Jesse Heads Frosh Class Officers

Zimmerman, Hurst, Walterskirchen, Lead Male Selections

Freshman boys belied the man shortage when they secured all four tentative positions at the head of the freshman class yesterday afternoon at the freshman class meeting in the Student Union Auditorium.

Bill Jesse, Missoula, was selected as class president, Jack Zimmerman, Townsend, was elected vice-president; Bill Walterskirchen, Missoula, is secretary and Dean Hurst, Stevensville, is treasurer.

Jack Cuthbert, Drummond, ASMSU president, introduced the other ASMSU officers after a short welcoming address to the freshman class.

"This election should be included in 'Believe It Or Not,' Cuthbert said, referring to the election of boys to head the class. "However, this election will only be effective for approximately two months. Another permanent election is yet to come, when all freshmen have become acquainted," he explained.

Following the meeting, Dr. J. W. Severy, professor of botany, took freshmen on a tour of the campus to acquaint them with the different buildings and departments.

NOTICE

There will be an ASMSU mixer Saturday night in the Gold Room of the Student Union. The Army Air Corps and junior ROTC men are invited.

To Class of '47

I have already had the opportunity of orally welcoming you to the University. Despite the risks attendant upon repetition, I am availing myself of the Kaimin's invitation to extend to you a hearty welcome on behalf of myself and of the faculty.

You have come to us at a time when colleges and universities are crippled in their abilities to discharge their duty of training young men and women for their roles in life as civilians. They are crippled because war conditions have limited the flow of young people into these institutions. You who have the opportunity of entering now and particularly those of you who will be able to pursue your courses without interruption will be of especial value to your state and country in the period following the war. To you will fall the burden and the privilege of helping to fill the gaps caused by war conditions in the various professions, businesses and occupations which can best be filled by college trained men and women.

We hope that while you are here we shall not be found wanting in our attempts to assist you to procure a balanced education. But it will be up to you to do the procuring. It will be necessary for you to train yourselves to observe, remember, and to think. While the acquisition of knowledge is important, ability to think is much more so.

Although development of the intellect is of highest value, it is not all that is to be sought by you. There will be a tendency on the part of some of you to neglect some sides of your life. That tendency should be avoided. The acquisition of a sound physique should be part of your aim. You should also take advantage of your opportunity for social growth. To be at ease in your contact with fellow beings is, like good health, an essential to happiness. And to round out your life you need also moral and spiritual growth.

The facilities are at hand for growth in all these ways. May you make the best use of them. Sincerely,

C. W. LEAPHART, Acting President.

Melby Returns From East

Dr. Ernest O. Melby, chancellor of the Greater University of Montana, will return to Montana next week from Washington, D. C., and New York City, where he has been working with the National Commission for the Defense of Democracy Through Education.

On his return, Dr. Melby will speak to the Billings Kiwanis club and visit Eastern Montana Normal school on September 21. On September 23, the chancellor will speak to the Montana Congress of Parents and Teachers in Butte. Dr. Melby will appear at the Montana Education Association meetings on the following dates:

Missoula, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1; Whitehall, Oct. 2; Livingston, Oct. 4; Lewistown, Oct. 8 and 9; Great Falls, Oct. 11; Havre, Oct. 14 and 15, and Glasgow, Oct. 15 and 16.

The appointments of Charles W. Leaphart, dean of the School of Law and vice-president of the University as acting president, and that of Walter A. Anderson, dean of the School of Education and director of summer session as vice-president, head the list of faculty changes for the 1943-44 year.

Dean Leaphart joined the University faculty in 1913 and became dean and professor of law in 1919. In 1937 he was granted a two-year leave of absence to become chief of the appellate section of the lands division of the Department of Justice at Washington, D. C. He recently returned to the campus after a leave of absence granted in March of this year to serve as vice-chairman of the Regional War Labor Board in Denver. J. H. Toelle has been appointed acting dean of the law school.

Dean Anderson came to the University in 1942 from Northwestern university, where he had been professor of education since 1937. Previous to that time, he had taught in Minnesota public schools, had been an assistant in education at the University of Minnesota and at

Press Offers Scholarships

Three $100 scholarships have been established by publishers of the state to encourage and support worthy University students in the School of Journalism.

The unanimous vote of the Montana State Press association to set up a $100 scholarship was matched by offers by O. S. Warden of the Great Falls Tribune and Dan Whetstone of the Cut Bank Pioneer Press for similar scholarships.

To be known respectively as the Warden Scholarship and the Whetstone Scholarship, the Warden Scholarship will be given at the close of the school year to the freshman journalism major who has demonstrated the greatest improvement during the year, and the Whetstone Scholarship will be awarded to a journalism major on the basis of scholarship, need and achievement.

"These generous offers are indicative of the fine cooperation which has always existed between the active press of Montana and the School of Journalism," stated Dean James L. C. Ford of the School of Journalism. "We are happy for this evidence of continued interest and support, for our job is to serve the progress of Montana's newspapers and its people."

ROTC Juniors Return to MSU

Former University men in the second year of advanced Reserve Officers' Training Corps have been called back to the University for further training and are now stationed on the campus under the Army specialized training program. Capt. George W. Misevic, assistant professor of military science and tactics, announced yesterday.

While on the campus ROTC men will be in uniform and under Army regulation and supervision. They are temporarily housed at Corbin hall but will move into the Phi Delta Theta house soon.

Men in the group are those who formerly attended the University under the advanced ROTC program. They will receive their second year of advanced ROTC training as well as further academic work while on the campus. On completion of the course those men qualified will be sent to Fort Benning, Ga., where they will receive commissions in the Reserve Corps.

AWS Plans Coed Center On Campus

Women of the University this year will have their own campus social center for meetings, study or just lounging, as the former president's house is now undergoing remodeling in preparation for use by the girls.

Lounges and study rooms will make up the first floor, with rest rooms on the second floor. These rooms have been remodeled recently.

Women of the campus will meet in the center for the first time next Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when further decoration plans will be laid out by AWS, Marjorie Harrison, Bridger, AWS president, announced today.

Four Head Frat Dorms For Women

To meet the problem of housing freshman and upperclass women unable to move into sorority houses, four housemothers and managers have been chosen by the University to direct former fraternity houses. In addition, Mrs. Ella B. Roark has been selected as director of residence houses to assist in their management, with Helen B. Stewart replacing Margaret Josucks as assistant hall director.

Mrs. P. R. Heily

Mrs. P. R. Heily of Columbus, social director of Alpha Delta Pi sorority here for the past two years, is in charge of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. Mrs. Heily is a graduate of Leander Clark college, now Coe college. Her son, Robert, is a graduate of the University School of Law and is now serving in the South Pacific.

Mrs. H. E. Bimel

Housemother at the Sigma Nu house is Mrs. H. E. Rimel, well-known resident of Missoula whose son Jack and daughter Virginia were both graduates of the law school. Mrs. Rimel attended Montana State Normal school at Dillon.

Mrs. G. A. Gordon

The Sigma Chi house has as its housemother and manager, Mrs. G. A. Gordon, Hamilton, who for the past two years was the housemother for the Chi Omega sorority at Bozeman. Mrs. Gordon is a graduate of Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti. Her daughter Jean graduated from the University School of Music.

Miss Mittie Shoup

Miss Mittie Shoup, formerly principal of the Roosevelt school in Missoula, has accepted the direction of the Phi Sigma Kappa house. Although a resident of Missoula for many years, Miss Shoup recently resided in Joliet, Indiana. She graduated from Sioux City (Iowa) Normal Training school, with further work at Montana State University, University of California and University of Chicago.

Miss Shoup's position has been temporarily filled the past week by Mrs. F. K. Turner, Helena, for many years the social director of New Hall and other University residence halls.

NOTICE

Central Board will meet Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock in the Eloise Knowles room in the Student Union.

Welcome, Freshmen

The Associated Students are indeed happy to welcome you as new members of our student body. We are looking forward to you carrying on for our boys while they are away. It is their wish for us to continue to have a great University here, and in you we shall soon be vesting the problems of carrying on the work of the student body and seeing that cherished traditions are kept open and alive.

In the classroom please study hard, because if you lay down there you are hurting yourselves as well as the war effort; don't take this lightly, as you students now are the ones who will be settling the complicated problems of the future. Education will be in demand more than ever before.

No doubt you have noticed the two different types of insignia on the campus this last week. The former junior ROTC boys have returned to finish their courses; they are all former members of our student body. This group, together with the AAFCTD, has brought the war closer to us. Both detachments are composed of swell fellows and are commanded by an excellent group of officers. Be friendly and assist them in whatever way you may.

Best of luck to all of you — we are looking forward to our associations with you.

JACK CUTHBERT,
President, ASMSU.

To the Class of 1947 . . .

The traditional welcome to the incoming green frosh is about all of freshman week that remains unchanged in one way or another. The welcome, and perhaps, the green frosh—frosh have continued green down through the history of the University.

You, the freshmen of 1943, have come to the University, as the pessimists put it, very nearly, "better halved" (accent on the "halved"), although a few of the male of the species are able to continue their higher education. You won't have the experience of living in one of the halls for your first year. You will miss some of the traditional all-University mixers. You will miss collegiate sports with the accompanying pep rallies and post-game victory dances. You may even miss some of Montana's oldest traditions, such as Aber day, which may have to be discontinued for the duration. You will miss some things.

You, the freshmen of 1943, have a brighter side to look to. You will be welcomed to participate in many campus activities frosh were formerly excluded from. You will, perhaps, receive more individual attention from your professors than did those who went in larger classes before you. You will have a chance to meet more students in the closer-knit wartime informality of MSU. You have many opportunities to gain.

Today you're starting your life at Montana State University. You've a good year ahead of you. Know what you want to do and set out to do just that. Set out to reform the upper classmen, if necessary. They may need jogging up. Don't neglect any phase of your education, social, physical or academic. Be your own sweet selves. MSU welcomes you, the freshman class of 1947.

Cohesive Cogitations

By PAT

Welcome old ones and new ones. Isn't Montana State University a wonderful place? And it's a lovely place to be these days. So here's to a good year, not always fun, but good in many other ways.

Indeed it is a happy surprise, having the ROTC fellows back with us. Rumors were that they'd be here, then that they wouldn't; but here they are, and we're all glad to have them back—so glad that they'll probably need that guard in front of the Phi Delta house. Imagine it will take some orienting on the part of the Sigma Chi to be happy in the PDT house.

Freshmen girls are multitudinous. They just keep coming in until the upperclass women are sure they're going to keep knitting and letter-writing top on their activity list. The yearly Greek war is over, at least subdued; and although it was rugged in spots, the feeling is that the girls know they are going to have to work and stick together, and they seem to have all brought their cooperation and good spirits back with them this fall. It's a mighty good thing that sorority girls had this in-between week for resting. It isn't in vain.

Rementioning letter-writing, did you ever see so much of it? Yes, life is letters this year, instead of dates and football and, plainly, fellows. Most everyone turns out and takes in a daily letter. It's downright embarrassing to be left dangling when the postman comes.

Librarians' statistics say that women have turned from books of glamour and charm to more solid things, like canning and home-making and post-war planning. It's easy to believe that, too. There is a definite and new trend toward the domicile, with embroidering and tea-towel hemming the most popular recreations. Certainly never thought that day would come to this campus. Marriages and engagements aren't even news any more, and an enumeration is presently impossible, though interesting.

Don't we have a time with our feet these days? They're either slipping off the ground and causing us to think those crazy, unstraight thoughts we must avoid, or else they're so firmly rooted to the ground that we wish they were six feet below. Then when we get them all corralled and controlled, they call out like a bingo game for number 17 or 18.

From all upperclassmen, welcome frosh!

Sanford Prepares One Year Course For Secretaries

A one-year intensive course in secretarial training for University women will be offered this year by the School of Business Administration as a wartime emergency measure. Acting Dean E. R. Sanford announced yesterday that the course will prepare students for office work in one year, with full credit given toward graduation.

In addition to the speed-up course in stenography, refresher courses will be given for advanced students, in which the school prepares the student for administrative positions.

Naranche Memorial Field Of Butte Public High Honors Grizzly Fullback

Eso Naranche Memorial Stadium, honoring Lieutenant Eso Naranche, who was killed last spring in action in North Africa, will be Butte's tribute to the "Big Train," who was perhaps Montana's best fullback. Butte Public high stadium, formerly untitled, will bear Naranche's name as suggested by the American Legion post of Butte. Eso was killed in the attack on Bizerte only a short time after he had won fame for leading his men, who had been surrounded by the enemy, safely back through enemy lines to the camp. His widow, Mrs. Dolores Walker Naranche, now wears the Purple Heart that was awarded posthumously to Eso for action in North Africa.

The "Big Train" came to Montana in 1938 with a high school football record that included not only game captaincy of the Butte high Purples in 1937 but also all Montana state fullback honors for 1936 and 1937.

Eso proved something more than a high school flash to earn laurels as captain of the Montana Cubs in 1938, his freshman year. Three seasons, 1939, 1940 and 1941, Eso starred in the Grizzly backfield. In 1941 he was named game captain for the Idaho game which made western football history with its last-minute 82-yard push for the winning touchdown. The Idaho game was probably Naranche's best.

In 1942 Montana's star fullback played in the backfield of the Western All-Stars for the Shrine game in New Orleans on New Year's day.

Naranche field can be closely paralleled to the University's Dornblaser field, named also for a football star killed in action during World War 1. Dornblaser, who was killed in France during the last month of the first World War, was a Grizzly fullback in 1910, 1911 and 1912.

HEIBERG AWARDED CUP

Kai Heiberg-Jurgensen, a University graduate of 1937, has been awarded the Roland Holt cup for excellence in writing folk drama about his native country, Denmark.

The Roland Holt cup is the highest award made by the Carolina Playmakers at the University of North Carolina, where Heiberg-Jurgensen's play about Danish fishermen, "Down to the Sea," was presented early in March.

Grizzlies Drop From Pacific Competition

Montana State University has withdrawn, as have Stanford and the University of Oregon, from Pacific Coast athletic competition for the coming year, the University's administration and athletic committee announced last month, but a strong intramural program will be maintained with possibly a schedule with nearby institutions.

"We are strongly of the opinion that a competitive athletic program is of the utmost importance to men who plan to enter the armed services," Kirk Badgley, graduate manager of Intercollegiate athletics, said, "Although we are withdrawing this coming year from Pacific Coast competition, we will keep an intramural program and, if possible, schedules with nearby institutions will be arranged."

Potential competition can be found in nearby schools with Navy programs and possibly with Montana State college, Bozeman, and Idaho, Mr. Badgley said.

"We delayed as long as possible the making of this decision with the hopes the military authorities would make it possible for the trainees on the campus to participate in competition with regular students," Mr. Badgley declared, "but the War Department announced that Army men in college may not play varsity sports."

Thirty University Students Earn Honor Scholarships

Five Per Cent Enrolled Above Freshmen Given Scholarships on Basis of Promise, Scholastic Record and Character

Of a total of 86 eligibles, 30 University students meeting scholastic and attendance requirements for the preceding school year were awarded University scholarships for 1943-44.

Scholarships are given to five per cent of the students in regular attendance above the freshman year. To be eligible, students must have been in residence for all three quarters of the year 1942-43, have completed not less than 40 credits during the year, and have an index of at least 2.00 for the present year, in addition to showing scholarship, character and promise.

Scholarships were awarded to Margaret Sanders Gerhardt, Anaconda; Ruth Chandler, Arlee; Elizabeth A. Cutts, Harriet L. Dillavou, Bernice M. Enevoldsen and Inez Sue Fraser, Billings; Phyllis Anne Biddle, Virginia Cora Malaskey, Elizabeth A. Rotering and Virginia R. Sikonia, Butte.

Mark J. Jakobson, Carlyle; Charles W. Reiquam, Collins; Flora Mae Bellefleur, Creston, Victor E. Archer, Grass Range; Betty M.

Nelson, Great Falls; Dorothy M. Angstman and Verna L. Brackman, Helena; Teresa Beall Johnson, Hilger; Janet Claire Reinertson, Hot Springs.

Ennola C. Baggenstoss, Martha C. Clark, Shirley Ann Kirkpatrick, Robert Louis Nielson, Betty Maria Pott, Margaret Thrailkill, Charlotte Toelle and Helen J. Walter-skirchen, Missoula; Barbara G. Warden, Roundup; Herbert James Pijan, Warm Springs, Ore., and Elizabeth L. Rogers, Wolf Point.

Leaphart Tops Changes In Faculty

Teachers' college, Columbia university. He received his doctor of education degree from Columbia university.

Other changes in the faculty include the appointment of E. R. Sanford, professor of business administration, as acting dean of the School of Business Administration, replacing Dean R. C. Line, who has been granted a leave of absence.

Oakley Coffee, appointed lecturer in business administration, and Mrs. Brenda Wilson, assistant professor of business administration, will handle courses formerly taught by Dean Line.

O. M. Patten has been appointed as instructor in forestry and extension forester. Mr. Patten received his B.S. degree in forestry in 1935 from the Colorado State Agricultural college. From 1933 until 1942 he served in various capacities with the U. S. Forest Service, and from 1942 to July, 1943, with the U. S. Conservation Service at Bottineau, N. D.

Dr. Edward A. Krug, acting assistant professor of education at Stanford University, has been appointed assistant professor of education here. He obtained his B.S. degree in education from Northwestern university in 1933, his M.S. in 1934, and from Stanford university in 1941 his doctor of education degree. Author of several social science textbooks, he acted as general editor of the book, "Education in Wartime and After" recently published by the Stanford university School of Education faculty.

Aden F. Arnold, American artist whose paintings have been exhibited at leading galleries in the United States, has been appointed assistant professor of fine arts, replacing Alexander Masley, who resigned to become head of the art education department of the University of Texas.

In addition to his undergraduate training at the University of Iowa, Mr. Arnold studied in Italy and France and at the Cape Cod School of Art. He was an instructor in art at the University of Iowa for 12 years and also at Montana State University from 1939 to 1940.
