MISSOULA--

Kathy Crump, St. Ignatius, University of Montana senior in broadcast journalism, is one of 10 university students selected nationwide as summer interns by the International Radio and Television Society. Her internship is a result of her participation in the society's seventh annual Faculty Industry Seminar and College Conference held in February in Glen Cove, N.Y.

The internship program brings the students to New York July 2-Aug. 24 for eight weeks, placing them in jobs that closely match their career interests, experience and goals. Crump tentatively will be placed working with pre-Olympics coverage, doing TV feature work on the participants.

Crump says her main interests are in TV news features and short documentary features. Her long-term goal is producing news features for a television news magazine program.

She was selected by the faculty of her department at UM to attend the conference and then was chosen for the internship from a field of 25. She says this will be a great opportunity to make contacts with people in the business and get a first-hand knowledge of the business. While she is in New York she will participate in a series of encounters and field trips with top broadcasters and advertisers in the area. She says she'll also get a first-hand look at how other people are accomplishing what they want to do in the field. Crump is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Crump of St. Ignatius. She will graduate from UM fall quarter 79.
