MacLeod Is Elected Viceroy

Montana Chief Grizzly Named National Officer; Dance Ends Meet

Colin MacLeod, Hardin, Chief Grizzly of the Bear Paws, was elected national viceroy of Intercollegiate Knights at the organization's final business session Saturday afternoon.

Pocatello, Idaho, was selected as the convention city for next year, with the Tiger chapter of Idaho Southern Branch as host. Jack Sackville - West of Washington State college will preside over next year's sessions.

Acting President C. W. Leaphart was the main speaker at the final banquet Saturday night. Eileen Murphy, Stevensville, was crowned "Melody Queen of the Intercollegiate Knights" as the banquet's concluding feature.

The three-day convention, which opened Thursday noon, closed Saturday night when the delegates were guests of the Bear Paw chapter at a dance in the Copper room.

U Students Examined By Board

About 40 university students were among the 76 examined by the Selective Service medical examining board in the men's gym yesterday.

Many of the students took their examinations so local draft boards will know whether or not they will be qualified for service following their deferment period which ends when school is finished in June.

Ten men of the total were placed in class 1-B for limited service, 10 were placed in class 4-A as disqualified, four cases are to be reconsidered, and 52 were found physically qualified for military service and placed in class 1-A.

Dr. Meredith B. Hesdorffer and Dr. J. A. Duffalo, Health service doctors, and Dr. W. E. Schreiber, director of physical education, were members of the examining board.

Severy Talks At Conclave

Dr. J. W. Severy, professor of botany and chairman of the Montana State Fish and Game commission, was the main speaker at the district meeting of the Montana Wild Life federation in Great Falls last week-end. He outlined the program which the commission hopes to put into effect under the Pittman-Robertson bill.

Severy also spoke at Laurel on the commission policies and attitudes. He will return today.

Marie Cook, '39, economics graduate, and Clifford Carmody, '40, law graduate, were married in Minneapolis recently.

Associate Editors

Request Concert Is Postponed By Band Director

The all-request band concert, previously scheduled for Wednesday, will not be given because of many conflicts on the campus that night, Clarence Bell, director of the band, announced yesterday.

"The band is grateful for the many requests received for this program," said Bell, "and we will play them at a future date."

Home Ec Club Elects Peterson President

Home Economics club elected Helen Peterson, Cut Bank, president; Jean Casto, Anaconda, secretary, and Margaret Thrasher, Missoula, treasurer, last week.

Plans for further club activities for the quarter were acted upon. The club will meet again tonight.

Outgoing officers are Audrey Watson, Butte, president, and Sally Hoskins, Missoula, secretary-treasurer.

Lorraine Konesky Is Crowned Junior Prom Queen

Lorraine Konesky

Lorraine Konesky, Great Falls, was crowned Junior Prom queen by Acting President C. W. Leaphart at the annual dance Friday night. Miss Konesky represented Alpha Phi sorority.

Other candidates for the queen title were Helen Faulkner, Eileen Wysel, Mary Cowell and Hazel Hayden, all of Missoula; Jane Selkirk, Columbus; Helen Holloway, Butte; Nancy Landreth, Anchorage, Alaska; Betty Johnson, Brockway, and Jean Knapp, Wilsall.

Bellingham Appoints Associates

Pete Kamps, Froid, and Jack Hallowell, Missoula, yesterday were appointed Kaimin associate editors for the coming scholastic year by next year's editor, Bill Bellingham, Cascade. John Saldin, Missoula, business manager for next year, chose Don Robertson, Harlowton, to succeed Ken Kizer, Missoula, as circulation manager.

Bellingham, Kamps and Hallowell will assume their duties immediately after Intercollegiate Track meet, when the entire journalism graduating class retires in favor of the classes of '42 and '43.

The editorial triumvirate will succeed present Editor Bill James, Black Eagle; Associate Editor Irene Pappas, Butte, and Associate Editor Bill Bequette, Thompson Falls, now employed by the United Press, Helena.

The offices of business manager and circulation manager are not handed over to successors until the beginning of fall quarter.

SK Begins Work On New House

Mrs. William Belangie

Mrs. William Belangie, nee Groff, '26, who is a charter member of Sigma Kappa sorority, broke the first shovelful of ground for the sorority's new $23,500 southern colonial house on University and Gerald avenues at 5 o'clock Friday. Work on the house is expected to be completed by September 21.

Exhibits and chairmen are: Physics, Bill Howerton, Missoula; stenography, Elizabeth Wood, Bridger; chemistry, Dwight Milligan, Whitefish; military science, Jack Wilkinson, Missoula; geology, Sid Groff, Victor; art, Walter Hook, Milltown; journalism, Paul Keilman, Whitehall; natural science, Leonard Smith, Spokane, Wash.; library, Dorothy Peterson, Missoula; forestry, Ken Boe, Outlook; medical science, John Wiegstein, Butte; gym, Tom O'Donnell, Casper, Wyo.; New hall, Dean Brown, Eureka, and pharmacy, Walter Chapman, Wolf Point.

Immediately after the track meet breakfast given high school contestants in the dormitories, Spurs and Bear Paws will guide the visitors around the campus. The tour is an annual affair, but the exhibits will be bigger and better this year, said Christenson. Exhibit chairmen will arrange to have students "in action" working on typical or interesting projects during the time the high school students are in the buildings.

Christenson said he thought the tour could be arranged this year so that the visitors would see every exhibit. The committee was considering a plan by which the visitors could be separated into groups according to interests and then conducted to exhibits in which they are interested. The plan was dropped, however, because the committee thought it would create confusion and because the students could not see every exhibit.

"As this tour is one of the best means by which we can demonstrate what we do at the university, and also an excellent opportunity to show our hospitality and real interest in the visitors, we should do everything in our power to put the exhibits across," said Christenson.

A FEW WORDS ABOUT HONOR EXAMINATIONS

Pedagogues should devise some technique or standard, other than issuing an edict that the student must undergo a lengthy inquisition or must compose a tiresome thesis, to determine which graduating seniors to label with the phrase, "cum laude."

From the student viewpoint, it seems enough that one has managed to emerge in one piece and with a rare B average in his major field after four years of university buffetings. Under the present continuous-test system, his ability seems, therefore, to have been proven, and no valid reason exists for subjecting him to the torture chamber of honor exams from which he may stagger vanquished and sans the coveted "cum laude."

Few attain the B pinnacle, so the campus professorial element can't maintain that the exams are necessary as a weeding-out process, because if any more students are sifted out, there will be no candidates for honor. Neither can the academic faction argue that the tests are beneficial knowledge refreshers or that a sampling of one's learning is essential at the end of his college career.

In the first place, the exams don't tap the student's fund of information; they merely reveal his power to cram himself momentarily with facts which he'll immediately and conveniently forget. His showing on them depends on many factors but chiefly on how much time he can rob from other studies on a full schedule to prepare himself for the extra inquisition for honors. At the end of the senior year, with everything piling up and the student completely weakened from four years of quizzes, that's an exceedingly hard drudgery for him to accomplish, and often his honor grade isn't as good an indication of his real ability as the B average he has nurtured through four years of concentrated effort in the university sweatshop.

Consequently, it is useless to harass and muddle the student with a "cum laude" test which, after all, is a hit-and-miss proposition, revealing nothing as often as it proves any theories which the profs may harbor in regard to it.

Song Contest Offers Prize Of $250

The Hal Roach studios of Culver City, Calif., are offering a prize of $250 for the best popular song, with lyrics, submitted to them by a college student, according to a letter received by Marge Mumm at the deans' office. The song may be either a ballad, a swing, or a novelty number.

All entries must be received at the Hal Roach studios by midnight May 28. Winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Proper proof of affiliation with some college or university must be submitted with the entry. The composer or composers of the winning number will be entitled to the usual royalties.

The contest is being instituted among the colleges of the country for the purpose of discovering a popular song to be included in the score of a forthcoming production. "Because we are aware that true college spirit cannot be synthetically duplicated anywhere else, we are attempting to find a musical score that springs directly from the campus," said Roach.

All rejected entries will be returned. Further inquiries concern-

Adjudicator Will Come For Festival

The second non-competitive Interscholastic Little Theatre festival will again feature the well-known adjudicator, Major L. Bullock-Webster, head of the British Columbia Community theater, Effiellen Jeffries, Missoula, Masquer president, announced recently.

Supervising some 275 Little Theatres in British Columbia, Bullock-Webster is an experienced and distinguished critic-judge, Miss Jeffries said. He has studied both acting and the drama extensively in New York, London and Paris, and has been a successful teacher of theater as well as having had a lengthy career on the professional stage, she added.

On the professional stage Bullock-Webster became a producer for Sir George Dance, owner of 23 musical comedy companies. He was educated in England, France and Canada, and became an associate of the Royal College of Music in 1900. Last year he was elected a member of the Royal Society of Music.

Bullock-Webster served with the Canadian expeditionary force during World War I. After the war he worked in the Harbour Marine shipyard and became labor manager. He founded and for 12 years directed the British Columbia Dramatic school. He established the Canadian Drama Award and the British Columbia Drama association. As a writer, Bullock-Webster is known for 26 plays, several poems and contributory pieces.

Grizzlies Win Final Home Meet

Clawson Breaks Record As Montana Defeats Whitman Missionaries

First, Second Places in Low Hurdles Event
By Yovetich, Cullen Cinch Victory; Seven
Seniors Make Last Home Appearance

Seven Grizzlies, co-Captains Ole Ueland and Bill Murphy, Ed Murphy, Lloyd McDowell, Al Cullen, Johnny Stewart and Neil Johnson, made a triumphant final home appearance Saturday when they accounted for many of the points which resulted in a Montana win over Whitman, as the Grizzlies remained undefeated at home since 1937.

With Whitman favorites in the relay, final event of the afternoon, Montana needing six points in the low hurdles to cinch a win, Phil Yovetich and Cullen finished one-two in that race, and while Whitman won the relay in their fastest time this year, Montana won the meet 68 to 63.

Clawson Breaks Record

Footballer Gene Clawson heaved the discus 156 feet, bettering his own record of 147 feet 3 inches. His new mark is nearly five feet further than any mark established in collegiate competition in the Northwest or on the Pacific coast this spring.

Spectacular first-place wins by Ueland in the mile, Harry Hesser in the high jump, Fritz Krieger in the javelin throw, Earl Fairbanks in the quarter, Neil Johnson in the broad jump and Chet Schendel in a first-place tie in the pole vault contributed vitally to the Grizzlies' successful afternoon. McDowell, Joe Taylor, Francis Ferko, the Murphys and both Yovetich and Cullen, Eso Naranche, Bill Adam and Stewart were of considerable assistance in placing for other needed points.

Yovetich Is High

Montana established a 38-to-16 point advantage in field events but their lead in the meet was seriously threatened when Whitman compiled 21 points in the last three races. Yovetich was high scorer for Montana with nine points.

Meet results:

100-yard dash—Turner, Whitman; Michaelis, Whitman; Ferko. Time, 10 seconds.

220-yard dash—Turner, Whitman; Michaelis, Whitman; W. Murphy. Time, 22.1 seconds.

440-yard dash—Fairbanks; Davis, Whitman; Cullen. Time, 50 seconds.

Half-mile—Echanis, Whitman; Ueland; E. Murphy. Time 1 minute 59.8 seconds.

Mile—Ueland; Emmick, Whitman; Kelley, Whitman. Time, 4 minutes 32.5 seconds.

Two-mile—Kelley, Whitman; Emmick, Whitman; Adam. Time 11 minutes 17 seconds.

Low hurdles—Yovetich; Cullen; Wells, Whitman. Time, 25.6 seconds.

High hurdles—Edwards, Whitman; Yovetich; Hesser. Time, 15.9 seconds.

Hesser Wins High Jump

High jump—Hesser, 5 feet 10 inches; Taylor 5 feet 8 inches; Davis, Whitman, 5 feet 6 inches.

Broad jump—Johnson, 21 feet 10 inches; Ferko, 21 feet 4½ inches; Yovetich, 21 feet 2 inches.

Pole vault—Tie, Schendel, Montana, and Gentry, Whitman, 11 feet 8½ inches; Stewart, 11 feet 2½ inches.

Javelin—Krieger, 183 feet 3 inches; Gentry, Whitman, 180 feet 3½ inches; McDowell, 169 feet 8 inches.

Shot put—Richter, Whitman, 44 feet 2½ inches; McDowell, 42 feet

Platter Heaver

Gene Clawson, Missoula, flipped the discus 156 feet in the meet with Whitman Saturday and broke his own record of 147 feet 3 inches.

Gustave Dahlberg, Former Stars' Dad, Dies in Butte

The father of Montana's greatest family of athletes, Gustave M. Dahlberg, died at his home in Butte Friday at the age of 82.

He is survived by four sons, all former star athletes for the Grizzlies; a daughter, Helen, who also attended the university, and his wife.

George (Jiggs) Dahlberg, now basketball coach and assistant football coach for the Grizzlies; Harry Dahlberg, Grizzly football captain in 1920 and now head coach at Butte; Alfred Dahlberg, former three-sport letterman for Montana and coach at Puyallup High school in Washington, and Melvin Dehlberg, former Grizzly guard and end who now lives in Miami, Fla., are the four athletic sons of the Butte pioneer.

PDT Ten Wins Softball Game From SN

Sigma Nu's bats boomed loud Sunday afternoon on the Clover bowl, but not loud enough, as last year's league champions went down to defeat at the hands of Phi Delta Theta, 7-5, in an Interfraternity softball game interrupted at times by heavy rain.

It was a pitchers' duel between Phi Delt's Barney Ryan and Sigma Nu's Dick Kern. The teams batted about even, misplays finally deciding the outcome of the game.

A three-run Phi Delt rally in the sixth, climaxed by Nugent's home-run, put the game on ice for the University avenue ten.

In other league games last week, Phi Sigma Kappa won from Theta Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon won by forfeit. Foresters swamped Sigma Chi 18-3, SAE won from Theta Chi 18-13, then defaulted to the Bunyan crew, and Sigma Nu trounced Sigma Chi 15-3.

DR. WREN SPEAKS AT BANQUET

Dr. M. C. Wren, instructor in economics, gave the main talk, "Hobbies as a means of relaxation in a turbulent world," at the annual banquet of Alpha Kappa Psi, national commercial fraternity, Thursday.

3½ inches; Naranche, 40 feet 11½ inches.

Discus—Clawson, 156 feet; Evendon, Whitman, 127 feet 3¼ inches; McDowell, 127 feet 3 inches.

Relay—Whitman (Davis, Michaelis, Rhay, Turner), first. Time 3 minutes 24.7 seconds.

SX Golfers Outshoot Phi Delt

Sigma Chi's golfers downed Phi Delta Theta Saturday for their third straight triumph to take the lead in Interfraternity play. The Sigs previously had defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon and had a forfeit from Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The Phi Delt-Sigma Chi contest was the closest of the season, with but two strokes separating the teams. The Sigs covered the nine-hole route with a net score of 81 to 83 for the Phi Delt.

Peter Forbis and Arthur Merrick were the Sigma Chi golfers, Bob Kenyon and Don Bryan the Phi Delta Theta players.

Law Faculty Wins Baseball Pennant

Legal legs were unlimbered Saturday when law faculty baseballers proved themselves to be leaguers as well as litigants by winning a three-game tourney at the Law School association annual picnic.

Amidst cheers and catcalls, Referee F. E. Coad, assistant professor of law, adjudged the pitches in the games. In the first one the faculty beat the seniors. The freshmen beat the juniors in the second game and in the last one the professors cinched the pennant with a win from the frosh.

Only casualties in the melee came to Art Meyers, Butte, who collided with another player in a frantic chase for a fly ball, and to Professor J. H. Toelle, who was forced off second base into a cloud of dust. Highlights of the game were the running and hitting of Acting President C. W. Leaphart, the enthusiasm of Associate Professor Edwin W. Briggs and the earnest beside-a-stump discussions of other faculty members.

William Brychta, Lewistown, was admitted to St. Patrick's hospital Saturday.

The GRIZZLY PARADE

By J. ROY ELMS

When Gene Clawson let the discus fly 156 feet Saturday afternoon for the farthest distance he has thrown the platter, it was no lucky toss. Clawson had been increasing his distance with each throw throughout the afternoon and had a throw of better than 155 feet when he cut loose with the record-breaker.

Frat Keglers Will Play For Title

Championship of Interfraternity Bowling league will be decided this week or next between Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi. Sigma Chi and the Phi Delt keglers, tied in the last half of the 36-game season with three games lost for each, will have to bowl off the tie.

If Sigma Chi wins there will be a match with the winners of the first half, the Phi Delta Theta team which has taken the league cup for the last two years.

ROTC Students Will Compete In Track Meet

Freshman and sophomore basic ROTC students will have the opportunity to raise their final grades from one to four points by competing in the Inter-Battalion track meet at 4 o'clock tomorrow, according to officers of the military department.

Undergraduates may compete in all regular track and field events. First-place winners will receive a gold medal donated by the military department and Minor Sports board and four points. Second-place winners will be awarded three points; third-place winners, two, and fourth-place winners one point.

Lieutenant Jack Hoon, public relations officer, urges all freshmen and sophomores to compete, as the honor points won in the track meet will make up for demerits and absences incurred by students.

Clawson has been toying with the discus all year. The record stood for 17 years at 143 feet 6 inches before he finally broke it in the opening meet of the year. But each succeeding Saturday the big Grizzly has bettered the mark until he tossed it 156 feet against Whitman.

Whether Clawson will better the mark he set Saturday is problematical. It is doubtful if he will better it more than a few inches this year. However, 156 feet is farther than the discus has been thrown on the coast this year.

Phil Yovetich could not have picked a more opportune time to turn in his initial low hurdle triumph of the season than his victory in the next to the last event in Saturday's meet. The Grizzlies were leading 60-57 with the hurdles and the relay left. Whitman's sprinters were favored to cop the relay, which would net them five points. The Grizzlies needed a first in the hurdles to cinch a tie for the meet and a third to insure victory.

Wells, Whitman entry, had better times than Yovetich or Al Cullen, Montana's second man in the race. But both Yovetich and Cullen proved better hurdlers against a slight wind and finished one-two ahead of Wells to ice the meet for the Grizzlies. The Missionaries, as expected, copped the relay and the meet ended 68-63 for Montana.

President Tom Duffy and the M club members initiated 21 letter winners into the club Friday night. The initiates put on quite a show for the campus in sweat clothes with "clever" signs hanging on their persons.

NOTICE

The student Interscholastic Track meet committee will meet at 3 o'clock today in room 7 in the Law building.

M Club Initiates Advertise President Duffy's Poems

Tom Duffy, the rough, tough football tackle from Butte, hit on a novel way to publicize his hidden talent last week when he was putting the M club initiates through the paces.

Not satisfied with the results he got from having his poetry in the Sluice Box last winter, the M club president put one over on his fellow athletes. Calling it an initiation to get the co-operation of the lettermen, Duffy went through the roll of the M club looking for all the letter winners who had never been initiated. He produced a list of 21 names, including Bill Murphy, track team co-captain, who won his first monogram three seasons ago; Football Captain Don (Red) Bryan and basketball co-captains Willy Jones and Willy DeGroot.

Parade Around Campus

Then, to attract attention, Duffy made the so-called neophytes dress up in the oldest football suits or the briefest sweat suits he could find in the Athletic board's supply rooms and parade around the campus Thursday.

All this was done, said the initiates, so Duffy could have each of the athletes wear a card with a sample of his poetry on it with the prospect that students would read the poems.

Some of Duffy's best work was sported by DeGroot. The verse went:

"I'm the basket-shooting black
From an Absarokee shack,
At basket shooting I'm hot
And lots on the pill I've got."

Push-Shot Chuck

Charles Burgess sported another poem about the same subject, which read:

"My moniker is Push-Shot Chuck,
My motto is all for one;
If I'm the guy that shoots the ball,
The game is as good as won."

Duffy also had some verse a little on the romantic side. That displayed by Harry Hesser was typical:

"Just call me smiling Harry,
And girls don't be so wary,
Spread the word from mouth to mouth
That my telephone is Corbin, first south."

P. S.: "Ask for Harry Hesser."

Community Concert Agent Confers With Directors

Next Year's Program Not Yet Announced;
Hugh Hooks Thinks Campus Audiences
Show Good Taste in Choices

Hugh Hooks, assistant western manager of the Columbia Concert corporation, arrived on the campus last week to confer with directors of the Missoula Community Concert association regarding next year's program.

Explaining that the selections will not be announced for some time, Hooks said the list from which they will be chosen includes such names as Lily Pons, Rose Bampton, Helen Traubel, Rudolph Serkin, Vronsky and Babin, Yehudi Menuhin, Jussi Bjoerling, Laurence Tibbett and Paul Robeson.

After talking with many students Hooks said campus audiences showed excellent taste in their choices of "best" artists heard on the concert series. There are more concert associations, according to population, he added, than in any other state, and on the average they are more successful. This, he explained, is unusual and encouraging, since Montana is not generally regarded as a cultural center.

Hooks said America has become the haven for artists and composers, partially as a result of the war and partially from the growing demand in all parts of the country for good music.

Even before the war, America was considered the mecca for foreign artists, chiefly because Americans were willing to pay higher fees for their talent.

America Is Haven

Not only is America considered the haven of music, Hooks continued, but American born artists and composers are recognized as equal and often superior to foreign artists. On the Columbia concert list, approximately 60 per cent of the artists are American born and trained.

As a sidelight, Hooks said that Americans predominate in singing, while Europeans dominate the instrumental field. Tibbett, John Charles Thomas, Paul Robeson, Nelson Eddy and Richard Bonelli, all Americans, are recognized as the first five baritones in the world. Russia dominates in producing violinists. Mischa Elman, Zimbalist, Heifetz and Nathan Milstein are among the Russian violinists.

Even so, the American, Albert Spaulding, ranks with them. America has not produced any great pianists, Hooks asserted, although with Dailies Franz and Eugene List rapidly rising to the top, America stands a chance.

Hooks organized the Missoula association in 1934, and during his 10 years with Columbia he has organized more than 50 other community concert groups. At the time the Missoula association was formed, there were not more than 100 such groups in the United States. Since that time the Columbia Concert corporation has grown to 350, represented in every state and in seven Canadian provinces.

AWS Members To Meet Tonight

AWS members will meet from 7 to 7:20 o'clock tonight in the Eloise Knowles room to discuss next year's counselors and to select a chairman for the Lantern Parade, Maribeth Kitt, Missoula, AWS president, said yesterday.

Miss Kitt said that women interested in being counselors should see their representative. She added that the head of the Lantern Parade and the chairman of the point system must be juniors.

Radio Forum Discusses Phys Ed Plan

Student health, the national defense program and general education would be advanced if Montana schools adopted a newly proposed physical education program, speakers on the University Round Table program broadcast over KGVO declared.

Charles F. Hertler, instructor in physical education; Shirley Timm, Missoula, and Wilbert Murphy, Ruidyard, seniors in physical education, and Walter Neimi, Butte, law school sophomore, participated. Ralph Y. McGinnis, instructor in speech, was director.

The new program, which calls for expansion of physical education activities in the grade and high schools of the state, would place Montana on an equal footing with other states in the matter of physical education training, it was said.

Present training in physical education in the schools of Montana was pronounced inadequate. Additional costs necessitated by an expansion of the program would not be exorbitant, said the speakers.

Green Day Tickets Go on Sale

Tickets for Green day, the traditional freshman holiday and picnic, are now on sale, Jack Buzzetti, Hardin, chairman of ticket sales, said yesterday.

"We urge all frosh to buy their tickets early so we will be able to judge how many will attend," Buzzetti requested.

Salesmen in South hall are Bob Staffanson, Deer Lodge; Bill Moore, San Diego, Calif.; Bob McNamer, Shelby, and Roger Wilcox, Drummond.

North hall women who have tickets for sale are Jean Hample, Butte; Polly Morledge, Billings; Nileen Mathews, Moore, and Marian Hogan, Anaconda.

Salesmen will meet in the Student Union lounge at 5 o'clock today.

DEEGAN CALLS MEETING

"It is very important that everyone on the Interscholastic committee meet in Paul A. Bischoff's office at 3 o'clock today," Mary Jane Deegan, Spur president, said this morning.

Two Hundred Fill Out NYA Survey

Two hundred NYA youths from college, high school and out-of-school filled out the NYA survey on the question, "What can you do for your community to strengthen the program of national defense?" Dr. Harold Tascher, director of Social Work lab, revealed. The results of the opinion canvass, which was conducted by the lab, the high school and the Missoula Youth council, were recorded by Tascher and were sent to Helena.

One-half of the youths exhibited a definite detachment from the issue. The rest viewed total defense as a defense against the anti-social forces within American society rather than against a foreign power.

The former group characterized its attitude as emanating from a socially produced smugness, a juvenile helplessness produced by a faulty education system and an inculcated pattern of introversion which resists opportunities for co-operative endeavor.

All of the youths were impressed by the general spirit of helplessness, smugness, introversion and partial understanding of the situation. These attitudes must be combated by effective youth work, Tascher said.

News Letter Comes Out

The spring issue of the Business Administration News Letter was distributed last week-end, Mrs. Brenda F. Wilson, assistant professor of business administration, said yesterday.

The four-page issue was distributed to about 625 business alumni, said Montana Grady, instructor in business administration, who compiled the information. Students in the office machines class did the mechanical work on the News Letter.

Edward Donlan, '20, has been appointed vice-president of the Guaranty Trust company, New York City, one of the largest banking corporations in the world.

Strange Sickness Strikes Students

Several cases of what is allegedly termed "white damp" have been reported from the vicinity of the law school. Students are unaccountably stricken as they pass down the sidewalk. Comely co-eds have the highest mortality rate.

Symptoms are a frightened glance upward, a squeal, and sometimes a laugh. Several lawyers who sit near a water faucet nearby seem to have positive, absolute immunity.

Lawyers say that the plague has lingered in that certain area for many years, and becomes especially contagious in the spring afternoons.

NOTICE

The program committee for Green day will meet in the Eloise Knowles room at 3 o'clock today.
