Convocation To Feature Best Acts

Show of Shows Directed By Crutcher, Galusha; Luedke to Be MC

The best musical acts from this year's convocations will be assembled into the "Show of Shows" to be given at convocation Friday morning, Phillip Galusha, Helena, said yesterday. Ernest Crutcher, Kellogg, Idaho, and Galusha have organized the show, which will be presided over by Master-of-Ceremonies Charles Luedke, Missoula.

Dorothy Taylor, Missoula, and Mike O'Connell, Butte, have arranged a new dance step for the program. Helen Faulkner, Missoula, and Eileen Murphy, Anaconda, both leads in "The Vagabond King"; Clyde Carr, Kalispell, and Gene Phelan, Chinook, will sing.

Comedy relief will be provided by the local version of the Ritz brothers. Jerry Anderson and Hugh Sweeney, both of Billings, and O'Connell comprise the team. Hal Hunt and his orchestra will furnish a musical background.

Alpha Lambda Delta Elects New Officers For Coming Year

Ennola Campbell, Bonner, was elected president of Alpha Lambda Delta, women's national freshman honorary, at a meeting Tuesday. Other officers are Bette Hoppe, Missoula, vice-president; Virginia Morrison, Missoula, secretary, and Charlotte Toelle, Missoula, treasurer. New officers and members will be installed in two weeks.

Outgoing officers are Ann Johnson, Helena, president; Helen Van Blaricom, Great Falls, vice-president; Mary Bukvich, Butte, secretary, and Vicki Carkulis, Butte, treasurer.

Hall Residents Hold Banquet

Short impromptu speeches and musical selections featured the residence halls' annual spring banquets in the four campus dormitories last night.

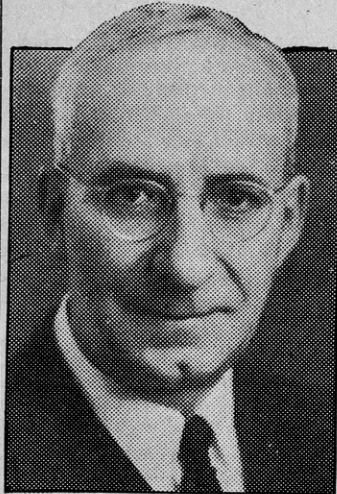

Dr. W. G. Bateman, professor of chemistry; Charles F. Hertler, instructor in physical education, and Carter Williams, Boulder, were the principal speakers at South hall. M. C. Gulbrandsen, Missoula, was master of ceremonies.

At the New hall dinner Margaret Morse, Anaconda, and Lael Snellbacker, Billings, presented vocal selections; Mae Bruce, Glasgow, played a violin solo and Cheryl Anne Noyes, Fairview, a trombone solo.

Viva Ann Shirley, Hardin; Marjorie Templeton, Helena, and Bernice Hanson, Deer Lodge, sang selections at the North hall banquet. Polly Schneider, Sheridan, played a clarinet solo and Lucille Johnson contributed a piano number. Jeanne Morris, Billings, was master of ceremonies.

At the dinner in Corbin hall, Fay Clark, professor of forestry; T. G. Swearingen, maintenance engineer, and the proctors gave short talks. Ray Hugos, Great Falls, was master of ceremonies.

Edits Book

PROF. RUFUS A. COLEMAN

Rufus Coleman of the English department recently sent the final compilation of book reviews of Northwest writers' works, to publishers. Coleman edited the book.

R. A. Coleman Sends Book To Publisher

The final draft of "Northwest Books," a compilation of book reviews of the works of writers of the northwest, edited by Rufus A. Coleman, associate professor of English, has been sent out for publication, Coleman said yesterday.

The book was compiled during the last two years by representatives from Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon to give the public an idea as to what the writers from these states are turning out. It contains 1,200 summaries of books, indexed according to author, title and place of author's residence. Other indices include those for poetry, drama and one for the libraries of each of the four states.

"Northwest Books" was first published in pamphlet form by Dr. H. G. Merriam, professor of English, in 1933. Since then it has been enlarged into book form, the editorial staff composed of representatives of all four states in the Pacific northwest.

Honorary Initiates New Members In Dawn Ritual

Miss Anne Platt, professor of home economics, was made an honorary member of Mortar Board at an outdoor initiation at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Others initiated were Phyllis Berg, Livingston; Betty Bloomsberg, Carmen, Idaho; Josephine Bugli, Missoula; Dean Brown, Eureka; Lois Dahl; Forsyth; Ruthie Heidel, Broadus; Ruth James, Armington; Helen Johnson, Hall; Maribeth Kitt, Missoula; Katherine Sire, Belt, and Barbara Streit, Missoula.

After the initiation, members breakfasted at the Students' store. At a meeting Tuesday night, Miss Streit was elected president; Miss Brown, vice-president; Miss Bugli, secretary, and Miss James, treasurer.

A course in training for civil service examinations will be given by Mrs. Brenda Wilson, assistant professor of business administration, during the summer session.

WAA Group Plans Meet At Laird's

Eleven WAA representatives will leave Friday for Camp Laird, situated near Lindbergh lake, for the annual Play day. Approximately 60 women from the university, Montana State college at Bozeman, Montana State Normal college at Dillon and Eastern Montana Montana State Normal school at Billings will attend.

Accompanying Ellen Potter, instructor in physical education, will be June Willes, Shirley Timm and Laila Belle Woods, all of Missoula; Barbara Adams, Billings; Grace Jean Wheeler, Ronan; Phyllis Berg, Livingston; Katharine Ruenauer, Plains; Betty Cole, Ventura, Calif.; Helen Johnson, Hall, and Rosemary Jarussi, Red Lodge.

Play day is a sports day for women every year in which each school alternates being hostess. Held at Montana State college last year, its site for next spring is Yellowstone park.

Participants will arrive at the Laird ranch late Friday afternoon. After dinner a program for representatives, consisting of skits and singing, has been arranged.

A hike is scheduled for early Saturday morning, archery, baseball, swimming and boating for the afternoon. In the evening cowboys from nearby ranches will arrive for an old-time dance in the lodge.

A farewell breakfast and business meeting Sunday will complete the program.

Managers Will Revise Setup

Major and minor sports managers will meet at 9 o'clock tonight in the Eloise Knowles room to discuss a recent move to reorganize the university managerial setup, Jack Brazelton, Helena, Managers' club president, announced yesterday. Attention will also be given to increasing scholarships of senior managers.

The change in the managerial situation was recently proposed by Central and Athletic boards, Brazelton said, and for the past few weeks he has been corresponding with student managers of 30 or more universities getting their views on the proposed change.

Brazelton urges all student managers to be present at the meeting tonight, as a group opinion of the reorganization move is imperative.

Senior Scribes Plan Yearly Butte Trip Saturday

Thirteen seniors and four faculty members of the journalism school will drive to Butte Saturday morning, where they will be guests of the Butte Press club at the annual trip to the Mining city.

Journalists will be taken on a tour through the Leonard mine and view mining operations 2,800 feet underground. Offices and presses of The Montana Standard will be open for inspection, after which reporters on the city paper will take the seniors out on "runs."

Concluding the trip will be a banquet given in honor of the students by the Butte Press club.

Counselor Members Pick Frosh Women Advisors From Three Classes

One Hundred Five Chosen to Orientate New Co-eds to Montana Ways; Group Selected At Sigma Kappa House

One hundred five university women were named sophomore, junior and senior counselors for the 1941-42 school year by former council members at a meeting of the group at the Sigma Kappa house last night. Ruth James, Armington, was elected chairman of the counselor system and Katharine Ruenauer, Plains, was elected co-chairman at the meeting.

Thirteen Pass Navy Air Exams

To Serve Three Years With Sea Force; Start Training in July

Thirteen university students were accepted for cadet training in the Naval Air corps yesterday and Tuesday by members of the examining board, Lieutenant J. A. Frances, head of the board announced last night.

Students accepted for the corps are Hugh McNamer, Shelby; Wahle Phelan, Butte; Alfred Hughes, Belvedere, N. J.; Ralph Nichols, Salmon, Idaho; Harold Martin, Libby; Paul Keilman, Whitehall; Cyrus Lee, Wolf Point; Sidney Groff, Victor; Tom Daniels, Los Angeles; Norman Streit, Malcolm Severy, Pat Cowan and John Zuber, all of Missoula.

The 13 students will report to Seattle in July and August for one month of training before being sent to one of three advanced schools in Florida and Texas. Upon completion of their advanced training the men will serve three years with the fleet.

Regulations provide that any of the men may, after serving one and one-half years, be granted a permanent commission in the navy.

MEDIATION BOARD NEEDS A "BIG STICK"

On March 19, President Roosevelt created the eleven-man National Defense Mediation board and appointed as its head Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin and selective service director. The duty of the board is clear—it is to be called upon to act after the regular conciliation proceedings of the labor department fail to bring about settlements between labor and industry.

Composing its membership are four representatives of industry, four of labor and three "disinterested persons" representing the public. It is fitting that the president should choose for his board members experts in their own fields and in the field of industry. In addition to Dr. Dykstra, his choices are William Hammatt Davis, New York patent attorney; Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina; George Many, general secretary of the American Federation of Labor; George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks and A. F. of L. vice-president; Philip Murray, head of the Congress of Industrial Organization; Thomas Kennedy, vice-president of the United Mine Workers; Walter C. Tagle, former president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey; Roger D. Lapham, president of the American-Hawaiian Steamship company; Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington, D. C., Post, and Cyrus Ching, vice-president of the United States Rubber corporation. All are men of high intelligence and of great executive ability.

Yet the Defense Mediation board of which these men are members can act only when Secretary of Labor Perkins deems it necessary. There is a limited power for although they can recommend settlements and make public their findings, they can compel no one to abide by their decisions. Their one power lies in their authority to turn the spotlight of publicity upon stalemated situations.

The fact remains that the 11 men on the board are not allowed to exercise the executive ability of which each is capable. Perhaps it would be better if the Federal Board of Mediation became one of arbitration, able to force both industry and labor to abide by its decisions. Perhaps a "big stick" in the board's hands would aid in solving our present labor problems.—J. H.

Vox Ursi

By BOB FISHER

When we were casting around in the gray matter for a suitable name for this column our eyes hit the astrological chart with its assortment of Latin names. We had the Vox—meaning voice—but a suitable second name was needed. Taurus stopped our eyes but that was incriminating, so we settled on Ursi, the Bear. Which explains Vox Ursi—The Voice of the Bear. We leave the injection of Grizzly to you.

Just can't forget the "King." It's history now but little incidents keep popping up. On the last night of its production Poppa and Momma Haydon donned the rags of the rabble and joined the chorus at the "old" gate in the wall of Paris. When ex-Lucas came on the scene he ad-libbed with, "Poppa and Momma, what are you doing here?" Then Lucas manufactured the rest of the scene around the Haydons, ending the act with, "Come on, Pop, let's find a new gate."

It didn't take long for the "earcallousers" to start pitching. So from here on down the column will carry whispers to you.

Ex-Grizzly Bobby Sparks is battling his way to a permanent position with Uncle Sam. There is an ordinance in the army that puts an added six months on the soldier's record, providing he changes a commissioned officer's position from vertical to horizontal. Via the grapevine comes the report that Bobby has chalked up two lieutenants, and his vacation with pay has been extended to two years.

Bunny Vial will check her grass to middle aisle, comes June.

Today's question box holds this query: Are the Alpha Biss going out of the hardware business?

Nowlan Is Visitor On Campus

Dr. F. S. Nowlan, chairman of the department of mathematics at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, was a visitor on the campus yesterday. Dr. Nowlan took courses from N. J. Lennes, professor and head of the department of mathematics, when he was an instructor at Columbia university in 1911 and 1912.

Student Portraits Will Remain On Exhibition

Portraits of university students will remain on exhibition in the Art building for the benefit of those who failed to see them during track meet.

The display includes still life, palette knife paintings, landscapes and portraits of Johnny Reagan, Chicago; Eso Naranche, Butte; "Red" Bryan and Brinton Jackson, both of Kalispell; Tom O'Donnell, Casper, Wyo.; Jack Swarthout, Prosser, Wash., and Helen Miller and Margaret Miller, both of Missoula. A portrait of Edison Spriggs, Kalispell, is being painted.

The exhibition, which will be open all day for the next few days, is representative of a portion of the class work done by the art students during winter and spring quarter.

Haight Attends Extension Mail Conference

Correspondence Head Visits National Meeting For State Service

R. C. Haight, director of the state correspondence school, attended the twenty-sixth annual conference of the National University Extension association in Oklahoma City May 5, 6 and 7. He visited extension division units of the correspondence service at the University of Iowa and the University of Nebraska.

The association was attended by representatives from nearly every extension division of correspondence services in the United States, including Montana. Mr. Haight represented the local unit.

The conference theme was "University Extension and Total Defense," which was concerned chiefly with the technical and non-technical training that extension agents might offer in collaboration with the National Defense program. The federal government recently appropriated large sums to extension divisions whose applications to carry on this type of service have been approved, Mr. Haight stated.

The conference program offered round-table luncheons, field trips, sectional conferences and a series of speeches, including a talk by Fred J. Kelly, chief of the Division of Higher Education, U. S. Office of Education. His speech was "The Need for University and College Facilities in Defense Training." A discussion of the "Responsibilities and Opportunities of University Extension" was led by the Honorable Elbert D. Thomas, United States senator from Utah.

Lutheran Students Elect DeBoer

Arthur DeBoer, Manhattan, recently was elected president of the Lutheran Students association, campus church group. Other officers chosen were Carl Isaacson, Plentywood, vice-president; Virginia Baird, Missoula, secretary, and Dorothy Larsen, Culbertson, treasurer.

Retiring officers are Ronald Schulz, Big Timber, president; Jane Christianson, Missoula, secretary, and Ed Murphy, Rudyard, treasurer.

BEAR PAWS PLAN PICNIC

Plans for a picnic, the last official function of the year, were discussed by Bear Paws at their last meeting.

All students working in the orchestra received three points, the ensemble three, Scotch archers three and assistants to the business manager four points.

Masquers will meet tonight in the Little Theatre at 7:30 o'clock to elect officers, announce pledges, initiate new members and make plans for the Masquer picnic.

Picnic Plans Are Complete

Final preparations for the annual outing to Seeley lake this weekend were completed at the regular meeting of Kappa Psi, men's national pharmaceutical fraternity, yesterday afternoon, Russell K. Anderson, Missoula, past regent, announced yesterday.

The group will leave Missoula Friday and remain at Seeley lake until Sunday night.

Those planning to attend the outing are Russell K. Anderson and Glenn Hamor, Missoula; Jack Asal, Butte; Ed Herda, Judith Gap; Ed Clarkin, Forsyth; Art Beattie, Great Falls; Bob DeBoer, Manhattan; Ellis Larson, Saco; Walter Chapman, Wolf Point, and Albert Picchioni, Klein. Dean C. E. Mollett, Dr. L. W. Richards, professor of pharmacy, and Dr. John Suchy, faculty adviser of the honorary, also plan to make the trip.

Sigma Chi Wins Softball Game From Theta Chi

Sigma Chi's softball team squeezed a 9-8 victory from a hard-fighting Theta Chi club in an interfraternity game yesterday, which was packed with action.

The first five innings won the game for the Chis. They blasted Anderson, Theta Chi pitcher, for 13 hits to give themselves nine runs, and aided their chucker, Worley Parsons, in holding the Theta Chis to two lone tallies.

In the sixth frame Theta Chi started to hit. Starrett, the first batter, singled over second with Anderson following him with a double, Watson's triple scoring them both. Wendt fanned for the first out. Persson grounded out scoring Watson and Jensen popped up to end the rally.

Theta Chi held the Sigs scoreless in their half of the sixth.

In the last inning Milstein led off with a double, Bennetts was out on a pop fly and McLeod followed with another two-bagger, scoring Milstein. Swartz came through with a triple, scoring McLeod, and Starrett singled him home. Parsons struck out the next batter and Wendt grounded out to end the game, giving Sigma Chi a one-run victory.

SAE's Forfeit Tennis Match To Sigma Chi's

SX to Engage SAE-PDT Winner as SN-TX Victor Moves to Semi-Finals

Sigma Alpha Epsilon forfeited its scheduled tennis match to Sigma Chi yesterday. Part of the match had been played Monday with Sigma Chi dropping the singles game and winning one of the doubles games. The other doubles match was postponed until Tuesday because neither team had enough men to make another squad.

Monday, Hanson, SAE, beat Dorich, SX, 6-2, 2-6, 9-7, in the singles. The last set was close and fast with Hanson finally pulling away to win two straight when the score stood 7-7. Lohn and Shockley, Sigma Chis, outplayed Redpath and Swanson, SAE's, in the doubles round and won, 6-2, 6-2.

Sigma Chi now advances into the semi-final round by playing the winner of the SAE-PDT match, while the Mavericks will meet the SN-TX winner in the other half of the semi-finals.

Phi Delta Theta meets Sigma Alpha Epsilon at 4 o'clock today.

WAA will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Eloise Knowles room.

Club Discusses Home Ec Plans

Plans for next year's Home Economics club meetings were discussed Tuesday at the regular club meeting, and Helen Peterson, Cut Bank, president, appointed a committee to make programs for each meeting.

The committee headed by Frances Talcott, Nibbe, includes Harriet Coburn, Chehalis, Wash.; Celia Nop, Libby; Ennola Campbell, Bonner, and Ethel Campbell and Margery Abel, both of Missoula.

A "big sister and little sister" program will be introduced next year for all home economic students. After fall registration each new enrollee will be given a big sister who will take her to the club meetings and assist in orientation. The climax for this new plan will be a big and little sister party to be given sometime during the year.

The next club meeting will be Tuesday, when plans for the club picnic, which is given every year for the seniors, will be discussed. The picnic will be June 4.

Students to Talk At Math Meeting

Norman Sheeran, Columbia Falls, will talk on "Helmholtz, Practical Mathematician," at a meeting of Pi Mu Epsilon, national mathematics honorary, at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Main hall 204, Josephine Raymond, Klein, acting president of the organization, announced today.

Attendance of all members is requested as new officers will be elected, Miss Raymond said.

Students Urged To Attend Exercises

University students who have reached the age of 21 within the past year are urged to attend the program in their honor commemorating Citizenship day at 2:30 o'clock today in the courtroom of the county courthouse, F. W. Wilson, chairman in charge of the general program for Missoula county, said yesterday.

The exercises will climax Citizenship week, which was set aside this year for the first time. An act of Congress approved May 3, 1940, and a resolution of the twenty-seventh legislature of Montana, sponsored by the Montana Bar association, created the honor day.

During the week, three classes in citizenship, open to all citizens but primarily given for those who have just reached the age of 21, were held at the local courthouse and young lawyers spoke to grade school students about the aspects of citizenship.

Citizenship day, which was set aside by a pronouncement of the Fourth Judicial district, will be opened tomorrow morning by a convocation at Missoula County High school at which A. H. Angstrom, associate justice of the State Supreme court, will speak. He will also speak at a noon luncheon of the Western Montana Bar association, to which all lawyers are invited, and the program for young people at the courthouse.

"These classes and the program are not compulsory," said Wilson. "Those attaining 21, who are by law natural citizens, automatically are granted all rights and privileges and assume the duties of citizenship. However, the spirit of the move is in conformity with the press of the times and is to remind us of the rights which we too often take for granted."

The GRIZZLY PARADE

By J. ROY ELMS

TRACK HOPES

The sports season for the college year of 1940-41 is rapidly drawing to a close. Only the Pacific Coast conference track and field meet May 30 and 31 in Los Angeles remains on Montana's schedule for the year. The Grizzlies probably will enter only a small squad in the conference meet.

I still think Gene Clawson will take the conference discus throw in spite of being nosed out of first place by a matter of inches at the Northern Division meet last week. Clawson was competing with a smashed finger, received earlier in the week when a car he was cranking kicked.

He only tossed the platter 144 feet 5½ inches, which is two feet under his poorest mark in a meet this year. The main reason for Clawson's poor showing was lack of practice.

The big all-around Grizzly athlete has tossed the plate six feet farther than anyone on the coast this year, his best toss coming against Whitman on Dornblaser when he slung the platter 156 feet.

With plenty of time to return to form through practice before the conference meet, Clawson should have little trouble breaking 150 feet. The main problem Coach Adams has is keeping him from cranking cars.

Earl Fairbanks was only a breath behind Long of Washington, who copped the 440. Fairbanks has run the quarter in 48.5, the winning time in the Northern Division meet, and on several Saturdays the time has been the best on the coast. If Fairbanks should be hot on the afternoon of the PCC meet, the Grizzlies might take a first in the 440.

POSITIONS ACCEPTED

Carlobelle Button, Missoula, and Mary Evans, Bozeman, yesterday accepted positions as teachers in the Fort Shaw High school.

Editorial and business staffs of Sluice Box will meet in the journalism building tomorrow at 4 o'clock.

Campus Congress Agrees Laisson Agent Desirable

City and university representatives agreed on the desirability of a liaison agent between community and student, as Campus Congress last night concluded its first year of broadcasting.

Following the discussion, according to Grace Jean Wheeler, Ronan, Mayor Dwight N. Mason told the university representatives that a student member on the City council was a desirable feature and the problem of pushing the matter now rested upon the students.

Mason and City Engineer W. H. Swearingen replied to criticisms of Missoula's dancing, recreational, musical and art facilities, Greenough park, police protection and lighting made by Marcus Bourke, Miles City; Miss Wheeler; Hal Ekern, Thompson Falls, and Student Chairman Eileen Deegan, Missoula.

The problem of downtown dancing will be partially solved by a recent city ordinance permitting dancing in establishments where liquor is sold, Mason said.

Swearingen pointed out that the city maintains six tennis courts, a number of softball diamonds, a swimming pool, 13 improved and three unimproved parks, all of which are free and available to students.

Mason also said that fraternity and sorority houses, who own a large part of the property along University and Gerald avenues, could obtain better lighting by petitioning for special improved districts.

Admitting that Missoula needs more policemen, Mason praised

Colonel Says ROTC Unit Rates High

"The material and equipment used for ROTC training here are in splendid condition," Colonel D. B. Crafton, administrative inspector of the Ninth Corps area, said yesterday after inspecting the university Reserve Officers' Training corps headquarters and equipment. "The grounds are excellent for training both basic and advanced course students."

Colonel Crafton, who spent the morning looking over ROTC buildings and grounds, left yesterday afternoon for Bozeman, where he will inspect the Montana State college ROTC headquarters.

The annual inspection will be concluded next Monday when Lieutenant-Colonel James J. Hea, professor of military science and tactics in Bozeman, will inspect the Grizzly regiment. Company A will present first-aid methods used in the field, the use of musketry and the use of the automatic rifle. The other seven companies of the first battalion will defend a student co-operation with the police department, and said he felt sure students realize they are not being persecuted but are dealt with more leniently than are citizens of Missoula.

Miss Deegan summed up the discussion by saying that students who live in Missoula four years receive training for future civic responsibilities. They often earn part of their expenses by Missoula jobs and should obey the laws and know the community, she added.

Scribes to Honor Dean Stone Tonight

Journalism students and faculty members will attend Dean Stone night to honor Dean A. L. Stone of the journalism school at the annual Press club picnic in Montana Power park tonight.

Transportation for approximately 50 guests will be furnished and cars will leave the journalism school at 6 o'clock.

Irene Pappas, Butte, Press club president, will introduce the graduating seniors, who will give individual farewell addresses. Dean Stone will give a short speech, after which the group will disperse singing "College Chums."

position south of the University from the second battalion. A mock battle will be carried out as in actual warfare.

After inspection of the unit, Lieutenant-Colonel Hea will confer with Colonel Crafton to decide whether or not members of the Grizzly regiment will be allowed to continue to wear the blue star excellence rating on their sleeves.

The university ROTC unit has worn the emblem during the past year, having regained it after 1939, when it failed to pass inspection.

FORESTERS WILL TAKE FINAL EXAMS EARLY

All upperclassmen in the forestry school will take final examinations during the last class period between June 2 and 6 because many students are receiving notices to report for work before June 10.

Arrangements for an incomplete through petition must be made for any course not in the forestry school which the forestry student may be taking.
