100 Voices Fill Chorus Of Messiah

Girls' Chorus, Aviation Students, Lion's Chorus Sing Oratorio Sunday

The Women's Chorus, the 317th AAFCTD Glee Club and the Missoula Lion's Club Glee Club, directed by Professor John Lester, will offer the annual presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Student Union Auditorium. The combined chorus will total more than 100 voices.

Messiah Local Tradition

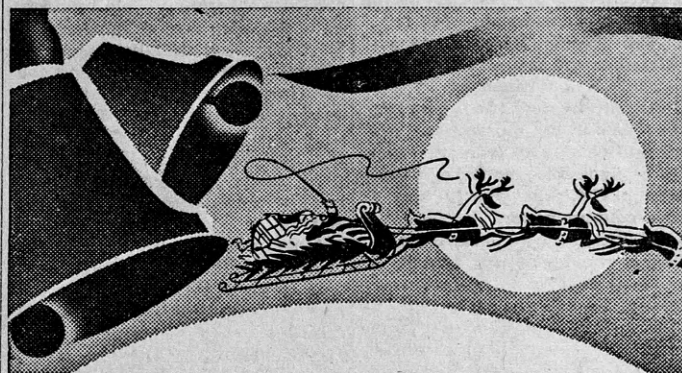

DeLoss Smith, dean of the School of Music from 1913 to 1939, was the first to present "The Messiah," and it has since developed into a local Christmas custom.

The oratorio was written by Handel in the unbelievably short time of 24 days. The first performance of "The Messiah" was in Dublin, April 13, 1742. It was received enthusiastically, and when Handel returned to London, he gave it there. King George II was in the audience and when the magnificent "Hallelujah Chorus" was sung the King and the audience rose. It has been customary to do that since.

Soloists Selected

Soloists selected for this presentation are: Martha Clark, Missoula, and Virginia McCabe, Billings, sopranos; A/S Chester Heick, tenor; Virginia Doyle, Fairview, and Beverly Priess, Missoula, mezzo-sopranos, and A/S John W. McCormick, baritone. Mrs. Florence Smith, professor of organ, and Georgie Willis, Somers, pianist, will accompany the chorus.

"The Messiah" is composed of direct quotations from the Bible. It consists of three main divisions: the first part prophesies the coming of Christ, the second part deals with the birth of Christ, and the third part concerns the crucifixion and the resurrection. However, only the first two parts are used in the Christmas presentation.

Merry Christmas

Christmas Story Highlights "Country-School" Convo

A Biblical story of Christmas as found in the second chapter of Luke read by Lorraine Thompson, Havre, and "Silent Night" sung by Eileen Murphy, Anaconda, and the Kappa chorus highlighted the Christmas convocation today.

Squadron 5 Stages Informal Show

With a riotous script written by A/S Frederick L. Stead, Squadron 5 made its stage debut Wednesday evening in the Student Union Theater.

Before the opening number, "Sadie Hawkins" chased her man through the audience and caught him, as an example to all girls still without dates for the dance.

In the finale a chorus introduced Squadron 5's song, "The Eager Beaver Boys."

The body of the program consisted of a steal from country school Christmas plays.

"Rural School District No. 13" presented the following cast and program. Pat Mitchell and Peggy Gerhardt, Anaconda; Pat Cohe, Billings; Dorothy Angstman, Helena; Virginia Woods, Missoula; Helen Hunt, Kalispell; and Betty Daly, Butte, Calif., extended the welcome. Ana Holding, Missoula, then gave a recitation. Charlotte Parkes, Vaughn, sang.

"Lost on Christmas"

The dramatically-talented students presented "Lost on Christmas Eve," featuring fatherly Lew Burdick, Butte; Betty Kennett, Lewistown, as his wife; and baby Mable Ringling, White Sulphur Springs, who got herself lost while looking for Santa Claus. Heroic Bill Walterskirchen, Missoula, saved the day by returning her 'safe and sound.' Detective Bobby Sias, Chinook, claimed part credit for the return of the baby. The little girl, 'Jeep' Plumb, Hardin, played the part of Bridget, a 'domestic.' Francis Leaphart, Missoula, sang.

AWS Passes Frosh Rule

"Any freshman woman not having a C average for fall quarter will have her Wednesday night dates taken away up to mid-quarter exams of winter quarter."

This decision was reached at a meeting of AWS Tuesday night, Marjorie Harrison, Bridger, AWS president, announced. Another check will be made after mid-quarter exams and those still having low grades will have all Wednesday night dates taken away. This will carry on into spring quarter if the situation is not remedied.

Added Talent Is Chosen For Variety Production; Rehearsals Going Strong

Director-Author McCormick Gives Indication That University, Army Air Corp Talent Will Stage Successful Presentation

Rehearsals for the variety show, "Memories on Parade," scheduled for Jan. 6 and 7, are going strong and all indications lead to a successful presentation, according to A/S Jim McCormick, writer and director. Lieut. George Radulovich will be adviser for the show, which is made up of Army and University talent.

MSU Carols To Observe Yule Spirit

"Silent Night, Holy Night"; "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas," "Joy to the World, the Lord is Come," "Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells," floated across the campus last night as University students, ROTC boys and aviation students gathered in front of Main Hall to sing Christmas carols for an SOS "dedicated to those fellow-students who have attended our SOS's in the past few years, and who tonight are in the service of our country, scattered to the four corners of the earth so that their children and our children may some day have this same privilege of caroling with their fellow-students."

Jack Cuthbert, student body president, spoke a few words wishing all students on the University campus a "Merry Christmas."

Soloists on the program included Eileen Murphy, Anaconda, who sang "White Christmas," Beverly Priess, and Martha Clark, both of Missoula, who presented a duet of "Silent Night."

A-S Carlson Lost in Hills Loses Life

After wandering aimlessly for hours, Aviation Student Arnold V. Carlson, age 22, lost his life Sunday while hiking in Pattee Canyon.

The young man's body was found Monday afternoon by the Lolo Forest officers. Causes were due to exhaustion and exposure.

Major George E. Heikes, commanding officer, said that the young man left the University about 8 o'clock Sunday morning for a hike up Pattee Canyon. After walking for some time he started back, coming to the bottom of the canyon in some heavy brush. Apparently confused, he climbed back up Mitten mountain and tried to cross a section of slide rock, where he fell, struggled and slid to the bottom, where the searching party found him in a sitting position.

Parents of the victim were notified of the death of their son Monday afternoon. The body was sent to his home with a military escort.

A/S Carlson was born at Stockdale, Kansas, June 17, 1921. He attended high school there and at the time of his enlistment in the Air Forces he was a student at the Kansas State College at Manhattan.

He had been stationed at the University since November 6.

A/S Robert Weisberg, who is in charge of scenery, assisted by Betty Kennett, Lewistown, and A/S Jack M. Catlin, stage manager, report that stage scenery is being built and is well on the way to completion.

A/S Erskin G. Kemper, advertising manager, announced that the sale of tickets will begin Dec. 20 and will be conducted at the Florence hotel lobby, Hefte's music store, the Missoula Mercantile and the Student Union. A limited number of tickets will be available and students are urged to get theirs early.

Orchestra Members Rehearse

Members of the orchestra chosen from University and aviation students will begin rehearsals tonight at 8 o'clock in the Student Union Auditorium, A/S Elmer Thomas, in charge, has announced.

Mrs. John Lester, a former professional model for Hattie Carnegie in New York, will help in direction of the Fifth Avenue Style Shoppe scene, in which various University coeds will model.

Members added to the cast which were not announced last week are Barbara Hall, Great Falls; Mable Ringling, White Sulphur Springs; Pat Pettersen, Great Falls; Jean Livdahl, Malta; Vivian Stephenson, Helena; Jean Eidsvig, Missoula; Jane Solvie, Saco, and aviation students Bill Wimberly, Maurice H. Gast and John W. Smith.

Added to Cast

Also added to the cast are: Baton twirlers, Phyllis Biddle, Butte; Elizabeth Nelson, Libby, and Lois Hodges, Dutton. Can-can dancers, Barbara Grigsby, Livingston; Sybil Wright, Butte; Leona and Leota Halter, Sunburst; Dorothy Bunge, Missoula; Barbara Van Horn, Fort Benton, and Helen Sugrue, Anaconda. They will be assisted by a fan-dance group composed of aviation students Robert McLaughlin, Jack D. Duggan and Charles Orwig.

Classes for Winter quarter, 1944, will begin at 8:10 on Tuesday, January 4.

Kaimin History Shows 45 Years of Service

Did you know that the Kaimin has been a "message" for University students for 45 years? In 1898, a group of students and faculty members met to discuss the feasibility of publishing a University paper. Out of this gathering, the Kaimin was born, making its first appearance as a monthly magazine.

Aviation Students Observe Christmas

With the weather man hinting at a real white Christmas and officers promising open post from the afternoon of Dec. 24 to retreat Dec. 26, aviation students will observe the Christmas holidays. The G.I. holiday will feature "a Christmas tree in every hall and a big Christmas dinner."

While there will be no entertainment at the post, downtown concerns promise to see that the boys get a real western Christmas, and from the size of the mail packages it looks as though Santa Claus won't forget the boys, either. Altogether, it looks as though aviation students will find their holidays in Missoula the next best thing to being home.

According to Charles Pixley '99, editor, its purposes were "to foster true and lasting college spirit and afford an inducement to literary effort." This first Kaimin contained essays, shorts stories, poems, briefs and editorials contributed by students and instructors.

In 1904, the Kaimin appeared in a revised form. It was smaller in size but contained more and better material. Attractive covers, feature departments, pictures and cartoons added novelty. W. O. Dickinson and John J. Lucy, Missoula merchants, were on that year's staff.

From 1905 until 1909 the Kaimin remained a literary publication, each year seeing its features improved. During that time, J. B. Speer, registrar and business manager of the University and Massey

Organizations To Serenade

A touch of Christmas spirit pervades the campus this weekend with several sororities and organizations serenading residence houses and aviation student dormitories. Serenades by Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Wesley Foundation, and Spur are scheduled.

Traditionally Spurs and sorority groups serenaded frosh dorms and fraternity and sorority houses. This year Wesley foundation joins the carolers and aviation students are included in the Christmas season caroling.

Other Montana Christmas traditions includes the Christmas Singing on the Steps by the University student body, this year, joined by ROTC men back on the campus and aviation students of the 317th CTD; Christmas convocations; and the campus Christmas tree, abandoned this year due to federal regulations forbidding the use of outdoor Christmas lighting; as well as Christmas parties of the various campus organizations.

MSU Authorizes Graduate Credit

In an effort better to serve teachers and others interested in graduate study, the University has authorized graduate credit for certain extension-lecture courses and reduced residence requirements for the master's degree. The announcement was made by Acting President Charles W. Leaphart following action by the faculty.

Under the new ruling as many as 15 credits earned in extension lecture courses of graduate level will be accepted toward the master's degree. One of the normal three quarters of residence will be waived for satisfactory completion of 10 such credits.

"This is simply another step in the direction of bringing the University to the people," said Walter A. Anderson, vice-president of the University and dean of the school of Education. "It provides an opportunity for interested persons to get started on graduate work without the immediate necessity for taking time off from their jobs."

Kaimin Has Long History

S. McCullough, Missoula, helped make the Kaimin a success.

The Weekly Kaimin was initiated in the fall of 1909, being organized and financed by the board of directors of a press club, formed for the express purpose of editing a weekly news sheet to replace the monthly magazine. The first weekly was a five-column paper.

In 1912, the publication of the Kaimin was taken over by ASMSU in place of Press Club. Carl C. Dickey, New York Times, was its editor. Offices of the Kaimin were in the basement of the library building. After being taken over by the associated students' organization, the paper was financed by money from the University fees.

With the establishment of the Journalism School in 1914 the entire publication of the Kaimin was taken over by that school. Since that time improvements in headlines, style, feature, editorial and news material have been made off and on.

This year's Kaimin is being edited weekly by Mary Ann Luebben, Dillon; Verna Brackman, Helena, and Joyce Phillips, Kalispell. This is the first year a Kaimin editor has been a sophomore.

Club Schedules Weekly Meetings For Artists

A program of weekly studio meetings whereby people interested in art may have an opportunity to study along that line, is being offered immediately following the holidays, Jepson Lonnquist, Anacosta, president of the Fine Arts Club, has announced. The meetings will be open to all University students and faculty members who are interested in some form of art activity.

A definite art program will be planned for those who desire it. A date has not yet been set for the first meeting, but it will be announced at the beginning of winter quarter.

An exhibit from the Parsons School of Design in New York City will also be shown soon after the holidays, Aden F. Arnold, assistant professor of the art department, has announced.

Main Hall Clock Observes Forty-Sixth Anniversary

The clock in the tower of Main Hall is 46 years old. Its job is a long one, but it is serving well. Every hour and every mid-hour, without fail, the bell rings away another cycle of time; each cycle as important as the one before it.

Mrs. A. W. Wilcox, 828 Ronald Avenue, Missoula, remembers well the first chime of the old clock back in 1897. She was attending school while her father, Oscar J. Craig, was the first president of Montana State University.

"Things were different in those days," says gray-haired Mrs. Wilcox. "The student body numbered only 118 in 1897, but then as now, each chime of that old clock meant another hour of learning, studying and building for a better future had just been spent."

She points out that the old clock has seen every phase of college life — including college pranks. One black night in 1900 six daring University men, in typical college fun-making fashion, climbed to the top of the tower and stole the hands from the clock, hid them away — and laughed to themselves.

The next morning, however, they found the tables turned, for President Craig had learned of their trick and worked into the wee hours of the morning cutting and carving two huge wooden hands to replace the stolen ones. He sat in his office that day, and by watching the expressions on the students' faces, was able to detect the guilty. The original hands were soon back in place.

Through the years, "Old Faithful" has watched the University grow. It has witnessed accomplishments and mistakes. It has even helped to establish some traditions. MSU football and basketball victories used to be heralded by the bell in the tower, while the old clock grinned with approval. Twice it has seen students leave their books behind to fight for something they believed in.

MSU to Enter Two Teams In Rifle Match

MSU will enter two teams in the Ninth Service Command gallery matches with Staff Sergeant Stanek as team coach. The intercollegiate rifle meet starts in the latter part of January each year and the winning team of each service area is awarded a plaque or trophy.

The following men comprise ROTC rifle team number one: Donald W. Young, Somers; Paul E. Rieger, Ismay; Robert H. Bloom, Portage, Wis.; Herb H. Jillson, Deer Lodge; Richard C. Pedersen, Havre; James P. Ross, Missoula; Harold F. Boe, Big Timber.

William E. Mitchell, Chewelah, Wash.; George B. Boyd, Missoula; Milton A. Foor, Wolf Point; James B. Angstman, Clancy; Vincent E. Kurtz, Sidney; Thomas B. Castles, Superior; Ralph V. Rhoads, Lander, Wyo.; Richard McElfresh, Wolf Point; Bernard G. Hoffman, Missoula.

Those on team number two are: William Free, Missoula; James E. Street, Bettineau, N.D.; Chadwick H. Smith, Helena; Thomas E. Lomasson, Missoula; Robert W. Davidson, Evansville, Ind.; Earle C. Wright, Dixon; Allen D. Hurst, Stevensville; Michael D. O'Connell Jr., Butte.

Christmas . . . 1943

"And, lo, there were in that same country shepherds, abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flocks by night."

And there are in that same country sentries, tramping through the mire, on guard over their troops by night.

"And, lo, the angel of the Lord appeared unto them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid."

And the planes of the enemy scream above them, and the bombs of the enemy burst round about them; and they are sore afraid.

"Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea there came wise men from the east to Judea."

"Saying, Where is he that is born king of the Jews, for we have seen His star in the east and have come to worship it."

Now there have come three wise men from England, Russia and America to the east, seeking a final peace with post-war plans, campaigns and alliances.

"And the angel of the Lord said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people."

"For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

"And this shall be a sign unto you: ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of heavenly host praising God and saying,"

"Glory be to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

"And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them unto heaven, the shepherds said, one to another, Let us go even now unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which has come to pass, which the Lord has made known to us."

"And they came with haste and found Mary and Joseph and the babe, lying in a manger."

"And the shepherds returned, glorifying, and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen."

A sentry glances upward. In the east one star shines through the murky blackness of the night. He smiles. Softly he hums his prayer — "Oh, little town of Bethlehem, how still we see thee lie."

"When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was."

"When they saw that star they rejoiced with exceeding great joy."

"And when they come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary, his mother, and they fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

Three weary men, still frowning in solemn thought, turn from the council table. In the eastern sky one star winks its promise. The frowns soften and disappear.

A star. A legend. A hymn. "And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of heavenly host, praising God and saying, Glory be to God on high and on earth, peace, good will toward men." Even in December of 1943.

Bell Gives Band Concert

Special lighting was featured at the Christmas concert given by the University Band, under Director Clarence Bell, last night in the Student Union Theater. Outstanding was the "Farewell Symphony" by Joseph Haydn, played in the traditional candlelight setting.

Since the days of Haydn, when the selection was played by candlelight and the musicians were in colonial costume, concert bands have carried on the tradition. Three years ago the band featured the setting complete with costumes, but last night's performers were able only to use candlelight.

Special lighting was also featured in the Christmas music played in the latter half of the program. During this portion the audience joined in the singing of carols. Maylou Pomeroy, Glendive, played "Silent Night" on the vibraphone.

Other numbers played during the evening were the "Star Spangled Banner," the overture, "Secret Marriage," Cimaroso; the Andante movement from the Fifth Symphony, Beethoven, and "Prayer," from the "Hansel and Gretel" operetta by Humperdinck.

Included in the band personnel were 32 University students and eight Boy Scouts, who were chosen by Mr. Bell to play with the band for the duration.

"Yellow Perils" Rest in Peace

No longer will aviation students hang on to their hats as the "Yellow Perils" screech around corners or jerk to sudden stops. Something new has been added, and it's a welcome addition, too. Aviation students who found the open sides of the old buses a bit breezy, now are protected in the new army vehicles that are, among their other virtues, much less noisy than their predecessors.

There may be a few who remember the momentous occasion when the old buses arrived on the campus. In July, 1942, Frank Wiley and Dr. Harold Chatland brought the vehicles here from Yellowstone National Park, where they had been used for sight-seeing tours. Side curtains, Presto-lite headlamps, to say nothing of the individuality of their horns, were among some of the unusual details, but to the casual observer nothing was more outstanding than the enormous wheels and the vivid yellow color peculiar to Park buses.

Their original users, the Naval Air cadets, got a diabolic joy from turning the ear-splitting horns wide open, awakening sleeping coeds in New and North Halls. This, however, is not the only sin attached to the history of the "Perils." From their advent to the campus until the day of their departure, everyone who saw them tearing down University avenue, or any other avenue, for that matter, took shelter lest they be caught in their path.

Claims from Missoula residents that the buses often exceeded the speed limit are likely to be entirely false, since they had governors limiting them to the prevailing speed regulations. The size of them created this false impression and set pedestrians in hysterics.

As with many other good things, parts for these 1925 White models became practically unobtainable. This made it imperative for the Army to supply more easily repaired transportation for the Aviation students. Things like side curtains going to pieces and cylinder

DAHMER AT QUANTICO

Former M. S. U. football and basketball star, Henry "Dutch" Dahmer, '43, expects to complete his Marine Corps advanced officer training at Quantico, Va. From there he will be assigned to a special school or a combat unit. Dahmer was commissioned Second Lieutenant last September.

Great Falls Firm Awarded Sentinel Printing Contract

Is Well Underway with Large Staff Cooperating Work on Layout, Advertising and Photography In Publishing Book

The Tribune Printing and Supply Company of Great Falls has obtained the contract for printing the 1944 Sentinel, featuring 16 colored opening pages and four colored division pages, Lorraine Griffith, Williston, N.D., Sentinel editor, announced yesterday.

With the signing of this contract, the Sentinel staff has begun work on layout, advertising and photography. "No particular theme will be carried out this year," stated Miss Griffith, "other than portraying the University in a day-by-day picture of its campus activities, academic studies and work. Although the book will be much smaller than in previous years, the staff will try to maintain a high standard of quality through clever copy and outstanding photography."

The staff members are listed below.

Copy staff: Karma Johnson, Butte, editor; Lois Pat Nelson, Missoula; Leslie Manning, Phillipsburg; Norma Lee Jellison, Hobson; Agnes Regan, Helena; Peggy Connor, Helena; Bob Sias, Chino; Pauline Frederick, Billings; Edith Derry, Billings; Nancy Brechbill, Missoula; Dolores Williams, Dillon; Laurel Taylor, Missoula; Marjorie Powell, Missoula; Shirley Howe, Wolf Creek; Merilyn Wentz, Fort Peck; Rosemary Westphal, Forsyth;

Lila Lee Lister, Missoula; Dorothy Lynn Larsen, Saco; Marjorie Floyd, Butte; Jean Smith, Colville, Wash.; Gloria Manning, Great Falls; Flora Sagen, Troy; Lois Sanders, Troy; Marion Gilliland, Evanston, Ill.; Mandi Luebben, Dillon; Ferol Howe, Wolf Creek; Barbara Van Horn, Fort Benton; Marjorie Orner, Lewistown; Mary Brome, Missoula; Lois Glineski, Helena; Wilma Oksendahl, Plenty-wood; Betty Peltier, Eureka, and Viola Schuff, Great Falls.

Office staff: Virginia Sikonia, Butte; Pat Perry, Butte, and Leslie Manning, Phillipsburg.

Miss Griffith requests that all members report to the Sentinel office this week for their assignments.

Christmas Party Depicts Old Spain

A bit of old Spain was recaptured at the Pan-American Student Forum Christmas party Tuesday evening in the Bitter Root Room of the Student Union.

Gaily decorated "pinatas" filled with gifts were hung by colorful chains in the center of the room. As a finale to the lively Spanish games, members were blindfolded and given a stick with which to break the "pinatas."

An exhibit of objects from Chile, Bolivia and Mexico was at one end of the room. Among the many treasures were intricately woven silver bracelets, hand-woven mantillas and colorful serapes.

STUDENT MUSICIANS ENTERTAIN ROTARIANS

A group of students gave a musical program at the Florence Hotel for the Rotary club luncheon on Wednesday. Various numbers were presented.

Those who participated were: Lois Hart, Helena, piano; Bernice Enevoldsen, Billings, violin; Martha Clark, Missoula, soprano; Betty Cutts, Billings, piano, and Beverly Priess, Missoula, soprano.

Theta Sigs Pledge Three; Alums Talk

Lorraine Griffith, Williston, N. D., Karma Johnson, Butte, and Peggy Thrailkill, Missoula, were tapped for membership in Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary, at a Press Club meeting Tuesday sponsored by the student and alumnae chapters of the honorary.

"Theta Sigma Phi strives for higher standards in journalism and the furthering of women in the profession," said Mrs. Freemont Wilson in her talk upon the founding and aims of the honorary. "A student must be either a junior or a senior, majoring in journalism and must have a 'B' average in journalism subjects with a 'C' average in all other subjects." Mrs. Wilson discussed Matrix table, an annual event to honor outstanding University women.

Crowder Presetns Weekly Programs

Dean John Crowder, of the School of Music, played Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" Tuesday at 5 o'clock over KGVO. Mr. Crowder will present programs of piano music every Tuesday from 5 to 5:15 p. m. during the month of December.

These programs are a continuation of those presented by different members of the faculty each month. Stanley Teel, associate professor of music, gave a series of talks on "What You Hear When You Listen to Music," during November, and John Lester, associate professor of the School of Music will present the programs in January.

"Cub Tracks" Is Distributed To Classes

The first issue of the freshman and sophomore literary magazine, "Cub Tracks," was distributed to English composition classes yesterday. Headed by co-editors Leah Ferris, Choteau, and Marjorie Powell, Missoula, the magazine contains poetry, impressions, and incidents in the lives of the writers. Assisting the co-editors are Betty Jean Green, Big Sandy, manuscript manager; Frances Fennell, Missoula, make-up manager; Bill Salger, Butte, circulation manager; Flora Sagen, Troy, verse editor, and Pat Templeton, Helena, cover designer.

Others on the board of editors are Nova Robinson Drummond; Elizabeth Mosser, Chinook; Robert Colville, Missoula; Janice Smith, Cut Bank; Helen Dipple, Kevin, and Helen Robbins, Milltown.

Sectional editors were chosen in section classes and helped to select the manuscripts to be incorporated into the magazine, the first publication of its kind here. Dr. H. G. Merriam served as a faculty adviser for the group.

The mimeographed booklet contains selections by Phil Pelley, Perma; Mary E. Brome, Missoula; Neva Armour, White Sulphur Springs; Bill Salger, Butte; Tannis Brown, Missoula; Flora Sagen, Troy; Robert Colville, Missoula, and Anna Jo Kelley, Missoula.

The instructors in English 11a and 12a turned over the best work of each class to the sectional editors for consideration. The work selected by them was given to the board.

NOTICE

Mountaineer subscribers may pick up their copies at the Mountaineer office, Library 111, if they have not already done so, according to Virginia Perkins, Harlowton, editor.

SADIE HAWKINS DAY

"Et a gal ketches yo' then, yo're hern"

Daisy Mae's dream

"Mammy Yokum," of Dogpatch, is a gittin' mighty worried what with the Sadie Hawkins dance a comin' up tomorrow night and all the gals alookin' for her "Lil Abner."

If you haven't found your "Lil Abner" to take to the shindig, Eileen Plumb, Hardin, dance chairman, urges you to get in touch with any New or Old Spurs, who are selling tickets, or to go over to the Student Union quick, where they are available.

Irene Caras, Missoula; Harriet Dillavou, Billings, and Bertha Mc-

Kee, Kevin, are co-chairmen for the sign committee; Martha Clark, Missoula, orchestra; Lorraine Griffith, Williston, N. D., and Peg Thrailkill, Missoula, publicity; Dorothy Hunt, Saticoy, Cal., tickets; Jeannette Bakke, Cut Bank, decorations; Virginia Mackey, Seattle, Wash., prizes, and Bertha McKee, cashier.

Aviation students may not go down town in fatigue clothes unless they are with a date and are wearing the Sadie Hawkins green tag. Other boys are urged to dress like "Lil Abner," as a prize will be given to the boy and girl best resembling "Lil Abner" and "Daisy Mae."

Jeanette Bakke requests that all Old and New Spurs come to the Student Union Gold Room at 9 o'clock Saturday morning to help with decorating. Any freshmen women who would like to help are welcome.

Dancing will be from 8:30 to 12 o'clock, and all girls are asked to dress in the traditional "Daisy Mae" costumes. The dance will be the first girl-date-boy affair of the season.

Chorus Gives Bach Oratorio At Program

The Women's Chorus, of 56 members, directed by John Lester, presented the Christmas Oratorio by Bach last Thursday in the Student Union Auditorium. The chorus was accompanied by Mrs. Florence Smith, professor of organ, and by Georgie Willis, Somers, on the piano.

The program consisted of two parts. The first was "On the First Day of the Festival of Christmas," which included "Christians Be Joyful," "Let Us With Voices United Adore Him," "How Shall I Fitly Meet Thee?," "For Us to Earth He Cometh Poor" and "Ah, Dearest Jesus, Holy Child."

The numbers of the second part, "On the Second Day of the Festival of Christmas," were "Break Forth, O Beauteous, Heav'nly Light and Usher in the Morning," "Within Yon Gloomy Manger Lives the Lord," and "With All Thy Hosts, O Lord, We Sing."

There followed the Christmas carols, "The Coventry Carol," arranged by Geer; "Touro-louro-louro," a French carol; "The Babe in Bethl'em's Manger," arranged by Geer, and "Rejoice, Ye Christian Men, Rejoice," by Praetorius.

NOTICE

The date of the Squadron 2 dance has been changed from Thursday, Dec. 16, to Wednesday, Dec. 15, so that more University girls can attend, according to Miss Cyrene Van Duser, manager of the Student Union.

A/S Delbert Burdett is chairman of the dance.

The new members are chosen on the basis of cooperation, ability, leadership, and scholarship; they must have earned at least 10 activity points in WAA.

Refreshments will be served and Christmas carols will be sung. All University women are invited to attend.

Those receiving the "M" pin are, Rachel Bovee, Great Falls; Evelyn Cherry, St. Ignatius; Betty Ruth Carruthers, Missoula; Kathleen Flynn, Missoula, and Frances Morgan, Anaconda.

Fireside committee includes Elizabeth Pearl, Missoula, chairman; Betty Cutts, Billings; Marguerite McGreal, Butte; Dorothy Lehman, Hamilton, and JoAnn Blair, Missoula.

Faculty Member Publishes Study

On the eve of his departure for the armed services, Dr. Bert R. Sappenfield, instructor in psychology at the University, published a psychological study on "Group Differences in Social Attitudes." The results of this study, begun in 1938 while he was on the staff of New York University, appears in the current issue of The Psychological Record.

Dr. Sappenfield has been called into the army. He left Nov. 30.
