ATTORNEY GENERAL CANDIDATE MIKE GREELY
TO SPEAK AT UNIVERSITY WEDNESDAY, MAY 26

MISSOULA--

Mike Greely, Great Falls, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state attorney general, will speak at noon Wednesday, May 26, in the mall of the University Center at the University of Montana. The public is invited to attend.

Greely is expected to speak on topics concerning his campaign platform, including the establishment of a state medical examiner, a clearer definition of the attorney general's duties, promotion of a sophisticated crime laboratory and high quality training for all law enforcement agencies. Following Greely's remarks, a question and answer period with the audience will be presented.

Greely, currently a state senator from Great Falls, serves on the Legislative Audit and Rules Committees. He chairs both the Montana Justice Project and the State Administration Committee and is a member of the Governor's Mental Health Advisory Council and the Cascade County Mental Health Advisory Board.

He is a 1963 graduate of Yale University and received the juris doctor degree from the University of Montana in 1967. He served as assistant attorney general from 1968-70 and as deputy Cascade County attorney from 1970-76. Greely also served as a member of the Montana House of Representatives from Cascade County from 1970-75.

The noon public forums are sponsored by the Associated Students of UM. The series is designed to bring current political candidates to the University and Missoula.
