University To Honor Two At Graduation Exercises

Regional Forester Will Receive Recognition Degree; Educator to Be Given Doctor of Laws At Commencement June 3

Major Evan W. Kelley, regional forester of District One, and Dr. Gordon Watkins, dean of the college of letters and sciences at the University of California at Los Angeles, will receive honorary degrees at the annual commencement Monday. Dr. Watkins, who will receive the honorary degree of doctor of laws, will give the commencement address on "The Democratic Tradition and the Retreat From Reason." Major Kelley, director of the largest forest region in the United States, will be given the recognition degree of master of forest engineering.

Dr. Watkins obtained his bachelor's degree at Montana in 1914, his master's degree at the University of Illinois in 1916, and his Ph. D. at the University of Pennsylvania in 1918. He served as associate professor of economics at Illinois from 1917 to 1925, when he was appointed professor of economics at California. Since 1936, he has been dean of the college of letters and sciences at UCLA.

Watkins Publishes Books

A member of both the American Association for Labor Legislation and the American Economic Association, Dr. Watkins has published a number of books and articles on labor economics, and on labor problems and management. He is a director of the Prudential Building and Loan association and the Institute of Los Angeles Stock exchange. Dr. Watkins' wife is the former Anna Davis, '15.

Heads Sawmill

Major Kelley has been a member of the United States Forest Service for 34 years. During the World War, he was called upon to head a sawmill in France. He received the commission of captain, later being raised to the rank of major. At the end of the war, the French government presented him with the chevalier certificate in recognition of his observance of forest utilization rules.

Since 1929, Major Kelley, as regional forester, has had charge of this district. In February, 1939, Kelley published an article on "What the Forest Service Expects of Forest School Graduates," which has been nationally circulated to forestry schools. Previously he had published a bulletin, "Systematic Fire Protection in the National Forests of California." Major Kelley helped work out the first cooperative agreement between the forest service and independent timber owners. That agreement has been used as a model for all succeeding agreements.

Reade Named Psi Chi Prexy

George Reade, Riverside, California, was elected president of Psi Chi, national psychology honorary, for next year at the annual picnic at Montana Power park Tuesday night.

Jean Knapp, Wilsall, was elected vice-president; Martha Halverson, Lonepine, secretary; Hazel Hayden, Missoula, historian; William Hopkins, Missoula, assistant treasurer, and Dr. Ames, treasurer.

They will replace Ed Hooper, Butte, this year's president; David Smith, Missoula, vice-president, and Mary Fuller, Valier, secretary.

Winner

Bob Thornally was awarded the Grizzly cup at the Awards Convocation this morning.

Senior Dinner Will Highlight Final Week

Three hundred eighty-six seniors will end their college careers in a burst of activity Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Seniors will be honored at the Commencement dinner in the Gold room at 6:15 o'clock Saturday. Major Evan W. Kelley, regional forester of District One; Don Foss, alumni association president; Gwendolyn Benson, Sidney, senior class vice-president; R. H. Jesse, dean of faculty, and President George Finlay Simmons will be the chief speakers.

After the dinner, Clarence Bell's Grizzly concert band will play on the oval at 7:30 o'clock. Singing-on-the-Steps starts at 8:30 o'clock.

At 9 o'clock, the Lantern Parade will get under way with old and new officers heading the line of march from Main hall steps. Behind the officers will come senior, junior, sophomore and freshman women, walking four abreast. At the foot of the steps, the four columns will divide into twos, the groups traversing the south and north sides of the oval. Reaching the half-way mark, the women will counter-march, seniors forming an "M" on the oval while the remaining women gather beneath Main hall tower. While quiet reigns, a soloist will sing "Montana, My Montana" from the tower room. The ceremony will close with the singing of "College Chums."

The Senior farewell mixer will be in the Gold room at 9:30 o'clock. Those on the pennant committee, of which Miss Helen Gleason, professor of home economics, is in charge, are Helen Preston, Great Falls; Lois Bauer, Columbia Falls; John Pierce, Billings; Jack Hogan, Anaconda, and Bob Rice, Butte. Burke McNamer, Shelby; Bob Thornally, Chicago, Illinois; Carter Williams, Boulder; Myron Keilman, Whitehall, and Jack Lynch, Billings, are floor committee members.

President Simmons will give the Baccalaureate address at 8 o'clock Sunday in the Student Union theater. His speech will be preceded by organ numbers played by Professor Florence Smith. Music by the a capella choir will conclude the ceremonies.

Dr. Gordon S. Watkins, '14, dean of the college of letters and science at the University of California at Los Angeles, will present the forty-third annual Commencement address at 2 o'clock Monday.

Final event of Commencement week will be the reception in the Gold room for the graduating class, relatives, alumni and friends.

Prizes, Awards, Honors Go To 103 At Special Convo This Morning

Thornally Gets Grizzly Cup; Carr Receives Scheuch Memorial; Maury, Hoag Win Bennett Essay Contest; Elliott Given 1904 Class Prize

By Pete Kamps

Sixty-five students received awards in 21 separate divisions of individual competition at the annual prizes and awards convocation this morning. Twenty-six new members were named to honor societies and 12 students received scholarships, fellowships or internships. Dr. R. H. Jesse, dean of the faculty, presented the honors.

W. P. Clark, professor of classical languages and chairman of the sub-committee for this convocation, addressed the group on phases of competition and its influence on student work.

Robert Thornally, Chicago, Illinois, received the coveted Grizzly cup for excellence in scholarship and athletics. Football star for three years, Thornally was co-captain of the gridiron squad this year.

Clide Carr, Kalispell, was selected as winner of the Scheuch scholarship award. Carr, who is secretary of Bear Paw, earned his letter in track this year, and is active in glee club activities. The scholarship, which is a two-year award worth $280 per year, is given by former Acting President F. C. Scheuch in memory of his son, Straughn, who died while attending the university.

Maury Wins $25

The Bennett Essay prizes, awarded for the best essays on some topic pertaining to good government, were given to Josephine Maury, Butte, and Roger Hoag, Jeffers. The respective prizes were $25 and $10.

Eugene Elliott, Billings, got the 1904 class prize of $20 awarded this year to a botany student.

Seventeen juniors tapped by Kappa Tau, senior scholastic honorary, were Albert Angstman, Helena; Ward Buckingham, Kalispell; Merritt Burdick, Brady; Florence Burton, Missoula; Harry Corry, Billings; Ruth Harrison, Deer Lodge; Hazel Hayden, Missoula; Hugh Herbert, Havre.

Edward Herda, Judith Gap; Kenneth Kohnen, Shelby; Mrs. Florence McGahan, Great Falls; Virgil McNabb, Terry; Lois Murphy, Butte; Irene Pappas, Butte; Norman Sheeran, Columbia Falls; Grace Jean Wheeler, Ronan, and Elfriede Zeeck, Somers. Members of this organization must have completed 108 credits and have a grade index of 2.3.

Faculty Women's Club Award

To Grace Jean Wheeler, Ronan, was awarded the $25 Faculty Women's club award which is given to a woman selected from the highest ten per cent of the junior class.

James Hoppe, Somers, received the pharmacy Kappa Psi scholarship key and the Lehn and Fink pharmacy medal for having the highest general average of all graduating pharmacists.

'M' Blankets

"M" blankets were awarded for football, basketball and track to Jack Emigh, Kankakee, Illinois, three track letters; Jack Hoon, Missoula, three football letters; Roger Lundberg, Northwood, Iowa, three football letters; Frank Nugent, Miles City, three football and three basketball letters; Jack Pachico, Butte, three track letters.

Barney Ryan, Livingston, three basketball letters; Perry Stenson, Kalispell, three football and two track letters; Emil Tabaracci, Black Eagle, three football letters; Robert Thornally, Chicago, Illinois, three football letters, and Glen Van Bramer, Billings, three football letters.

Edward Reynolds, Anaconda, received the $10 Annie Lewis Joyce Memorial prize in English for his story "Up the Hill."

SDX Honors Three

Journalists Donald Bartsch, Brady, and William Nash, Missoula, received the Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, scholarship award of a gold key and certificate of merit. The society also gave a special award this year to Edward Reynolds, Anaconda, as "citation for achievement because of general excellence in character, scholarship and competence to perform professional journalistic tasks."

Students named who qualified for awards from Central Board for participation in debate, oratory or extemporaneous speaking during the past year were Walter Coombs, Missoula, debate; Glen Nelson, Missoula, debate and oratory; Bill Scott, Great Falls, debate, oratory and extemporaneous speaking; Roger Hoag, Jeffers, debate.

Scott Wins Awards

Bill Scott and Walter Niemi received the $5 and $3 debate awards, respectively. Scott also won the Montana Peace Oratorical prize of $20.

Have We Forgotten Other Memorial Days?

America has been surprised and shocked at the march of events in Europe. We doubted the ability of the Nazis to crack the Maginot line. We underrated the value of the airplane—as did the British and French. We said the British navy and the blockade would inevitably bring the Germans to terms and we wishfully saw a "peace with honor" and possibly the return of a democratic form of government in Germany.

We thought we could sit smugly at home, looking unemotionally at the battle raging across the sea. We had picked the side we would cheer for and help "short of war" because we thought a victory for our favorites would be to our interest.

But we resolved that we would not forget the lesson we learned from our last venture in European wars, that we would not send troops to die overseas again.

Then came the fall of Poland, the invasion of Denmark, Norway, the overrunning of Luxemburg, the capitulation of Holland, and the German success in Belgium. We are wondering now if the Allies can hold out long enough for the blockade to start pinching Germany.

And yesterday was Memorial Day!

Senior Field Trip Journal Is Out

A Forester's journal of the range management seniors field trip through the Southwest was released for distribution Wednesday, according to John Loucks, Froid, editor.

The 42-page journal contains technical write-ups on every experimental station visited by the troupe, written by different members of the class, and a complete log of the trip, kept by Loucks. It is illustrated with 60 photographs taken during the trip by Jerome Bauer, Missoula, and Merle Brunswold, Billings.

Forty-three copies were published. They will be distributed to seniors who took the trip, to all Forestry School instructors and to each of the experimental stations that was visited.

New Hall Women Are Honored

Twenty-two senior women from New hall were honored Tuesday night at a special senior dinner at the residence hall dining room. The women were seated at a long table decorated with candles and flowers, with place-cards and favors suggestive of graduation.

The prophecy was given by Virginia Hagenson, Butte; Margaret Powell, Ruth Plank, Chester; Irene Martin, Stanford; Namoi Owen, Phillipsburg; Dean Brown, Eureka, and Louise Jarussi, Red Lodge, sang a song especially written for the New hall seniors last year by Dorothy Milligan, '39, Harriett Moore, Hamilton, and Virginia Starr, Fairview. At the conclusion of the dinner, the seniors were given pictures of Main hall as parting gifts.

Music School Will Present Organ Recital

Seniors in the School of Music will present an organ recital in the Student Union theater at three o'clock Sunday.

Betty Hoskins, Deer Lodge, will play "Scherzando," Gillette, "Repose," Barrington, and "Pageant," by Johnston. "Introduction from the Poet and Peasant Overture," Suppe-Lemore, will be featured by Marjory Long, Lodge Grass. She will also play "Indian Serenade," Vibbard, and "Jubilate Deo," by Silver.

Lucille Sweeney, Belt, has chosen "Gothic Chorale," Lorenz, "Nocturne," Stoughton, and "Serenade in B Flat," Federlein, as her selections on the program. "When Evening Shadows Gather," Stoughton, "Scherzo Symphonique," Fry-singer, and "Funeral March of a Marionette," Gounod, will be played by Anne Marie Forssen.

HOSPITALS RELEASE FOUR STUDENTS

Louise Hodson, Missoula, Nina Francisco, Harlowton, and Mary Buitenveld, Hysham, were released from St. Patrick's hospital Wednesday.

Rosemary Speed, Sidney, was released from Thornton hospital Tuesday.

NOTICE

All sororities, fraternities and campus organizations are asked to turn in a list of their officers to Bill Stevens at the Kaimin office so that they may be included in the 1940 M book.

SPORTALES...

By BOB PRICE

Dear Mr. Smith (and Brother Clubbers):
Quoting Mr. Smith: "... your article was completely innocuous (as far as the M club is concerned) but we cannot help but feel that you have made a sweeping indictment that you cannot possibly be in a position to support in any way other than your absolute freedom of thought and action guaranteed by your editorial position alone."

I'm glad that you considered my column of a few days ago "innocuous" enough to rate a communication just as "innocuous." What I wrote was not merely the voice of my own opinion. Rather, it was the opinion of the members whom I've seen off and on at some of the meetings, talking in a rather loud and severe tone of the "innocuousness" of the M club itself. In an "innocuous" column about an "innocuous" organization which called for an "innocuous" communication just about reaches the height of harmlessness. Or does it?

Going through your letter to the Kaimin one finds much food for comment. In the first place, why should I not pick a club of which I am a member to blast? Because a member does not make it above reproach from me. Rather, because I am a member and saw the ineffectiveness of the club from the club member's point of view, made me write the article.

I'm also glad to know that the club has raised about $600 in the last five or six years. That's almost enough to put one athlete through school for one year. Basing my figures on pure conjecture, I'd say that about 250 athletes go to school over a period of five years, and one of those 250 gets what amounts to a one-year scholarship from the M club. Amazing!

It must have been an impressive ceremony, the initiation of a week ago. It's nice to start a member off blindfolded, because then he can start right off on an equal visionary footing with the rest of the M club members.

To those who "read this column for reliable information" I'm afraid I've disappointed them upon several previous occasions, but surely not the time I wrote of the languorous M club.

You said: "We like our club, its spirit and its personnel; we're proud of it!" I say: I like the club, its personnel, and am proud of belonging, but I definitely have not, up to date, liked its spirit and if other members cared to be frank about it, they didn't like its spirit either. But it shows signs of sparking now. More power to it. I'm sorry I won't be around to enjoy the newly found spirit, which was so glaringly lacking during the four years I've known it.

I'm glad the initiation was a success. I was unable to attend because of Dean Stone night. (There is a function which is a good example of what the M club could be like in tradition and spirit if it chose to be). I'm also glad you had a "vital discussion" at the "business meeting" because that has no precedent. None of the meetings I ever attended were vital or pertaining to business.

The M club has one big thing it can point its finger to each year—the annual M club tournament. It should have more. It should have an activity each quarter which is pushed by the members. Then you could call it an active club. Potentially it is powerful, but actually it is a weak sister. Now that you have showed signs of reorganization and have captured a bit of that "spirit" you alluded to, you should have a better club; better because it could be no worse than formerly.

The $600 you raised in the last five years is a bit, but with some drive it should be doubled or tripled. If one function like the annual M club tourney can raise money each year, three good functions each year should raise more money. I'm no business ad major, but it sounds fairly logical to me.

I hope if you've read this far with an open mind you will be willing to admit that any "aberrational mental" qualities of the preceding column have been completely exploded by facts which neither you nor other members, including myself, have not seen for years, and, up until a week ago, have done absolutely nothing to rectify.

I sincerely hope that the club

Track Team Co-Captains Selected

Montana's cinder twins, Ole Ueland, Brockway, and Wilbert Murphy, Rudyard, were selected co-captains of the 1941 track team yesterday.

Ueland and Murphy are two of the finest middle distance runners Montana has had. As sophomores the pair unofficially broke the Montana record in the half-mile, and were on the record breaking mile relay team with Jack Emigh and Al Eislien. Old man luck dogged the two boys this year and kept both from having great years and setting a record.

Murphy had a bad start this year with the shin splints and when his legs finally rounded into shape he was put in the hospital and told he would probably never run again. After a week's rest Murphy was back to normal again and in another week he was running. Last Saturday he sprinted a neat 48.8 quarter with the mile relay team in Los Angeles at the Pacific Coast Conference meet.

Ueland has had even worse luck as his spirits were set on getting off to a swell start this year. "The Flying Swede" looked like a cinch to lower the half mile record, but he pulled a muscle at the Colorado relays April 27 and has been on the shelf ever since.

flourishes next year. It has the right leadership and the membership to function as other clubs do. All it needs is to have cleared the decay of former years, which should be apparent to the oldest members of the organization, at least.

Grizzlies Win Sport Awards

Seventeen Grizzlies and seven Cubs will be awarded track sweaters, Athletic board indicated Wednesday. Varsity letters will be awarded Carl Burgess, Clide Carr, Gene Clawson, Al Cullen, Jack Emigh, Earl Fairbanks, Roy Gustafson, Al Hileman, Bill Murphy, Joe McDowell, Jack Pachico, Jim Quinn, Jim Seyler, George Ryffel, Chet Schendel, Ole Ueland, and Phil Yovetich.

Adams, Barclay, Enter Net Finals

Barbara Adams, Billings, and Sarah Jane Barclay, Helena, will compete in the finals of the WAA tennis tournament Saturday.

Adams qualified for the finals by defeating Peggy Landreth, Fort Missoula, 6-1 and 7-5. In her semi-final match Barclay defeated Mary Templeton, Helena, 6-2 and 6-3.

Other women in the tournament were Laila Belle Woods, Missoula; Mary Jo Pease, Butte; Phyllis Berg, Livingston; June Willis, Missoula; Shirley Timm, Missoula; Rita Ann Schiltz, Billings; Elaine White, Missoula; Sally Hopkins, Paradise, and Mary Bukvich, Butte.

Sigma Chi Wins Cup

Sigma Chi golfers, by defeating the Phi Delta foursome by nine strokes last week and by virtue of a forfeit from Sigma Phi Epsilon, won the intramural golf championship for the second successive year and will retain the cup.

tory went to Bill Scott, Glen Nelson, Missoula, and Richard Wilkinson, Butte. These prizes were $20, $10 and $5, respectively.

Individual band cups went to Jim Julius, Anaconda, and John Billings, Choteau. Two people received the award this year because each had served an equal number of quarters in band, received the same grades over a four year period, and had been equally outstanding as musicians and of equal value to the band.

Band Awards For Service

All band members who served seven quarters were presented with a gold pendant. Howard Koch, Brockway; Ed Clarkin, Forsyth, and Stan Healy, Missoula, were given the awards.

New members of Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic fraternity, were named. They were Walter Niemi, Robert Notti, Colin MacLeod, and Alfred Davis, Butte.

Tau Kappa Alpha officers for 1940-1941 announced are Bill Scott, president; Mary Templeton, vice-president; Louise Jarussi, secretary, and Betty Lou Points, treasurer. Glen Nelson, is debate manager.

To Alice Colvin, Helena, went the Alpha Lambda Delta, women's national freshman honorary, scholarship award of a book.

Duniway Scholarship Prizes

President C. A. Duniway prizes for scholarship were awarded the following students in the departments indicated: Ruth Weise, Chicago, Illinois, bacteriology; Allen Chesbro, Raynesford, botany; Kathryn Russell, Bozeman, classical languages; Audree Crail, Butte, physical education; Edward Hooper, Butte, psychology, and George Weisel, Missoula, zoology.

Pi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics honorary, awarded books for scholarship to Joe Hashisaki, Joliet, in mathematics, and Albert Weaver, Butte, in physics.

James Browning, Belt, received the set of books, "Corpus Juris," given by the American Law Book company to the highest ranking student in the law course in wills.

Two prizes were awarded first or second year students in the department of fine arts who have shown the greatest ability and improvement during the year. Edison Spriggs, Kalispell, won the first prize of $10, and Robert D. Bartholomew, Missoula, the second of $5.

ROTC Awards

Military science awards which were presented previously were mentioned today. Walter Krell, Berkeley, California, cadet colonel of the Grizzly battalion, was presented with an engraved saber by the Rotary club of Missoula at Track meet.

Other military science awards are the American Legion medals given at the last military inspection. Those medals, awarded by the Hellgate post, were awarded Tom Bogardus, Janesville, Wisconsin, for autumn quarter; John Chisholm, East Helena, for winter quarter, and Hilbert Hanson, Polson for spring quarter.

WAA "M" Sweaters

WAA "M" sweaters were presented to 14 women by the Women's Athletic association at the installation of association officers. Winners mentioned at today's convocation were Leclerc Page, Butte; Eileen Wysel, Missoula; Verna Young, Fort Benton; Lillian Cervenka, Lewistown; Louise Burgmaier, Power; Martha Halverson, Lonepine; Barbara Raymond, Malta; Josephine Raymond, Klein; Rhoda Sporleder, Conrad; Elaine Tipton, Whitefish; Mary Rose Chapellu, Belfry; Elizabeth Grimm, Bridger; Jennie Bovee, Great Falls, and Grace Barney, Missoula.

Kappa Delta sorority won the Pan-Hellenic scholarship cup, which is awarded to the sorority maintaining the highest scholastic standing for the year. This is the third consecutive year that Kappa Delta has earned the award.

Ruth Hogan, Whitefish, was presented with the Mortar Board Freshman Women's scholarship cup, which is given to the freshman girl with the highest grade index.

Phi Sigma Medal

Alice Marie Colvin, Helena, received the Phi Sigma scholarship silver medal given by the National Biological Research society for outstanding work in the field of biological sciences.

Mrs. Hazel Cameron, Great Falls, received the bronze medal awarded to the best student in French language and literature awarded by the French consulate general upon recommendation of French teachers.

Phi Delta Theta won the Interfraternity Council baseball cup. The cup will be given permanently to Phi Delta Theta if they win the championship next year for the third consecutive time.

Scholarship Appointments

Appointments for scholarships, fellowships and graduate assistantships for next year were named. Kenneth Kohnen, Shelby, was awarded a graduate fellowship at the University of Oregon, in the School of Business Administration.

Walter Kerttula, Avon, received a scholarship in physics at Montana State college. Albert Weaver, Butte, has a $500 scholarship at the University of Idaho.

Stanley Ames, Missoula, won a $500 residence scholarship and a $500 graduate assistantship to Columbia University, department of chemistry. Charles Sigvart, Great Falls, received a scholarship to the Institute of Paper Chemistry, Appleton, Wisconsin. A scholarship of $300 went to Charles Stein, '35, to Armour Institute of Technology in chemistry.

Five home economics students received internships. Joyce Gruel, Portage, was given an appointment at Montefiore hospital in New York City as an interne hospital dietician with post graduate work at Columbia University.

Sylvia Marsell, Colstrip, will work at Dr. Groves Latter Day Saints' hospital in Salt Lake City as an interne dietician. Rowena Minton, Butte, will do similar work at Colorado General hospital in Denver.

Margaret Overgaard, Westby, will go to Seattle where she will serve an administrative dietetic internship with post graduate work at the University of Washington.

Edith Tongren, Helena, has accepted an appointment at the Indiana University Medical Center, Indianapolis, where she will take her hospital dietetics internship and post graduate work at the University of Indiana.
