MISSOULA--

The first in a series of 1976 fall quarter "Brown Bag Discussions" will be held at noon Tuesday, Oct. 19, in the Women's Resource Center (WRC) in the University Center at the University of Montana.

All interested persons are invited to bring lunches to the free discussion. Tea and coffee will be provided by the WRC.

Topic of Tuesday's discussion will be "Changing Work Roles." Speakers include Tracy Bier, Missoula, a YMCA counselor; Ann McClay, Lolo, a shepherdess and nurse; Diane Sands, Missoula, a graduate student at UM, and Lynn Smith, a Missoula printer.

Fall Brown Bag Discussions, to be held at noon Tuesdays under the sponsorship of the WRC, will treat topics such as the changing roles of women in work, legal status and the relations between women and men.

For more information about the discussions, interested persons may visit the WRC, located on the first floor of the University Center at UM or phone 243-4153.
