MISSOULA--

Two courses entitled "Career Education Curriculum Development" will be offered through the Center for Continuing Education and Summer Programs at the University of Montana in Missoula during the second 4½-week UM Summer Session July 22-Aug. 20.

The courses, listed as Education 494, an undergraduate course, and Education 594, a graduate course, can be taken for three to six credits, and both offer instructions in Career Education program development and materials adaptation and evaluation.

Both courses will be taught by Regional Center faculty and staff of the National Cooperative for Career Education (NCCE), which is headquartered on the Missoula campus. The NCCE, developed during the past year on the UM campus in Missoula, is a private, nonprofit educational organization designed to serve the needs of Career Education on a nationwide basis.

Additional information may be obtained by phoning the NCCE at UM, 243-5262.
