Central Board Announces New Elections

Students Will Vote For ASMSU Vice-President And Amendment

A general election will be held in the near future to elect a student to fill the position of vice-president of ASMSU which was formerly held by Peg Thrailkill, Missoula, and to vote on an amendment to the constitution which will allow the ASTRP to elect a delegate to serve on Central Board with voting power; Central Board announced Tuesday.

Officers to fill the vacancies left by Martha Clark, Missoula, senior class president, Dorothy Martin, Two Dot, senior class secretary, and Dorothy Hunt, Saticoy, Calif., senior delegate to Central Board, must be elected at a meeting of the class itself.

The Junior class also will meet to elect a member to fill the place of secretary of the class which was originally held by Sybil Wright, Butte.

Upon the suggestion of ASMSU President Lew Burdick, Butte, to elect a representative of the ASTRP to Central Board, with voting power, the board passed the following motion:

"Since the ASTRP on Montana State University's campus for the academic year, 1944-45, is a part of the regular University training, the following by-law is enacted: Members of the ASTRP unit on the campus shall become active members of ASMSU upon payment of the activity fee, the amount of which shall be agreed upon between ASMSU and the commandant of the unit."

Action on the 1944-45 Sentinel will be taken at a future meeting, the board stated.

Mansfield On Special Mission

Representative "Mike" Mansfield, who served 10 years here as a professor of Far Eastern history, announced after a conference at the White House that he had been requested by the President to go on a special mission to China.

Mansfield, a member of the House Foreign Affairs committee, will spend the next week in conferences at the State department and return to Montana for a few weeks. In the meantime details incident to the mission will be worked out and it is contemplated that he will leave for Chungking by way of Great Falls.

Mansfield resigned his position here two years ago when he was elected to the House of Representatives.

Melby Will Attend Meeting In East

President Ernest O. Melby left yesterday afternoon to attend a meeting of the National Commission for Defense of Democracy through Education which will be held at Washington, D. C., this week.

President Melby will return to Missoula next Wednesday, stopping on his return trip to speak to the Helena Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting Oct. 11.

Nursery Class Begins; Braden Joins Staff

Supervised by the School of Education and under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Perkins, head teacher of the Nursery School, kindergarten classes for Missoula 5-year-olds started recently at Montana State University with a full enrollment of 30 pupils.

Newly appointed to the kindergarten staff for the coming year is Mrs. Geraldine Rugg Braden, replacing Mrs. Florence Wenger, who resigned last spring.

A nursery school for children two to five years of age began September 25, also with a maximum quota of 30.

Mrs. Perkins said that many children are on the waiting list for both age groups, but facilities limit the total enrollment to 60 children.

Three full time teachers and one part-time instructor are employed by the school, with outside staff members called from other University departments throughout the year. Each month a parent education group meets with teachers to discuss the children's informal guidance program.

The newest staff addition, Mrs. Braden, received the degree of Bachelor of Music Education at Northwestern University in 1943. Her teaching experience includes work at the Lincolnwood and Willard schools in Evanston, Ill.; at the Samaritan Neighborhood House in Chicago; at Camp Gray, Saugatuck, Mich.; at the Northwestern YMCA in Evanston, and in the Tuscawawas County Schools in Ohio.

McCarthy Back To Active Duty

Lieut. Clark G. (Pat) McCarthy, ex-46, Flying Fortress pilot missing since an air raid over Laon, France, late in June, was returned to active duty August 24, his mother was informed by the War Department.

Whether Lieutenant McCarthy has been a prisoner of the Germans or has been sheltered by French patriots is not known. Laon, 36 miles from the Belgium border, was not reached by the American forces in the drive through France until August 31, a week after the Missoula flyer returned to duty. Mrs. McCarthy had been told previously by the War Department that no hope was held for her son.

Civilian Men Take Over Phi Delta Theta House

The Phi Delta Theta house at 500 University avenue resounds once again with men's voices and the goodfellowship of house life as 22 university men (civilians too) moved in early this week to establish residence.

A lack of university dormitory space and a desire to live together prompted several upper classmen to obtain a men's house. Last year all men lived in private homes with a resulting lack of organized social life. It is the intention of this group to eliminate a similar possibility this year, explained house president George Savage.

Officers elected to direct house activities for the coming quarter are: President, George Savage,

ASTRP Boys Leave Campus For 10 Days

After completing three-month term examinations last week, some 190 members of the ASTRP unit stationed at Montana State University have left by bus, train and airplane to spend a nine-day furlough at home destinations, announced Maj. George W. Misevic, commandant of the unit.

The remainder of the group, approximately 30 of the 17-year-old air corps reservists, chose to remain on the campus until October 10 when the leave will end, Major Misevic said.

The University ASTRP unit recently was commended for its fine record and efficient operations by Lieut. Col. Thomas J. Cunningham, who visited here from regional headquarters at Fort Douglas, Utah.

Enrollees who passed the recent tests, which were regular term-end University examinations and national achievement tests in mathematics, chemistry, physics and English, sent out by ASTRP headquarters, will re-enter the University next week. The youths who return will be given additional work in the same subjects for another three-month period when a second leave will be granted.

New cadet officers were appointed at the end of the last term, in conformance with the Army policy of training as many as possible for leadership, Major Misevic said.

Eighty per cent of the trainees are enrolled in a "B" curriculum, in which full college credit is given. Twenty per cent take the so-called "N," or introductory course, wherein partial college credit may be earned.

NOTICE

Beginning Tuesday, October 10, a fee of $1.00 will be charged for each change of enrollment card filed in the Registrar's Office; on or after October 17, this fee will be $2.00 the registrar's office announced.

Dr. E. O. Melby Speaker For First ASMSU Convo

"Education is not preparation for life . . . it is life," President E. O. Melby stated at the first University convocation of the year yesterday in the Student Union theater. "It is the process of living, and the things that you live now on this campus are things that produce you as an individual and will determine your success."

Speaks at Convo.

DR. E. O. MELBY

"The things we do now are the things that will contribute to the society of the future," he explained. "If students cannot make a success of their lives in intimate situations here at school, protected from the hustle and bustle of modern life, they cannot hope to face the world."

"This is the year of all years to take democracy seriously and for each of you to learn to live democratically here on this campus," he continued. "Remember, there is something bigger than a particular sorority, bigger than the University, bigger than Montana, bigger than the United States . . . it is the world."

"Every day counts and makes some contribution to the building of your personality. If you want to be liked, be kind, thoughtful and considerate with everyone you meet."

"Every one of us must keep faith and live for the things that our men are fighting and dying for today," he concluded.

E. L. Freeman, faculty chairman of the convocations committee, introduced John Lester of the music department who led the group in several songs. Beverly Priess, Missoula, sang the songs, "Carmen Jones" and "Love Come Back to Me."

Harold G. Merriam of the English Department reviewed the history of dramatics at the University and the Masquers organization and introduced the new director of dramatics, Mr. G. Edward Hearn. Mr. Hearn announced that one major production would be produced each quarter and that a meeting would be held Thursday night for all students interested in theater.

Bette Kennett, student member of the convocations committee, stated that a regular hour would be established for future programs and that they would be held once a week if possible. Suggestions for the programs were asked for.

Karma Johnson, editor of the Kaimin, talked to the students about campus publications and asked for student cooperation on the staff or with occasional stories or suggestions.

Lew Burdick, president of the student body announced that a dance will be held in the Student Union Gold Room this Saturday.

Pres. E. O. Melby gave a short talk to the assembly, stressing the importance of the journalist in the molding of public opinion.

Attention, Students!

The English department wishes to call to the attention of the student body its customary actions concerning discovered plagiarisms. Any student who hands in written work that is supposed to represent his own composition but which has been taken from a book, magazine, or other printed matter, or from another student's paper, either the whole or in part, either verbatim or in paraphrase, will receive an "F" for the course to which the plagiarized paper has been presented, whenever any such theft is discovered. The English department has acted on this policy in the past, is doing so in the present, and will continue to do so in the future.

In the Service Of the Nation

BY GENE MORRIS

Glancing over notices of Service Men, memories return of the "good old days." The "man shortage" wasn't a pertinent topic of conversation and cars weren't traveling on 3 and ½ tires. The men that were here then are all over the world now.

Friends of Lt. A. Boyd Cochrell '41 of the Marine Corps will be interested to note that he was awarded the order of the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in the battle of Tarawa by Major General Julian C. Smith at a Marine Corps base in the Pacific. Lieutenant Cochrell also participated in the battles of Saipan and Tinian. At Tinian he contracted dengue fever and he was sent back to Saipan for treatment. Lieutenant Cochrell joined the Marines in November, 1942, and was commissioned after completing officer training at Quantico, Va.

From a German prison camp Lt. Eugene Phelan '41, graduate of the School of Music, writes that he was shot down in a bombing mission over Germany. The planes had completed the bombing and were England-bound when five German fighter planes appeared. His plane, leading the formation, was damaged; it began burning and it was necessary for the crew to bail out in enemy territory.

Lieutenant Phelan mentioned that studying German takes up part of his time, and he said that his courses in German at the University have helped him. Since time weighs heavily and as amusements aren't plentiful, prisoners especially appreciate letters and news. His address is Eugene Phelan, U. S. Prisoner of War, 3994, STALAG, Lut III, Germany, via New York. Forms for writing to prisoners may be obtained at the post office.

But women in the Service must not be neglected. Private First Class Elizabeth Deranleau, ex-'43, has recently graduated from the Marine Corps motor transport school at Camp Lejeune, N. C., and assigned to duty there with the Women's Reserve Battalion. Her four weeks' course in the school included courses quite different from the University subjects. The training included prac-

Mademoiselle Seeks Campus Correspondent

A month in New York as Guest Editor of Mademoiselle is the much-coveted journalistic plum toward which career-minded collegians with a flair for writing, reporting, photography, illustration, etc., can direct their efforts. Mademoiselle is again inviting applications for membership on its College Board.

Being a Board member means completing four assignments a year which give a rounded portrait of the college—its activities, new courses, new trends, social aspects, everything that's new.

Mademoiselle awards war bonds and stamps for the brightest reports; pays Board members for material used and, in addition, pays $2.50 each for snapshots that appear in the magazine.

Everything submitted during the year counts toward that final plum, the Guest Editorship. Fourteen girls are chosen each year to enjoy that marvelous month in New York during which, as guests of Mademoiselle, visiting Eds go everywhere and do everything with the magazine's own staff, get out its bumper August College issue, pose for pictures, model for the College Clinic, and are paid a sizeable sum besides.

On application to Mademoiselle, would-be Board members will be invited to send a brief trial report spotlighting anything newsworthy on the campus, a snapshot of themselves, their college address and home address, class year and an idea of their extra-curricular activities and interests. Mademoiselle makes a quick decision—and then the fun begins.

Verboten...

"Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of speech or of the press."

Newsweek and Time. Esquire. Strange Fruit. Verboten.

Verboten to all members of the military forces: Any news magazine carrying coverage of political campaigns; any mention of political issues or platforms in the publications of the armed forces, Yank and Stars and Stripes.

Verboten as second class mailing material: Esquire, banned from the mails as "smoking room literature" which does not fulfill a "positive duty to contribute to the public good and public welfare."

Verboten to the people of the state of Massachusetts: Strange Fruit, may not be sold or bought as a state board has said it is immoral.

Although British and Russian soldiers are encouraged to discuss politics and are kept up to date on the campaign at home American soldiers are not allowed to read of the political platforms even as presented by their national news weeklies.

Judge T. Whitfield Davidson of the New York federal district court upheld Postmaster-General Walker's decision to revoke the second class mailing privileges of Esquire saying, "Free speech and whether or not the magazine was obscene do not enter into the case" and that rulings of government officials were not set aside unless they were capricious, illegal or arbitrary.

Bernard DeVoto was arrested in Boston this summer for purchasing a copy of Strange Fruit.

Perhaps the GI is so susceptible to campaign promises that he must be protected from even a whisper of it. But isn't even a ballot based on the flimsiest of campaign promises better than one filled by an eeny-meeny-miny-mo system?

Perhaps Esquire does not "disseminate information of a public character and devoted to the arts, sciences and literature." But is it within any one man's province to make that decision?

Perhaps the public of Massachusetts would be led astray by the mere reading of a book that faces the more seamy side of life. But can't even the old Testament be interpreted as immoral if one chooses to do so?

The basic philosophy of democracy grants every man the right to decide what printed matter he will read and what he will use to kindle the morning fire. No army officer or postmaster-general or state board has the power to decide for him.

"Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of speech or of the press." Army regulation. Postmaster-general's decision. Massachusetts ban. Verboten. . . M. L.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor,

After puzzling each new freshman with an aptitude test, speech test, etc., we wonder what actually is done with the results? It's plain to see how the health office uses the physical exams, but what about the others . . . the ones concerning mentality and personality?

Is there any time during the student's four year career here, that these tests are referred to in an effort to help the student develop or improve in any way? What about the misfit college student? Who helps him? Do these tests aid correction of the mistakes they discover? Or would they, if they were actively used? Do the faculty advisors refer to them before counseling the students? Or, are the results filed away in a dark corner to collect dust and furnish material for a statisticians report?

It has been reported by graduates that these tests have been used in job interviews by prospective employers. But after four years of university education, do these tests still give an accurate report of the students who took them as freshmen? Instead of filing these tests results to be used after graduation, why not use them while the student can still be helped by them.

In view of the new counselor service system which is just getting started, we would suggest the aptitude test as a worthy project for investigation and application. With the right direction, this could become an invaluable service.

Jones Writes About Invasion Of Islands

Says Landing on Islands Rough; Next Objective Unknown

"Tinian island is ours for all time, I hope," Lieut. William Jones, '43, said in a letter written July 19 and received by his parents at Livingston. Lieutenant Jones is with the second Marine corps which spearheaded the attack on the Japanese stronghold.

(Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced later that organized Japanese resistance had ceased on the island after second and fourth marine divisions had crushed enemy forces in a lightning sweep which took a toll of at least 2,389 Japanese lives. The two divisions had previously conquered the island of Saipan.)

In his letter, Lieutenant Jones said the landing on Tinian was rough. "We had a hard fight, but we won it," the former University athletic star said. "I don't know where we will go from here, but it can't be any worse than it was here."

He said he could now tell his parents where he had been for the last six months, adding that he landed with his marine unit in the Hawaiian islands early this year, spending about two months at Pearl Harbor and other islands of the Hawaiian group. He was in the Marshall islands for a time before being assigned to the invasion of Saipan. His unit fought on Saipan for 22 days before the Japanese were liquidated. Then came the invasion of Tinian island.

Freshies, this one's for you! Upperclassmen can skip the first few paragraphs . . .

Want to win friends and influence people your first year at the U? Well, here's a suggestion from your ham reporter . . . participate in lots of sports and social events this year, and meet the various characters on ye campus. As well as the smoothies. Next year you can start narrowing your scope of activities but this season the fad is to try 'em all and have a good time at it.

Of course, yielding a stick in field hockey, learning the schottische, tracking down ads for the Kaimin, or eating weinies at Greenough may be a novel experience, but mingling with and knowing lots of guys and gals is almost as important in the run of life as is understanding Platyhelminthes (thanks are due Dr. Castle for that 64 dollar word!), confederations, and Willy Shakespeare's "Hamlet".

So-o-o, if you want a chance to meet some of the friendly females of MSU, then you have it! The W. A. A. Fall Rally will be held next Wednesday, October 11, at Greenough Park. Transportation? Trucks will take you from the Women's Gym to the park at 5:30 p.m.

Besides fun and eats, it'll be free to the frosh. Upperclassmen must bring the nominal fee of 10 cents. Baseball will be played and there will be other entertainment.

Cale Darnegie signing off for now . . . I'll see you at the picnic, and don't eat more than five weinies!!!

Song Fest Planned For Friday Night

A song fest will be held in the lounge of the Student Union on Friday, October 13 at 7 o'clock, under the direction of Miss Van Duser, Professor John Lester, and Lew Burdick.

Everyone is invited to take part in this group singing. A voice like Nelson Eddy or Jeanette McDonald is not necessary, though it would be welcome. Just come equipped with plenty of spirit and join in the singing. Don't miss this excellent opportunity to learn or brush up on your school songs.

NOTICE

Seniors who are candidates for degrees or certificates, or graduates who intend to get a Master's degree at the end of the Autumn or Winter quarter should file application for degrees or certificates in Main Hall, Room 114, on or before Tuesday, October 10th; delayed applications are subject to a fee of $5.00. LIKE TO DANCE?

Another of those peppy MSU mixers will be held Saturday evening from 9 until 12 in the Gold Room of the Student Union. If you like to dance, this is an ideal opportunity to keep in practice and at the same time meet some of the good looking members of the opposite sex.

Music will be provided by the nickelodian, since Hal Herbig and his orchestra unfortunately have a previous engagement. There will be no charge at the door.

Surgical Dressing Rooms Open

Surgical dressing rooms will be open on Mondays at 1:30, on Tuesdays at 7 and on Thursdays at 1:30. The dressings will be prepared in the theater make-up room in the Student Union building.

Be sure to drop in for an hour or two during your spare time and roll bandages for the boys in the front lines. To be sure, this is a small contribution, but an essential one.
