Managers Club Approves Changes in Organization

Plans for complete reorganization of the manager system were approved by the athletic sub-committee recently, Jack Brazelton, Helena, president of Managers club, said yesterday. The club, which is an organization composed of selected managers, is planning to make the system more efficient and interesting.

"A survey was made of many of the other universities and colleges in the country," continued Brazelton, "and their suggestions were submitted to the committee. The best points of all the suggestions were chosen, and, provided Athletic and Central boards approve the changes, they will be entered in the 'M' Book, Brazelton said.

Inadequate Returns

"Sophomores in senior varsity manager positions and the inadequate returns for our work are weak points in the system that should be remedied. The managers perform an important duty to the athletic department and they should have proper recognition," the president added.

Under the new plan, freshmen may petition to become managers at the start of the school year. After they have been tested for several weeks six freshman managers, who will be awarded numerals, will be chosen for the remainder of the season. From the six who return as sophomores, three are to be chosen as assistant managers.

Assistants Receive Sweaters

The assistants will receive lightweight 'M' sweaters as an award. The following year one of the assistants will be chosen varsity manager and will receive a regular sweater with a four-inch block 'M'. Under the new system it will take but three years to become a varsity manager instead of the previous four. A sophomore will be able to begin work as a manager, becoming a varsity manager during his senior year.

Plans are now under way to increase scholarships for the three varsity managers and the three minor sports managers. Under the present plan the varsity managers receive one-half a quarter's tuition. In their new position they ask for a full quarter's scholarship.

The petition will be given to Athletic board to be passed on at Monday's meeting. If the board passes the petition, it will then go to Central board, where final approval may be given.

Thirteen Men Ask to Join Air Corps

Thirteen university men have filed application to join the Army Air corps, Lieutenant Dana Bradford of McChord field said yesterday. Under the new plan, the men will undergo primary and secondary training as a group and then form their own squadron. The men must take a rigid physical examination before they are accepted.

Those who have applied are Larry Frawley, William Yaggy, George Scott, Paul Nelson and Frank Busch, all of Missoula; Lester Kares, Stevensville; William DeHaven, Harrisburg, Pa.; Charles Buettner, Livingston; Bill Krueger, Bozeman; William Mufich and Bill Carroll, Butte; Dale Monson, Fairview, and Forbes Bottomly, Great Falls.

Special Convo For Seniors To Be June 3

All Graduating Students Are Requested to Attend For Instructions

Graduating seniors will meet at a special convocation at 10 o'clock Tuesday in Main hall auditorium to discuss instructions and plans for Commencement exercises, Professor E. A. Atkinson, Commencement committee chairman, said yesterday. Copies of instructions are being sent to all seniors today, he added.

Resident students who are graduating at the end of spring quarter must be present at the Commencement exercises June 9, unless formally excused through petition signed by the heads of their department and Dean R. H. Jesses, the committee chairman said.

Tickets for the Commencement program may be secured Monday and Tuesday at the registrar's office. Each person is allowed two and they are good only until 2 o'clock Commencement day. At that time the remaining seats will be filled by the general public.

Tickets for the Commencement dinner must be secured by 4 o'clock Tuesday.

A reception in the Student Union lounge for members of the graduating class and their friends and relatives will follow the exercises. Seniors should wear caps and gowns, Atkinson said.

Each graduate is also asked to fill out a record card for the alumni file and pay Alumni association dues.

Honorary Fetes Retiring Sponsor With Serenade

Mrs. George Finlay Simmons, retiring Spur sponsor, was serenaded last night by the active chapter of Tanan-of-Spur, sophomore women's honorary organization. She was presented with a jeweled Spur pin in token of her five years of work with the group.

The serenade followed a party attended by Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Paul A. Bischoff, new sponsor, and the 25 new Spurs. They are Jean Marshall, Elizabeth Fearl, Gloria Bugli, Charlotte Toelle, Ethel-Claire Kuenning, Betty Daly, Betty Hodson, Virginia Morrison, Dolores Woods, Helen Boatwright and Helen Walterskirchen, all of Missoula; Marie Murphy, Stevensville; Jeanne Morris, Polly Morledge and Pat Cohe, all of Billings; Bernice Hanson, Deer Lodge; Jane Mee, Anaconda; Marguerite Poore, Butte; Barbara Warden, Roundup; Lillian Neville and Betty Nye, Helena; Polly Schneider, Sheridan; Viola Zimbelman, Brady; Marjorie Harrison, Bridger, and Donna Bertsch, Glasgow.

WAA Group Will Banquet Wednesday

President Timm Names Committee Chairmen For Dinner

WAA active and prospective members will attend the annual Women's Athletic association banquet for installation and awards at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday in the Copper room, Jane Potter, women's physical education instructor, announced yesterday.

Shirley Timm, Missoula, WAA president, named as banquet committee chairmen Helen Johnson, Hall, invitations; Barbara Adams, Billings, and Phyllis Berg, Livingston, program; Jo Raymond, Klein, guests; Maribeth Kitt, Missoula, tickets; Peggy Landreth, Anchorage, Alaska, reception, and Sis Hopkins, Helena, decorations.

WAA representatives, stationed in sorority houses and women's dormitories Monday night, will register guests and sell tickets, Miss Potter said. Missoula women may obtain tickets and sign for attendance Monday in the women's gymnasium, or after the centralized physical education examination in the Journalism auditorium. A few tickets will be on sale at the banquet, Miss Potter said.

"The spring banquet is WAA's most outstanding social event of the year," Miss Timm said, "and we expect a record attendance and hope to make this our best affair."

Forestry Students Will Fly For Summer Fire Control

Twelve Schools Are to Send Underclassmen For Blaze Suppression Training; University Will Have Most Entrants

One hundred and fifty underclass forestry students from 12 schools will receive intensive fire-suppression training and will form flying squadrons of fire fighters based at the Nine Mile Forest Service Service camp this summer, announced J. H. Ramskill, professor of forestry, yesterday. Fifty underclassmen from the university will be the largest number from any school that will take the training.

Frat Council Approves Rush Rules

Formalized Regulations Stipulate Exact Hours For Activities

Rigid rules for next fall's rush week were formalized and approved at the final meeting of Interfraternity council last night.

The council decided that formal rushing rules will take effect at 12 o'clock, midnight, Saturday, September 20, with a "silent period" extending until 5 o'clock the following Monday afternoon. No fraternity man will be allowed to meet arriving rushees during the silent period on Sunday and Monday.

The second silent period will extend from midnight Monday until 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Open rushing will be in effect from 5 p. m. until midnight Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. A silent period will extend over all non-fraternity men from midnight Friday to midnight Saturday.

May Split Dates

Pledging will take place before the silent period from 4 o'clock until 6 o'clock Saturday in Main hall. Rushees will be permitted to have split dates, but they must leave the houses of their own volition. No fraternity man may enter the premises of another fraternity house during the periods of open rushing.

Fraternity men, excluding proctors and employees, are excluded from South hall during any silent period. A list of mimeographed rushing rules will be mailed, along with registration information which is sent through the registrar's office, to all prospective students throughout the state.

Halvor Ekern, Thompson Falls, was appointed to represent Interfraternity council and sit in on City council meetings. Since the campus fraternities comprise a large portion of the city's taxpayers, the council stated that a closer relationship should exist between the two groups.

Money Limit Raised

The expenditure limit of the Interfraternity rushing book, edited by Tom Mather, Great Falls, was raised $15 in order to meet the minimum printing price quoted by a printing company in Great Falls.

Two hundred copies of this year's book, which will give a clear picture of fraternity finance, leaders, scholarship, activities and general fraternity information, will be mailed to all persons applying for enrollment in the university next fall.

The camp, a joint project of the forestry school and Region One Forest Service headquarters, will first run the men through a two-week rigid fire suppression training to prepare them for emergency fire fighting throughout the regional forests.

Planes Will Scout

During fire season, the men will always be on call, and when fire danger is exceedingly high, planes will be continuously scouting the country for blazes. When a fire is spotted, the plane notifies the radio fire station near Missoula which in turn broadcasts the message to the Nine Mile camp. Immediately, the necessary number of flying squadrons of 20 men each are on their way to the blaze.

The pay for this work will compare favorably with nearly all other fire season jobs available to underclassmen, said Ramskill.

The Forest Service will furnish food and lodging and 50 cents per hour to workers while on fire duty. NFA will probably supply $16 per month for the time spent in camp.

Training Gives Experience

This training will give the student an opportunity to decide definitely whether he wants to continue forestry as a vocation, because it offers actual experience in the professional forestry fields of timber cruising and scaling, organization of national forests, nursery work, range management and silviculture.

When the student returns to school in the fall, he will have a

ROTC, Band Will March Memorial Day

The Grizzly regiment and the University band will march from the University at 9 o'clock Friday morning to join other groups downtown in the annual Memorial Day parade in honor of past war heroes.

The regiment and the band will march down Connell avenue, turn North on Gerald avenue, and will join the Fort Missoula unit on Higgins avenue, near Hollyoaks Drug store. The entire parade will march down Higgins to the Northern Pacific depot and the university unit will return via Van Buren bridge.

The attendance for the parade will be voluntary and will be counted as a make-up drill for those who have taken more than the one authorized absence. All who have perfect attendance for the current quarter and who will march in the parade will have 3 per cent added to their final grade for the quarter, Lieutenant George Misevic said yesterday.

Fraternal and civic orders throughout the city will also participate in the parade.

ATHLETICS MAY HAVE BETTER MANAGERIAL SUPPORT

As a result of a survey lasting upwards of a month, President Jack Brazelton introduced an approved plan to Athletic board recently which will completely reorganize the present managerial setup. Not only will the new by-laws improve the Managers club itself, but also it will better the lot between the coaches, athletic teams and managers.

Under the old plan the managers had to put in three years of work before gleaning any honor, trips or awards from their work. Freshmen and sophomores were under the thumb of the senior manager, who laid out their work day after day. Juniors were given the task of taking care of the freshman squad.

If the new plans are passed by Central board, six freshmen will be chosen from the candidates applying for the job and will be awarded numeral sweaters. From those six, three will be picked the next year to act as assistant managers and will receive light-weight M sweaters. One of these three will be chosen by the coaching staff upon completion of his second year of service to become varsity manager.

In this way the coaches will be able to become acquainted with the managers' work and his personality. In turn the managers will get a chance to work toward the varsity position on the merit system alone, doing his work to please the coach and squad, not the head manager. It is a much more democratic way of administration.—K. B. K.

With the school year going into the first steps of the swan song, we will throw the light over the shoulders to see what has been accomplished in the past year.

Convocations were the highlight of student entertainment last year as long as students stayed in the driver's seat. Dark clouds on convocation days were in the shape of speakers who delved deep into subjects that were not of immediate interest to the student mind. The silver lining to the educational convo series was supplied by Dean Charles W. Gilkey who talked of education in such a manner that strong points of his delivery still linger.

Call for the last curtain should be given to Charles Luedke, Edson Spriggs and any other old-timers who have contributed to the bi-weekly class shorteners. This duo is headed for the army.

Neophytes who will make next year's shows spark will be Eileen Murphy, Jim Baldwin, the Smalls, Ed Voldseth and the yet to be discovered.

Scheuch Says Fraternities Must Co-operate or Fail

Co-operation by the seven fraternity chapters of the campus is imperative if the organizations are to subsist for the next year, said Dr. Frederick C. Scheuch, national grand consul of Sigma Chi and former vice-president of Montana State university, who visited here last week. The National Interfraternity council predicts a 50 per cent drop in fraternity membership because of withdrawals for defense purposes, Dr. Scheuch added.

The greatest drop in enrollment is expected to be in liberal arts schools, where registration is already being hit hardest, according to reports given at the National Interfraternity council conclave in New York last month. The council was informed that enrollees in engineering courses and possibly medical majors will be permitted to complete their courses without being drafted.

Dr. Scheuch urges college students to encourage high school graduates to attend educational institutions next year. He fears that a great number believe they will be unable to finish schooling or that opportunities for financial advancement will inhibit "non-profitable" school attendance.

"A needless avoidance of college is not only seriously harmful to the colleges but will ultimately prove a detriment to the great body of our youth as well," Dr. Scheuch stated. "Certainly no emphasis on this point could be stressed excessively."

Dr. Scheuch is conducting a five-week tour of the United States visiting chapters of Sigma Chi fraternity. Before coming westward to inspect the campuses of Oregon State college, the Universities of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, he served as advisory head of the fraternities at Purdue university for five weeks.

Monday he visited Montana State college at Bozeman, from where he journeyed to Battle Creek, Mich., to resume his duties as national head of Sigma Chi fraternity. While in Missoula he was the guest of W. H. McLeod and Sigma Chi.

Dr. Scheuch served as vice-president of the university from 1921 to 1936 and was acting presi-

Interfraternity All-Stars Will Play Phi Delta Theta Sunday Afternoon

Team Chosen by Minor Sports Managers
Opposes League Champions in Exhibition;
Kern, Parsons, DeGroot Will Pitch

Softball fans will be treated to a display of the finest talent the Interfraternity league has to offer when an all-star team, picked from the rosters of five fraternities and the Forestry club, tangles with Phi Delta Theta, Interfraternity softball champs, in an exhibition game at 3 o'clock Sunday at the Clover bowl.

The All Stars, chosen by Minor Sports Managers Bob Blair and Jiggs Buntin, boasts of plenty of pitching ability in Dick Kern, Sigma Nu fireballer, and Worley Parsons, Sigma Chi's ace chucker. Receiving their offerings will be Birdie Vaughn, Sigma Nu's burly catcher and Kern's battery mate for the season.

Choquette at First

In the infield they will have Lefty Choquette, another Sigma Nu, at first; Wilkinson, hard-hitting Sigma Chi, at second; Goldstein, Phi Sigma Kappa, who is always to be reckoned with on offense and defense, at shortstop, and Tom Furlong, Phi Sigma Kappa, at third base.

The outfield is made up of Russell, the carrot-topped fly chaser from the forestry school, at the short field post; Zins, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, in left field; Merrick, Sigma Chi, centerfield, and Bradeen, Sigma Nu, right field.

Phi Delt Team

The Phi Delt have on hand the same aggressive ball team that brought them through the season undefeated with seven wins and no losses to cop the first-place trophy.

Willy DeGroot will fling the fast ones and Sut Hammond will catch. The infield is composed of Dale Galles on first base, Red Bryan at second, Wiley Crosswell, shortstop, and Jack Webber at the hot corner.

Jones in Outfield

Patrolling the outer gardens will be Bill Jones, an all-state choice of last year, in the short field, Dean Galles, left field; Benny Stephens, center field, and Frank Nugent, in right field. Barney Ryan, who has pitched for the Phi Delt during the regular season, is laid up with a back injury.

Bob Blair, minor sports manager, requests all the players named on the all-star team to report at the field at 10 o'clock Saturday for practice.

A small admission will be charged, proceeds of which will go to the Rotana milk fund for underprivileged children.

NOTICE

All seniors meet in Main hall at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday for a special convocation. Procedure at Baccalaureate and Commencement will be explained.

The GRIZZLY PARADE

• By J. ROY ELMS

The Grizzlies' chances of picking up a first place in the Pacific Coast conference meet at Berkeley were somewhat dimmed Saturday. Montana's best chance for a first rests in the discus, as big Gene Clawson has tossed the platter 156 feet. That distance, until Saturday, was the farthest the platter had been tossed on the coast this spring. However, Wolf of California shattered all previous marks of the year Saturday when he heaved the plate 159 feet 11 inches.

Clawson, though, still retains a fine chance of coping first in the meet. Wolf may not come through again with such a long toss. Remember, Clawson had a good afternoon against Whitman on Dornblaser when he slung the discus 156 feet. I don't think any of his tosses that afternoon were under 154. However, the big Grizzly has been having trouble breaking 150 feet since that afternoon.

He gave his poorest performance of the year in the Northern Division meet when he took second with a toss of 144 feet 5 inches. At that he was second by only some five inches.

The reason for his poor performance was lack of practice because of a smashed finger. Also, the finger was not completely healed at the time of the meet.

Returning to Missoula, Clawson broke 150 feet consistently and seemed on his way to his oldtime form. Until the team departed for the meet Sunday, Clawson had been practicing hard. If big Gene can chuck the platter anywhere around 155 feet the Grizzlies have a fine chance to cop first in that event. I think Wolf had his big day Saturday at the Los Angeles Relays.

Bob Wettern, sports editor of the Idaho Argonaut, picked Milo Anderson of the Vandals to beat Clawson in the Northern Division because Clawson was not a "good competitor." Wettern said Anderson was a "good competitor" and could stand up under fire with the best of them.

Anderson only tossed the discus 144 feet 10 inches in the meet to win first place. Clawson, injured finger, no practice and all, was only a few inches behind and almost Thirty-six seniors and graduates from the University of Idaho forestry school, accompanied by Faculty Members Dr. Vernon A. Young and Dr. M. E. Because of the scarcity of experienced fire fighters during the fire season, the Forest Service welcomes this chance to train crews of young men who intend to make a career of forestry.

In order to be eligible for the camp, the man must be a forestry major with a C average, and must have the recommendation of the head of the forestry school. He also must be physically fit and should not have had previous forestry field training.

Schools other than Montana sending men include the Universities of Idaho, Minnesota, Michigan and Syracuse, Michigan State college, Pasadena Junior college and Washington State college.

If the fire camp plan is successful, the Forest Service may hire only men who have had one summer's training in such a camp, Ramskill stated.
