook.

Advertisements in the Kaimin will appeal to the Montana State university "graduation gift" business through three channels: The student whose friend in graduating, the parent whose offspring will wear the cap and gown this year, and the graduate himself, via the gentle hint method.

Don't overlook the Kaimin advertising columns for a punch-packing appeal to a great seasonal business!

Great Falls High School Wins State Class A Finals Saturday In Little Theater Tournament

Darby High School Takes First Place in B Division;
Cascade County Actors Receive Medals
For Leading Performances

Great Falls high school won first place for Class A schools in the Little Theater tournament finals Saturday night with its presentation of the first act of Ibsen's "Peer Gynt." First place among Class B schools went to Darby high school, producers of Jean Lee Lathom's "The Bed of Petunias."

Eleanor Erickson, Great Falls, was awarded the "best actress" medal for her characterization of Ase. Nat Pelt, Great Falls, won the "best actor" medal in the role of Peer Gynt. Other contestants in the finals were Anaconda, Class A; Powell, Class B, and Havre high school, which was allowed to produce its play using Boyd Cochrell in place of Dick Pedersen, Havre actor confined to the hospital with a streptococci sore throat.

Cochrell, who has appeared in numerous Masquer productions, played the leading male role, Epi-theus, in the Havre play 24 hours after receiving his script. Havre was permitted to produce its play to give other players a chance for the "best acting" medal, but could not have been selected as a school winner because of the substitution of Cochrell for Pedersen.

Powell County High school produced "The Great Allowance Battle," by Christopher Sergel. The Havre play was Bruce B. McConnell's "Privately Printed." Anaconda high school, winners of second place in the A division, presented "Fixin's," by Erma and Paul Green.

Directors of the plays were: Great Falls, Evelyn Clinton; Anaconda, Edward F. Kretzer; Havre,

Men to Choose Queen of Prom

Is she the dark-haired, heavy-lidded glamour girl? Is she the vivacious athletic type? Who is she like—the typical American co-ed who figures so prominently in modern magazine fiction?

This week all men on the campus, from lowliest frosh to mightiest grad, will choose the senior woman who most nearly resembles that mythical college girl who "has everything."

No candidates will be nominated. Ballot boxes will be placed in the Student store and in Main hall. The senior receiving the greatest number of votes will reign as Queen of the Junior Prom, May 19.

In former years candidates were named from the sorority houses and independent groups and the queen selected by a vote of the junior class officers.
