Carroll Picks Eight MSU Beauty Queens

From pictures and charts of 20 Montana State university women, Earl Carroll, Hollywood beauty expert, last week selected the eight most beautiful.

The winners of the contest, sponsored by the 1941 Sentinel, are Mary Rose Chappell, Belfry; Katherine Sire, Belt; Nancy Landreth, Juneau, Alaska; Adelle Beaman, Missoula; Katherine Kelly, Anaconda; Gay Kelly, Butte; Annice English, Anaconda, and Leona DeCock, Hysham. Their pictures will be featured in a special Sentinel Queen section.

The list of 20 from which the eight were chosen were previously determined by Larrae Haydon, Jane Potter and Charles Hertler, who acted as elimination judges in the original contest.

In summing up his decision, Carroll wrote "The girls were all exceptionally lovely and, being limited to the choosing of only eight girls, I found the task most difficult. I trust that my choice will meet with the approval of those who have had the great privilege of seeing these girls in person."

There will be a meeting of the Sentinel business staff at 3 o'clock Thursday in the Advertising room.

Science Body Elects Severy Vice President

Dr. Joseph W. Severy, chairman of the division of biological sciences, was elected vice president of the Northwest Scientific association at its annual meeting in Spokane Dec. 27 and 28.

About 500 high school and university scientists and professional men discussed research accomplished and problems arising in their respective scientific fields.

The association was organized in 1924 by Dr. Kirkwood, former professor of botany at the university. Since then annual meetings have taken place to advance and perpetuate science in this region, because scientists are so isolated that it is possible for only a few to attend the gatherings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in the eastern part of the United States.

Regional meetings are organized along the same lines as those of the AAAS, and the paper presented there are of high quality, comparable to any in the country, said Severy. The advantage of the national group lies in its larger size which makes possible the presentation of a greater amount and variety of material, he added.

Among Montanans who attended the meeting are Severy, Thomas C. Spaulding, dean of the forestry school; J. H. Ramskill, professor of forestry; Dr. Ruben A. Diettert, assistant professor of botany; Dr. Fred A. Barkley, instructor in botany; Major Evan W. Kelly, regional head of the forest service; Thomas Lomasson, Robert K. Winters and Axel Lindh, local forest service officials.

CAA Final Exam Will Be Saturday

CAA students will complete their ground school work with a comprehensive examination to be given Saturday in Craig hall 103, Dr. A. S. Merrill, co-ordinator of the course, said yesterday.

The examination will be under the supervision of Dr. E. M. Little, associate professor of physics who is now on leave of absence, and will be preceded by review classes on Wednesday and Thursday in Main hall 107. Special classes will be conducted by Drs. Jeppeson and Chatland.

"While plans for spring quarter are not settled," Merrill announced, "notice has been received that 30 primary students and 30 advanced students will be accepted for training starting March 1."

Students who are interested in either class should secure application blanks from Merrill by Feb. 1.

NOTICE

All entering freshmen or new students with advanced standing who have not taken English composition in college must take a placement examination in English at 4 o'clock Thursday, Jan. 9, Library 103.

Dean of Music Returns Friday

John B. Crowder, dean of the School of Music, returned Friday from Cleveland, Ohio, where he attended the annual meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music and the music teachers' national convention. The association accredits music schools and is the only music school accrediting agency in the country.

Administrative problems in teaching music were discussed at the conclave. Over 100 schools were represented and the attendance was the best in the convention's history, Crowder said.

Instructors can check their school's music standards against those of other schools and learn new trends in teaching at the association, Crowder said.

BULGARIA.—Russian troops are reported lining up to face the Germans who are massing forces in Roumania along the Danube frontier with Bulgaria. Watching the moves carefully, Turkey extended military service to all classes now mobilized another year. Although calmly issuing a few soldiers leaves to observe Greek Orthodox Christmas, the Bulgarians turned to Russia for the answer.

LONDON.—Bad weather on the continent was good to London last night and gave her another bombless night after the second heaviest daylight raid of the war yesterday. British authorities have agreed to relax the blockade permitting the United States to send a shipload of condensed milk and vitamin foods to unoccupied France and probably another of wheat to Spain, reliable sources said.

ROME.—The council of ministers proclaimed that the government would continue the struggle despite heavy losses until such a time Italy would be equal with the rest of the nations of the world. The council approved the two-billion-dollar budget for continuation of the war.

WASHINGTON.—Everything possible will be done to bolster morale and to encourage persons in unoccupied France, but officials emphasized the fact they hoped that these persons would be firm against further Nazi demands. The United States has promised to use its influence with England to allow further shipments of food to reach France. Should the British be persuaded the food will reach the right recipients, additional food will be sent under the direction of the Red Cross.

Twelve Get Straight A's; Edith Bennington Leads With 57 Grade Points

One hundred ninety-seven students, approximately 10 per cent of the total enrollment, were included on the university fall quarter honor roll released by the registrar's office yesterday. Twelve students earned straight "A" averages to lead the field. Only 166 earned honor roll positions during spring quarter.

Study Hours Shift Begins January 13

The library will open and close one-half hour later at night beginning Monday, Kathleen Campbell, librarian, announced today. The change is being made at the request of campus groups who feel that the present hours conflict with the dinner hour. Under the new arrangement the library will be open from 7:30 until 10 o'clock rather than from 7 to 9:30 o'clock, the present schedule.

A campaign to discourage students from congregating in the lower halls, a practice which seriously interferes with study, will be inaugurated. Representatives of student organizations will be on hand to enforce the new ruling.

With the Student Union store and lounge available for student gatherings, congregations in the halls are considered unnecessary, Miss Campbell said.

NOTICE

Students who want their fees deferred should see the billing clerk in the business office today or tomorrow.

A student to be eligible for the honor roll must have either a minimum of 36 grade points with an index of 2.00 or a minimum of 30 grade points with an index of 2.50. No student is eligible if he has an "E" or an "F" on his current record.

Edith Bennington, Missoula, topped the list of "A" students with 57 grade points. Other "A" flushers with their total grade points were Edward Herda, Judith Gap, 51; Dave Bostwick, Helena, 45; Cecil Brown, Stevensville, 45; Mary Laird, Butte, 45; Sister Prudentia Neveu, Yakima, Wash., 45; Hugh Herbert, Spokane, Wash., 42; Leonard Smith, Spokane, Wash., 42; Jack Donaldson, Missoula, 40½; Eugene Elliott, Billings, 30; Elaine White, Missoula, 30, and Thomas White, Missoula, 30.

COOPERATE WITH THE HEALTH SERVICE

Dr. Meredith Hesdorffer, Health Service director, yesterday issued the following health commandments to prevent and curtail colds.

To avoid colds and spread of infections:

1. There is no specific cure for head colds. Treatment consists of alleviation of symptoms.
2. Take your questions to a doctor. When medication is indicated get it from the Health Service. Do not use self-medication.
3. Protect your fellow students.
4. Remain isolated until your cold is cured.
5. Keep your mouth and nose covered when coughing, expectorating or when blowing the nose. It is better to use disposable tissue.
6. Get more rest than usual.
7. Force intake of fluids. Drink at least a glass of fluid per hour.
8. During the course of the infection it is not desirable to exercise; under such conditions it is impossible to maintain body heat and one is rendered more susceptible to complications. After a shower if head is wet—do not go outside.
9. Avoid swimming when symptoms of a cold are present.
10. Avoid crowds.

Help the Health Service help the student body.

Salon Actors Will Present "Milky Way"

Masquers will present "The Milky Way," a three-act comedy by Lynn Root and Harry Clork, as the winter quarter Salon theater production. The play, now in the final stages of production, will appear in the Silver Room at 8:15 o'clock Jan. 13 to 17, and 2:30 o'clock Jan. 18.

Proceeds will go to the British War Relief society to form part of a $2,000 fund needed to equip a mobile kitchen for use in England. The kitchen will be enscribed with the name "Missoula."

"The Milky Way" is the story of the world's middleweight champion, Speed McFarland, and Burleigh Sullivan, an inoffensive milkman who knocks out the champion in a street brawl. Gabby, Speed's manager, decides to make a fighter of the milkman and by a series of "fixed" fights builds Burleigh into a contender for the middleweight crown.

In the meantime, the champion has fallen in love with the milkman's sister, Mae. When the time for the fight arrives, Speed learns that his friends have bet everything they have on him, but he knows if he wins the fight, he will lose Mae's love. The solution follows in a series of fast and funny comedy scenes.

Waters Returns From Convention In Washington

Dr. C. W. Waters, professor of forestry and botany, returned Jan. 3 from the 40th annual convention of the Society of American Foresters in Washington, D. C. Waters, secretary of the Northern Rocky Mountain division, traveled about 8,000 miles during his three weeks' vacation.

Discussion at the convention centered around federal, state and private forestry policies regarding industry, national defense and public opinion.

Before attending the convention Dec. 19, 20 and 21, Waters visited the forestry school at Syracuse university, where he taught 17 years ago. After the convlave he visited Duke university, where Donald Lynch, '39, and William Peterson, '38, have fellowships. He took a field trip at the southern experiment station in New Orleans and then visited the forestry school at the University of California in Berkeley.

"The convention was educational and instructive," Waters said. "It was well worth the effort because a better perspective is gained by instructors who are stimulated by the speeches and papers of their colleagues."

Zoology Prof Will Give Talks

Dr. L. G. Browman, assistant professor of zoology, will give a "Bicycle Travelogue Through England and Finland" at a meeting of Phi Sigma, biology fraternity, at 7:30 o'clock Thursday, Natural Science building 307, Allen Chesbro, Raynesford, president, said yesterday.

Dr. Browman's story will be about personal experiences in 1928 when he rode a bicycle 1100 miles through England, Scotland and Wales. He also spent some time in Denmark in that year and for two months during the winter he traveled by bus, train and sleigh through Finland, journeying as far north as the Arctic Circle.

This meeting will be open to outsiders, Chesbro said. A short business meeting will follow Dr. Browman's talk.

MSU Invaders Will Clash With Eighth Eastern Foe

The barnstorming Montana Grizzly basketball squad plays its eighth game on foreign courts tonight when it meets Jamestown college at Jamestown, N. D. The Grizzlies have won two of their tilts and have lost five. At times the Montana hoopsters have played the slickest basketball seen for a long time on the various courts and have clicked on both offense and defense. Then, as if to defy the fundamentals of basketball, they have tossed the ball all over the place, fouled out and in general exhibited a very erratic brand of basketball.

Last night, the Grizzlies were defeated by North Dakota Agricultural college, 56 to 45. Willie DeGroot scored 10 out of 15 free throws and five field goals to take high-point honors. Biff Hall made nine points. Arnold Johnson, Bison center, rang up 16 points before fouling out.

The Gold Dust Twins, Jones and DeGroot, have flashed and fought at their usual pace and Taylor, Greene and Hall have played excellent defensive ball, but the follows for rebounds have been poor.

On Dec. 27 Montana met defeat in Livingston at the hands of Brigham Young university, 47 to 41. The BYU Cougars played brilliant basketball when pressed and took 90 per cent of the shots off the backboard to put the game on ice. Jones of Montana led the scoring with 17 points. Grizzlies avenged themselves in Billings the following night by taking the Cougars by four points, 48 to 44. The Montana men played superb ball all through the first half and led 31 to 19 at half time. The last period was a wild, rough 20 minutes, with a total of 32 fouls called. Hall, Jones and Green fouled out. DeGroot led all scorers with 18 counters, but was closely followed by Duane Esplin of the Cougars with 16.

Custers' Are Victims

On Dec. 30 at Miles City the Grizzlies went to town over the Custer club, an all-star independent team, with a score of 69 to 35. The victory was an easy one but costly, since Bill Jones had to be left there with a severe "charley-horse."

At half time friends of Coach Dahlberg and the boys Dahlberg had coached when he was mentor at Custer County High school from 1925-29 presented him with a gold wrist watch.

At Superior, Wis., the tired Montanans couldn't match the speed of the Superior Teachers' unbeaten quintet and lost 59 to 33, Jan. 3. Montana kept within five or six points until the last six minutes, when the Teachers ran wild to leave the leg-weary Grizzlies far behind.

MU Troupe Grizzlies

Minnesota U gave the Silvertips a similar trouncing, 53-38, on the following night in the Minnesota field house at Minneapolis. After a hard and even struggle for three quarters, the Grizzlies folded and the Gophers ran up the score.

Iowa State, the only unbeaten Big Six conference team, defeated Montana 41 to 27 to finish their non-conference schedule and to score their eighth consecutive victory. Again, however, a Montana man, DeGroot, grabbed scoring honors with six field goals and three free throws for a total of 15 points. Bill Jones joined the team there at Ames, Iowa, and saw action in part of the game.

Earl Fairbanks, guard, was injured in the Minneapolis fray, but was able to play against Iowa.

NOTICE

Beginning Monday, Jan. 13, a fee of $1 will be charged for each change of enrollment card filed in the registrar's office; on or after Jan. 20 this fee will be $2. All changes must have the signatures of the instructors concerned and the student's adviser.

The varsity rifle team will be chosen the last week in January according to Misevic and will consist of 20 men who will compete in shoulder to shoulder and telegraphic contests.

I'm Right---You're Wrong

BY K. KIZER

HEY! HOW YOU WAS?

Yes, and it is a Happy New Year and all that tripe from one guy who got under the wire just in time, to about 2,000 of you other guys and gals who apparently got under said wire at the same time. 'Tis also a HNY to Montana's touring Grizzlies down Jamestown way who have thus far skittered around just under that 50 per cent mark in the wins and losses.

The Dahlbergmen left Missoula December 27 and lost to Brigham Young at Livingston and won from the same squad in Billings on the 28th. They won from the Miles City Custer club December 30 and dropped one to the Superior Teachers at Superior, Wisconsin. Minnesota and Iowa State also proved too much for the lads, their biggest trouble not being able to dominate the backboard. The squad will be strangers on the local court until January 31 and February 1 when they engage the Bulldogs of Gonzaga here.

If the weather keeps up as is, it looks as though Missoula will have some decent skating for a change. It has been years since this neck of the woods could boast of ice that would hold you up and still be able to navigate against a blizzard. It's either too hot or too cold. Skiing is the same way only it, too, looks like a different story this year. Perhaps the local slippers-'n'-sliders won't have to go miles for their sport this winter.

The best skating at the present is on the lake behind the Montana Power dam at Bonner, Lockwood lake up the Blackfoot, sloughs down Grass Valley way and parts of the Missoula river. The Kiwanis park rink is being flooded daily and the new Island park rink is getting in shape for cutting steel blades.

Al Forte, member of the championship pro Chicago Bears, is trotting around town for a few days. He is visiting old pals here, an intermission from the Rose Bowl to Chicago trip. In comment on the game with the Washington Redskins, Aldo said that the Bears did everything right and the Indians did everything wrong. "They beat us 7-3 three weeks before and I guess we just got mad," said he in describing the 73-0 victory.

Bobby Sparks vacationed in Pasadena, viewing the Model "T" formation at the Bowl, too. "They really are the national champs," said Bobby. "They aren't any bigger or any faster than we are, but they have the spirit and will to win. Plenty crafty and use speed and deception to the fullest extent. Their ends weighed around 170 pounds with Standlee by far the biggest man on the club, tipping the scales at 230."

Montana Students Have Choice Seats At Rose Bowl Tilt

Two football players' dreams started to come true when Bob Sparks and Jack Sweeney, both of Butte, made up their minds on the spur of the moment to see the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena on New Year's Day. Although five rods and five bearings on their car were burned out before the trip was finished, the men agreed that the game was worth all the trouble.

As guests of Jack Thompson, Butte, a member of the Stanford squad, and Norman Standlee, Stanford fullback, Sparks and Sweeney were privileged with seats on the 50-yard line in the midst of Stanford rooters.

Sparks and Sweeney spent New Year's Eve in Los Angeles and saw the Parade of Roses the next morning. They also saw Sanford in a secret practice.

Sparks commented, "Stanford wasn't big; it was all up here," he said, pointing to his head. "I think Frankie Albert, without a doubt, was the most outstanding player."

Harry Adams Sets Deadline

Managers of Interfraternity and school teams must turn in health certificates for their team members by Tuesday, Jan. 14, Harry Adams, minor sports director, said today. Every person planning to participate in any sport, interfraternity or intramural, must take a physical examination at the health service and secure a certificate indicating that he is physically fit.

Managers are urged to see that this is done immediately so that schedules for basketball and bowling may be drawn up and started on time.

Civil Service Examinations Will Be Given in March

Junior professional assistant civil service examinations will be given March 1-3, qualifying college graduates for federal service, Dean T. C. Spaulding of the forestry school said yesterday.

The exams, given yearly, will be taken in the forestry building and Marcus Cook hall. Students who passed the test last year but who do not have an appointment before July 30, 1941, must take the tests again this year to be eligible for a position.

Application forms will not be available either from the postmaster or School of Forestry until after formal announcements are made sometime this month. Applicants must have successfully completed a full four-year course leading to a bachelor's degree in a college or university.

Private forest industry has found that the forestry exam serves as a valuable index of the graduate's capacity and often requires employees to have passed the examination.

Subjects Open to Students

Junior professional assistant examinations open to university students are the subjects of agricultural economics, archaeology, biology (wild life), chemistry, entomology, forestry, information (journalism), law, library, plant breeding, public welfare work, range examining, rural sociology, social anthropology and statistical work.

According to Spaulding, some change may be made in the mental examination this year. Last year students took the same test for all positions, but there may be a variation now.

Two tests are given students each year. The general exam covers many fields, whereas the professional test is technical. The former exam is made up of written questions designed to measure the applicant's aptitude for learning and adjustment to professional duties in the service. The second test consists of the fundamentals of the particular science, profession or subject.

General Requirements

In each of the two subjects competitors must attain a rating of at least 70, but students who are given military preference require a grade of 65. Competitors who are granted disability preference must have a rating of at least 60.

Applicants may be examined in only one of the optional subjects above, and they should indicate the optional subject for which they wish to be considered in their applications.

Applications are accepted from senior students or from law students now attending a university of recognized standing. They must submit a statement showing the total number of semester credit hours received prior to the closing date for receipt of applications, besides a schedule of study to be undertaken to complete the course requirements specified.

Kramer Convalesces After Operation

Dr. Joseph Kramer, instructor in botany, underwent a successful operation for the removal of an intestinal obstruction at the Thornton hospital during the Christmas vacation, Dr. Philip L. Wright, instructor in zoology, said yesterday.

Kramer left the hospital Saturday and will remain at home for an extended period of rest before resuming his duties at the university, said Wright.

NOTICE

Fees of former students who attended the university during fall quarter must be paid before Friday.

Ford Urges Study of State Education

In his inaugural address to the twenty-seventh legislative assembly yesterday, Governor Sam C. Ford urged a thorough study of the entire field of Montana education and enactment of laws to provide a better and more comprehensive method of administration.

Stating emphatically that administration of the university system of this state must be free of all forms of political control, Governor Ford outlined the constitutional setup of the system and urged the assembly to examine the situation.

"Administration of our institutions of higher learning must be such as to inspire confidence and respect," he said.

Under constitutional provision the State Board of Education, composed of three state officers as members ex-officio and eight appointive members, has control and supervision of the university system. Experience has demonstrated the utter failure of this method and in practice has resulted in a one-man board. The governor, attorney-general and superintendent of public instruction, who are the ex-officio members, are so occupied with the duties of their offices that seldom are they able to give the required time to affairs of the several institutions under their control. The appointive members, likewise, have but little opportunity to fortify their actions

Campbell Gives Kaimin Report

In a report to Central board yesterday, Duncan Campbell, Butte, Kaimin business manager, reported a surplus of $471.60 for fall quarter. Last year the Kaimin at this time reported a deficit of $355.30. The Kaimin received approximately $165 more from student funds this year than it did last year as a result of a special appropriation granted last spring.

Total income during the fall quarter totaled $3,362.45 and the expenses amounted to $2,890.85. The surplus probably will not be increased during winter quarter, Campbell told the board, because of an expected decrease in advertising but should increase during spring quarter. The board gave the Kaimin permission to continue on the basis of four issues weekly.

Next week's meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock to allow the executive with adequate information, the governor declared.

Ford asked the assembly to re-frame the law concerning the appointment of the members of the board of education and the laws under which it works. The purpose of this would be to "prevent the Greater University of Montana from becoming involved in any political activity."

Germany during World War I creates a lasting impression of the futility of force. When the Nazis marched into Austria, the show which was running in a Vienna theater, was stopped in the middle of a reel by indignant German officers. It has been banned throughout Nazi-held territory as a too-effective indictment of war.
