Description:

This class will examine and study of the foundations and components of comedy and high comedy. It will also center on acting in period style beyond modern realism.

Objectives:

To recognize, analyze, and achieve a working knowledge of acting styles beyond Contemporary Realism

To examine historical performance Periods and Genres

To explore the concepts of playing character through genre and personal style while focusing on Character Objectives and Tactics

To explore Period Style through rehearsing and performing monologues and scenes

To examine the unique qualities inherent in “high comedy”

Texts:

Co-Convening-

Style for Actors: A Handbook for Moving Beyond Realism by Robert Barton

Additional Graduate Reading-

Style: Acting in High Comedy by Maria Aitken

Acting in Restoration Comedy by Simon Callow

In addition, you will be assigned plays that we will select as a class to read, analyze, rehearse, and perform.

Other assigned reading will include various articles, essays, and trade publications that relate to specific topics with which we deal in class. (We will incorporate ideas from and borrow freely from various texts on acting.)

Academic Misconduct and the Student Conduct Code:

All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or disciplinary sanction by the University. All students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at http://life.umt.edu/vpsa/student_conduct.php.

School of Theatre & Dance:

All Theatre & Dance students must have an in-depth knowledge of the practices and procedures outlined in the School of Theatre & Dance Student Handbook. The Handbook is available online at <http://www.umt.edu/theatredance/about/handbook>.

There is inherent risk involved in many Theatre & Dance classes as they are very physical in nature. Please proceed through class, shop, or rehearsal with caution. Always be mindful of your personal safety and the safety of others. Students participating in class/shop/rehearsal/performance do so at their own risk.

Disability Services:

The University of Montana assures equal access to instruction through collaboration between students with disabilities, instructors, and Disability Services for Students (DSS). If you think you may have a disability adversely affecting your academic performance, and you have not already registered with DSS, please contact DSS in Lommasson 154. I will work with you and DSS to provide an appropriate accommodation.

Graded Course Requirements:

Participation (30%)
Seminar Discussions & Presentations (20%)
Monologue Coaching (10%)
Monologue and Scene Work Presentations (40%)

Note: As this studio class is a graduate course and the outcomes are based on participation, attendance is requisite. The collaborative and creative processes of theatre are the foundation of our class. Mutual feedback and a free exchange of ideas are necessary. Your attendance supports the work; your absence has an effect upon the work of the entire class. No unexcused absences are permitted.
