12-12-1940

The Montana Kaimin, December 12, 1940

Associated Students of Montana State University

Let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.umt.edu/studentnewspaper

Recommended Citation

https://scholarworks.umt.edu/studentnewspaper/1835

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by ScholarWorks at University of Montana. It has been accepted for inclusion in Montana Kaimin by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks at University of Montana. For more information, please contact scholarworks@mso.umt.edu.
Man-Hunting Season Opens

Women girled themselves this morning to catch their men to take to the first Sadie Hawkins dance tomorrow night. (1) Mary Dailey, Billings, and Jim Baldwin, Kalispell, dressed as Daisy Mae and L'il Abner. (2) L'il Abner and Daisy Mae as is. (3) Sadie Hawkins, the homliest gal in the hills. (4) Miss Dailey (left), Baldwin, Prudence Clapp, Missoula, as Sadie Hawkins. (5) Dorothy Rochon, Anaconda, sets a trap for a man. (6) Dorothy Lloyd, Butte, catches a man, said yesterday. Carols will be sung at a party, once popular on the campus, to open the annual university Christmas convocations. The convocations committee, stated according to Crowder, to go to Cleveland during Christmas vacation to attend the seventh annual meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music, Dec. 26-28. Several pertinent topics will be discussed during the meeting, according to Crowder. There will be an open discussion of the technical objectives in musicianship, followed by an evaluation of the content of music school curricula in attaining these objectives. The development of Pan-American relationships regarding the exchange of scholarships and fellowships in music and the selective service law as it affects the music student will also be discussed.

Convo Theme Will Be Party

Tomorrow's convocation, the last of the year, will attempt to revive the annual university Christmas party, once popular on the campus, Marcus Bourke, Miles City, chair, said yesterday. Carols will be sung, and gifts will be distributed to the audience. Several individual acts and a short skit will complete the hour's entertainment. Bourke, speaking on behalf of convocations committee, stated that he wished to thank all individuals who helped make the quarter's convocations a success, also Masqueers and the music school for their cooperation.

Crowder to Go To Music Meet

John M. Crowder, dean of the music school, will go to Cleveland during Christmas vacation to attend the seventh annual meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music, Dec. 26-28. Several pertinent topics will be discussed during the meeting, according to Crowder. There will be an open discussion of the technical objectives in musicianship, followed by an evaluation of the content of music school curricula in attaining these objectives. The development of Pan-American relationships regarding the exchange of scholarships and fellowships in music and the selective service law as it affects the music student will also be discussed.

Sadie Hawkins Day Rules

1. Sadie Hawkins day officially opened at 8 o'clock tonight.
2. Tags will be available at any theater house, the residence halls, the women's gym and the student Union fountain until 5 o'clock Friday.
3. Pre-arranged dates are valid only if the girl gets to her fellow early and pins on her tag.
4. Men must wear their tags distinctly from the time they are pinned on until midnight.
5. Girls will be expected to call for their dates.
6. There will be no admittance without a date.
7. Prizes will be awarded after the grand march for the person best representing Duppach characters.

Phelan Wins Club Contest

Eugene Phelan, Chinook, won first place in the Rotary club amateur contest last night in the Gold room, Phelan, who had the title role in the operetta "The Student Prince" last spring, sang Stephen Foster's "Jim Beam With the Light Brown Hair." Earl Dalhutson, Missoula, won second place singing the Louisiana swamp song, "Chloe" by Neil Moore. The University quartet, Brunton Jackson and Clide Carr, both of Kalispell, Gene Phelan and Earl Dalhutson, placed third with their rendition of a group of Negro songs.

Forestry Professor Seeks Information

Charles W. Bloom, assistant professor of forestry, will leave tomorrow to confer with the office of cadastral surveys in Helena. Information on previous surveys of the forestry school's experimental land is needed because fires have wiped out many of the natural monuments used to mark the corners of land divisions.

Bureau to Compile Complete List Of State Teachers

The Summer Session bureau is compiling a teachers' directory which will include every teacher in Montana. The purpose of the directory, which will contain approximately 5,000 names, will be to guide the bureau when it mails summer session publicity, Miss Adele Cohe, secretary, said yesterday.

The compilation, which will be completed before January 1, will also be used by the Placement bureau. The list will be more complete than the Montana Educators association directory published each year by the state superintendent of public instruction. While the latter includes the number of teachers in each school district of the state, it names only the superintendents and principals.

Improved Grizzlies Bow To WSC in Last Minute

Larry Lyons Out-Maneuver Rivals to Score 41-36 Victory Over Spirited Montana Team; Jones, DeGroot, Greene Sparkle

A smoother, more colorful Grizzly basketball team took the floor against Washington State last night and met in a second encounter with the Cougars, but lost a hard-fought game, 41-36. The Silvertips crowded their range opponents time and again in a rough, hectic last half, and led once by one point, but Gentry's two-handed push shots won the game for the Pullman men. Bill Jones showed good form last night in ringing up 14 points while Rae Green, Bill DeGroot and Bill Hall constantly kept the Cougars on the alert. The improved showing of the Grizzlies was in a large measure due to Greene's generalship and consistent playing. Joe Taylor and Earl Fairbanks played good defensive ball.

SOS Is Set For Tonight

School songs and Christmas carols in keeping with the spirit of the approaching holiday season will be sung at SOS at 7:30 o'clock tonight on Main hall steps. John Lester, assistant professor of music, will lead the songs. John Kujich, Great Falls, and Paul Tweto, Missoula, as Hannibal, and Denny Galusha, Helena, as Judge Gurgle.

Latest News

By ROGER PETERSON

WASHINGTON.—Lord Lothian, English ambassador to the United States, died at 3 o'clock this morning in the British embassy. Slightly ill last night, he sent an attache to make his speaking engagement in New York, then grew rapidly worse. The attache gave Lothian's last speech—a plea for naval aid to England. Yesterday Lothian announced that Britain could not allow food to go through the blockade to Germany consumed externally, and Secretary Hull replied that the refusal would not be challenged.

LONDON.—While the R. A. F. night-shift was bombing industrial cities in Germany, Lord Lothian's brief, light attack on Nos. 404 and 405, Birmingham took a heavy raid, but anti-aircraft fire was reported to have kept planes so high bombing was indiscriminate and casualties few.

CAIRO, EGYPT.—As heavy snow, cold and knife-fighters from Crete slowly pushed back Italians in Albania, the British rolled westward in armored cars after capturing Sidi Barrani yesterday, driving the Italians before them. Latest reports say that two Roman divisions—25,000 men—have been isolated.

ALCATRAZ.—Tension is running fever high here after the stabbing of inmate John McLoan during dinner last night. Warden Johnston declined to identify the man who knifed McLoan twice in the neck. It was the second stabbing in ten days.
PUBLICITY OF THE DIES REPORT IS ITSELF A GRAVE THREAT

Publicity of the material and evidence collected by the Dies committee investigation is a threat, one as great as that of the Publicity of the Dies Report to the American way and democracy.

Fifth Columnists’ and the Communists’ which Dies attacks, performance of their duties and frustrates true democratic justice. In a single day the Dies publicity will destroy the inalienable roots of the democratic tree as nearly American intelligence and fair-mindedness. Blowed by the tertained Alm arie Park er>

Dies reports, the blaze of ensuing mass hate and fear may de-

The MONTANA KAIMIN

Knights of the Road Spend Many Nights on the Road

Empty stomachs, blizzards, dust storms, gales and a lean pocketbook are conditions that many college students have to face during the winter months. Empty stomachs, blizzards, dust storms, gales and a lean pocketbook are conditions that many college students have to face during the winter months.

During that Red scare the minds of the people were fed by the Lies reports, the blaze of ensuing mass hate and fear may de-

Red and white candy canes are seen in many windows with cosmetics. One manufacturer has a special surprise in them—salmon powder fills the stick and in the very top there is a tube of lipstick in different shades.

PRIMROSE PATRIOTIC, NOVEL CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Red, white and blue motifs decorate compacts this year, and for less than a dollar you can get something that will "you're a patriotic eagle to wear on aspiring turban.

The illustrated gardening for every hair dress suggests some-

The novel, the different, the surprising seems to attract the Christ-

Bompson notified Frummer a conscrip-

Bompson notified Frummer a conscrip-

The MONTANA KAIMIN

Thursday, December 12, 1940

Knights of the Road Spend Many Nights on the Road

Knights of the Road Spend Many Nights on the Road

As they explained it, they "got snowed in, snowed under and snowed on." In a small town west of Missoula, experienced all these in con-

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.

They hurried through New Mexico snowstorms, the Texas sleet storm, frozen Colorado and arrived in Minnesota late at night. With a burlap bag over their heads, they were driven to the town square where the Warren Buffet boys were held up.

At the hotel, they were asked to pay for their room, but were refused. They were told that they would be detained until they could pay for their room. They were then asked to leave the hotel.
I'm Right---You're Wrong

BY K. KIZER

A long, long time ago some kid went to school and after playing around for a year or so, finally settled upon the idea of majoring in physical education. That's quite a novel idea in Montana, where middle-age men and women come from small towns and try to set a basketball coach at a school where 2,000 students are enrolled. He has a certain knack of handling kids—a limited number of kids—and forming a team that wins the state title twice in three years. He puts this little school at the helm of the state basketball ship for the first time in several years.

Then along comes a season in which he loses fairly heavily with graduation but still has a fair club returning to top the state again and maybe win a few other games. Not a wonder team you understand, and not a wonder coach—just one of those 50 per cent guys the alumni are beaming about. He doesn't have a potential Super Man on the club. But he does have a squad that will work together, play ball because they like to play ball, and, incidentally, are receiving scholarships to get this education everyone talks about.

This coach likes his boys to train. He's pretty fair in sending them home for Christmas holidays where they should be playing basketball, letting them go to football, letting them go to Fescue's hall when they haven't gone to Fescue's hall before, and so on. He's a pretty human fellow. He's a man who has a cooler head than the other squad members and is captain of the club because he had made the date and with a girl that you can dance with at Forest, get plenty of rest before the game, and is captain of the club because he has a cooler head than the other squad members.

Here's the club: McDaniel, Williamson, Scott, center; McDonald, Wilson, Scott, Scott, center; Sweeney, Burgundy, Turner, guards.

OLSEN LECTURES

Arnold Olsen, chief of the state WPA community service projects, addressed the local chapter of the American Federation of Teachers last night in Main hall, on plans for forming educational projects such as citizenship, recreation, music and history for both mature and youthful laborers.

As to be fair to the other boys on the squad who obey his orders, there isn't a person in school but what he will agree that...
Four Honorary Members
Are Named by Academy

Dr. M. J. Elrod, former professor of zoology; Dr. J. P. Rowe, professor of geology; William Cobleigh, dean of the engineering school at Montana State College, and W. E. Tallman, professor of mathematics at M. S. C., were recently designated as honorary members of the Montana Academy of Sciences, Dr. Gordon B. Castle, professor of zoology and president of the Academy, said yesterday.

Elrod, Cobleigh and Tallman are the only remaining members of the former Montana Academy of Sciences established early in the 1900's. They were selected honorary life members by the executive committee of the present Academy because of their long service to the Greater University of Montana and the contributions each has made to their respective scientific fields, Castle said.

Former Chairman
Former chairman of the division of biological sciences and president of the first academy, Dr. M. J. Elrod established the first Montana Biological station and was instrumental in the establishment of the state Bison range and Glacier National Park. He retired several years ago.

Rowe, the oldest man, from the point of service, at the point of service, is a nationally known geologist and has been active in educational, administrative and sports activities for several decades. He has been Interscholastic chairman for about 28 years.

Cobleigh is the oldest man, from the point of service, at the point of service, and is also the oldest member in service of the Greater University of Montana. Tallman has served as a professor of mathematics at MSC, along with Cobleigh, for an extended period of years.

Membership Increases
The constitution of the present Montana Academy of Sciences was composed by a group of thirty Montana scientists in Great Falls. November 2nd, Membership has increased to 94, and four honorary members since the time Castle said.

Executive committee members of the Academy include Castle, chairman; H. H. Mills, Bozeman, first vice-president; Eric Therkelsen, Bozeman, second vice-president; Metrin S. Morris, associate professor of forestry, third vice-president; Dr. Fred A. Baker, instructor in botany, secretary, and R. T. Clark, Bozeman, treasurer.

Lieutenant Jay B. Loveless, '25, and Margaret Orr Loveless, '27, are now at Fort Knox, Ky., where Lieutenant Loveless is stationed at the 6th Infantry arsenal. The transfer was arranged from St. Louis, Mo.

---

Grizzlies Bow Before WSC
(Continued from Page One)

from left court to give the Grizzlies their one-point lead of the game, 24 to 23.

The appearance of Gentry for the Cougars turned the tide; he pushed in two shots in rapid succession to give his team a four-point lead, 25 to 31. Hall dunked two free throws and Jones scored on a perfectly timed pass from Greene. The score stood 36 to 38 with a minute and seven seconds to go but Washington netted a field goal and a free throw to win.

---

The Grizzly band has always tried to cooperate in all traditions on the campus, and since we have been shown our error we gladly comply with the request of Central board and the "M" club not to use a block "M" for band awards.

When I learned of the student committee's decision in the matter, I immediately wired the cancellation of the order for the letters. Other and proper emblems will be ordered for the band in the near future.

---

Communications
Dear Editor:
I wish to make the band's position clear in regard to the issuing of "M" letters to members of the University band.

It was not the intention of either band members or myself to infringe on the rights or traditions of the "M" club. When we discussed the matter, the band believed that a letter broken in two places by inserted lettering would not violate any existing rules.

The Grizzly band has always tried to cooperate in all traditions on the campus, and since we have been shown our error we gladly comply with the request of Central board and the "M" club not to use a block "M" for band awards.

When I learned of the student committee's decision in the matter, I immediately wired the cancellation of the order for the letters. Other and proper emblems will be ordered for the band in the near future.

(Signed)
CLARENCE BELL
Band Director

---

Who's Who at a House Party

THE CRINKLE CHEST (Every fraternity has one).

The wrinkled collars with semi-soft collar attached, locked in the cellar, tell him to comply with the request of Central board and the "M" dub not to use a block "M" for band awards.

---

There Are Some Things Even a Goat Can't Eat!
But you won't find them at
JIM'S CAFE
Turkey Dinner Today — 50c
Try a Sunday Dinner at Jim's No. 1

---

If you really love him...
you'll get him something smart by Arrow. We recommend, as dandy Christmas gifts:

---

DEXDALE SILK HOSE

on your Heart

(40c, 3 pairs $1.15
35c, 4 pairs $1.50
$1.00, 3 pairs $2.75

---

OC C SHOE CO

ARROW SHORTS

like! $1 and $.50.

---

The MERCANTILE 30  —  MISSOULA'S OLDEST, LARGEST & BEST STORE

---

Classified Ads

BOARD AND ROOM: REASONable, 521 Eddy. Phone 5728.

WANTED—3 PASSENGERS TO Hebron, N. Dak. Phone 3851 or 1809 S. 6th St. W.

Pastor Sanderson Attends Meeting

Art Sanderson, Philipsburg, returned this week after attending a Wesley Foundation national committee meeting at St. Louis, Mo., and a Christian Educational conference at Nashville, Tenn. Sanderson, western regional vice-president of the Foundation, was one of eight representatives at the meeting.

Sanderson has travelled considably in the past, representing the Methodist church in various capacities. Last summer he was the Minsoula delegate at the regional leadership training conference at San Francisco.

Besides attending school and conventions, Sanderson is student pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church at Phillipsburg.

---

Don't Miss These

---

Friday, December 15, 1940