Davis Cancels Wednesday Convocation Engagement

Tom Davis, Butte, president of Rotary International, cancelled his Wednesday convocation appearance today because of an "unavoidable" change in schedule. In a letter to A. C. Cogswell, chairman of the Public Exercises committee, Ben Hardin, Mr. Davis' representative, expressed the hope that a future date might be arranged. Hardin's letter read in part:

"It is with the deepest regret that I must inform you that due to changes in schedules, which are absolutely unavoidable as far as Mr. Davis is concerned, it will be impossible for him to fulfill Wednesday's assignment which we had anticipated enjoying at your university."

"Mr. Davis wished me to express his sincere regrets at his inability to keep this appointment, but unfortunately it was only one among a number which had to be cancelled. He assures me that if you will consider him for some other date, that he will be very happy to have an opportunity to come to the university. It is one institution of which he is very fond."

Naval Reserve Enlistments Open to U Men

Physically qualified sophomore, junior and senior men may enlist in the United States Naval Reserve Aviation corps and return to complete the school year, Dr. J. E. Miller, dean of men, learned in word received recently from Commander B. H. Creighton of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection board.

The new privilege will allow sophomores to attain the two years of college required to qualify for the Naval Reserve without being called to selective service duty. Senior men will be allowed to graduate and juniors may finish the present school year. Men who enlist and qualify will be called to duty during July, August or September.

Students may obtain full particulars by writing to the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection board at the Naval Reserve Aviation base in Seattle or calling at the local Navy Recruiting office, Dean Miller said.

Melby to Return Today From East

President Ernest O. Melby will return today from the east where he spent the holidays with his son, Stanley, a graduate student at Columbia university. He attended a national conference of college and university presidents in Baltimore and met with the Association of American Colleges in Cleveland en route to Missoula.

Dr. Melby will be honored at a reception at the Florence hotel Jan. 21 to enable Missoula and western Montana residents to meet him.

Root Cuts Classes To See Eso Play

Law school classes started off this quarter as usual but this time without the presence of Fred Root, Butte, who missed his first class in three years.

Root, accompanied Bill Hirst, Missoula, to the national convention of Phi Delta Phi at Edgewater Gulf, Florida, figures that it was well worth his while to miss the classes because it gave him a chance to see one of Montana's best athletes in action.

Eso Naranche was the best man on the field in the East-West football game, according to Hirst and Root. He was all over the field and played big time football such as Montana men are capable of playing, they said.

"Wild Bill Kelly at his best was no better than Naranche that day in the Tulane Sugar Bowl," said Hirst. "I just wish that more supporters of the university could have seen that game, as it would have made many of them change their mind about the brand of football played in this section of the country."

Former Student Joins Air Cadets At Kelly Field

Harold A. Taylor, ex-'37, former member of the university rifle team and an advanced ROTC student, is a member of the first class of aviation cadets to enter the Air corps replacement training center at Kelly Field, Texas, since the entrance of the United States into World War II.

The new class is the second to embark on the five-week course in basic military training and ground school instruction at the replacement center.

Cadet Taylor will take five weeks of preliminary training which will give him a thorough military background for becoming an officer in the army upon his graduation next September.

All senior women will be honored by American association of university women Tuesday at 8 o'clock at a reception in the Mayfair room of the Florence hotel, Mrs. W. L. Gottenberg, AAUW president, announced yesterday. Miss Anne Platt, professor of home economics, is social chairman.

Sixteen Alums Train at Air Base in Texas

Montana State university has 16 alumni now training at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, Texas, according to the public relations office of the Thirteenth Naval district. Fifty-eight Montanans, including 23 former Montana State college students, are enrolled at the station.

Although some states have a larger representation at Corpus Christi than Montana, no state has so great a percentage in proportion to its population, the public relations office reports.

In the second class to graduate from the school in November, 1941, Montana was second in number of cadets who were commissioned and given their wings.

Annual Editor Urges Seniors To Register

George Luening, Missoula, Sentinel editor, threatens to set an early deadline for senior picture appointments as only a dozen students have signed up to have their pictures taken. Luening said if this is necessary, no appointments or pictures will be accepted for publication after that date.

All the pictures must be in the hands of the engravers preparatory for printing early in March, the editor explained, in urging the seniors to cooperate with the staff's plans.

Appointments may be made from 8 o'clock a. m. to 10:30 o'clock p. m. each day on a schedule sheet in the Central board room. They are set for 10-minute intervals from 9 until 4:30 o'clock each day except Sunday at the Ace Woods studio.

ADVERTISING DROP NOW APPARENT

Among other things wrought by the war has been a general curtailment of advertising by many of the larger, national advertisers. Some companies have cancelled all schedules for January while others are holding off indefinitely awaiting new promotional schemes. Because of their early closing dates, monthly magazines will show no effects until March or maybe April.

But no so with the Kaimin. Already one of our foremost "meal tickets" has announced "there will be no advertising for Chesterfield cigarettes in January." And insertion orders for other nationally advertised products have been slow in arriving.

All of this comes less close to home, perhaps to our readers than do the announcements of curtailments of more practical commodities such as tires, some home appliances and, now, automobiles. But to we of the Kaimin, nothing could come closer for without sufficient advertising there can be no daily edition.

The lineage we may expect from local merchants to offset any deficit from other sources lends little optimism to the situation. Many are finding it increasingly difficult to obtain goods for sale while others who have a limited supply see little need for spending money for advertising when they can easily sell without that expenditure. Why merchants should advertise despite these obstacles is another story.

We hope that when the Kaimin phone rings throughout the quarter we can still say, "Kaimin, four days a week." But if we can't there'll be a reason. And it won't be because there is lack of news.—J.S.

De-"Bunk"-ery

By DOROTHY ROCHON

Everyone has a little bad luck now and then, but the Sigma Nu house is beginning to wonder if they've been living right or not. It all started when Rex Stage landed in the hospital with a broken arm way last quarter. Even when Chipppo Golder injured his wrist the lads were willing to think it just bad luck, and when Jim Baldwin froze his ears and Al Merriam cut his hand they blamed it on his carelessness. But—when Jack Burgess sprained his ankle, Dick Kern failed to return to school at the beginning of the quarter because of "sick" teeth, and Rex Stage fell and split his head open on a radiator, the boys began to firmly believe "there ain't no justiss."

It has long been an accepted fact that journalists are a scatter-brained, forgetful bunch, but Pete Kamps recently set a record in even that motley crew. At 1 o'clock Pete drove his time-honored vehicle to the journalism school, clumbled out and attended his class. Three hours later a fellow journalist, entering the building, heard a strange roaring at the front entrance—it was Pete's car, still going strong. Furthermore, the car was locked on one side and had no handle on the other. Eventually, it ran out of gas.

For months the Draft Widows club has kept us entertained with their repeated attempts to maintain connections with the MSU lads stationed at Fort Ord. Now, to the pleasure of all concerned, the main objective has been achieved. Two charter members, Betty McLure and Barbie Adams, will leave Saturday for the sunny land, to become the brides of ex-Grizzlies, Lieutenants Tom O'Donnell and Bruce Babbitt.

Was a most welcome thing to find that MSU has managed to reclaim one of its students thought to have been turned over to Uncle Sam for future polishing. Bill Carroll, who accidentally missed his train on his way to the Land of the Little Wind (draft region), is back in school.

It seems that a very alarming document has been drawn up and published in various places about the law school of late. Long famous for its attitude of learning and decorum, the school has been torn asunder by jealousy, all of which started over the dual affections shared by the "Black Eagle Legal Eagle (Ted James, to those of you who have not had the privilege of scanning the famous document) and "that super duper insurance ruper," Bob Milne, for Sibyl Flaherty. To quell the trouble, the legal document grants to both swains the split-pleasure of escorting Miss Flaherty to the all-important Barristers' ball. Should you find yourself in a position to peruse the work of art, don't fail to do so. It is really most enlightening!

Interfraternity Bowl Loop Will Open Play Saturday

Initial matches in the Interfraternity bowling league are slated for Saturday when six Greek teams will battle for top honors on the maple alleys, Harry Adams, minor sports director, announced yesterday.

The opening matches pit Sigma Chi vs. Sigma Nu, Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Theta Chi. Phi Sigma Kappa drew a bye for the first day.

The season promises to be a hot one with five of the seven squads boasting a return of all of last year's veterans, according to the fraternity mentors.

Sigs Defend Title

Defending champion Sigma Chi has Pete Forbis, Jim Felt, Jack Brazelton and Al Angstman, all of whom have had previous experience with the pins. Dan Dykstra, captain of the squad, knocked off high individual honors in past play and sparked the Sigs quintet to the championship.

Phi Delta Theta, second place winner last year, boasts the return of all of its former players and should offer real competition for trophy aspirants, according to Sutton Hammond, PDT captain. Dale Galles, one of the top bowlers, will have the assistance of Cub Potter, Jack Turner, Benny Stevens and Hammond.

Sigma Nu Is Strong

Sigma Nu took third in league play last year and may repeat with a host of veterans. Dewey Sandell, captain of the five, Cal Hubbard, Carver Anderson and Dick Kern are returning keggers who knocked about 200 in previous play. Millard Simineo is a newcomer on the squad.

Theta Chi has potential high scorers in Bill Swartz, Larry Persson, Bob Sykes and Bill Watson. Jack Green will peg for the first time. Swartz, a high scorer in the past, will captain the team.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will enter the alleys with a new team. Ray Wise, captain for the group, is the only returning kegger. Other SAE bowlers are Chuck Burgess, Jack Strong, Bob Wedin and Edward Zuelke. The squad may prove just average, according to advance reports, though the green quintet may spark in the clinches.

Beyer Captains SPE's

Fred Beyer, captain, and George Aubert are the mainstays of the Sigma Phi Epsilon bowling team. Tossers who will assist are Bill Enke, Don Buckingham and Vinnie Keller. The squad may prove just average, Beyer says.

Phi Sigma Kappa boasts a better than average quintet, according to Larry Degnan, captain. Bob Blair, Dutch Dahmer, Karl Fiske and Leonard Daems comprise the PSK machine which may function as a winner.

Games are scheduled for 1:30 o'clock Saturday at the Idle Hour alleys, said Adams.

Score Board Fund Grows

Bear Paw, mens' sophomore honorary, donated $100 to a new fund recently established to raise money for a new score board for Dornblaser field. Dave Milstein, Bear Paw publicity chairman, announced yesterday.

"Contributions are expected from campus and downtown organizations, Missoula High school and possibly the Spokane round table athletic fund, an athletic promoting organization which has contributed a $300 flag pole to the university," Milstein stated.

LaVerne Schultz, Lewistown, left the Phi Sig house Wednesday for a trip to Seattle.

Grizzlies Cop Second Game Of Season

Clawson, Jones, DeGroot Pace Team to 58-39 Win Yesterday

Montana's victory hungry Grizzlies chalked up their second win in 10 starts as they drubbed Idaho, southern branch, 58-39, in the first of a brace of games last night.

Montana quint showed fine offensive form in the first half and shot their best of the season during the second half, sinking 50 per cent of their shots.

The Bengals were spellbound early in the tilt after the Grizzlies converted six of nine attempts taking a 13 to 2 lead.

Scoring was to Montana's advantage 27-9 before the "branch" started to click. After Mayer, Idaho's only tall man, was ousted from the game via the personal foul route, the Bengals had little chance to recover the lead established by Montana.

Forestry School Shows Timber Displays

Displays made up of ten-foot boards of spruce, cedar, Douglas fir, larch and white and western pine line the walls of four forestry building rooms. The displays, used in visual education to acquaint students with various grades, were donated to the school by the Anaconda Mining company and the Neils Lumber company of Libby.

The display is probably one of the finest used by any forest school, Fay G. Clark, professor of forest management, said.

Ski Eliminations Will Be Sunday

Five men, five women and six alternates will be chosen at tryouts at Wraith hill, Anaconda, Sunday, for the western states open ski competition Jan. 17 at Sun Valley, according to Bob Severy, Missoula, president of the Missoula Ski club.

Tryouts are sponsored by the Rocky Mountain Ski association and members of the university and Missoula ski clubs are eligible for competition.

Grizzly Guard

JOE TAYLOR - GUARD

—Chicago, saw action for the Grizzlies in last night's game with Idaho, southern branch in Pocatello. Taylor probably will play again tonight when the teams tangle.

Diminutive Cager Needs Retreads

Russ Edwards, half-pint Grizzly forward, is punishing the nation's rubber supply for at least two pairs of basketball shoes per season.

According to all established laws such a thing shouldn't happen. Edwards is only 5 ft. 7 in. and moves the pointer on the scales to 135. However his size 6½ shoes take plenty of punishment.

A look at the team's roster would seem to indicate boys like Gene Clawson, who is 6 ft. 4 in. and fits into a size 13 shoe, or Joe Taylor, 6 ft. 3 inches and also wears an unlucky 13, should be the ones hard on the limited supply of rubber that soles basketball shoes, but they are satisfied with one pair of shoes.

Probably because of his lack of height and weight Edwards has to move fast and furious to keep up with the big lads. From the looks of a pair of shoes at mid-season he does just that.

Edwards checked out his second pair of shoes for this season just before the Grizzlies left for Pocatello to play Idaho southern branch.

Bobcat Star Quits Squad

When the Grizzlies and Bobcats renew their struggle for state championship laurels again, here Jan. 30 and 31, Bobcats will be without the services of their ace forward, Don Jorgenson.

Jorgenson, winner of two letters, told Bobcat coach Brick Breeden that he felt it necessary to drop the sport in favor of devoting more time to his studies.

Last year Jorgenson was a constant threat to the Grizzly defense throughout the four game battle for the state crown. Montana won all four Bobcat contests, but Jorgenson gave a good account of himself. He scored a total of 37 points in the four frays, averaging 9.1 per game.

Szakash Returns Home As Pro Ball Closes

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Szakash have arrived in Missoula following the close of the professional football season, during which Szakash was a member of the Detroit Lions club.

The former Grizzly grid star played quarterback on Montana's teams of '35 and '37. He was absent during the '36 season because of an appendectomy.

Before coming to Missoula they visited Mrs. Szakash's parents in Chicago, arriving here for the opening of winter quarter. Szakash enrolled in the university to continue his studies toward a degree.

The MONTANA POWER COMPANY

Magician Luedke Juggles Promotions in Army Camp

What happens when a university under-graduate enters military training with a zeal for advancement?

Promotion from production manager of theatrical entertainment, to training instructor, to company guard is the brief saga of Private Charles Luedke, ex-'41, stationed in the 77th infantry barracks at Camp Roberts, Calif. Luedke was a sophomore in the music school prior to induction last June.

The former convocations chairman believes the new military duty encompasses all the excitement of the dramatic arts which he directed until midsummer.

The versatile private was company co-chairman of entertainment for soldiers during the summer. Stranger than fiction is the fact that the other co-chairman was Bud Blanchette, ex-'40, who was active in Masquer work here.

Managing radio broadcasts, one of which was a special USO program with Kay Kyser's orchestra, was just one of Luedke's duties in his first assignment at the camp. Both co-chairmen were staff announcers for radio station KGVO before induction into military service. Luedke closed his entertainment career in the army with production of his 18th show just before war was declared.

Tiring of the "lazy job," as Luedke puts it, he asked for a higher position and was appointed instructor of incoming trainees to Camp Roberts. But the new work brought little feeling of complacency to the ambitious soldier when too few enrollees were assigned to the camp.

Luedke is now assigned to guard duty of one of the barracks. Since the beginning of hostilities, extreme precaution is taken on all appointments of such nature, Luedke avows, as the Los Angeles area is a vital military zone.

The guard's duty is to watch the camp's water supply, finance office and supply houses in which guns and ammunition are kept.

Three inspectors check the guards diligently and impose severe penalties if infractions are discovered.

Training which the army offers is not only exciting, Luedke believes, but will be of much use in his later life.

Petroleum County Not Represented

Every Montana county but Petroleum was represented in the university enrollment of 1,509 students fall quarter, according to figures released by the president's office yesterday. Five students came from foreign countries and 129 from other states.

Treasure county was the only one without a man enrolled; Carter, Golden Valley, Jefferson and Meagher sent no women.

Missoula county had the greatest representation with 441 enrolled from the local area. Golden Valley, with one man, had the least. Silver Bow, most thickly populated, was second high with 120 registered.

Eleven of the 56 counties, Carbon, Deer Lodge, Judith Basin, Lake, Lewis and Clark, Liberty, Lincoln, Musselshell, Ravalli, Treasure and Valley sent more women than men students. Other counties represented sent four women and one man. Other states sent in 94 men compared with 36 women.
